A. Yes, sir, I have had people approach me for and against. That is, I suppose they were interested in that question, but I can't recall their names.
Q. Now, Mr. Ehrhardt, since you were elected a member of this House, have you never been approached by any person in any manner who improperly tried to influence your vote for this legislation?
A. I have not.
Q. That is all.

THE HON. A. W. MITCHELL, a member of the House Representatives from the County of Erie, asked permission of the Committe to submit a supplementary statement to his testimony, and said permission being granted testified as follows:

MR. MITCHELL:

I would like to supplement my testimony a little bit. I introduced a Garnishee bill several months ago, and a man by the name of E. J. Thompson, who I believe was connected with the Keystone Printing Company, of Pittsburgh, a publication which serves many of the retail merchants of the State, had been here in the interest of those people in that piece of legislation. I never knew him until he came here, and I had thought many times that his being here would be the means of killing the bill, but it managed to pull through. I don't believe, though, that he had corruptly or improperly approached any of the members.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know whether he was paid to come here and do that work?

A. Oh, I suppose so. He has been here for several months past.

Q. What is his name?

A. E. J. Thompson.

Q. Of Erie?

A. No, Pittsburgh, I think, I have never seen him or knew him until I saw him here.

HON. JAMES H. WILTBANK, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Philadelphia, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Wiltbank, do you know anything of your own knowledge about the existance of a lobby operating within the Legislature during the present session?

A. No, none whatever.

Q. Now, Captain, have you ever been approached by any person or agency whatsoever during the present session which person or agency has attempted to influence your vote for or against any legislation or other matter presented to this General Assembly?

A. No, sir. But I have been asked to vote for bills by other members and people.

Q. Do you know anything about either food or drink being served any place inside of this Capitol?

A. I do. That is, out on the rotunda where you can get a sandwich for ten cents and a drink of water from the drinking place on the wall.

Q. You don't know anything outside of that?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Have you, since you were elected a member of this House, ever been improperly approached for or against any legislation?

A. Absolutely not.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

That's all, Captain.

HON. GEORGE C. IRWIN, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Blair, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Irwin, do you know anything of your own knowledge about the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature during this present session?

A. Well, there were some people here opposed to different legislation, and some for it.

Q. What legislation?

A. Well, I just can't remember what legislation in particular. I can't just remember their names nor the legislation. Some of them were in favor of it and some of them were opposed to it.

Q. But no one ever approached you in any improper way?

A. I don't recall any instance where any person has ever improperly approached me or where I was improperly influenced to change my vote.

Q. Do you know anything about either food o rdrink being served in this Capitol other than at the counter in the lobby just outside of the door of the House?

A. I do not know anything about either food or drink being served. I understood that there were private bottles but I am not in a position to say whether there was.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Irwin, have you ever been improperly approached since you were elected a member of this Legislature either for or against any legislation?

A. No.

Q. Or any other matter that came before this body?

A. No, sir.

HON. SAMUEL L. CHEESEMAN, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Butler, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Cheeseman, do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within this Legislature during the present session?

A. I don't.

Q. Have you ever been approached by any person or agency whatsoever during the present session, which person or agency has attempted to influence your vote for or against any legislation or other matter presented to this General Assembly?

A. No, sir, not improperly.

Q. But you have been approached in a proper way, however?

A. In some instances.

Q. Frequently or otherwise?

A. Not very frequently, only on a few bills. ?

Q. Can you give us the names of such persons?

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. And the bills?

A. There were some men here from Butler. I can't remember their names. I didn't know them personally, but they were desirous of getting me to vote against the Child Labor bill,—certain features of it. In the interests of the Anti-vivisection law there were some here who were working against that law, and were talking against it, but they approached me in a reasonable way and not improperly, and on some other laws also, but I can't remember their names.

Q. Were they persons that were here occasionally, or were they here frequently and continuously during the session?

A. No, only at the times that these bills were up for consideration. That is, just a day or so.

Q. Mr. Cheeseman, since you were elected a member of the Legislature, has there been any person who has approached you or attempted to approach you, improperly on any matter pending before this Legislature?

A. No, sir, not improperly.

HON. GEORGE B. MELLOTT, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Fulton, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Mellott, do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature during the present session?

A. Nothing except that I have heard and of course I have had some men pointed out to me by some of the fellows that were supposed to be lobbyists.

Q. Have you ever been approached by any person or agency whatsoever during the present session, which person or agency has attempted to influence your vote for or against any legislation or other matter presented to this General Assembly?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You don't mean to say that people haven't come to you that were strangers and tried to influence you in a proper way?

A. Oh, yes, and I got lots of letters.

Q. I don't mean letters. Haven't there been people,—can't you give us the names of people that have been here frequently during the present session in the interest of different bills?

A. No, sir, I didn't pay any attention to them.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Mellott, since you have been elected to the House have you ever been improperly approached?

A. No, sir.

Q. Mr. Mellott, do you know anything about food or drink being served in this Capitol excepting, for instance, the cigar counter in the House lobby?

A. Not that I heard of.

HON. REUBEN HOWARD, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Fayette, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Howard, do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have you ever been approached by any person or agency whatsoever during the present session, which person or agency has attempted to influence your vote for or against any legislation or other matter presented to this General Assembly?

A. No, sir.

Q. Can you give us the names of any of those whom you would consider lobbyists?

A. There were a couple of men who were down here in the interests of the Local Option Bill. That was a Mr. Carroll and a Mr. Chalfant.

Q. That is Dr. Carroll, President of the Anti-Saloon League?

A. I don't know.

Q. Where does he reside?

A. I don't know.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Howard, since you were elected a member of the Legislature have you ever been approached by anybody in an improper way regarding any matter or legislation pending before the House?

A. No, sir.

Q. And these are the only two names that you can think of at present?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Howard, do you know anything about any room or rooms in this Capitol in which food and drink are served to members of the Legislature, or to others?

A. No, sir, I don't.

HON. JAMES J. CAMPBELL, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Philadelphia, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Campbell, do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within this Legislature during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. Of any particular interests?

Q. Yes, of any particular interests.

A. There have been some liquor men approach me and show me their grievances, and the labor men, of course, they saw me.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. They were representatives of Labor Organizations here advocating or opposing legislation?

A. Yes, they would show me the merits or demerits of the bills.

A. No, sir.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Campbell, have you been approached by any person or agency whatsoever during the present session, which person or agency has attempted to influence your vote either for or against any legislation or other matter presented to this General Assembly?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. I suppose that people have occasionally spoken to you, that is, people not members of the House, upon pending legislation?

A. Yes, but they didn't influence my vote, and I don't think that I would know them again if I saw them.

Q. Were they here frequently or otherwise?

A. No. There was a colored man in here every day. He often asked me about things. I don't know him and never saw him before.

Q. You can't give us the names then, of any person who have been here continuously or frequently during this session of the Legislature either advocating or opposing legislation other than you have mentioned.

A. No, sir.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know of the existence of a room or rooms in this Capitol in which food or drinks are served to the members of this Legislature?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You don't know anything about it then?

A. No.

HON. PLYMOUTH W. SNYDER, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Blair, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Snyder, do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature, during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. No.

Q. Have you ever been approached by any person or agency whatsoever, during the present, which person or agency has attempted to influence your vote either for or against any legislation or other matter presented to this General Assembly?

A. Yes, in a way.

Q. Can you give the Committee the names of any person or persons who have been here either frequently or continuously, excepting of course the members of the Legislature?

A. Yes, but I can't recall the names of anybody, although I have been approached by people urging their bills, some asking me to vote for, and some against. But I have never considered it unlawful or corrupt.

Q. How about the child and woman's labor bills, can you mention any names in that connection?

A. No.

Q. The liquor bills?

A. No.

Q. Or upon the oleomargarine bill?

A. No.

Q. The workingman's compensation bill?

A. No.

Q. The public utilities bill?

A. No.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know anything about the existence of a room or rooms in which food or drink is served to the members of this Legislature?

A. I don't.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Snyder, you were approached on the mercantile tax repealer, weren't you?

A. I was approached on various bills, but I can't remember what they were. I was approached on a great many bills by those who called me to the back of the house and spoke to me.

Q. You were approached by parties for and against the local option and the prohibition bills? Can you give us the names on either side?

A. I was not approached on either side, because my position on both those bills was well known.

Q. And you can't give us the names of any person?

A. No.

Q. Not on the insurance legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. On road legislation?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Since you have been elected a member of this House, have you ever been approached in an improper way by anyone in an attempt to influence your vote on any subject pending in this Legislature?

A. I have not.

HON. PETER McDERMOTT, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Clearfield, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. McDermott, do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. I do.

Q. Will you state to the Committee what you know about it.

A. I was approached by the labor lobby, and also by representatives of the operator's lobby.

Q. That was on mining legislation?

A. Yes, sir. I was approached by the Operators' lobbyist, and I think the gentleman's name is Mr. Reese.

Q. Do you know that to be his name?

A. Yes.

Q. You mean the coal operators?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. What was that name, please?

A. Reese.

Q. Reese?

A. Yes.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. In what legislation was he interested, mining legislation?

A. Yes, sir, he asked me to vote against the bill taxing anthracite coal. He also approached me on other bills, but I can't recall the bills.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. What do you mean by the word "approach?" Do you mean interviewed or talked to you?

A. I told you, Mr. Baldwin, that he asked me to vote against the bill, the tax on anthracite coal.

Q. Well, you appreciate the word "approach" sometimes is used as meaning doing something that is wrong?

A. That is what I mean.

MR. R. J. BALDWIN: Well, I simply wanted to make that plan.

Q. Well, you may take whatever interpretation of the word you please.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. McDermott, I think you had a bill here providing for the use of electricity in mines?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you meet with any opposition on that bill?

A. Yes.

Q. That was inspired by the operators' lobby?

A. Yes, sir. I understand there was some members of the Legislature called home, and they lobbied against my bill, and misled a great many members of the Legislature as to what the bill amounted to. They did a great injustice to the people whom I represent.

Q. That came from the members of the Legislature?

A. Yes.

Q. Can you name any other man, other than Mr. Reese?

A. No, not that I can think of.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. You speak of the members having been called home, Mr. McDermott.

A. I had that from the men themselves.

Q. Well, just recite what the purpose of their being called home was.

A. I could not put any other purpose to it other than they wanted to defeat the bill, and they were successful in doing that.

Q. What were they called home for?

A. They were called home to talk on this electricity bill.

Q. In opposition to the bill?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know, Mr. McDermott, of the existence of a room or rooms in this Capitol in which rooms, food and drink are served to the members of the Legislature?

A. I saw the room, but I can't recall the number of the room with liquor in it.

Q. You can't recall the number of the room?

A. No, I was invited to go there and to partake of the liquor on two occasions. There was no tables there.

Q. You were in the room?

A. Yes, I was in the room.

Q. Who invited you?

A. I believe they were visitors from Fayette county.

Q. Do you know their names?

A. No, I can't recall their names. I was introduced to them, but I can't recall their names now.

Q. You were invited there by the visitors then?

A. Yes.

Q. Did they have a key for the door, or was the door open?

A. The door was open when I got there.

Q. Was anyone present there to serve the refreshments?

A. I can't recall who it was that asked me to take liquor there. There were five or six or seven people there, and to be candid in the matter, and I realize I am on my oath and I don't want to tell something that isn't so, I can't recall the one that invited me to take liquor.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Just describe what the room was like?

A. Well, the room was just like any ordinary room, like the one here, except that there were not so many people in there as we have here now.

Q. About how much liquor was there there?

A. Well, I don't know that.

Q. How much did you see there?

A. I don't recall.

Q. Well, there was more than one person there with you?

A. Oh, yes, there was five or six, or seven or eight.

Q. Were they all treated to liquor?

A. They were all invited to partake of the good stuff.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Well, there was more than one person present in the room?

A. Five or six all the time.

Q. Who treated to liquor?

A. There was a bottle on the table.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Was it good?

A. I suppose it was.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. From what place was it produced?

A. It was in the room when we went in.

Q. Where in the room was it, on the table?

A. I think on the table.

Q. There was just enough there for those that came in?

A. Well, I don't know how much is enough for a man.

Q. Did you see any liquor there other than that served to the men you were with?

A. I don't think I did.

Q. Do you know who really served the liquor?

A. I can't say that I really do. I know seven or eight of us were in there.

Q. Who seemed to have charge of the office, who offered the rest of you the liquor?

A. I cannot recall the man's name. We went out like men will walk out. We got to this room and they invited me in, and I told you what I saw.

Q. Was the person in charge of the room a member of the House or Senate?

A. At that time it could be either, because at that time I wasn't very well acquainted with them. It was early in the session. There were one or two of the members of the House with us, but I cannot recall their names. There was about seven or eight altogether in the room.

Q. Have you been there since?

A. No, sir.

Q. Just on this one occasion?

A. Just on this one occasion.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. When was this about?

A. I believe about the latter part of February.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Do you have any idea on what floor it was. Was it on the level with the House floor, or this floor?

A. I don't know whether I went up or down a flight of stairs. I don't remember.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Was it on the Senate or House side?

A. I think on the north side of one of those corridors that run east and west.

Q. That would be the half of the Capitol in which the Senate is located?

A. Yes, it was on that side of the main corridor.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You are sure of that?

A. Oh, yes, I have not been drunk since, and my memory is good.

Q. Coming back to that question of some of the members being called home in regard to the bill you introduced, could you tell us what members they were?

A. One member was Mr. Reuben Howard. He told me he was called home on that bill.

Q. What other member?

A. That is all.

Q. Then Mr. Howard is the only member you can name?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. McDermott, isn't it a fact that circulars were put in the House in opposition to that bill? Did circulars come into the House advising what would be the result if the electricity were put into the coal mines?

A. I didn't see any.

Q. I am not certain, but I thought perhaps you would know. I don't know much about mining, not being in a mining district. I have received a great many letters myself in regard to that bill. Do you call to mind any person you would call a lobbyist, on the floor of the House opposing that bill?

A. I think two or three other men, I cannot recall the names, lobbied against the bill.

Q. Lobbying against this bill?

A. I think Mr. Clarke was lobbying.

Q. Do you know that?

A. I feel pretty sure he was in the same business as Reese.

Q. You make the positive statement that Reese was?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When you say the word "lobbyist," do you mean he was interviewing and trying to convince people that they ought not to vote for it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Nothing more than that?

A. That is all; I think that was too much.

Q. Do you think it is wrong for any person to do that?

A. Yes, if it is against the masses of the people, I do.

Q. Do you feel it is wrong for a person who feels that he should oppose the legislation, do you think it isn't proper or that it would be wrong that he should come here and try to convince members of the Legislature that they ought not to vote for it? Do you feel that is wrong?

A. I do, if the legislation is within the bounds of common sense.

Q. Do you think that people introduce legislation that they think themselves that it has not good common sense to it?

A. I think we have had a whole lot of it this session, or else we would not be here today.

Q. Can you say you think there has been any corrupt lobbying against either your bill or any other bill, can you give us any information of what you consider corrupt lobbying against these bills?

A. If I had I would only be too glad to give it.

Q. Can you?

A. Not any more.

Q. You don't call that corrupt, do you?

A. I do not think it would be the course that a man would go to Heaven on, working that way.

Q. You are testifying before a Committee. We have the right to ask plain questions and to expect fair answers.

A. Then don't ask questions that have extremes to them.

Q. This Committee wants to find out whether there has been any corrupt lobbying in this Legislature. If we cannot find out there is, we will so report.

A. You don't want me to say there is, when I don't know.

Q. You say then you don't know?

A. I told you that three or four times.

Q. You said "such actions that would not send them to Heaven."

A. I said it was the wrong road to get to Heaven.

Q. Since you were elected a member of this body, have you ever been approached improperly by any person either for or against any legislation?

A. If you define the word "improperly" I can answer the question.

Q. You define it yourself.

A. Not any more than I answered the question before.

Q. My definition of the word "improper" is for some recompense in return. That is my definition of "improper." Does that correspond with yours?

A. Somewhat; not exactly.

Q. Then state yours.

A. I gave mine.

Q. Then state it again, I didn't so understand it.

A. I told you I was approached to vote against certain bills.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. As I understand it, on certain bills which you deemed to be right, you would regard it as criminally wrong for the interests who were opposed to that legislation to hire men to come here in their interest?

A. I certainly do.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Then your proposition is, if you think a bill is right, in your own honest opinion, which I think is wrong, in my honest opinion, that I am wrong in opposing it?

A. Not if you are conscientious in your views.

MR. R. J. BALDWIN: Well, I guess the Committee is satisfied that there is no evidence in this witness of any corruption. I am satisfied that he has not testified to any corruption.

HON. SAMUEL NEEL, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Westmoreland, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN.

Q. Do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature, during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have you been approached by any person or agency whatsoever, during the present session, which person or agency has attempted to influence your vote for or against any legislation or other matter presented to this General Assembly?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. Do you know of gentlemen here, who are present here lobbying, in the capacity of men representing the various interests of the State?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. The coal interests?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. The liquor interests?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the mining interests?

A. I have met some of the people representing the coal interests.

Q. Can you give us the names of any persons being here frequently or continuously either advocating or opposing any of that legislation?

A. I know of men who have been here watching it, but I do not know how much lobbying they have been doing. They have been watching the legislation. I don't know of anybody they approached.

Q. Can you give us the names?

A. I know Ben Clarke.

Q. From Punxsutawney?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Any others?

A. Wilson has been here watching legislation.

Q. Henry Wilson, a member two years ago?

A. Yes, looking up bills.

Q. Do you know, Mr. Neel, about the existence in this Capitol, of a room or rooms in which food or drink, or either or both, are served to the members of the Legislature?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Neel, have you ever been approached, since you were elected a member of this body, in an improper way, on matters of legislation pending?

A. No, sir.

HON. E. E. BITTLES, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Lawrence, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN.

Q. Do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby working within the Legislature, during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have you been approached by any person or agency whatsoever, during the present session, which person or agency has attempted to influence your vote for or against any legislation or other matter presented to this General Assembly?

A. Nothing that was unfair.

Q. Do you know of the existence in this Capitol of a room or various commercial interests of the State, such as the liquor interests, and the coal interests and the railroad interests or the street car interests and the water interests?

A. I never had any of them lobbying me for anything of this kind.

Q. Since you were elected to the House of Representatives, has anyone sought to influence your vote in regard to legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know of the existence in this Capitol of a room or rooms in which food and drink are served to the members of the Legislature?

A. No, sir.

HON. JOHN T. MATT, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Bedford, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN.

Q. Do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature, during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. Personally I do not.

Q. Have you been approached by any person or agency whatsoever, during the present session, which person or agency has attempted to influence your vote for or against any legislation or other matter presented to this General Assembly?

A. Not in an illegal manner, no.

Q. You may state in what manner efforts have been made to influence you, by persons outside of the members of the House.

A. No, not to my recollection, none outside of the members.

Q. You haven't been approached by anyone?

A. No, sir.

Q. That there is a lobby you have heard?

A. Frequently.

Q. You have had people stop and talk to you about bills?

A. Strangers, yes, sir.

Q. Some for and some against bills?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. I suppose Mr. Creasy, and Mr. Allman, members of the grange, talked over different matters with you?

A. Neither of them approached me.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Matt, do you know of the existence in this Capitol of a room or rooms in which food or drink, or either or both, are served to the members of the Legislature?

A. No, sir.

Q. You have never been in that room?

A. I have had no invitation.

A. F. HOBBS, having been duly affirmed, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby opreating within the Legislature during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. No, sir; I do not.

Q. Have you been approached by any person or agency whatsoever during the present session, which person or agency has attempted to influence your vote for or against any legislation or other matter presented to this General Assembly?

A. No, not in that sense. I have met people who have asked me—

Q. To vote against certain bills, or vote for others?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. But always in a proper way?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Can you give us the names of any persons who have been here, either continuously or frequently, since the session began, lobbying with respect to bills?

A. No, sir; I cannot.

Q. Representing the mine owners, for instance?

A. No, sir; nothing of that kind.

Q. Or the railroad interests of the State?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or street car interests?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Taxation question?

A. No, sir, nothing of the kind.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know anything of the existence in this Capitol building of a room or rooms in which food or drink, or both, are served to members of the Legislature?

A. No, sir.

Q. You have never been invited?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Since you have been a member of this body, have you ever been approached by anybody to influence your vote?

A. No, sir.

Q. Either one way or the other?

A. No, sir.

THOMAS CARTER, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Have you any knowledge of a lobby existing in the Legislature during this session?

A. I cannot say that there was, so far as I was concerned.

Q. Working for or against legislation?

A. There probably were, but they never bothered me.

Q. You have never been approached by any person that attempted to influence your vote?

A. Neither this nor last session.

Q. Since you were elected to the House at this session, has anyone attempted to influence your course, with respect to legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know anything about the existence in this Capitol building, of a room or rooms, in which food or drink, either or both, are served to members of the Legislature?

A. I do not know; they never served me. I serve my own. I keep it in the locker myself.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. It is your locker you put it in?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. You have never received any invitation to drink except at your own expense?

A. Yes, sir; that is right.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Have you ever been approached improperly, in any matter improperly by any member of the Legislature?

A. No, sir.

H. C. JACKSON, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know anything of the existence of a lobby in this session?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have you been approached by any person or agency whatsoever, which has attempted to influence your vote for or against any legislation?

A. Not by any illegal or wrong means.

Q. There have been people who asked you to vote for or against bills?

A. Sure.

Q. Among those persons, were there any who are recognized as the agents of the railroad, or the street car lines?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or the water or mining or local interests in the State?

A. No, sir.

Q. Not known by you at any rate?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know anything of the existence in this Capitol of a room or rooms in which food and drink, either or both, are served to members of the Legislature?

A. I do not know. I never heard of it till last night.

Q. You have never even been honored by an invitation?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Since you have been a member of the House, has there been times when you have been improperly approached by anyone, during this Legislature?

A. No, sir.

MR. REUBEN HOWARD:

About Mr. McDermott's bill, that he explained to you. We took the position or the opposition to his bill, because we thought it was an injustice to our counties, in our end of the State; it was not because we had been lobbied with.

MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

It was an honest difference with you?

MR. HOWARD:

Yes, sir, and as far as being sent for, I never was.

MR RICHARD BALDWIN:

You have never been sent for by any miners?

MR. HOWARD:

A. No, sir.

MR. McDERMOTT:

Ask the gentleman if he lobbied the members for my bill, or against my bill.

MR. HOWARD:

Yes, sir, I did, and I will do it again.

MR. WILSON:

I was against Mr. McDermott's bill, and asked a number of the members to vote against it.

MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

The Committee will not go into the question of what the members did.

MR. HOWARD:

I wanted it noted that he said I was sent for, which is not the truth.

MR. MITCHELL:

If there is such a room I have never been in it, and I have no idea where it is. I have never been in such a place, and have not been invited to go in.

MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Did I ask you about that room or rooms?

MR. BENSON:

You did not.

MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Do you know anything about it?

MR. BENSON:

No, sir, only hearsay.

MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

This Committee cannot rest on hearsay. Is it hearsay or something of your own knowledge?

MR. BENSON:

Yes, sir, of my knowledge. I was standing by where they sell cigars and tobacco and confectionery, et cetera, on the same floor the House is on. A gentleman called my attention and said, yonder is a room, watch and you will see a couple of gentlemen go there. I waited and watched, and they went in.

MR RICHARD BALDWIN:

Did he know what they went for?

MR. BENSON:

He stated that was the room where they got their refreshments.

MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Who were the men you saw going in there?

MR. BENSON:

I cannot name the gentlemen because I did not notice them until their backs were turned to me.

MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

What room was it?

MR. BENSON:

One of the rooms on the next floor, on the right hand side as you face this way.

MR RICHARD BALDWIN:

On the north side?

MR. BENSON:

Yes, sir, the same floor as the House is on.

MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

What did you see?

MR. BENSON:

A gentleman called my attention to it; he said, take notice, these gentlemen are going in there and get some refreshments.

MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

He did not know what they were going in there for?

MR. BENSON:

No, sir.

MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Who called your attention to it?

MR. BENSON:

One of the gentlemen who was present at the time.

MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

You do not know who they were? We would like you to answer the question.

MR. BENSON:

If I remember correctly, it was Mr. Dyck.

MR. DYCK:

I did it.

MR RICHARD BALDWIN:

Are you a member of the House?

MR. DYCK:

No, sir.

MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Did you notice the lettering over the room in question?

MR. BENSON:

I did not go to the room.

MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

You don't know whose room it is?

MR. BENSON:

I could not say.

MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Did you see these men come out later?

MR. BENSON:

I did not wait. I went back into the House. I believe, if I remember correctly, the House was in session at the time.

MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

They did not tell you what they meant by refreshments?

MR. BENSON:

Intoxicating drink. I took it for granted.

MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

That is not fair.

MR. BENSON:

The gentleman can recall. He was asked what he meant by it.

MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

It is a question of what he said, and not what he meant.

MR. BENSON:

I took it for granted by what he said, it was intoxicating drink. That was my understanding.

WILLIAM H. GRABE, Recalled.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Do you know anything of the room here where food or drink, or both, are served, or have you seen persons going to and from this room?

A. I do not know anything more than probably just a week ago, and previous to that, about three weeks ago, I happened to be in there one time, and I saw a man with his hand right along the door, and I wondered what he was doing.

Q. You mean the man outside had his hand there?

A. Yes, sir, that is what I mean, on the outside.

Q. Did it look as though he were trying to push the door in?

A. No, sir, so they could see his fingers on the glass.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. He had his hand outside?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you see the door open?

A. I walked right on about by business.

Q. Did the man try to open the door?

A. Not while I was there; simply stayed there, and I came on through the hall.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. He did not go in?

A. No, sir; not that I saw.

Q. He was standing this way (indicating) as you passed by?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was this, in this corridor?

A. On the left hand side, about the third door from the corner.

Q. On which floor?

A. On the House floor.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. On the north side of the Capitol?

A. On the left hand side; yes, sir. There is another thing came to my mind since I was here; the morning I think after that Cook Park bill was defeated, a man came to me in reference to reconsidering that bill, and I asked him what he was doing here.

Q. The young man you asked him what he was doing here?

A. Yes, sir; he said, I am here representing Pittsburgh, and I have a number of bills here that I have helped through the House. He also stated he was getting two hundred dollars a month lobbying here.

Q. Can you find him?

A. I see him here every day; he is not here now.

Q. Can you get us the name?

A. I can get the man if he is here next week. He made this statement, if they would reconsider the Cook bill and I would help him out, he would get my tax bill out of the Committee. He would try to get my tax bill out of the committee.

Q. He said he would try to.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was this young man?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Not a member of the House?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know his name?

A. No, sir, I would know him if I saw him. There are fellows who can give the name.

Q. Will you try and get him name for me?

A. Yes, sir. When Mr. Metzenbacher comes before this committee, just bear that in mind and ask him that question.

Q. You came with him.

A. There he is now.

W. L. METZENBACHER, having been duly sworn, was examined as follows:

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. Not as I know of; I do not know.

Q. Has any person or persons, or agencies whatsoever, approached you during the present session, with an attempt to influence your vote for or against legislation pending in the session?

MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

In the Legislature.

A. Yes, there has been some.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. State who they were, if you can, and what circumstances, under what circumstances.

A. Well—

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Exempting conversations with members, of course.

A. One in particular, a gentleman from my home county, he was here in the interest of the Pymatuming Swamp bill.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. What was his name?

A. Story. I have forgotten the first name.

Q. Do you know what his address is?

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. We have that name.

A. Yes, Mr. Humes gave his name. I think his address is Westford, Crawford county.

Q. What was his conversation with you?

A. I am not sure where he is. It is right there in Crawford county.

Q. What was said?

A. Of course, he was here in the interest of the Swamp bill.

Q. The dam bill?

A. Yes, sir; we call it the swamp bill.

Q. It is a dam bill this year. It was formerly a swamp bill.

A. Of course, he had a petition from a large number of constituents, the ones that were favorable to that proposition, and he said he was here partly because they wanted him to be, and I think partly because of interests down the valley that wished that dam bill.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. You mean manufacturing interests, when you say interests, or people generally along the river?

A. It may be both. I mean manufacturing interests and private individuals that wishes the dam there.

Q. To prevent floods from their town, and so on?

A. Not only that, but for drinking purposes, for a better water supply.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. State what he said, with reference to your voting for it.

A. Of course, he wished us to support the bill, and of course, he having a petition from our own people, it gave me a better idea as to what they wanted, how they felt about it. It is a peculiar proposition. Some time ago or up to a short time ago, the sentiment seemed to be unfavorable to that proposition in Crawford county, because that is where the dam was to be built, but it seems of late, a good many of those people that are interested, near the swamp, they had the petition from these people.

Q. What did he say to you, briefly.

A. Of course, he said a good many things, but along that line; that is, aside, he tried to show us what the people wanted. That is all.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Did you get the impression that he came here to inform the Legislature, and show them what it was, or was he doing it of his own volition?

A. I did get the impression that he was having his expenses paid to come down, partly by the people near there, and partly by the people down the river.

Q. Do you know what his profession is, or what his business is, at home, this man Story? What did he follow for a livelihood?

A. It seems he is an agent for different things a good deal of the time. His home is in the swamp area.

Q. Do you mean representing agricultural implements, insurance, or what?

A. I do not know.

Q. You are satisfied he is not a farmer?

A. His people are, and I think a good deal of the time he is too. I do not think he represents such interests as those any time. His people live there. His people are farmers, and he is there, I think part of the time.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Did he make any inducement to you to vote for the bill?

A. No, sir; no more than to try to pursuade me to do so.

Q. Was there anything improper?

A. No, sir, but I understand it was what the people wanted.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Was there any other persons that have interviewed you, that you would call lobbyists?

A. You had a list there this morning. Go to the list and as you call it off it will come to my mind.

Q. The suffrage question. Was there any person you would call a lobbyist that called on you on that question?

A. Just once on that. One day, just about the time that the Club License bill was pending, I got a postal from out of the post office, and it was—I remember the last name was Green, it may have been Frank, but I remember the last name. That was the first. That was one day, and the next day, the next evening, I think it was,—this postal invited me to go to the Columbus, and I think it was during the next evening session, one of the page boys said there was two men in the rear of the room to see me, and he pointed them out to me, and I presume it was Mr. Green, I think it was a gentleman from Reading. He tried to show me why I ought not to support the Club License bill, and of course he advanced the usual argument, there was a large sum of money invested, and so forth, and asked that I consider the matter.

Q. Nothing improper?

A. No, sir.

Q. Labor bills?

A. I do not recall that I was approached on a single labor bill.

Q. Utility bill?

A. I was not approached on that.

Q. Osteopathy?

A. Yes, there was one gentleman in the House, but I do not know his name.

Q. Do you mean a member?

A. No, sir.

Q. Vivisection?

A. Yes, there was one gentleman that advanced arguments on that, to show why it was a good bill; nothing improper.

Q. Cemetery bills?

A. No, sir. I was not approached on that.

Q. Election law bills?

A. No, sir.

Q. Civil service bills?

A. No, sir.

Q. Workingmen's Compensation bill?

A. No, sir.

Q. Mining legislation?

A. Well—mining legislation, at the time that the Leuker bill was pending, there were two gentlemen that made the rounds of the House, and I was introduced to them. I have forgotten their names. They represented themselves as miners, and tried to give good reasons why I should support that mining bill. Nothing improper.

Q. Railroad legislation?

A. No, sir; nothing on railroad legislation.

Q. Public road legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. Lead poison bill that was talked about?

A. No, sir.

Q. Paint bill?

A. No, sir.

Q. Oleomargarine?

A. Well, the oleomargarine bill—no one approached me on that. Of course, as you all know, I as a member of the Grange have known Mr. Creasy a long time and we discussed it.

Q. You and they talked it over?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. We have Mr. Creasy and Mr. Ailman's name.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mercantile repealer?

A. Nothing aside from correspondence; no, sir.

Q. Insurance legislation?

A. That recalls to mind—

Q. They approached you a good many times on that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Anybody else approach you?

A. Regarding insurance legislation, I introduced the insurance bill. It was a bill that our people wanted, because of some trouble we had had with mutual insurance companies going into the hands of receivers. We took the matter up with the Insurance Department, and finally worked out a bill, and of course the insurance people wanted a hearing on it, and they did have a hearing. They reported the bill out and it was placed on the calendar, and soon after it was placed on the calendar an old gentleman from Lebanon, I think his name is Miller, I know his face quite well, and he came to me one day, and I was called back to the side of the House, and he wished me to withdraw that bill, and I asked him why, and he said it was a bad bill, the insurance companies would not stand for it. I told him I thought it was a good bill, it was a bill that our people wanted, and it was a bill that had been worked out in the Insurance Department and they said it was a good bill and we should have such legislation, and that I would not withdraw the bill. He made the statement then that if I would not withdraw the bill he said, we will kill it for you. I told him that they had that liberty.

Q. That man's name. We would like to have that?

A. I asked him why, and he said it was a bad bill, and the insurance companies would not stand for it. I told him I thought it was a good bill, and a bill that was proper, and a bill that was worked out in the insurance department, that they said it was a good bill, and that we should have such legislation I said that I would not withdraw my bill, and I got the statement that if I would not withdraw the bill they would kill it.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know the name?

A. I think it is Miller; I could find out.

Q. And let the Committee have it on Monday?

A. Yes, sir. He was here from the time the bill was out until it was finished. He wrote a letter to me, and I think it was the same man.

Q. What bill was that?

A. It was a bill that provided that insurance companies make an assessment once a year sufficient to pay the indebtedness off for that year, without having it hang over.

Q. Did that man state whom he represented?

A. He is the president of the Mutual Fire Insurance Association of Pennsylvania. I think that is it. The fire insurance companies, the mutual companies, have a State association, and he is president of it. The bill finally came to third reading on Thursday, and he was here, and had been here in the House, and partly for that, and partly because there was a light House, I postponed it until Monday night. He was right here on Monday night, and others were with him. I did not call it up. I let it go until Wednesday. I thought I would let them wait a while. I think Tuesday night he went home, I think it was on Tuesday night he went home, and Wednesday he was back. I was getting up pretty close to the close of the five day limit, and I had to call it up. I called it up when there was a light House, and the result was it was defeated. After they knew that the five day limit for reconsidering bills was passed, he wrote me a very insulting letter. I think I have it in my files at home. He gave me to understand that the insurance companies would see that such fellows as I would stay at home the next time.

Q. Can we have that letter?

A. I will try to get it.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Any other instances?

A. I don't recall any. That is about all that approached me in any way. I remember one evening I was sitting close to Mr. Grabe when he had a conversation. The gentleman came to him, and he seemed to me acquainted with him. I don't know what he wanted.

Q. Did he say anything on this subject?

A. He didn't say anything to me, but to Mr. Grabe.

Q. On what subject, concerning a bill?

A. Yes, sir, he spoke to him about this Cook tract. He didn't ask me to support the bill, but I heard him ask Mr. Grabe. I was sitting there and heard it. Of course Mr. Grabe didn't care to support that bill, but he didn't do anything other than to try to show him he ought to vote for it. In his conversation later he said he was employed by the City of Pittsburgh to come here and look up certain legislation, and he said that he got two hundred dollars a month.

Q. Did he say who paid that?

A. He said the City of Pittsburgh.

Q. Anything more?

A. He told the number of bills he was interested in particularly.

Q. Did he offer to get any bill out of committee that Mr. Grabe was interested in, if Mr. Grabe would support the bills he was in favor of? Did he offer to get them out to help get them out? Did you hear him say something about that?

A. I don't know about that. I didn't expect ever to recall that to mind. I have been trying to think. I do not want to make a statement that was wrong. I cannot say whether he said he would try to get them out or see some one to try to get out that bill for him.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know of the existence in this Capitol of a room or rooms, in which food or drink, or both, are served to the members of this Legislature, either members of the House of Representatives or members of the Senate?

A. No, I have no personal knowledge of such a room.

MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Since you have been elected a member of this Legislature, have you been approached improperly by anybody on any matter pending in this Legislature?

A. No, sir, I have not. I have not been approached at all, except as I told you.

Q. You were never offered compensation?

A. No, sir.

HON. CHARLES H. ISLER, a member of the House of Representatives, from the County of Allegheny, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN.

Q. Do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature, during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. Yes, sir, railroad lobbyists, employes rather, men employed here at all times.

Q. Who are those men?

A. Mr. Thompson and Mr. Curry.

Q. Is that the labor representative?

A. Labor? I said railroad employes; at least that is the statement I meant to make. Mr. Curry, Finney and Mr. Robinson, I think that is his name, connected with the American Federation of Labor.

Q. Do you know Mr. Maurer?

A. Personally, but he has not bothered me to any extent.

Q. Any conversation with him?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know of any others representing other interests?

A. Along this line?

Q. Along any line. You have stated for the railroad companies.

A. No, the railroad employes, that is the remark I intended to make. For the railroad interests, no.

Q. For the street car interests?

A. On a bill I introduced personally, if you remember, the trolley wire bill, some gentlemen opposed me on that, they were about the only trolley interests I know of.

Q. They were not members of the House?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know their names?

A. Mr. Stein,—but I want to say in passing that he was merely opposed to my bill, and I met him through that opposition. I would not call him a lobbyist, because that is the only time I ever met him. No railway companies bothered me in any way, shape or form.

Q. About the mining interests, do you know any of them?

A. Only through parties approaching me and asking me to vote for or against a bill, but no mine owners?

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. We do not want it unless it was an improper method?

A. It was not.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know of any of the textile manufacturers in the eastern part of the State approaching you on any of their bills?

A. Only in public hearing, when they asked the members in a general way.

Q. Since the session began, since you were elected, state whether or not any person has approached you in an improper way, with respect to your course as to legislation.

A. No, indeed, they know me too well for that.

Q. Do you know of the existence in this Capitol of a room or rooms, where food and drink or either or both of them are served to the members of the Legislature, either of the House or the Senate?

A. I have drank in one room.

Q. What room is that?

A. The cloak room of the House.

Q. Do you know any other rooms where there is food and drink?

A. No, I never ate a bite in the House except some candy from the cigar stand. Oh, yes, Tom Carter gave me some apples one day in the House, which I ate there. Howard Neely generally has a box of candy, and sometimes he gives me some.

Q. In regard to the cloak rooms, was that from the lockers of some of the members?

A. My own generally.

Q. You furnished that at your own expense?

A. Yes, sir; and if I remember rightly I asked the interrogater to have a drink one day, but he refused.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Have you eaten any of these good things during the sessions of the House?

A. Yes, sir, these apples and candy.

HON. OLLIE N. LETZKUS, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Allegheny, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby, working within the Legislature, during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. No, sir. I have seen people here lobbying, but I didn't know they were professional lobbyists.

Q. Not members?

A. I have seen men not members of the House, working on the floor of the House.

Q. In back of the rail?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know any representing the mining interests?

A. No, sir.

Q. The liquor interests?

A. I have seen some people here advocating their interests, yes, sir.

Q. Do you know Mr. Mason?

A. I do.

Q. He is here looking after their business?

A. I think so.

Q. And Mr. Ettla?

A. I know him personally also.

Q. Do you know of anyone here either advocating or opposing the bills of street car companies, or trolley companies, or railroads?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or insurance companies?

A. No, sir.

Q. On the cemetery bills?

A. No, sir. I have had lots of letters and communications regarding the bills, but nobody has approached me on them.

Q. On the labor bills?

A. Several people on the labor bills, men interested in establishments who were opposed to the bill. I tried to have a bill put in, if you recall.

Q. On the child labor bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Since you became a member of the House of Representatives, has anyone sought in an improper manner to influence your course as to legislation?

A. They have not.

Q. Do you know of the existence in this Capitol building of a room or rooms in which food or drink, or either or both, are served to the members of the Legislature, other than the cloak room of the House?

A. I have never known of any lunch being served in the House. I was surprised to learn that sandwiches were sold at the cigar stand.

Q. Do you know of any room in the Capitol where drink is served to the members of the Legislature?

A. I was going to state that. I have got drink out of several private bottles in different rooms in this building.

Q. Do you know of any room in this building in which liquor or food is kept?

A. I don't know anything about food, but I know of several where liquor was kept.

Q. Do you know anything about a room on the House floor, on the Senate floor, in which liquor has been kept?

A. I went in there to get a drink already.

Q. How much liquor did you see there?

A. One bottle.

Q. Only one bottle?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you go there by yourself?

A. I went there by myself on different occasions, and with other members also.

Q. Did you have a key to the door?

A. No, sir.

Q. Was the door open?

A. No, sir.

Q. How did you get in?

A. I rapped on the door and it was opened.

Q. Who opened the door?

A. One of the men in that room.

Q. What is his name?

A. I don't know.

Q. Was he white or colored?

A. Colored.

Q. Can you describe him?

A. He is a short colored man, with a smooth face.

Q. Do you know whether or not he is employed by any one?

A. I don't know.

Q. Is he constantly in attendance?

A. I could not say.

Q. How often have you been there?

A. About a dozen times.

Q. Since the session began?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you always found him there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How much liquor was in sight?

A. Only one bottle is all I ever saw at one time.

Q. Did you see any other liquor?

A. Half a dozen bottles of beer on one occasion.

Q. Do you know who furnished that liquor?

A. I do not.

Q. It was supplied there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You didn't pay anything for it?

A. No, sir.

Q. Those you saw there didn't pay anything for it?

A. No, sir.

Q. You don't know by whom it was supplied?

A. No, sir.

Q. When was the last day you were there?

A. I could not say, I believe I was there last week one day.

Q. How much did you see that day?

A. Just the one bottle on the table.

Q. Did you see any candy or sandwiches?

A. No, sir, I wish I had. It would have saved my meal ticket if they had served them.

Q. Did you see any Senators in that room?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who?

A. I wasn't personally acquainted with them, that is, with all of them.

Q. What are the names of those you were acquainted with?

A. I have seen different Senators in there. I have seen Senator Magee and quite a few others. I don't think Senator Magee drinks. I don't know the others names.

Q. Did you see any of them afterwards in the Senate?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know the names of any other Senators, except Magee?

A. That is all I can recall at the present time.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You stated what room it was?

A. Yes, sir, on that floor on the level of the House, some place on the north side.

Q. On the floor of the House?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And on the north side of the corridor?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. On the Senate side of this building?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you rapped on the door and were admitted by this colored porter?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And he served you with whatever drink you asked for?

A. I took it myself; it was standing there and I took it.

Q. Did you see any other brand or liquor there except whiskey and beer?

A. No, sir, I didn't.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. When you went there at different times, did you find the door open?

A. No, sir, it was always locked.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know whether the purpose of that was to influence the members of the House of Representatives, or Senate, or both?

A. No, sir, I never heard anything spoken in there regarding any bill.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Did you have to give a certain signal?
A. No, sir.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. You say you think it was not used to influence the members of the House against the liquor legislation?
A. No, sir.
Q. The legislation was never discussed there?
A. No, sir, it was not.

HON. HARRY W. BASS, a member of the House of Representatives, from the County of Philadelphia, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature, during the present session of the General Assembly?
A. I don't know anything about it.
Q. Have you been approached by any person or agency whatsoever, during the present session, which person or agency has attempted to influence your vote for or against any legislation or other matter presented to this General Assembly?
A. Oh, yes.

MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Outside of the members of the House?
A. Oh, yes, I have been asked by some people to vote for female suffrage, and child labor bills, and things like that.
Q. Can you give us the names of any persons who have been in this Capitol since the session began, either constantly or frequently, seeking to interview the members with respect to pending legislation?
A. No, sir.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected as a member of the House of Representatives, has anybody sought, in an improper way, to influence your course with respect to legislation?
A. No, sir.
Q. Do you know of the existence in this Capitol of a room or rooms in which food and liquor, or either or both, are served to the members of the House or the Senate?
A. No, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know the names of persons whom you would consider lobbyists, coming here purposely to lobby for bills?
A. No, sir.

HON. RALPH R. DOWN, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Mercer, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature, during the present session of the General Assembly?
A. An organized lobby, you mean?
Q. Yes.
A. No, sir.
Q. Have you been approached by any person or agency whatsoever, during the present session, which person or agency has attempted to influence your vote for against any legislation or other matter presented to this General Assembly?
A. I have been asked to support certain legislation, certain bills that have been before the House.
Q. By others than members of the House?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did anyone ever try to do that in any but a proper way?
A. No, they asked me to give it my support, and they tried to point out the virtues of it, and said that they wanted me to vote for it. If they wanted me to vote against it, they pointed out the demerits, I would not say in an improper manner.
Q. You know there was a man, or men, here representing the railroad interests of the State?
A. No, not personally.
Q. You have never been approached?
A. I have never been approached by them.
Q. Were you ever approached by those representing the liquor interests?
A. No, sir, never approached.
Q. By the mining interests?
A. I was requested by a friend of mine who was interested in one of the coal companies to vote against some of the mining bills.
Q. Did he come here to Harrisburg?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. What is his name?
A. Cannon.
Q. What is his first name?
A. Byron.
Q. How do you spell it?
A. B-y-r-o-n.
Q. He is a personal friend?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Where does he live?
A. In Pittsburgh.
Q. Do you know his address in Pittsburgh?
A. No, I do not.
Q. He represented whom?
A. The Pittsburgh Coal & Coke Company, if I am not mistaken.
Q. Did you see him more than once?
A. I think I saw him two times. I don't believe he approached me the second time.
Q. What bill was he interested in?
A. I cannot tell. I think it was about the time the bill was up for a public hearing. I think I told him I was in favor of the bill, and the matter dropped. I would not say he approached me in an improper manner.
Q. Do you know of the existence in this Capitol building of a room or rooms, in which food and drink, or either, or both, are served to the members of the House and the Senate?
A. I do not. Last night when the investigation started, was the first I heard of it. I may be a little slow getting next to these things.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Since you have been elected a member of the House of Representatives, has any person approached you in an improper manner, and attempted to influence your vote on legislation?
A. Not in an improper way. I was not.
Q. Did anyone threaten to kill any of your bills, if you would not support bills, or offer to support your bills if you would support their bills?
A. No, sir.

HON. MANDUS W. REESER, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Sullivan, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature, during the present session of the General Assembly?
A. Well, I really don't know what I shall say in regard to that. I have received letters from my constituents in regard to bills before the House, and I have been talked to by people who were interested in bills in the House, for and against them.
Q. Has anyone sought to bring any improper influence to bear upon you?
A. What do you mean by that?
Q. "Improper influences," I will let you define that.
A. Paying me in any way?
Q. Recompensing you.
A. No, sir.
Q. Not since you have been elected to the office of a member of the House of Representatives?
A. No, sir.
Q. Any threats as to what would happen to you if you didn't vote for or against certain legislation?
A. Yes, sir, I have had threats made, but not to me personally.
Q. It is just hearsay evidence, is it?
A. One of my associates on the committee told me. Would that be evidence.

MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

You tell tell us what it was.

A. I had a bill in the House in regard to placing a bounty on birds, and so forth. The Secretary of the Board of Game Commission, Dr. Kalbfus, told me a number of times that if I did not have the bill amended in the House, he would certainly try to have it killed in the House, or use every influence he could to defeat it. After it passed the House almost unanimously, it went to the Senate. It was then amended in the Senate, I think yesterday, and there was a Conference Committee appointed, and he told one of the members of the House Conference Committee, that if we still persisted in our non-concurrence to the amendments, or tried to have the bill go through as it went through the House, that he would insist upon having the Governor veto it. That is about all.
Q. To what members did he tell that?
A. Mr. Currier, from Clearfield county.
Q. Mr. Currier is a member of the Conference Committee?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did any other persons in the House make any threats?
A. No, sir, they never made any threats.

Q. Do you know any persons whom you would call lobbyists?

A. There were men asking me to vote for measures and against measures. I have received lots of letters of that kind, but there never was anything improper.

Q. Can you give us the names of any persons?

A. No, sir.

MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know of the existence in this Capitol building, of rooms or a room, in which food and drink, or either or both, are served to the members of the House and the Senate?

A. Yes, there is a place right over from the House, in the lobby between there and the Senate where I think they sell sandwiches, and you can get a drink of water.

Q. Where is that?

A. It is in the hall?

Q. Where?

A. At the cigar stand.

Q. I have reference to a room.

A. I never saw anything of that kind.

Q. You don't know whether there is or not?

A. No, sir.

MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Since you have been elected a member of the House of Representatives, has any person approached you in an improper way to influence your vote of legislation pending in the House?

A. No, sir, no other than I have friends asking for a little help on a bill.

Q. That is all?

A. Yes. sir.

W. L. ADAMS, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. What do you mean by lobby?

Q. I will let you define that term yourself?

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Not members.

A. You mean men representing railroads, and so on?

Q. Yes, sir.

A. Yes.

Q. Have you been approached by any agency who have attempted to influence your vote in any way?

A. No, sir.

Q. That is, otherwise than in a proper way?

A. Through favortism, asking me to support their measures.

Q. Have you known of men representing mining interests and railroads, on the floor of the House, during the session, regarding legislation for which they were friendly?

A. Do you mean on the floor of the House, or back of the rail?

Q. Anywhere about the Capitol.

A. I cannot say that I have, outside.

Q. The labor men have talked to you, I suppose?

A. Labor men, liquor men, anti-liquor men, and men favoring all measures, which we all know are represented by lobbyists. I never was approached in a way that I would have to answer anything incriminating against the man who made the request.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. It was all done in a proper way?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Simply an interview?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know anything of the existence in the State Capitol of a room or rooms, in which food or drink, either or both, are furnished to the members of the House?

A. I have been empty ever since I have heard of one. If it had been earlier in the session, I would have tried to locate it.

Q. Since you were elected to the House, you would say that no one has attempted in any way to influence your vote, in any way?

A. No, sir, not one, no lobbyist, in any way but what I would say in propriety in making requests. I have had members, and have also had lobbyists tell me that if I would support their measures, they would probably be of some help to me in measures in which I was interested.

Q. Persons, not members?

A. Both.

Q. Can you call the name of any lobbyist, not a member, who suggested to you if you supported certain legislation, that person might be of use to you?

A. Outside of the man who was here lobbying for the Garnishee bill and perhaps one or two of the labor lobbyists. I could not recall the name of any other lobbyist who has approached me.

Q. Do you know the name of the man lobbying for the Garnishee bill?

A. Thompson was the Garnishee lobbyist. He said he would exert any help on his part that might help me.

Q. Has he been here throughout the session?

A. I believe he has.

Q. You don't know his name?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know where he is?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know anybody that could probably tell us?

A. Thompson. You can very easily find out on Monday. He stays here in the city throughout the week.

Q. We would be glad to have you furnish us the place where we could reach him?

A. Understand, what I mean, he has not used any undue influence, not even as much as the members of the House have.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Can you say who he represented?

A. No, sir. I haven't the slightest idea who he represents.

H. M. SHOWALTER, having been duly affirmed, according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. I know there are many here, representing various interests for which they are lobbying, but I do not believe that I can mention the name of more than one or two men.

Q. Give the names.

A. I know a man named Reeser, lobbying for railroads, and a man named Robinson, I think representing the railroad brotherhood. Those are the only two names I can think of that are lobbyists.

Q. Do you know anything of the existence in the Capitol here, of a room or rooms, where food or drink, either or both, are served to members of the House?

A. No, sir, only what I have heard.

Q. Nothing of your own knowledge?

A. The first thing I knew of it was last Thursday a week, a member spoke to me and said he heard there was such a room. That is all I know.

Q. Since you were elected to the House, has anyone sought in any way to influence your course as to legislation?

A. No, sir.

JOHN McCLINTOCK, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. Nothing further than there are certain gentlemen advocating for and against certain measures.

Q. Do you know their names?

A. I know of one, because he comes from my own district, and I knew him before I came here as a representative, Mr. Curry.

Q. Do you know his first name?

A. No, I do not.

Q. What interest does he represent?

A. The union, railroad union, the interests of the railroad union.

Q. Has he been here continuously?

A. The early part of the session I noticed him in the House quite frequently.

Q. Has anyone also sought in any improper way to influence your vote for or against any legislation at this session?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know anything of the existence in this Capitol building, of a room or rooms, where food or drink either or both, are served to members of the House?

A. No, sir, nothing, not until you brought it out in your resolution last night.

Q. You have never been in the alleged room?

A. No, sir.

Q. The blue room?

A. No, sir.

MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Before we proceed with the testimony, I desire to announce that the Committee would like to have the very best order maintained while the witnesses are testifying, as it is very confusing to the stenographers, as well as the members of the Committee if the conversation is carried on while witnesses are being interrogated. The Sergeant-at Arms is requested to take notice of this statement.

HON. SAMUEL B. BAYLE, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Erie, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Bayle, have you any knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature, during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. What do I understand to be your interpretation of the word "lobby?"

Q. I will put it in another way. Have you been approached by any person or agency, during the present session, which person or agency has attempted to influence your vote for or against any legislation or other matter presented to this General Assembly?

A. Not illegally.

Q. Did anyone attempt to induce you to vote against the Workingman's Compensation bill, for instance?

A. No, sir.

Q. On the child labor bill?

A. No, sir.

Q. On the woman's labor bill?

A. No, sir.

Q. On the public utilities bill?

A. No, sir.

Q. But you have received letters asking you to vote against them?

A. I have received letters on all of these bills, showing the qualities of the bills, pro and con.

Q. Persons have requested you to vote for or against a considerable amount of legislation in a perfectly proper way?

A. Certainly, exactly.

Q. Since you were elected a member of the House of Representatives, has any person sought to influence your vote in an improper manner?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Or intimidate you?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know anything about the existence in this Capitol or a room or rooms where food and drink are served to the members of the Legislature?

A. No, I don't.

Q. Have you been in room 249?

A. Where is that room?

Q. It is on the House floor, on the Senate side of the Capitol, and diagonally across from the side door to the men's wash room and lavatory?

A. I do not believe I have been in that room this year.

HON. SIGMUND J. GANS, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Philadelphia, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN.

Q. Do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature, during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. Well, yes. I have noticed a great many men and women around here during the session. I must say that the best organized lobby I have noticed in this session and in my previous experience, was the woman suffrage lobby.

Q. For or against?

A. For. It was headed by Miss Mary Flinn, of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Anna Lowenburg, of Philadelphia.

Q. What do you mean by that?

A. Well, they seemed to be pretty well organized. The morning that the resolution was on our calendar, and acted upon, it seemed—well, if I remember correctly, there seemed to be about fifty women, and they seemed to be organized.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. What was that name?

A. Mrs. Anna Lowenburg.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Where is she?

A. Philadelphia.

Q. Philadelphia?

A. Yes, sir. In fact, while that resolution was on, there were at least eight women sent to my seat for me.

Q. There were no illegal or improper methods used by those women?

A. Oh, no.

Q. The method of that lobby was in requesting the members to vote for their bill?

A. To vote for woman's suffrage.

Q. Since you were elected, has anyone attempted, in an improper way, to influence your vote?

A. No, sir.

Q. I suppose you have received a considerable number of letters regarding the important bills of the session, the workingman's compensation bill, and the child and woman labor bills?

A. I have received thousands of letters during the session on all important legislation.

Q. Are you able to state what proportion of that correspondence was directed either against or for the important legislation of the session, the so-called platform legislation?

A. No, I am not in a position to state that. I think against my cold storage bill there was more correspondence than on anything else.

Q. There was considerable against that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were the author of that bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know what interests were opposed to that bill?

A. The cold storage interests.

Q. I believe Mr. Wilson, from your city, also had a cold storage bill?

A. It was a combination bill. It was my bill.

Q. You introduced one, and he did also?

A. No, he didn't. There were three introduced, one by Wiltbank, and another, I forget by whom, and then there was my own. There was a sub-committee appointed, and Mr. Wilson was the chairman of that sub-committee, and we drafted one bill out of the three.

Q. What became of that bill?

A. The Governor signed it on the 16th of May.

Q. Do you know who was at the head of the effort against that bill?

A. No, I don't know that, there was really no head, while I received correspondence from cold storage interests all over the State.

Q. Did anyone make any threats directed against you, on account of your advocacy of that bill?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know of the existence in this Capitol, of a room or rooms where food and drink are served to the members of the Legislature?

A. Why, not food. I have been in a room on the second floor.

Q. Was that room 249?

A. I don't know the number.

Q. Was it on the House floor?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Diagonally across from the side door of the men's wash room of the House?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When were you there, Mr. Gans?

A. Probably two weeks ago.

Q. Was that the first time?

A. No, I have been there several times.

Q. Since the session began?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How did you get into the room?

A. Just went in.

Q. Just knocked at the door?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who answered to that knock?

A. Anyone who happened to be in the room.

Q. Can you name some of those who happened to be in there?

A. The last time I was in there the only gentleman I can recall was T. Henry Walnut. I remember he passed through the room while I was in there?

Q. Was there any one else in there?

A. There were several others in there but I don't recall their names now.

Q. Was it at the time that the conference committee on the Election bills was meeting with the Senate Committee?

A. Yes. I think that was the time.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You say you think that was the time?

A. Yes, I am not sure.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Did you see anything of Mr. Humes or Mr. Jones?

A. No, I think not, but I saw Senator McIlhenny in there.

Q. Did you see any other Senators?

A. There were several others; in fact I don't know who they were, I don't think they were members of the Senate or House.

Q. Did you see anything of a colored man in there during any of your visits?

A. It seems to me I have seen him.

Q. Do you know his name?

A. No, sir.

Q. You say there was liquor there?

A. I don't know. I never took a glass of whiskey in my life.

Q. Did you see any there?

A. I saw Apollinaris in small bottles, and Poland water.

Q. Did you see a cabinet there?

A. It seems to me I did.

Q. Where was this water you saw?

A. The Apollinaris water was on the floor in a basket and the Poland water was on the window.

Q. In an ice bucket?

A. I don't think the Poland water was.

Q. Did you see any whiskey?

A. No, sir.

Q. Any beer?

A. I saw bottles there, but I don't know what was in them.

Q. Did you see any liquor of any kind soft or hard on the table?

A. No, only Apollinaris and Poland waters.

Q. Did you see any lunch there?

A. No, I never saw any lunch there.

Q. Did you see either the Secretary, Mr. Baker, or Mr. Kephart when you were there?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you recall the lettering over the door of that room?

A. No, sir.

Q. How often have you been in that room?

A. Possibly a half a dozen times during the session?

Q. Since the beginning of the session?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. During the session have you met a man by the name of Lamaree, from Greensburg, at any time here?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You don't know him by name?

A. No, sir.

Q. You may have met him?

A. Yes, sir, I have met a dozen or so during the session, but I do not recall their names.

HON. WILLIAM S. BIGGER, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Allegheny, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Bigger, what do you know about the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. I have seen several men and women here interested in legislation.

Q. Did they approach you?

A. Yes, sir, but not in an improper manner.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Not in an improper manner?

A. No, sir.

BY MR GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. I understand you introduced a bill known as the "Minimum Wage Bill"?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where is that bill now?

A. It is in the Judiciary Special Committee of the Senate.

Q. It passed the House?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. But it is still in that committee of the Senate?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. They have never reported it out?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have you made any efforts to get it out?

A. I have.

Q. Have you been able to do so?

A. No, sir.

Q. Are you able to give any reason why it has not been reported out on the floor of the Senate?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know any influences that have been working in the Senate against the passage of that bill?

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Would it not be better to make that question read: "In the Legislature," and that would take in both bodies?

A. I can say there has been considerable opposition to the bill, but as far as I know there have been no improper influences brought to bear against the bill. Also I have received several letters, and I judge they have been sent to the members of the House, giving their reasons against the bill, and many were given in favor of the bill, but I am not acquainted with any improper influences that were brought to bear against it.

Q. Who is the chairman of that Senate committee?

A. Mr. Snyder.

Q. Mr. Charles Snyder?

A. Mr. Charles Snyder.

Q. Of Schuylkill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. All your efforts to have that bill reported out of that committee have been unavailable?

A. Besides my efforts, the Republican Executive Committee, I understand, have made repeated efforts to have that bill reported out, it being one of the Platform bills.

Q. You say you have been approached at various times by men and women who sought to influence your vote for or against legislation? Can you give the names of any of those persons?

A. Now, I suppose there were probably twenty or twenty-five bills that the people gave me their reasons for.

Q. Can you give us the names?

A. I don't remember.

Q. But they asked you to vote for particular legislation?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Has Mr. Reese spoken to you?

A. Mr. who?

Q. Mr. Reese, said to represent certain railroad interests.

A. No, I don't think so; I cannot just recall, but I will say—

Q. Do you know Mr. Mason, said to be a liquor representative?

A. Yes, I know Mr. Mason.

Q. Has he approached you in regard to any legislation? Any liquor legislation?

A. No, I can't say that he did.

Q. Do you know Mr. Ettla?

A. Not by name, I may have met him.

Q. Do you know Mr. Mowitz, of Philadelphia, interested in the child labor bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he approach you regarding that bill?

A. He talked to me on that.

Q. Talked to you and discussed the matter?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know Mr. Clarke, of Punxsutawney?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know anything about the existence in this Capitol of a room where food and drink are served to the members of this Legislature?

A. No, sir, I don't drink.

Q. You have not been invited yourself?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Were you ever approached on that Pymatuning Swamp bill?

A. No, sir.

Q. Has a Mr. Walker ever spoken to you, or has anybody approached you on that subject?

A. No, sir.

Q. You have never been approached by a gentleman by the name of Walker?

A. The only gentleman that ever spoke to me on that bill was Mr. Down, a member of the House.

Q. Outside of that?

A. No one has spoken to me.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Have you ever discussed legislation with a gentleman by the name of Grundy here in the Capitol building?

A. The president of the manufacturers' association?

Q. Yes.

A. Yes, in a general way.

Q. Did he ask you to vote for legislation?

A. Mr. Grundy has never asked me to vote for or to oppose any of the legislation.

Q. With Mr. Shoemaker, did you ever discuss legislation with him?

A. That is the secretary?

Q. Yes.

A. No, I made arrangements for two meetings with him, but I never discussed the merits of the bills.

Q. Mr. Lamaree?

A. I don't know him.

Q. During this Legislature, did you discuss the liquor legislation with any agent or person, who came here in the interest of the legislation?

A. No, I did not.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You said to Mr. G. A. Baldwin, relative to the minimum wage bill, that so far as you knew it was still in the Senate committee?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you introduced any other bills that you have been unable to get out of the committees?

A. Yes, I have; I mean in the House.

Q. What bill was that?

A. That was the bill that would give to the City of Pittsburgh the authority to acquire the street car companies, and to construct and build subways. I think those bills are still in the Senate, and have not been reported out.

Q. In the Senate?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. It has gone through the House?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Are there any bills you have introduced this session that have not been reported out of the House committees?

A. There is one in committee.

Q. In which committee?

A. I think in the Judiciary Special committee.

Q. What is the nature of that bill?

A. It is a bill relative to advertising in cities of the second class.

Q. That bill was never reported out?

A. No, sir.

Q. First or second class cities, did you say?

A. Second class. That was partly through my own influence.

Q. You have made no request to the chairman of that committee, or any inquiry as to why the bill has not come out?

A. No.

Q. Have you made any effort to get it out?

A. No, sir.

Q. You mean the bill for advertising purposes?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is the bill in the Judiciary Special committee?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. That bill has not come out?

A. No, sir.

Q. Has any reason been given to you by the members of that committee why it has not been reported out?

A. No, I am a member of that committee, and as I said, I have never made any efforts to have it reported out. I suppose it was largely on my account.

Q. Since coming down here you have decided that the bill is not of sufficient merit?

A. It was a bill to reduce the number of newspapers for advertising matters relative to cities of the second class.

HON. MILES B. KITTS, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Erie, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. What do you know, Mr. Kitts, about the existence of a lobby operating with the Legislature during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. Why, I have seen many people here in the interest of legislation. I would not term them, in the strictest sense of the word, a lobby.

Q. You mean by that that you have observed no improper methods being used?

A. Absolutely not.

Q. Has any influence been brought to bear on you?

A. No, I don't suppose there has been hardly a piece of important legislation this year but what somebody has spoken to me, both the laity and from the clergy.

Q. Mr. Kitts, do you know anything of your own knowledge about the existence of a room or rooms in this Capitol in which food or drinks have been served to the members of either the Senate or the House?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What room is it?

A. I don't remember but it is on the same side of the hallway that leads back from where the cigar stand is located.

Q. Have you been in there?

A. I have.

Q. About how often?

A. I have been there two or three times, maybe more. I can't recall.

Q. How did you get in?

A. The first time I went in there I think I was invited in by a Senate clerk.

Q. Do you remember his name?

A. I think his name was Kephart.

Q. How did you get in there other times you were in there?

A. The other time there was a man going in there and I invited myself in and followed him in.

Q. Well, the door was open?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Whom did you see in there while you were in there?

A. Well, the first time I went in there was but two or three people there. That time Mr. Kephart was at his desk, and I was introduced to some people there from out of town, but I cannot recall their names, at the present time.

Q. Was there anything to drink to be had there?

A. Yes.

Q. What was it?

A. There was to my notion three kinds of drinks, but I didn't sample them all.

Q. What were they?

A. There was, I think, on the window sill, or on some other article of furniture, possibly two kinds of mineral water,—White Rock, and I imagine some other kind,—I didn't look at them in particular. In a pail on the floor, I presume it was an old tobacco pail,—it looked like that,—with cracked ice in it were probably six or seven bottles of beer.

Q. Was there any other kind of liquor there?

A. Well, not that I noticed. I don't drink whiskey and I didn't pay any attention to that, but I think there was a bottle of whiskey, because I saw some other bottle there.

Q. Did you see anything there of a colored porter or attendant?

A. Well, once when I was in there there was a colored fellow there.

Q. What did his duties appear to be?

A. Well, I don't know. Mr. Kephart asked me what I would like to have and I told him, and received it.

Q. That's all.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Were you ever taken to that room at any time to discuss legislation of any character?

A. No, sir.

Q. You simply dropped in on Mr. Kephart as one friend would drop in on another?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were acquainted with Mr. Kephart?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Personally acquainted with him?

A. I had met him a good many times outside of the Capitol and I also visited there with one of the Senate clerks, a Mr. Nason, a man who came from my own town and with whom I was acquainted for a long time.

Q. Did you ever talk concerning any legislation with any one in that room?

A. I never heard legislation mentioned in that room, nor did I consider it a booze room. There was never enough liquor product there at a time to be a booze room in my estimation, although there was some liquor there as I have said.

Q. That is all.

MR. HARMON M. KEPHART, Chief Clerk of the Senate, residing in Connellsville, County of Fayette, having been called as a witness, was duly sworn and testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. CLAYCOMB.

Q. Mr. Kephart, what position do you hold in the Senate?

A. Chief clerk.

Q. Do you know of such a thing as a lobby existing anywhere in the Capitol at this time,—during the present session,—for the purpose of influencing legislation.

A. Well, I don't know what you would term a lobby. There are several gentlemen I know around here in the interest of legislation one way or the other.

Q. Can you give the names of any persons who are particularly interested for or against certain legislation?

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Or any legislation?

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Yes, or any legislation?

A. Well, I don't know the names of the labor fellows particularly. There were some men from Philadelphia, I don't know their names. On the compensation legislation there were several here,—Mr. Reed, an attorney for—

BY MR. BALDWIN (R. J.):

Q. He was only an attorney, is that right, not a lobbyist?

A. They are all attorneys, as I know them, that is Mr. Clark and Mr. Lydick.

Q. Do you know Mr. Reed's full name?

A. No, I don't.

Q. Of Philadelphia, is he?

A. I don't know his residence either.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. I wish you would just name any one that you know, Mr. Kephart. Do you know Mr. Clark?

A. I named Mr. Clark. Yes, I know him,—Mr. B. M. Clark.

Q. Do you know Mr. Shoemaker, secretary of the Manufacturers' Association?

A. No, sir, not by name.

Q. Do you know Mr. Mason?

Q. From where is he?

A. From Pittsburgh.

Q. What legislation was he especialliy interested in?

A. Liquor legislation, to my understanding.

Q. Was he for what we generally term the "Temperance" legislation or against it?

A. No, he was for the liquor people.

Q. Do you know who employed him?

A. No, I don't.

Q. How frequently have you seen him here during this session?

A. Well, I have seen him probably a dozen times up here, and I have met him down town.

Q. Have you had frequent communication with him in reference to his work as a lobbyist?

A. No, I don't know that I have any authority concerning bills.

Q. That was Mr. Mason. Do you know Mr. Lamaree?

A. No sir, not by name.

Q. Have you met Mr. Ettla?

A. Yes, sir, Charles Ettla, I have known him a long time.

Q. What legislation was he interested in?

A. The same as Mason.

Q. Do you know him personally?

A. For a long time.

Q. In whose employ was he?

A. I am not sure. He comes from Philadelphia. He seems to be in the same line of business as Mason.

Q. Did he ever say to you whom he represented or what position he held or for whom he was acting as lobbyist?

A. No, he never mentioned nothing concerning it, or any legislation. Not to me.

Q. Do you know where room No. 249 is, Mr. Kephart?

A. Yes, sir, very well.

Q. State what you know about lunch or drink being served in room no. 249, Mr. Kephart?

A. Well, to go through with it might exhaust the Committee.

Q. Well, we are rather enduring parties.

A. Well, to come down to the fact of it, I serve a luncheon there every Tuesday, and every Tuesday the Senators come in my office for their—

Q. Your office is near this room?

A. It touches this.

Q. It touches No. 249?

A. Yes, and for that luncheon there is a standing order for four dozen sandwiches, four dozen hard boiled eggs, and three gallons of coffee.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. A standing order with whom?

A. With the Senate restaurant. I ordered it every Monday morning, and pay for it myself, by the way, you can add that. I have the receipted bills in my pocket if the Committee wishes to see all, I can have an itemized account.

Q. All right, just proceed.

A. We have four or five different kinds of waters there for the Senators, for several of them are sick. I forget the names of the waters, of two of them. They are special waters. One is Poland water and one is Apollinaris.

Q. What drinks other than—

A. I'm coming to that, I'm leading up to the worst last. We also have a limited amount of whiskey and beer, and that is put in there by myself, and all accounted for by myself. I have taken a few, a very few of the members of the House and invited them in there with me to luncheon, if we had room, and also for a drink. There has been very few members of the House in there. I know there have been other members of the House in there but I don't know their names. They came in of their own accord. There was no secret or anything mysterious about the room.

Q. What is the manner pursued to get into that room?

A. Well, according to our friendly newspapers, you have to ride the goat, I guess, but the truth of the matter is that the doors are all locked along there, all the Senate committee rooms are along there, and their doors are locked, especially during the meal hours, and they would come to the door and rap on it, if it was locked, rap on the window, and if it was not locked they came right in. Some of the times I introduced them to some of the boys that sat in there. You got in there just like you would in any other room.

Q. Does the Election committee meet in there sometimes.

A. Yes, sir, they have met in my office sometimes, though not in that room particularly.

Q. Mr. Kephart, you say you have a standing order with the Senate restaurant. Do you pay for this yourself.

A. Yes, sir, that is not only this session. It has been going on all the sessions I have been here as Chief Clerk. I produce these bills as a sample. There is one that is a sample. (Produced a number of bills which were examined by the Chairman of the Committee.)

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Are you reimbursed for these?

A. Not at all, but last session it got a little heavy for me, it ran probably a couple of hundred dollars, and I called in four or five of the Senators, friends of mine, and we divided it up between us.

Q. What Senators did you speak to in reference to this?

A. This session? I didn't speak to any this session. That was last session. I spoke to some of the fellows that had the money,—friends of mine,—and they helped me out.

Q. Well, what members were they?

A. I don't believe I can recall their names. I think Mr. Crow was one, and Senator McNichol was another, Senator Clark and I think Senator Gerberich. It really was so small that I didn't keep any track of it.

Q. Do you expect to ask any of the Senators that participated last year to participate again. Did you ask any of the members?

A. No, nobody outside of the Senate and the Senators. In fact, they would come to us, and say, you get us up a lunch and we will split it up. That is the way it got about.

Q. If they made the request, you would, of course, do that?

A. Anything that I could.

Q. And they contributed afterwards?

A. They would have if I had asked them. I don't know, I don't know since we have been investigated whether or not it will be proper for me to ask them.

Q. Well, now, have any of the liquor interests in the State furnished any of the liquor that was going into that room?

A. Not that I know of. There was several packages of liquor came in there at one time that I couldn't quite trace the source of, and I ordered that to be returned. I have tried to see everything that went in there. You know it is my own personal property. It is my room, and I have to account for it.

Q. Did Mr. Mason or Mr. Ettla ever offer to send liquor to the room?

A. No, not that I can recall. There was only one time that one of them mentioned something about something having been broken over in the House. That was Mason. He wanted to send some liquor, but I said, "Nothing doing, if you want to send anything here, send water." I am not prejudiced against the liquor people, and I am not too proud to take it.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Has any particular piece of legislation been discussed in that room?

A. Well, not in my presence, excepting that you hear four or five men talking there condemning or approving some measure, but not in a business way, and they were not got together to defeat or oppose it, nor have I been approached about a single bill in that line.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Kephart, you say this luncheon is for the Senate alone?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know Mr. Ben Clark, of Punxsutawney?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Has he been served with luncheon or liquor in that room?

A. Well, I asked him several times. Other people would be in there, would come in while I was serving luncheon. the same as in your own home, and you would ask them in for something to eat. I couldn't get a very large luncheon in there and when the Senators would not all come in I would have something left which I could give out.

Q. You know Mr. Clark?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. Has he been in that room and in about the committee rooms of the Senate during the last two or three months?

A. Well, he has been in there a good deal.

Q. Has he frequently received both luncheon and drinks?

A. I can't say that he ever has received a lunch but he has taken a drink with me.

Q. Several times?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Frequently?

A. Yes. You can define the difference between several times and frequently as you like.

Q. Well, he is in there about every day?

A. You see I am only there a few days a week.

Q. You say this luncheon is prepared once a week?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. On Tuesday?

A. Yes, sir. On last week we had one on two different days.

Q. I know the two different days. Who furnishes the cigars there?

A. I furnish these cigars. I usually get a box of them.

Q. And you pay bills as high as $26.00 at a time?

A. Just as I have told you, Mr. Baldwin. I can furnish you with the receipted bills, and also my duplicate checks.

Q. And luncheon sometimes amounted to $17.40, is that right?

A. Yes, sir. That's the way they make their bills out at the Senate Hotel. They don't itemize anything. They make them high enough.

Q. Is ginger ale also supplied up there?

A. Yes, sir, I buy the ginger ale for up there.

Q. You state that there was a limited quantity of whiskey and beer. Will you state to the Committee what you consider a limited quantity?

A. Well, I don't know. There is always one bottle of whiskey at any time.

Q. How big a bottle would that be?

A. A quart bottle, I consider that,—

Q. How much beer?

A. Not over a half a dozen.

Q. Have you the amount of beer and whiskey that you have furnished since the session began.

A. No, not at the present time, but I can get that. I will have to send out for that. If you want it, I will get it for you.

Q. I wish you would. Then that is all paid out of your pocket?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Assisted by the Senators?

A. Well, that was last session. I don't think that it would be proper to bring it out this session.

Q. Has any Senator assisted you this session in paying for this expense?

A. Only once. I want to say to the Committee that only five Senators drink. There are only two of the five that drink whiskey, the other three drink beer. The balance of them are teetotalers.

Q. So there are only about eight Senators that have to be supplied?

A. Yes, sir. The water that is used is ten to one to any other drink.

Q. Will you look up those bills for these table waters?

A. I will get them.

Q. Is there a colored man who is detailed there to serve this lunch?

A. Not always. There is one there some days.

Q. What is his name?

A. His name is George. That is all I know.

Q. George Grayson?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How much of his time does he spend at this room?

A. Well, I suppose three hours a day, maybe four.

Q. Every day that the lunch is served he comes up?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who pays him?

A. I pay him.

Q. Do you pay him for the lunch?

A. Now I have an arrangement to pay him for his time at the end of the session.

Q. And while he is there he serves what is to be eaten and drank?

A. Yes, sir. The hot coffee.

Q. You have hot coffee there too?

A. Yes, sir, hot coffee.

Q. And the bill for the lunch usually averages about $17.40?

A. Well, if you had eaten down at the Senate you would not be surprised. The bill is very reasonable.

Q. I notice that they have not itemized the bill.

A. They never do.

Q. That is a Senate practice? Now about these other people that came in there?

A. To be frank, Mr. Chairman, they were guests of mine, purely and simply, including members of the House and nobody that I remember ever went in there for any other purpose.

Q. Mr. Clark, if he was there would be simply there as a pesonal guest of yours?

A. Yes, sir, I considered him my guest. He is an old friend. There was sort of a misunderstanding concerning Clark that grew out of this whiskey. There is another friend of mine by that name and his first name is Ben. This man Clark's first name is also Ben. I wanted a drink myself one day and I found that there was no liquor so I asked one of the clerks there to go and get me a bottle of whiskey, and instead of doing this he went and told Ben Clark and I didn't discover it until two months later and then I paid for it. It is not that I would be too proud to accept it but simply that I would not have asked him for it.

Q. Well, Mr. Kephart, has been conducted every Tuesday? Is liquor to be had there at any time?

A. Not that I know of. I am only here until Wednesday. We have these luncheons on Tuesdays. The Senators are very busy on that day and they work very hard over there.

Q. How many of the Senators participate in this luncheon.

A. Well, I don't know any that don't. Some of them may have their wives or somebody else down street, and may have to see them, but at other times they all come there.

Q. Well, then it is true that every day on which there is a morning session that a luncheon is prepared for them.

A. Not on Wednesday, except on last week when the Senate did not adjourn,—not every week. Last week several of our Senators got knocked out, probably twenty-five of them. They didn't get through with their work. You know they have been working harder than usual.

Q. What time does the Senate meet on Tuesday morning?

A. Ten o'clock.

Q. What time would this lunch be served.

A. Well, they would start to get in there about a quarter to one.

Q. Do you know Mr. Mason. I believe that you had said that you knew him?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Has he been in and about this lunch room.

A. No, I have never seen him in the lunch room.

Q. Wasn't it Mr. Mason that wanted to send you some liquor?

A. No, I can't say that.

Q. Isn't true that he would be willing to?

A. No.

Q. Did you have some conversation with him regarding liquor.

A. Yes.

Q. Repeat the conversation.

A. There was no conversation about liquor. There was some about water. He mentioned something about bringing some members of the House in for a drink and he wanted to replace it because he knew that it came off of me, and I said, "Nothing doing, if you want to replace it, send water."

Q. Then he had some members that he wanted to bring in?

A. Well, he indicated that he had some place to drink over here, or something like that.

Q. Has Mr. Clark the lobbyist from Punxsutawney been permitted to sit with the conference committees while considering any of the matters sent over by the House?

A. Oh, my, no, I never saw or heard of such a thing.

Q. Anything else?

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN

Q. Then you can positively say that that room has never been used as a lobby for or against any legislation whatever?

A. Absolutely not.

Q. Mr. Baldwin spoke a while ago about Mr. Walnut being there and a committe on conference on the election bills being in that room. Did that Committee have lunch there?

A. Was that the Election committee?

Q. Yes.

A. Yes, sir, I served them myself.

Q. Who were the members that composed that Committee?

A. A Mr. Walnut and a Mr. Jones.

Q. Of Susquehanna?

A. A bald-headed man. And a Mr. Humes. The Senate committee was Senators McNichol, Crow and Hall.

Q. They were served with lunch there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know who furnished that lunch?

A. I did.

Q. You furnished it? Did you pay for it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did they offer to pay for it?

A. Why, no, I invited them.

Q. They didn't offer to pay for it?

A. No.

Q. Did any of them, either members of the Committee from the Senate or the House drink anything, do you know?

A. Well there is only one senator of those three who drinks. That is Senator Hall.

Q. Then none of them drank?

A. Oh, yes, there was a few drinkers there.

Q. In other words, they all drank?

A. Yes, they all drank something.

Q. Well then you would say that the hand of suspicion pointed as much to one as to the other.

A. Well, the Committee might as well get the lobby idea out of their heads because there is positively nothing to it.

Q. Did any member of the Senate whether he was known as a Progressive, or Republican or of Democratic inclination make any improper use of that room to your knowledge?

A. None whatever.

Q. You have already stated that none of the members of the Senate have ever up to the present time offered to recompense you for these lunches or the drinks.

A. No.

Q. None of them. Have none of the members of the House offered to recompense you for what they received over there?

A. No, why should they? They were guests.

Q. That is all I wanted to know.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Then they all considered it a free lunch?

A. No, I don't think that they do. Now there are several of them that have said to me, "Keep track of this and we will settle later."

Q. Who said that?

A. Well, let's see. Senator Gerberich was one of them that mentioned that, although I am not absolutely sure.

Q. Senator McNichol?

A. No, he comes and orders things and would never do anything until you told him about it. By the way, it was Senator McNichol that told me to get a lunch ready for the Election Conference Committee.

Q. What day was that?

A. I think last Wednesday.

Q. They met several times?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was the lunch served every time?

A. Well, I don't want to be hard on that Committee. Several times some of the Senators were down street, but they all reported that day. If I had known that the Committee was to be there I would have provided more.

Q. Then the members of the Committee were hungry.

A. If you had watched them you could not have mistaken that.

Q. Did either of the members of the House who were on that Committee make inquiry of you as to who was paying for that, or offer to pay for a share of it?

A. No, I think that the Committee understood that they were simply guests of the Committee and myself.

Q. That they were guests of the Senate?

A. Certainly.

A. Yes, sir. If I had known they were coming I would have provided more for them.

Q. The conference committee were hungry?

A. If you had watched them a while, you would not have blamed them.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Did either of the members of the House that were in there on that committee make inquiry of you at that time as to who was paying for that, or offer to pay a share of it, that you recall?

A. No, I think the committee understood that they were simply the guests of the other committee and myself.

Q. They were the guests of the Senate?

A. Yes, sir.

HARRY W. BAKER, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. You are the Secretary of the Senate?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What do you know about a room or rooms on the Senate side of the Capitol in which food or drink or both are served to members?

A. I cannot say much more than what Mr. Kephart told you, because I give up the room, the room was assigned to me and I gave up my room on account of so many of the departments taking the committee rooms, and I could not have it, and gave it up until after the session.

Q. That room was used for this purpose since the beginning of the session?

A. Not entirely; not until after we got in working order.

Q. It was not until after the Senate got working that the lunch was served on Tuesday?

A. Mr. Kephart can tell you about that. I have been in the rooms very little.

Q. You have your headquarters downstairs during the session?

A. I have to be down there where the stenographers are.

Q. Then the Senate chambers and rooms are in charge of Mr. Kephart?

A. Yes, he has charge of everything.

Q. You do not know anything about the lunch and drinks other than what you have heard?

A. That is all.

Q. You have been in there occasionally?

A. Yes, sir; I have had lunch there.

Q. And observed the lunch and drink being disposed of?

A. Yes, sir; I saw it.

Q. Do you know if there is a cabinet in which the liquor is kept?

A. That has been there ever since the Capitol was furnished.

Q. What sort of cabinet is it?

A. Just a walnut cabinet.

Q. Has it shelves?

A. One shelf, with a glass top

Q. Has it doors?

A. A door and the top.

Q. How much liquor is kept in that?

A. I do not know anything about that. I could not tell you.

Q. That is in this room that has your name there, or the title of your position?

A. Room 249.

Q. You have never looked in the cabinet to see how much drink has been kept there?

A. I have looked in and got a ginger ale. I do not drink myself.

Q. You do not drink intoxicating drinks?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know who pays for this?

A. Mr. Kephart tells me he pays for it. He did pay it last year, because I used to take the checks down and pay it myself.

Q. It does not come through the Senate?

A. No, sir. You could not get anything like that by the Auditor General.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Even the old one or the new?

A. Even the old one or the new.

Q. You have tried the new one, have you?

A. We file our accounts.

Q. You haven't tried this on the new one?

A. We have not tried it on any one.

ALBERT MISSIMER, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. What do you know about the existence of a lobby in the Capitol, working in and about the Capitol during this session?

A. Not any more than I have noticed on previous sessions about here.

Q. There have been men here interested for and against legislation?

A. I presume they have, the way they have been going around.

Q. Have you been approached in a way that you would deem an improper way?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have you been in room 249, during this session?

A. I was in there twice, to my knowledge, once that Mr. Gans made mention of, that was last Tuesday night, to-morrow night a week. I am not interested in any of that stuff. Of course I do not need to go in those places. I cannot say that they did have liquor on both occasions that I was in. I did not see liquor of any kind.

Q. Either intoxicating or non-intoxicating?

A. I would not say non-intoxicating. I saw waters, but I am the poorest soft drinker that has ever been there. They did not have my drink there, so I did not ask for any. I drink butter milk.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. You have never been approached by anyone since you have been a member of the House, regarding legislation?

A. Only a suffragette.

Q. Seriously?

A. Yes, sir; my attitude was known, and that is all there is to it.

Q. They did nothing irregular?

A. No, sir.

GEORGE T. CONRAD, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. What do you know about the existence of a lobby working in the present session of the legislature?

A. I have been approached on Woman's Suffrage, Child Labor Bill, and things of that kind.

Q. On both sides of it?

A. On both sides.

Q. Do you know anything about the existence of a paid lobby here?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know Mr. Clark of Punxsutawney?

A. No, sir.

Q. Mr. Reese?

A. No, sir.

Q. Mr. Ettla?

A. Yes, sir; I was introduced to him once.

Q. Mr. Mason?

A. By sight. I have never been introduced to him.

Q. Have you been approached in any way regarding legislation during this session?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. What legislation did you discuss with Mr. Ettla?

A. I did not discuss any. I was introduced to him, that is all.

Q. Do you know Mr. Lamaree?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Can you give us the names of any of those people that approached you?

A. No, sir. I do not know them except Mr. Chute, that represented the Child Labor bill. They did not influence me.

Q. They simply discussed the matter?

A. Yes, sir. I was on the sub-committee.

Q. They told you they were here for that purpose?

A. Yes, sir. He was in my district. He was very much interested.

Q. What organization did he represent?

A. Some charitable organization that he was interested in, and he was interested in the Child Labor bill.

J. F. SHERWOOD, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. What do you know of anything about the existence of a lobby in the Legislature at this session?

A. It all depends on how you use the word lobby.

Q. I mean the number and character of people on the ground, working for or against legislation.

A. The lobby has been very large this session. I have never seen more.

Q. Large number interested for and against legislation?

A. Yes, sir, a large number interested for and against legislation.

Q. Have any of them approached you in what would deem an improper way?

A. No, sir.

Q. Since you were elected down to the present time?

A. No, sir.

Q. What do you know, if anything about a lunch room on the Senate side of the Capitol?

A. I have been there on two occasions but I never saw lunch there.

Q. See anything to drink?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. What did you see there?

A. I saw some mineral waters, I saw a partly consumed bottle of whiskey, and a few bottles of beer in a bucket.

Q. Did you see a colored man there?

A. I did; yes.

Q. How soon after the session began was your first visit?

A. My best recollection, I would say early in March. I went there as Mr. Kephart's guest.

Q. Any other members with you?

A. There were some, but it has been so long since, I cannot recall the names.

Q. You have only been there twice?

A. I was there twice. One night last week, Tuesday evening, last week, I was there.

Q. Did you see any lunch there at that time?

A. I did not.

HARRY COCHRAN, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORQE BALDWIN:

Q. What do you know about the existence of a lobby working here in the Legislature at this session?

A. I have been asked by several people to be for and against certain bills, but it was in a legitimate way, no undue influence or pressure brought to bear.

Q. Do you know Mr. Reese?

A. No, sir.

Q. Said to represent—

A. I don't know him.

Q. Do you know Mr. Clark?

A. No, sir.

Q. Of Punxsutawney?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know any of the so-called liquor lobbyists?

A. There were fellows here said to be liquor lobbyists but I cannot swear to it. They never approached me on the question, they knew they did not have to.

Q. One way or the other?

A. No, sir; the only way I have been approached is by the anti-saloon league.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Some one spoke to you?

A. Yes.

Q. Who?

A. Mr. Chalfant.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you have been elected, no one has attempted to influence you in any way?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know anything about the lunch rooms in which lunch or drink, either or both, have been served to members?

A. I do not drink anything. I board at the Bolton Hotel and I get my three meals a day there.

Q. You have been in there, have you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did you see?

A. Some desks and chairs.

Q. I mean in the way of food or drink.

A. Never saw anything to it.

Q. Saw a cabinet there?

A. There is a cabinet there.

Q. You did not see anything to drink there?

A. I saw some whiskey bottles there but I could not say there was anything intoxicating in them. An empty bottle being there is not any sign of anything being in it. It might be water in a brown bottle for all I know.

Q. But the bottle that you saw is what is commonly known as a whiskey bottle?

A. That is what they call them in Fayette county.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. How many bottles did you see?

A. One.

Q. You do not recall seeing any more than one, at one time?

A. I had a bottle of Apollinaris water. That is all that I had.

ZIBA T. MOORE, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. What is your full name?

A. Ziba T. Moore.

Q. You are a member of the bar?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where do you live?

A. Philadelphia.

Q. You said you were a member of the bar?

A. Member of the bar and served in the session here in 1897 and 1903.

Q. In the House or Senate?

A. In the House. Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Washington Party, and the Washington Party at its meeting endorsed various Progressive bills that the Democratic and Republican Parties endorsed in the State Conference, and being Chairman of the Committee I was instructed to come here and inquire as to the standing of the various bills that we were interested in.

Q. What bills.

A. The platform bills. The election bills, child labor bill, woman's labor bill, the employees liability act, and the various measures that our party is pledged to.

Q. What did you do in pursuance of that plan?

A. I came here and I talked with the various members that had those bills in charge, and in the House I was informed that there was every likelihood of their being passed. I do not know that I have asked any member to vote for them because I thought the sentiment almost unanimous on the bills I was interested in. I subsequently came to the Senate and spoke to Senator Daix, Senator Farley, and some others, Senator Sheatz, and some of them were committal and some noncommittal. My idea of, and I think the general acceptance of lobby is, a man who makes a business or receives a fee for it.

Q. Were you paid?

A. I was not. I paid my own expenses except on the Fire Commissioners bill. I was a guest of Director Porter. He asked me to come up when I did come.

Q. Were you favorable or unfavorable to that.

A. Unfavorable to the Fire Commissioners bill as it passed the House, but in that instance I was the guest of Director Porter and I did not pay my own expenses, but the other time I was here I paid it out of my own pocket.

Q. What effort did you make to get those bills out of the Senate Committee other than speaking to the Senators?

A. When I came up they were out of the Senate Committee.

Q. What bills were you talking about?

A. The State-wide primary act as it passed the House; the Compensation bill, as it passed the House. That is all I said, in the form they passed the House, and the Labor bill, I think I spoke about the Child Labor bill.

Q. So that we know what bill you are talking about.

A. I was especially interested in the State-wide Primary act, and also the general election law, which does away with the assistance of voters. I came here in 1906 and saw Governor Pennypacker. I simply want to show that it is not a recent conversion that I have with reference to the election laws. For those reasons I was in favor of them, but I did not use any unlawful means, and I have not had any requests.

Q. Made no threats or promises?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. While here, did you find any influences operating in opposition to those bills?

A. I did not hear anything but there were certain interests.

Q. What you know of your own knowledge.

A. Yes, sir. We were anxious to have all those measures, and I want to say as far as the House is concerned, they could not have done better work.

Q. Do you know the influence, the nature of the influences that have been at work to amend those bills in the Senate so as to practically destroy them?

A. I cannot say of my own knowledge, but it is so direct that you might say it is positive evidence. I know there are certain interests antagonistic to those interests.

Q. You mean interests or individuals?

A. Interests. There were not fair elections in Philadelphia. I do not think you people realize what we have to contend with in Philadelphia, and the assistance clause is the most damnable thing in the whole thing.

Q. Name the political influences that you think ruined those bills.

A. Penrose, Vare and McNichol influences. I think our good government is dependent on the election laws, and a fair election, and we cannot have them without stringent election laws.

Q. The question we want to inquire into is, whether there were any corrupt influences at work.

A. In my opinion, I would say yes.

Q. Can you say who has acted?

A. I am not in a position to do it.

Q. What makes you think it is so?

A. Because I think where the House acted as it did and the reverse of it in the Senate, there must be some influence used that is not of the ordinary character.

Q. You do not think anybody could honestly differ with any assistance clause?

A. Not honestly. I do not.

Q. I want to say I do differ and I want to say it conscientiously.

A. Personally I know you, and I know what you say, but I think where the House is so unanimous and the Senate was the reverse, that is why I say what I have. The platform elected these men to carry out the platform, and they should do it. I think a pledge breaker is worse than a thief, because you can get your stolen things back again. We will get what we want two years later.

Q. You stated you were satisfied that there were corrupt methods used?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You have stated you think there are corrupt methods being used. Thinking so, would you state of your own knowledge what any one has done that you considered corrupt, naming the person, and naming the act?

A. I cannot name the persons.

Q. The act?

A. The act is they are pledge breakers, and a man will not break a pledge without some reason for it; it need not be money, it may be promises of position.

Q. Were there any other measures which you interested yourself in besides the Fire Marshal and the so-called platform bills?

A. Yes, sir. I came on the smaller councils for Philadelphia. I was asked to come up with a committee of one hundred. I paid my own expenses on that trip. They asked me to come up on account of my having been a member of the Legislature.

Q. What bill did you say that was?

A. Smaller councils. It was termed the council of fifteen.

Q. Often called Commission Government?

A. Yes, sir; small council.

Q. Any other bill that you have in mind that you came here interested in?

A. I have not. I wrote to Mr. Blelock, with reference to a bill that is in the Appropriation Committee, and asked him to get it out, for George M. Phillips, an appropriation of four hundred thousand dollars, an appropriation to buy a normal school at West Chester, and Mr. Phillips said the property was worth nine hundred thousand dollars, and they had an arrangement whereby they could buy the ontstanding stock at par. Being a student there I wrote to Mr. Blelock with reference to it, and he has my letter?

Q. You do not recall to mind any other legislation that you were interested in?

A. That is all that I can recall to mind.

Q. Were you interested, or did you make any effort along the line of getting support or opposition to what was known as the escheat bills?

A. I have not.

Q. Have you been in communication or made any effort either advocating or opposing the escheat bills?

A. I did not. I believe there was one bill that was given to me by Mr. Aike and I spoke to Mr. John R. K. Scott about the measure, and he said he would not introduce it.

Q. Did you or not know that there was some eschete bills being considered?

A. I know there were but the nature of them I do not know. I have not read them. I gave the bill to Mr. Aike and I understood he had given it to Mr. Boyle, to look over.

Q. You took no active part?

A. No, sir, I took no active part.

Q. Was that bill an escheat bill? Who introduced that bill?

A. I do not know that it was introduced. I heard there was some bills—Mr. Murdock Kendrick—but I do not know anything about them.

Q. Did you take any part for or against the suffrage legislation?

A. I gave out some interviews favoring suffrage legislation, but I was not here on that.

Q. Did you take any part or make any effort for or against liquor legislation that has been here?

A. I have not. With reference to the women's suffrage, I did speak to Senator Salus and Senator Sheats. I called them on the telephone from my office.

Q. And the labor bill?

A. The liquor bill.

Q. No, sir, you have answered that on the liquor bills. I mean the labor bill.

A. I was in favor of the compensation act and the employers liability act.

Q. The utility bill?

A. I did not take any interest at all in that. It seemed to me there were enough people favoring that and it was something I did not understand.

Q. And the osteopathy bill?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or the vivisection bill?

A. No, sir.

Q. Cemetery bills?

A. No, sir.

Q. Civil Service bill?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Mining legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or the railroad legislation?

A. Or railroad legislation.

Q. Public road legislation?

A. I have not taken any interest in that.

Q. Insurance legislation?

A. No, sir, insurance legislation, and I did not take any interest in liquor legislation.

Q. There were three bills, 551, 552 and 553, known as the All-Philadelphia bills.

A. I did not take any interest in that.

Q. Nor in the mercantile repealer?

A. No, sir.

Q. You say you never used any undue influence on any member of the Legislature?

A. Never used any undue influence on any member of the Legislature. I did tell one or two of the Senators that they were not likely to come back if they did not carry out the pledges.

Q. You would not consider that a threat?

A. I would consider that anything that one man would say to another.

Q. I asked if you considered that a threat or not. Was that a threat or a prophesy. You are a lawyer.

A. I would consider that a prophsey, because I did not say I would be—it would be something to occur in the future. I said I thought they were pledged to this legislation. I said that to Senator Diax. I said that he had pledged himself to Wasson.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. There were some cold storage bills that Philadelphians took quite a little interest in. Did you have any interest in those bills?

A. I did not.

JOSEPH H. WEEKS, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

MR. WEEKS:

My interest in Harrisburg is entirely for the benefit of the people of the State. I have been here on road legislation of three different sessions, advancing road legislation.

Q. What is your position?

A. I am in the first place the president of the automobile club of Delaware county, an organization of nine hundred and thirty-five men. I am Chairman of the road committee of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, composed of seventy State clubs, and as chairman of that committee I look after road legislation. In the last session I drew up the Sproul road bill, and the fifty million bond issue bill. I drew up a similar bill in 1907, which was so good that it was kept in the committee, who would not allow anybody else to get at it. I have been here this session looking after the fifty million dollar bond issue, talking to every man I know and those I didn't know, trying to influence them to vote for it. I have talked to lots of the members of the House, and those in the Senate, both men I knew and men I didn't know, urging them to support this bill. I also urged the members I knew to vote against any further change in the Sproul bill in the way of further routes, because there are more routes now that I planned for in the original bill. I gave forty odd days of my time in the last session, and I don't know how many in this session, absolutely without any remuneration whatever.

Q. Were you not paid for your work?

A. The State organization pays my hotel and traveling expenses.

Q. It pays that?

A. Yes, sir, the hotel and traveling expenses. I have been here in the same way that I have been in thirty different parts of this State, making speeches in the interest of good roads. I went away from business in the month of April about three days a week.

Q. Who paid you for that?

A. No one except the State organization, which paid my traveling expenses and hotel bills.

Q. What organization is that?

A. That is the State motor association, composed of about seventy clubs, of which our club is the second largest. The Philadelphia club is larger than ours. I have been here and urging my views to the members of the House on the automobile bill. I urged them to put a limit on the weight of the trucks, because I told them if they did not, that it was only a matter of time until the State would have to pay forty millions of dollars to rebuild their bridges. It cost the County of Lehigh about thirty-five thousand dollars because one of the large trucks broke through one of their bridges. That is the only interest I had in the automobile bill.

Q. Were you interested in any other legislation?

A. Only in the road legislation. In the bill introduced by Mr. Jones, I opposed one feature of it, and that was to provide for one extra deputy. We have three deputies now, and I think the three of them can do what they have to do. I talked with them on another proposition on the Jones bill. I also was opposed to that feature which provided for the county superintendents, where we already have district superintendents. I believe these men can look after the township roads just as well as they can of the State. That is about all the legislation I have had anything to do with, With the exception of one piece of legislation. That was the armory bill. A friend of mine called my attention to it, and asked me to speak to my friends about it. He called my attention to the fact that one of the regiments in Philadelphia was quartered in a stable, had no other headquarters, and that they were trying to get an appropriation through for the purpose of securing proper quarters. There are no other bills that I have been interested in this session.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You have never approached any members of this House either with a threat or with a promise of reward?

A. Absolutely no, not in any shape or form.

ROLAND MORRIS, having been duly sworn testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Morris, you live in Philadelphia?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is your business?

A. I am a lawyer.

Q. Have you been interested in any legislation pending in this Legislature, during the present session?

A. Yes, sir, I have been very much interested, primarily in the Democratic bills, which were introduced both in the Senate and in the House.

Q. I was appointed under a resolution—

Q. Are you a Democrat, by the way?

A. Yes, sir, I am. I was appointed by a resolution of the State Committee of the Democratic party, as one of the legislative committee, which was formed for the purpose of confering with the members, the Democratic members of the Senate and the House, for the purpose of going over the bills introduced, bills to carry out the party platform pledges. I was requested to prepare the public utilities bills, which I think was introduced by Representative Humes, on behalf of the Democratic part, in support of their pledges. I subsequently attended two hearings on the bill before the Senate and the House, one of which was a joint hearing, and make my argument in support of certain provisions in the Demacratic bill. I also saw one or two of the Democratic members in reference to certain amendments to the bill. After the Democratic bill was not reported out on the floor of the House, but the compromise bill of the Washington party and of Attorney General Bell. The committee offered certain amendments which embraced certain peculiar features of the Democratic bill, which we subsequently offered and voted on on the floor of the House. I think they were offered by Mr. Humes in behalf of the Democratic party. In addition that that of course, I have been interested in two or three other bills of the so-called Progressive party, some of which were adopted by the Democratic party committee, but I don't think I took any active part in any of them. I was here two or three times on the woman's suffrage bill amendment, and I think I saw several of the Senators and urged them to support that bill, because in my mind it was a part of the party platform, and I thought it would put the party in an awkward position if they did not stand up to the party pledges. They were just personal interviews that I had.

Q. Have you made any other efforts to get the so-called party pledges through the Senate?

A. No, I have not been here since they went to the Senate. I don't think any of the Democratic party bills ever got to the Senate. They were either buried in the committee or voted down in the House.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know what committees they were buried in?

A. I don't know that I should say buried; I mean not reported out. The Judiciary General Committee I think had one or two of the bills. That is where the utilities bill was.

Q. You think one was the Judiciary General Committee?

A. Yes, sir

Q. Do you know what bill that was?

A. I think that was the public utilities bill, but I am not sure. I think there were three reported to that one committee for consideration by that committee. I appeared before that committee, they held joint meetings of the House and the Senate sitting two or three times, in which the arguments were presented by the corporations, and at that time I spoke in behalf of the Democratic party bills, and I think that none of the provisions on which I spoke were carried out in the bill.

Q. What other bill do you have in mind that was—

A. The only other bill was in reference to this legislation that I spoke—

Q. I am speaking of bills buried in committees.

A. I can't recall.

Q. No other bill that you recall?

A. I think there were election bills, Democratic election bills; I don't know if they came out or not; I don't know if the bills were reported out of the committee which provided for the control of appropriations to charities.

MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

That is on the calendar.

A. When I was here, my interests and efforts were directed to the utilities bill.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. That was introduced by whom?

A. I don't know.

BY MR. CALYCOMB:

Q. Mr. Flynn introduced one.

A. There were some amendments to the bill introduced by the Democratic party.

Q. That was an election bill?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. That was buried in committee?

A. In the elections committee.

MR R. J. BALDWIN:

One was in the Judiciary Committee, and one was in the Election Committee. We want to know that so we may ask the chairmen of those commitees when they come before us.

A. I don't mean that there was anything wrong.

Q. It is only in justice to these chairmen that they should have their attention called to it and be given a chance to explain it. In addition to that, I have for ten years been the counsel for the Milk Dealers Exchange, and they have a legislative committee appointed by the Board of Directors for the purpose of examining the bills introduced, insofar as it affects them.

Q. You yourself never took any active part in this legislation?

A. Yes, as counsel, it was my duty to pass on the bills and advise what would probably be the effect of them. We appeared before the committee at a public hearing and presented our briefs or argument, stating our objections. The one that we were most interested in was a bill which by the way was introduced by the only Democrat from Philadelphia, Mr. Campbell. I wrote to the chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, to whom I understood these bills had been referred for consideration, and went over the ground completely. The bill passed the House, and went over to the Senate. When I was here one time I obtained an introduction to Senator Snyder, who was chairman of the Judiciary Special Committee of the Senate, to which committee the bill was referred, and I asked him that before they passed on the bill, that I would like my clients to have an opportunity of having a hearing. He said he would take the matter under consideration. Finally he sent word that the time was not sufficient to give a public hearing, and he asked me to send a brief of some sort setting forth the objections of my clients to the bill. I prepared the brief in the form of a very extended letter which I sent to him, and to which I have never received any response. I do not know what has become of the bill.

Q. Has it been reported out of committee?

A. I don't know whether it has been reported out or not.

MR. J. J. CAMPBELL:

That bill has passed. It has been signed by the Governor.

MR. MORRIS:

We wanted an opportunity to present what objections we had to the bill.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Have you received any compensation for your work in connection with the Democratic bills?

A. None whatever.

Q. How about the work you have done in behalf of the milk dealers?

A. After this session I will render them a bill for just such services as I have given them.

Q. You are an attorney?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You have never attempted in any way, by threat or by offer of reward, to influence any member of the Legislature?

A. I have not.

S. DAVIS PAGE, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN.

Q. Where do you live?

A. In the 5th ward, Philadelphia.

Q. What is your business?

A. Practicing attorney.

Q. You are a lawyer?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you interested yourself in any legislation pending in this Legislature, during the present session?

A. I have in several bills.

Q. What bills?

A. I think that on the Forestry bills I wrote to Senator McNichol.

Q. Any others?

A. I have also been interested in bills in regard to child labor. I also wrote to Senator McNichol on that bill. I have never been here since I was here to argue bills in previous Legislatures.

Q. I mean in this Legislature.

A. No, but I have written to several Senators, especially in regard to the advisability of defeating the legislation referring the question of woman's suffrage, the constitutional amendment. I have written to a great many men.

Q. Favorable or unfavorable?

A. Decidedly unfavorable. It isn't worth while for me to express my views on that subject here.

Q. Do you live in Senator McNichol's district?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you belong to any organization that favored the passage of the forestry bills?

A. I belong to an organization that favored the passage of the forestry bills.

Q. Your work was in favor of those bills?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did anybody pay you for that?

A. Oh, no.

Q. Simply did that on your own initiative?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You have never attempted in any way, by threat or promise of reward, to influence any of the members of this Legislature?

A. No, sir.

E. C. THOMPSON, being duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Where do you live?

A. Pittsburgh.

Q. What is your business?

A. I represent the Keystone Publishing Company, which publishes a paper that reaches all the merchants.

Q. Have you been interested in any legislation before this session of the Legislature?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What one?

A. The Mitchell garnishee bill.

Q. For or against?

A. For. I lobbied that bill through clear into the Senate.

Q. Describe the work you have done.

A. I have tried to visit and attempted to see every member of the House to get him to vote for this bill, and also in the Senate.

Q. That is all you have done?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did anybody pay you for the work?

A. My firm pays me, and I am paying myself.

Q. How much have you been paid?

A. No compensation, just my expenses.

Q. No other compensation?

A. No, I am here in conjunction with the State Retail Merchants' Association, but not recompensed by them.

Q. State whether or not you have influenced or attempted to influence any member of the House or the Senate in an improer way?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You made no promises of reward, or any threats on any matter you have been interested in?

A. Not at all, I told you all I did.

Q. And you think you were justified in doing that?

A. Yes, sir.

HON. ALONZO S. MOULTHROP, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Clearfield, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Moulthrop, do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature, during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. Well, I suppose I know it more by hearsay; personally I do not know so much about it.

Q. Have you been approached by any person or agency, which person or agency has attempted to influence your vote for or against legislation or other matter presented to this session of the General Assembly?

A. I have never been approached, I don't think, on any bills in an illegal way at all, outside of one time along about February or March when I was in Philadelphia. It was after I had been appointed Chairman of the Law and Order Committee. I was approached by an ex-member of this House who said to me, "I have been told to see you and see what you would take to take care of the liquor legislation and interests."

Q. Who was that man?

A. That was Dr. John R. Gillette.

Q. Were those his words?

A. They may not be the exact words, but they were words similar to that.

Q. What was your reply?

A. My reply to him was, "Doctor, you go back to them and tell them that whenever they furnish enough money to take care of the insane asylums and the poor houses and the prisons and the penitentiaries and for the widows and orphans caused by drink, in Pennsylvania, then I will talk to them."

Q. Do you know his initials?

A. J. R.

Q. Is that the extent of the conversation?

A. He said to me, "So far as I am concerned, I have told you exactly what they said to me."

Q. What do you mean by the statement that a man approached you?

A. He said, "I was to see you and see how much you would take to take care of the liquor legislation as chairman of that committee."

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Was the liquor legislation before your committee?

A. Yes, the Law and Order Committee.

MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. That was the extent of the conversation?

A. Yes, sir, and I never heard anything more about it.

Q. When was this?

A. In March. He approached me in the presence of my wife and his wife. He approached me when we were all sitting there together.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Did he take you to one side?

A. No, it just came up in the conversation. He told me that when I was there visiting him.

Q. You were visiting him?

A. Yes, sir. I went there to call on him.

Q. He is a personal friend of yours?

A. Oh, yes, a personal friend.

Q. You didn't suggest to him at that time that it was an improper statement to make?

A. No, I didn't, I didn't think that much about it. You know the answer I made to it.

Q. You didn't take it to be improper?

A. No, I didn't.

Q. You didn't think you had been corruptly approached?

A. It didn't seem so to me.

Q. He was the only one that approached you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How did the conversation come up?

A. It was in a general conversation. It came up in a general way. He said, "I am glad you came. Some gentlemen who was interested in the liquor legislation approached me on the street and asked me to see you and see what you would take to take care of the liquor legislation"

Q. Did he ask you what you would take? Did he make that positive statement? Did he ask you what you would take?

A. Well, I just can't state it exactly. I can't just give the exact words.

Q. Well, I am not finding any fault with your memory in this matter. I want you to be careful, of course. If Mr. Gillette is a friend of yours, you don't want to do him any injustice. I just want you to state whether you are sure he asked you what you would take.

A. I cannot state exactly the words; I cannot state it any better than I have. You will have to leave that to him. It dropped out of my mind.

(Testimony read to witness).

A. It was similar to that. I cannot give the exact words, but it was similar to that.

Q. This is a very vital question, and you must realize it. If you are satisfied with the testimony, I am.

A. I cannot recall his exact words, but it was in regard to the liquor legislation.

Q. Well, I don't want you to change your testimony.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. What is his address?

A. 1801 North Fifth street.

Q. Philadelphia?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Of what session was he a member?

A. 1907.

Q. You became acquainted with him at that time?

A. Yes, sir, and have been friendly with him ever since, both him and his wife, and we have visited back and forth.

Q. What side of the liquor question was he on then?

A. I think on the local option side, it runs in my mind.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You think Mr. Gillette was for local option?

A. It runs in my mind he was; I am not sure.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. When he said that to you, did you have any reason to think that he had a desire to improperly influence you one way or the other?

A. No, sir.

Q. What do you know about the lunch room?

A. Nothing.

Q. You have not been there?

A. I didn't know there was such a room, only by hearsay.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. During this entire session, you do not feel that any one has approached you, outside of this particular incident, with any promise of reward or threat on any matter that has been pending in this Legislature?

A. Absolutely not.

Q. At the organization of the House, Mr. Moulthrop, there was a meeting held at which the shaping up of the control of the House was considered. Were you at such a meeting?

A. Do you mean the committe on committees? I was at a meeting prior to the convening of the House. That was, I think, on Monday night, the night before the meeting of the House.

Q. There was a meeting held somewhere in the Capitol, I have indefinitely understood, and at that meeting was considered the question of forming a combination to control different matters that would come before the House. That was generally stated in the newspapers. Was there such a meeting and were you at such a meeting?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Were you at such a meeting?

A. I attended meetings before the opening of the session to talk over matters, but I don't remember of any combination being formed.

Q. Did you talk over the question of how certain men should act during the session, and of course that led up to the question of whether the Speaker should control the appointments or whether a committee should be appointed?

A. Yes, that was the committee on committees. There was a meeting held in which we discussed matters before the convening or organization of the House.

Q. Was not such a meeting held at the Bolton hotel?

A. I think you have reference to the committee of which I spoke a few moments ago.

Q. Who was present at that meeting?

A. If I recall, John R. K. Scott was at that meeting, if I recall.

Q. At that meeting—there undoubtedly was a meeting held prior to the convening of the Legislature on that Tuesday morning and there was a resolution presented?

A. Yes, which suggested certain names for the committee on committees.

Q. Were you at a meeting that had that matter under consideration?

A. Yes, sir, at the Bolton House.

Q. Well, who was present at that meeting besides the members of the Legislature at the time when that was being discussed?

A. I really cannot tell you who was there.

Q. You don't recall the names of any others?

A. There were members there.

Q. Who were they?

A. I don't recall.

Q. Anybody there but members?

A. No, sir.

Q. At the discussion at that meeting, did the subject come up of the dividing of the different positions among the three parties?

A. Yes, sir, at some time during the meeting there was that discussion.

Q. That certain positions should go to the Democrats and certain ones to the Progressives and certain ones to the Republicans?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was that based upon salaries?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. Not on the salary?

A. No, they simply started at the top of the column and went down.

Q. Whom did they start off with?

A. It runs in my mind that it was the resident clerk.

Q. The resident clerk?

A. I think so.

Q. And then the chief clerk?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were the politics of these men discussed?

A. I don't recall.

Q. It was just a question of apportioning it to the different parties?

A. As much as anything else, yes.

Q. You say it was not discussed on the question of salary? You noticed that in the newspapers, didn't you?

A. Yes, I noticed it. I do not think it was so discussed, to my recollection.

Q. When the different names were introduced, it was understood that a certain number of you men were to stand up for that resolution when the House convened?

A. Yes.

Q. It was so understood?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You would not call that a caucus, would you?

A. No, I would not call it that.

Q. You would call that just sort of a secret meeting?

A. Sort of an understanding; not a secret meeting.

Q. I have had members tell me they were sent for. Was anybody sent for to be there?

A. The only men I know they sent for were John R. K. Scott and Allen.

Q. Who sent for them?

A. That I don't know.

Q. Who appeared to be the head spokesman or manager of that meeting? Of course, there had to be some one in authority, some one to send for the people?

A. I am not sure—Senator Powell was there.

Q. Where there Senators there as well as members of the House?

A. That was not at this meeting; that was at the meeting some time before this.

Q. I will go back to the meeting where you began to shape up these propositions. Were there any Senators there?

A. None there.

Q. None at all?

A. No, sir.

Q. Nobody but members?

A. I believe that is all.

Q. That is the time you sent for Scott and Allen?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You did not send for Scott before that?

A. No, sir.

Q. Who was it suggested sending for John R. K. Scott?

A. I don't recall who that was.

Q. John R. K. Scott was there before you took that final action?

A. I think he was. It runs in my mind,—I am not sure, but I think Dan Shern was there and I think John Robert Jones was there, but I am not sure.

Q. Was Mr. Benson there?

A. I think Mr. Benson was there.

Q. When you first met, that was the headquarters?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You met there with the understanding that you were to discuss and talk over who were to be members of the committee and what you were going to do at the opening of the session?

A. What do you mean by that?

Q. That you decided what you were going to do and to whom you were going to apportion the jobs.

A. Not just in that way.

Q. That was one of the questions?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You don't remember whether people came there of their own volition or whether they were sent for?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Were there Democrats there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. It seems suspicious to me that a Democrat would come to headquarters without being sent for. You say you don't remember at that meeting of any others than members of the House being present?

A. I cannot just think.

Q. What is your remembrance?

A. I can't remember.

Q. After the committee had been appointed and after it was organized, then did you ever consult with any others than members of the House in regard as to whom should be appointed to the various positions?

A. I don't believe I know of that being done. There were some names presented to us.

Q. Did you, as a body, or did you individually ever have any discussion with any others than the members of your committee which consisted of the eleven men; did you ever have any discussion with others than the members of that committee or members of the House?

A. To my recollection, I cannot say that we did.

Q. There was an article in one of the newspapers which said that the leaders of the Progressive party was in constant touch with the Committee on committees and that the character of the men recommended for the positions was under discussion. You don't call to mind that that ever happened?

A. No, I do not think so, but I cannot say all that did happen.

Q. You do not consider, do you, that as a member of the Legislature apportioning out the various apportioned positions in the Capitol at the convening of the Legislature, there was anything corrupt, do you?

A. I don't consider it so.

Q. It has been so stated so frequently in the public press that when men in the public light are concerned in dividing up the various positions or in other words concerned in the various appointments in the Legislature, that the dividing up of the positions in the Legislature has always been written up as the dividing up of the spoils, which of course would be corrupt. You have always looked upon it as the duties of the legislators?

A. I felt that they had to do this and that each legislative district should be entitled to a number of them. I did not think it was a corrupt act to decide upon the men to whom these positions were to go.

Q. Not if there is no money consideration?

A. That is what I mean.

Q. It is one of the things that is always put in the public press, and I just wanted your opinion, as you belong to the Progressive side, and I wanted your opinion on that. When you were considering that question in your committee, you always considered the fitness of the man for the position rather than the politics of the man

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You didn't consider the question of political affiliations at all?

A. We considered, when we had a candidate, we considered whether he was fit to hold the position, of course.

Q. And in considering these appointments, you tried to consider the question of fitness and absolutely ignored the question of political expediency, or did you give consideration to the question of political expediency? In other words, standing on the Progressive platform, were you considering at all times and striving to get the best man for the position and cutting out the question of politics?

A. Well, for instance, when it came to the office of Chief Clerk, Garvin's name came up. Personally, I thought he was a very fair man for the position, but when we came to his name I refused to vote for him the first time. While I felt he was a good man, I voted for the other candidate.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

I do not think that we should go into the deliberation of the committee on committees.

MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

I merely wanted to get his opinion. There has been considerable criticism here as to the amount of money in these positions, and I think it is only fair to show to the public that they did not consider the question of salary, but that they considered the question of getting the best man for the position.

MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

I cannot see that that question has anything to do with the question of lobbying.

MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

It is merely to show that they were not actuated by any other interest. I merely asked the question as to whether they consulted with others than members of the House in the selection of men for the positions. That is the question I asked and I reiterate that question.

MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Let us not go into the deliberations of the committee on committees. I do not see any difference between the committee and committees and the ways and means committee and the appropriation committee, of which I am a member. It is exactly similar. I am willing to answer any questions about those committees.

MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

If we go into the deliberations of the committee on committees, we will have no time for anything else.

MR. MOULTHROP:

I am perfectly satisfied, so far as I am concerned, to answer any questions you might want to ask about it.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Then outside of the mention that you make of that interview with Mr. Gillette, and there was nothing in that that you would consider corrupt,—

A. I don't consider that it was.

Q. You have never been influenced by any threat or promise of reward of any character, that is, nobody ever tried to influence you.

A. No. I only wanted you to know about that, and I simply tried to tell you. That is the only instance. I have been here in the Legislature some time and nobody has ever approached me.

Q. That's all.

MR. JAMES MAURER, President of the State Federation of Labor, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Maurer you are the President of the State Federation of Labor?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were a member of the House two years ago?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You have been here during this session in the interests of labor legislation?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Will you make a statement to the Committee covering the extent of your activities, the bills that you have been interested in?

A. I will try to.

Q. Just tell it in your own way.

A. To make a statement as to the extent of our activities would take all day. The Federation of Labor has its headquarters permanently located in Harrisburg in the Commonwealth Trust Company building. We are here permanently. I have been here ever since the Legislature went into session. I am paid as president a yearly salary by the Federation. We held several conferences last year and considered labor legislation—three conferences. At these different conferences, two of them were held in the Capitol here in the House caucus room, and one at Pittsburgh in the Labor Temple,—at these conferences we talked about various labor measures such as the Workingmen's Compensation bill, bills pertaining to mining, and so on, adopted them, and had them amended and changed them to suit the delegates and finally adopted them and had them drawn up properly and in due time presented here in the Legislature and in the Senate, and as fast as a bill was introduced we sent out letters to all members of the House and the Senate telling them what the bills were, the bills, the numbers, and the sponsors of the bills, and requested them in a polite way to give their support to the bill. We then appeared before the committees and told the members of the various committees why the bills should be reported out, and we saw the various members of the House and explained the merits of our bills as we saw it, and asked them to examine the bill, gave them the number of the bills, and sometimes handed them the bill and told them to look over it and if they could see their way clear to give it their support, we would appreciate it. That is the manner in which we worked. The members of the committee worked with me. I don't remember all of their names. These are the only names that we recognize as official labor representatives.

Q. Will you read them, Mr. Maurer?

A. These men were all sent to me with credentials properly filled out by our organization: James Oates, John King, Patrick Finney; these three are all stopping here in the city. Mr. Oates and Mr. Finney come from District No. 5, United Mine Workers. Mr. King comes from District No. 2, United Mine Workers. James Purcell, from Philadelphia; James Cronin, 2216 Race St., Philadelphia, he is connected with the Central Labor Union; John Fallon, Wilkes-Barre, who is from District No. 1, United Mine Workers; Michael McGrath, representing District A, United Mine Workers; Cornelius Bonner, represents District No. 7; and Francis Feehan, of Castle Shannon. That is the official labor corps working in my office.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Can you tell us how many of these men have been in Harrisburg?

A. All of them.

Q. All of them have been here?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Maurer, are these men on the salary list of your organization?

A. No, sir, I don't pay anybody here. The Federation has no money for that purpose.

Q. When they come here they simply have their expenses paid?

A. I don't really know how these fellows are paid. Some of them I think are organizers. I think they are at least. I have never inquired as to how they are compensated. That is fixed by their own unions. The unions that they represent send them here and unless they pay them they are not paid.

Q. These are divisions of the main body?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You are president of the State body or the National body?

A. The State.

Q. Then there are divisions and these men are the heads of divisions?

A. No, they represent divisions.

Q. Representatives of those different divisions?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, you would not know anything about it?

A. No.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Maurer, will you give us a list of the bills in which you are especially interested in, as, for instance, the Workingman's Compensation bill?

A. There are forty-nine labor bills, no, not exactly labor bills, but forty-nine bills that we are interested in for or against. Some of them we are working for and consider to be favorable to our interests and some of them we consider unfavorable. Some of the bills are the Child Labor bills, the Women's Labor bills that we are interested in perhaps the most, although we do not discriminate any of our bills, and we work just as hard for the small one, the less important ones as we do for the more important ones.

Q. The Workingmen's Compensation Act, the mining bills and the Child and Women's Labor bills have passed the House.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. All of them are bills that you are interested in?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were any of your bills defeated in the House?

A. One of them.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Can you call to mind which one that was?

A. I think it was a bill pertaining to the use of electric machinery in the mines.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Not electric light?

A. No. I think it pertained to the use of electricity in the mines.

Q. Now, take up the Child Labor bill, was the shape in which it passed the House satisfactory to the labor people of the State?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where is that bill now?

A. It is in the Senate. I understand that it was reported out last week and then shortly afterwards was reported back. They have been juggling it in and out, and I don't have any employees down here to keep track of it.

Q. Was it amended?

A. It was amended in the Senate. It was reported out of the committee as amended, passed second reading and then was recommitted. I have been trying to find out what influences have been brought to bear to amend this bill.

Q. Do you know who or what the influences are that are working to amend that bill and juggling it in and out of the committee as you have described?

A. Well, the only interest that I can say is the economic interest, the same influence in opposition to this bill as we are bringing into use in favor of our bills. The manufacturers are here opposing the bills as they came out of the House, and they recommended that they be amended, while we, on the other hand, recommended that they remain in the same condition that they came from the House, but it seemed that the manufacturers looked at it from their own economic interests just as we looked at it from our economic interests. I would not say that there was anything dishonest about it. If there was anything dishonest about it, I would place it with the Senators and not with the lobbyists.

Q. Is the opposition to this bill which favored the amendments organized. Is the interests of the manufacturers opposed to this bill organized?

A. Oh, yes, the Manufacturers' Association is an organization.

Q. Have they a headquarters here in Harrisburg?

A. I think they have. Over here in one of the buildings.

Q. What is the name of that building? Do you know?

A. I don't just know.

Q. Is it in the Franklin Building?

A. The Franklin Building? I think it is.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Have they some one there that represents them?

A. I think so.

Q. Can you give us the name?

A. I would not be able to do that.

Q. Do you know whether there is any one person, or two or three or four, who make their headquarters and who are here around the Capitol and who have been here continuously and who are in and out regularly, do you know any of them here, are there any men here working for the interests of this Manufacturers' Association?

A. Well, I know these people by sight, but I could not recall them by name. Mr. Grundy is the only one that I can really remember by name just now.

Q. You think he is the most active one?

A. Of those that I have noticed.

Q. Of those that you have noticed, he is the most active?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. You know we want to get this information and give them a chance to be heard.

A. Oh, yes.

Q. Do you know where the main labor bills—what the present status of them is now? Take, for instance, the Workingmen's Compensation bill?

A. Well, it has been amended. It has been mutilated to such an extent that I will oppose it in its present form. I will not favor it in the condition it is.

Q. The mining legislation?

A. They reported two of them out and then they reported them back again. They are all back in the committee at the present time. I believe though that one was reported out last week and that another will be reported out today provided certain amendments are inserted.

Q. The Workingmen's Compensation bill is now I believe in the hands of a conference committee?

A. Yes.

Q. The Senate amended the bill?

A. Yes, they made it positively useless, of no account at all.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Which bill is that?

A. The Workingmen's Compensation bill.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. You say that the amendments to the Women's Labor bills the failure of the mining bills to be reported out would be cause by the opposition of this economic influence?

A. Oh, yes, and not by anything else.

Q. Coming from the Senators?

A. Oh, yes, it could not be anything else because no one would oppose those bills for any other reason.

Q. Do you know Ben Clark, of Punxsutawney?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Dod you know what interests he represents here?

A. I understand he represents the coal interests.

Q. Do you know Mr. Reese, of Plymouth, Pa.?

A. Mr. who?

Q. Reese.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Reese, the railroad man.

A. I don't know as I do.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know Mr. Feeny, of Philadelphia?

A. Frank Feeney?

Q. Yes.

Q. Do you know who he represents?

A. I understand he represents the Central Labor Union, of Philadelphia. I am not sure. I only understand it to be so.

Q. Is that affiliated with the State Federation?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Don't you generally work in harmony?

A. Well—

Q. I say generally, generally?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. Has Mr. Finney been here?

A. He has been here pretty frequently.

Q. Since the beginning of the session?

A. I don't know. I was not here at the beginning of the session. The session was on some time before I got here.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Have you co-operated with him?

A. No.

Q. Has he visited your headquarters?

A. He comes into the headquarters sometimes for a few minutes and then goes out again.

Q. Have you noticed him active in and around the Senate this session?

A. Yes, sir. He is very active.

Q. And you are acquainted with the nature of his activities?

A. Well, I can't say that I am.

Q. Has he advised with you as to what he was doing here during the last couple of months when he has been here so frequently?

A. No. He never took up with the subject of any legislation in my department at any time, although I have tried to enlist his confidence.

Q. What have you done, Mr. Maurer, to prevent the Child and Women's Labor bills and the Workingmen's Compensation bill from being amended in the Senate? You say that these measures passed the House in satisfactory shape. What have you done in the Senate?

A. Nothing, only to appear before the committees when they had public hearings on the bills and make our statement in public as to just what we wanted. We took that as being sufficient, and we didn't propose talking and crawling for anything that was due us. I asked Senators McNichol and Crow,—not Crow, but Senator Vare—on two occasions when they were going to report them out. I didn't like the delay. It didn't look good to me. I got anxious and asked them the reason why they didn't report them out. They then said that they were going to come out just as they came from the House. They told me that twice.

Q. Senator McNichol and Senator Vare?

A. Yes, sir, and they didn't come out as submitted.

Q. Did you talk with Senator Crow about these bills?

A. No. Some of the people, I understand, had spoken to him about them.

Q. Can you give us their names?

A. Finney told me that he had talked with Crow. I might add that I was very little in the House. I have seldom been there unless it was to appear before committees.

Q. Your duties carry you all over the State?

A. I have about fifteen hours work a day and about seven days a week. I don't have much time to run around the Capitol and look after bills. I have some very efficient assistants down there—the men whose names I gave you—and they continually take care of the details of the work.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Mr. Maurer, do you recall that there was a letter sent out by the Federation of Labor protesting against the Ulerich bill, the Ulerich Liquor bill. Mr. Ulerich is the member from Westmoreland. Did the Federation sent out any letter of protest whatever against that bill?

A. I don't remember the bill. I wouldn't know what bill.

Q. Well, it was the Anti-peddling bill.

A. There was one bill I remember which from the Team Drivers' Union point of view would have been fatal to them if it had been enacted into a law. It would have denied any one the right to have any bottled goods, or case of goods delivered or the empties returned. It would have put out of business several thousands of team drivers and harness makers, and so after due deliberation we decided that it was our duty to defend the unions that were affiliated with us,—the team drivers. We could not say anything for the liquor interests because we were not concerned in that way, and our opposition to this bill had its inspiration purely from the Federation itself. The first request that reached us to oppose the passage of this bill came from the Team Drivers' Union. They had discovered it before we had and drew our attention to it.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You mentioned talking to two Senators further back in your testimony. I think you mentioned Senators McNichol and Vare. Did you talk to any other Senators?

A. I think I spoke to Senators Farley, Hilton, McNichol, Clark and I believe that during the several months that I have been here I have perhaps spoken to twenty Senators.

Q. Now, didn't any of those Senators whose names you have just mentioned speak of being in favor of the bills in the form that they came from the House?

A. Oh, no.

Q. Some of them were opposed to them?

A. Well—

Q. That is that you call to mind?

A. Senator Fisher.

Q. Senator Fisher was in favor of the bill from a manufacturers' standpoint.

A. I would not like to quote the gentleman.

Q. How many of them do you call to mind that gave you the impression that they did not like the bills as they came over?

A. More spoke unfavorably than favorably.

Q. In the Senate?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Irrespective of their political affiliations?

A. No, not any of them, because out of twelve Democrats that voted on the amendments, eight of them favored them, so that it could not have been politics in that sense because they were pretty well mixed up.

Q. What did Senator Fisher say?

A. He merely spoke of his own little affairs, nothing wrong, nothing that you would need to know really. He merely spoke of about how it would affect him as an individual.

Q. From his personal standpoint?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. He used that as an illustration?

A. Yes, sir. And he has the right and I would not want to say that there was anything wrong about it.

Q. And you want to say that you feel that there is no corrupt influence at work either for or against your legislation or any legislation that you have observed since you have been here?

A. I do not think that it is other than I have said. It is an economic interest. The corruption, as I have said before, if there is any dishonest motive, it must be on the part of the Senators whose letters I hold in my office, and who had promised before election that they would favor these bills, this legislation, and now positively refuse to stand by their pre-election promises, if you can call them that.

Q. In making that statement do you place those two Senators that you first referred to on the same basis as the others?

A. No, I don't have any letters from those two Senators that I mentioned.

Q. Mr. McNichol and Mr. Crow?

A. No, I don't have any letters from them.

Q. You don't care to mention any from whom you have letters?

A. No, not unless I mention them all. I could bring them up.

Q. Do you consider these letters incriminating?

A. I don't think that I could say that.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Bring them up after recess.

A. Yes, sir.

WHEREUPON, the Committee took a recess until 2.30 P. M.

JAMES MAURER, having been duly sworn according to law. was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. You have the letters that you spoke of from various Senators a while ago?

A. Yes, sir; there are fifteen copies here. If it is necessary to produce the originals, I can.

Q. Fifteen different letters?

A. Yes. sir. Of the fifteen Senators who wrote these letters before election pledging themselves to bills that they are now opposing, some of them, seven opposed the bills, five favored the bills, and three were absent and failed to vote. I will give you the letters, and would like to have them returned.

Q. What, in your opinion, has caused the hold-up or the change of this legislation in which you are interested, this so-called labor legislation?

A. I believe the biggest trouble is distortion of bills in the Senate.

Q. You mean publications of what they contained?

A. Yes, sir. There are bills in the Senate in which the Senators are opposing the Workingmen's Compensation. One that they imagine is before them, and I discovered that that was due in a great measure to letters being sent to the Senators from different parts of the country, speaking about the Workingmen's Compensation, that does not exist in this session of the legislation, and one of these petitions came from the Farmers' Grange, purporting to come from the farmers, but indirectly there was a power back of it. I got hold of one of these petitions petitioning the Governor not to favor this compensation bill, and it spoke about its drastic nature and how it would ruin every farmer and how Ohio had tried it and so on, and we tried to find out the source and found it came from a place called North East in Erie county. All the researches that we made as to the source of these letters point to that place, North East. A man there. A man there, I have got his record later to find out what interests he had in it, his name is Hansom, a real estate or fire insurance and real estate agent in North East, and a very fine man in every respect, only he has a peculiar idea as to what this Workingmen's Compensation means, and has opposed it bitterly. About two hundred and fifty petitions reached the Governor a week ago in opposition to the bill, and a great many—I would not attempt to guess—have reached the Senate, and I think much legislation is opposed because of lack of knowledge of it, due to distortion.

BY. MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Who do you think does that distorting, principally in letters and circulars?

A. That is the big lobby, as I see it.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. A campaign of misrepresentation?

A. Yes, sir. I do not know who might be back of it, whether it is simply a case of ignorance or whether it is vicious design on the part of some people. The whole thing looks to me like this. It looks as if the battle in the Senate now considering all of our mine bills are being smothered there, and held up in that Senate. We have tried hard to get it out of Snyder's committee. He said some of the bills he had were good bills, and favored them, and yet in spite of all that, and repeated efforts on my part by personal interview and letters, I could not get any of them reported out of committee, and I think it is simply a case in a nut shell of this, it is legislation of dollars versus humanity, and dollars seem to have the upper hand at this stage of the game.

BY. MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. You mean by that, that the dollars are being handed directly to members?

A. No, sir. I do not believe any member gets a penny of it. The spirit of legislation.

Q. You mean the power of the big influences which are wealthy men is greater than those who do not have the money?

A. Yes, sir.

FLORENCE SANVILLE, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. How do you spell your name?

A. S-a-n-v-i-l-l-e.

Q. Where do you live?

A. My present home is Westtown, Pennsylvania.

Q. Chester county?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you been in Harrisburg during the present session of the Legislature?

A. Yes, sir, several times.

Q. Have you been here in the interests of any bill?

A. Yes.

Q. What bill?

A. Bill know as House Bill 105, Womans Labor bill, introduced by Mr. Walnut.

Q. Womans Labor bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Any other bill?

A. No. I am very much interested in the Child Labor bill, but I have not given special attention to that bill.

Q. Are you employed by anyone?

A. Secretary of the Consumers League.

Q. You receive a salary as Secretary?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And any trips that you would make to Harrisburg in which expenses would be incurred for railroad fare and hotel bills, would be paid would they, by your association?

A. Yes, those are usually paid by the association.

Q. State what you did in reference to that bill?

A. In Harrisburg?

Q. Yes, so far as securing its passage through the legislature is concerned.

A. Our method has been to arouse pubic sentiment in favor of the bill, to educate the public through holding meetings, in churches, clubs of different kinds, and distributing circulars, giving the main points of the bill, and reasons why it seemed necessary to pass it, and asking the public to support the bill before the Legislature, and writing letters to Representatives and Senators and asking them to favor the bill. That has been our chief method.

Q. The bill in which you were interested passed the House?

A. Yes, sir, it has passed the Senate also.

Q. With the amendments?

A. Yes, with the amendments—not in the original form.

Q. What are the nature of the amendments?

A. You mean in detail?

Q. How do they look in the bill?

A. They weaken the bill.

Q. They were put in at the suggestion of your organization?

A. Not all of them. All the amendments that would seem undesirable would be stricken out.

Q. Did you do anything to prevent the insertion of these amendments?

A. Yes.

Q. What did you do?

A. When the amendments appeared, the first thing we did was to send through the mail to about two hundred people interested in the bill, a short statement of what the amendments were, and what they would do to urge them to call the attention of this to their Senators. I was also here during the second reading of the bill, and its passage.

Q. What committee had charge of the bill?

A. Judiciary Special.

Q. That is the committee of which Senator Charles Snyder is chairman?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Are you able to state to the committee the nature of the influences which were successful in inserting those amendments in the Senate?

A. No. I hardly feel capable of doing that. I think it represented a certain group of manufacturing interests that felt that their interests were at stake but I cannot say that it represents all manufacturing interests, because we know a great many employers who were in favor of the bill in its original form, and who were opposed to the amendments that were put in, so that it did not represent tne universal manufacturing interests.

Q. The amendments were inserted though?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. I presume every effort which you used in behalf of the bill and against the amendments was a proper and legitimate effort?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you make any promise or offer any reward to vote for or against it?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. You feel that both the opposition to this bill and the support of it was the honest effort on the part of these taking part?

A. Yes, sir, to a large extent. Of course I feel that the character of the opposition and the character of the support of the bill is very differnt. It is not a matter of opinion but a matter of self interest in the opposition, and even there, there may be a certain amount of honest opinion, but that seems to come largely through a misunderstanding of the character of legislation which has not perhaps been taken due notice of.

Q. You have not observed anything upon the part of the opposition that you would suggest as not perfectly legitimate?

A. No, sir; I have not.

ARNO P. MOWITZ, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. You live in Philadelphia?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You are a member of the bar there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You have been in Harrisburg since the session began, to some extent?

A. At least on day a week.

Q. What bills have you been interested in?

A. Directly interested in bill 105, known as the Womans Labor bill, and 119, the Child Labor bill. They are the only two bills in which I had any personal interest or talked with members of the Legislature on. There were one or two measures which came within our scope of which we took no personal interest except possibly giving or supporting at a public hearing.

Q. What did you do to secure the passage of that bill through the House?

A. I supplemented the efforts of our association both the Child Labor Association and the Consumers League, by seeing members of the House personally, advising with them, discussing the bill, explaining the features of it and work of that character.

Q. Were you paid for your work?

A. Yes, sir, I am.

Q. By the association?

A. By the association, at a loss to myself.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Regularly are you an attorney for them?

A. I have never made a charge for any service I have rendered in helping to draft bill and so on. It was only when it was necessary for me to leave the city, I have been here many sessions but all sessions with the exception of one or two has been at a loss to myself financially.

Q. After the session closes, you make a statement as to your expenses?

A. I make a weekly account.

Q. Is that a practice, the year in and out?

A. Only during sessions. Outside of that I make no charge while working in Philadelphia.

Q. What has happened to bills in the Senate?

A. They were materially amended, to such an extent that a great many of the people interested in the bills would rather not see those bills pass in their present condition.

Q. Are you able to state the nature of the influences which caused those changes in the Senate?

A. Except the predominating influences of the interests in the state opposed to the bill. I might state with the exception of a few men who were at the head of movements in opposition to defeat it, I doubt whether there would be a clear understanding of what the bills stand for.

Q. Would you say there was a campaign against the bill?

A. Not so much that as possibly a blind following of leadership. The opposition left it to a few men to handle it.

Q. Can you give us the names of the few or several men who led this opposition?

A. I might mention Major Wood, who conduct in my knowledge has been absolutely proper; Joseph Grundey, both gentlemen. We have had many conversations and conferences together, talked the matters over, and as far as I know there was no undue advantage taken as far as we were concerned except they had the powerful influences of the state.

Q. Is that Mr. Grundy of Bristol, the President of the Manufacturers Association?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who is Major Wood?

A. President of the Woolen Manufacturers Association, or some such organization.

Q. A resident of Pennsylvania?

A. I think he is of Philadelphia. He has a plant at 22nd and Spring Garden Streets in Philadelphia, but is practically retired from active business.

Q. These men you say, have had sufficient influence with the Senators to cause the insertion of the amendment?

A. Possibly through the fact that they are recognized representatives of the textile industries throughout the State,

Q. Mr. Grundy, I believe, is a textile manufacturer?

A. I believe so, yes, sir. I understand he is.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. I think you have already stated that you have not noted on the part of anybody, other than proper methods being used in regard to these bills?

A. Absolutely none. I have done some work in quite a number of session in this State, and I can say that I think that as far as the House wos concerned it was the cleanest and most business-like proposition I have yet met. I believe it was not necessary as it has been in years gone by, I think at all times we could always find every Legislature there, but it was not necessary to employ the conviviality method.

Q. What do you mean by that, the booze room?

A. I knew nothing about that until I heard it this time. There are plenty of hotels that have done a flourishing business in years gone by, that are not doing it now. We have not been interested in any other measures. I personally have been present at one hearing of another bill, but was not active on it.

Q. That was what bill?

A. The Club License bill, but I think I was quite open on it the night we had a public hearing.

Q. You were against the Club License bill?

A. Yes, sir. I was, as a member of the American Alliance only.

Q. You thought it was unwise legislation?

A. Not in itself, but at this time.

GEORGE K. CALVERT, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Where do you live?

A. Pittsburgh.

Q. You are a member of the bar?

A. I am.

Q. You have been at Harrisburg during the present session?

A. Many times.

Q. What kind of legislation have you been interested in?

A. Largely interested in Senate bill 5 and 11, which affected the grocery and confectionery interests.

Q. Any others?

A. Indirectly. I was interested in one or two other things. I was called in and asked to pass on amendments to House Bill 527, a bill introduced by the druggists.

Q. Have you been interested in any escheat bill?

A. Indirectly, yes, sir.

Q. What bills?

A. 1721, I think, and 1724 or 1725.

Q. What did you do while here, with reference to those bills?

A. I say the bills in which I had substantial interest they were 5 and 11. I was here attending hearings made arguments, prepared briefs, and kept tab on the bill and advised my clients.

Q. Who were your clients?

A. The wholesale grocers in Western Pennsylvania, and the confectioners.

Q. Who introduced the bills?

A. Faust, Dairy and Food Commissioner.

Q. They were opposed by your clients?

A. Some of them; yes, sir.

Q. I presume you were paid for your services?

A. I hope to be.

Q. You have made a charge, at any rate?

A. No, sir.

Q. You expect to?

A. The matter has not been closed up. I have represented these clients for a year in all matters pertaining to legislation.

Q. What was your interest in the escheat bill?

A. My brother is an escheater in one or more of these cases, and I appeared before the Ways and Means Committee. I think Mr. Baldwin was present. I made a brief statement in regard to the bill. I introduced my brother to several members of the House.

Q. Were you for or against the same?

A. Against the repealers.

Q. In working in this Legislature on behalf or against these bills, did you make any promise or offer any rewards to influence the vote of members?

A. Most assuredly not, and it was not necessary.

Q. What interest did you say you represented?

A. Wholesale grocers and confectioners.

Q. You are the regular attorney for them, year in and out?

A. Yes, sir, and have been for years.

Q. While you are moving around the House on these matters, did anything occur to lead you to beneve there was anything corrupt in influencing legislation?

A. Not that I ever saw.

PATRICK H. KEEFE, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Where do you live?

A. Pittsburgh. My office is in Pittsburgh.

Q. What business are you engaged in?

A. President of the Allegheny County Liquor Dealers Protective Association.

Q. Are you connected or engaged in the liquor business yourself?

A. Not directly, no, sir.

Q. Indirectly.

A. Only representing the liquor interests of Allegheny county. I am not engaged in the sale of liquors.

Q. Have you been here during the session?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. On behalf of any particular bill?

A. All legislation affecting the liquor interests I have been interested in.

Q. Which bill?

A. Local option bill, and the Kline bill.

Q. You were against them?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were in favor of the Kline bill?

A. Yes, sir. Against the local option bill. I was in favor of course of bills that were in favor of the liquor interests.

Q. Can you recall any bill that you were in favor of excepting the Kline bill?

A. Yes. I was in favor of 113, known as the kettle and growler bill, in the House, passed by the House.

Q. Does your Association maintain any lobby here in Harrisburg?

A. Not that I know of. I have been the only representative of our association here?

Q. Are you paid?

A. I have a regular salary in connection with my position.

Q. Are you paid in connection with any legislative work that you do?

A. Only my actual expenses.

Q. What are these expenses, as a rule?

A. My highest expenses during this session have amounted to $115 in one month.

Q. How often have you been here?

A. Almost every week. I have been down to all of the sessions with the exception probably of four or five weeks.

Q. Did you come down first in January?

A. I am not sure whether I came in January or not. I don't think I came down the first week, that is when the formation of the House was. I think my first visit here was in February after the House had been organized.

A. And you have been here every week since?

A. Not every week. I have been absent, I judge, about six weeks altogether. I know I was away two weeks in the West. Last week I was not here and I am sure there were three weeks in addition in which I wasn't here.

Q. And were you the only representative of the Allegheny County Liquor Dealers' Protective Association on the ground this session?

A. Yes, sir, with the exception of one trip during the time of the arguments on the local option bill. I think there were two or three other members of our Association down at that time,—two that I remember of.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. And you stayed about how long?

A. Just one day,

Q. Just one day?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. What is the nature of the method you have used in opposing the so-called temperance legislation and advocating the so-called liquor legislation?

A. I was merely here as a spectator.

Q. Have you spoken to any member of the House in behalf of this legislation?

A. Not in my knowledge, outside of the Kaufman bill. I spoke to four of the Senators from Allegheny county in reference to that.

Q. Have you spoken to any of the members of the House in regard to the so-called temperance bills?

A. Not to my knowledge, I have not.

Q. You have been here as a spectator?

A. Yes, sir, keeping in touch with the movements.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Mr. Keefe, were you here during the time that the respective liquor bills were before the House?

A. At any time there were any important bills before the House in reference to liquor legislation, I was here.

Q. Principally as a spectator?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were in the House principally listening and looking?

A. Yes, sir, listening and looking.

Q. Were you directly in touch with any of the members?

A. I know most all of the members from Allegheny county. They are personal friends of mine and I associate with them and know them. I have met them indirectly and may have spoken to them on matters pertaining to the legislation in and indirect matter.

Q. Do you recall of having a conversation of any kind with Mr. Stein?

A. Yes, sir, I had a conversation with Mr. Stein in reference to the Kaufman bill. I understood that there was to be some oppcsition in the Senate and I thought Mr. Stein would be able, probably, to overcome some of that opposition through his friendship in the Senate.

Q. Was he to look after it in the House?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have you ever spoken to Mr. Allen in regard to liqour legislation?

A. No. I came over every week with him on the train and I don't think I ever spoke to him in regard to any legislation at any time.

Q. Whom do you say you represent?

A. The Allegheny County Liquor Dealers' Protective Association, an organization of retailers of Allegheny county composed of almost all the members in Allegheny county.

Q. To what Senators did you speak?

A. To Magee, Moore and Cooper.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Who is the president of the Association?

A. I am.

Q. Who is the Secretary?

A. George J. Dimling.

Q. Who is the Treasurer.

A. John T. Dixon.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You never attempted to use any improper means to influence legislation?

A. No, sir, I never did.

Q. You don't know of any other that did?

A. Positively not, I do not know of any undue influence being brought to bear on anybody.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. In reference to the Kline bill, did you have any discussion that you recall, or conversation respecting the Kline bill with any of the members of the House?

A. Yes, sir, I did, when I come to think of it, with Representative Steele of the Ninth District. He has been opposing the liquor legislation and while we were coming out on the train I asked him at that time if he would not favor the bill because it was a bill that was favorable to the general public. He said he would give it some consideration and thought and if he could conscientiously do it, that if he thought the bill was worthy of any consideration, he would be glad to do most anything for me. That is the only Representative I spoke to.

Q. Did you discuss with anybody in reference to the Ulerich bill?

A. No, I didn't discuss that with anybody. I was in the House when it was up.

Q. In relation to the prohibition bill?

A. I didn't discuss that with anybody. Dr. Steele was the sponsor of it.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Were you ever in Room 249 in the Capitol?

A. I don't know what room that is.

Q. Over the door are the words "Clerks of the Senate," on the floor of the House.

A. I was in a room in the aisle in the center of the House on the same floor that the Senate and House chambers are on.

Q. Did you see liquor there?

A. I saw beer there.

Q. Whisky?

A. I don't recall whether I saw whisky; I was taking lithia water or Apollinaris water.

Q. Do you know who placed it there?

A. I could not say who placed it there, I have not the least idea.

Q. Did you see anyone in there?

A. Yes, I went in there with several men.

Q. On the invitation of some one?

A. I would not have gone without one.

Q. On whose invitation?

A. I don't remember; some member made a suggestion about a drink or getting refreshments and I followed the crowd and went in.

Q. Do you remember the names of any of the parties?

A. Yes, Mr. Bonner, I think, was in the party, and Mr. Mason of Pittsburgh.

Q. Mr. Bonner is what?

A. State President of the Liquor Dealers.

Q. And who was the other?

A. Mr. Mason.

Q. A resident of Pittsburgh?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is his business?

A. I think Secretary of the Western Brewers' Association.

Q. Any others in that party?

A. I cannot just recall, I know that more went in there when we went in; there were more than that in the party. A member of the House or Senate invited us.

Q. How did you get in?

A. Through the door.

Q. Did you knock?

A. Somebody seemed to just open the door. I was in the rear of the party.

Q. Any trouble getting in?

A. I followed just as soon as the door was open.

Q. Was there a colored fellow in there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he serve the crowd?

A. No, I had a bottle of beer there and probably one or two others had some refreshments.

Q. Where did he get the liquor?

A. Out of a bucket on the floor.

Q. Did you see a cabinet there filled with liquor?

A. No, I don't recall of seeing that.

Q. Were there any Senators there?

A. Well, I am not positive.

Q. How often were you in that room?

A. Twice during the session.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Did you have or did you at any time ship a shipment of whisky or beer or any other drink to this room?

A. No, sir, I did not. I never heard of a shipment being made by the Association in any way, shape or form. Nothing has ever been sent down, nor has anything been bought by anyone connected with the liquor interests, that I know of.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Was Mr. Kephart there?

A. The stout gentleman?

Q. Yes.

A. I believe he was.

Q. He was not the party that invited you in?

A. I cannot say.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. And were there other liquor interest lobbyists?

A. I understand the wholesale liquor dealers and the distillers and also the brewing interests.

Q. Do you know by whom?

A. I understand the brewing interests by Mr. Ettla and Mr. Mason, but I am not positive about that.

Q. Anyone else?

A. That is all I know.

Q. Who represented the distilleries?

A. I could not say who did, but I suppose they were represented, but I do not know who represented them.

Q. Did you ever have any conversation with Mason or Ettla or Bonner?

A. Yes, quite frequently. Mr. Bonner is State President and I being County President, one of the auxiliary bodies of the State federation, we naturally of course have interests and discuss matters pertaining to our business.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know Hans Riddel?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. From Pittsburgh?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you seen him during the session?

A. I have.

Q. Representing what interest?

A. He is connected with the Pittsburgh Brewing Company. Whether he represented them or the State Association, I could not say.

Q. Do you know George W. Boyd?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is his position?

A. State Organizer.

Q. Has he been in Harrisburg?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Frequently?

A. Quite frequently, yes, sir.

Q. He is the Secretary and Organizer of the Federation?
A. Just the Organizer, not the Secretary.

JOHN P. CONNELLY, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Where do you live?
A. Philadelphia.
Q. What is your business?
A. Attorney.
Q. Have you been in Harrisburg during the session?
A. Yes, sir, on two bills, House Bill 253, known as the cold storage bill, on which bill I represented the Philadelphia Warehouse and Cold Storage Company of Philadelphia and the Industrial Cold Storage Company and a committtee of the Produce Exchange. I appeared the first time when a meeting had been arranged before the Senate committee. I met Senator Jones and asked that the meeting be postponed until the following Tuesday. We appeared before that committee on the following Tuesday and I did not make any statement because it was too late. After the bill passed the Senate, I appeared before the Governor in opposition to the bill, because we thought it was an injustice. Notwithstanding the fact that some of my clients were in favor of it, we thought the bill as passed by the Senate and House was too drastic and that it would drive the cold storage interests out of Pennsylvania. I presented our arguments, together with others, in connection with some gentleman from Pittsburgh, but the Governor signed the bill. I will be paid for representing them, notwithstanding the fact that I have received fees for services rendered. It will be purely for services rendered in my office in Philadelphia and the many consultations had with the committee concerning the many features of the bill. So far as I am concerned, there was no effort made properly or improperly, so far as any member of the Senate or House was concerned, in trying to influence them one way or other on the passage of this bill.
Q. Your work was what?
A. I went to the Senate committee hearing which was held in the Senate chamber and presided over by Senator Jones. Nearly two hundred men came from Philadelphia. I also tried in behalf of a number of my clients on the Produce Exchange to defeat House bill 26. I appeared in behalf of my clients and I have no hesitancy in saying that I got a fee of $150 for that service. I said I believed that such legislation would drive the commission merchants out of the State of Pennsylvania. The particular objection was in reference to the bond, that gave the right to anyone outside the State of Pennsylvania, say Ohio, for instance, who made a shipment from Ohio to Philadelphia, to enter the bond in Allegheny county, which would instantly effect the man's credit because the commercial agencies would have instant knowledge of that fact. I appeared on two occasions. On one occasion I got in on the 7.40 train after the hearing had adjourned, but the Chairman of that committee gave us a chance to present our case. The bill was afterwards defeated in the House. Mr. Williams, of Tioga county, who introduced the bill, had some correspondence with me relative to the provisions of this bill. We took the position that this bill would drive the commission merchants out of business. We also said that we realized there were dishonest commission men and that we would like to drive them out of business, but that this bill would not do it. That was my interest so far as the cold storage bill and House bill 26 was concerned. I felt then as I feel now, that a great mistake has been made in the passage of that cold storage law.
Q. Did you ever have any conversation with Mr. Wilson, of Philadelphia, in regard to this bill?
A. The only conversation I had was after amendments had been offered in the Senate. The talk did not last over ten minutes. I met him on the boardwalk at Atlantic City. He is a member of the Philadelphia bar and I am on very friendly terms with him. I said to him, "Bill, there have been amendments offered to that bill. Have you any objections?" He said, "I have not seen it." It changed the time limit on butter from ten to twelve months. The butter men claimed that the time limit ought to be twelve months. I have not talked to him from that day until yesterday on the boardwalk, and I only said, "How do you do?" I want to say to you members of the committee that that I am going to get a fee for my services, irrespective of my annual retainer.
Q. I suppose they paid your expenses?
A. My expenses were only about $20 going back and forth, in the nature of railroad fare and Pullman charges. I am inclined to think that they will pay my expenses. If it would be of interest to the committee to know the amount of the fee I am going to charge, I will tell them.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:
That is not necessary.

WILLIAM T. CREASY, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. You were a former member of the House?
A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You are President of the State Grange?
A. President of the State Horticultural Association, also.
Q. Have you been here interested in any legislation this session?
A. We hold our State Grange meetings in Harrisburg; the meeting is annually in December, to pass on the propositions that we are for or against. We had some meetings here and put them in shape to present them to the members in letters.
Q. A circular letter?
A. Yes, sir. We were trying to live up exactly to what the bill of rights permits us to do. We have the right to petition, remonstrate or address the members of the House.
Q. Who were the members of the Grange?
A. McSparry, and Rowand and others.
Q. Do you know any others?
A. Yes, sir, Mr. Ailman. I cannot give the names of the others now.
Q. What have you been doing all session?
A. Nothing particularly done outside of the letter we sent to the members. Mr. Ailman was to look after the legislation here, but about three months ago he met with an accident and could not be here.
Q. Does your organization pay these men?
A. Yes, sir. We were directly in favor of a bill or tax bill equalizing taxation and in favor of the appropriation for the township roads, for better roads, and opposed to the fifty million dollar bond issue. We were in favor of an appropriation for vocational education and a number of things of that kind. I remember speaking to Mr. Baldwin against Senate bill 1280, prohibiting a farmer from building a dam on his farm on a stream that ran through his farm. I spoke to Mr. Baldwin and several others against that proposition. We had an attorney in the Senate look up the bills and we were against it because it gave unlimited power here in Harrisburg. We were against the auxiliary forest bills because we did not think that in townships where there was some timber land that they should be exempted from taxation, because if you exempted forests from taxation, some other interest would have to pay the taxes. We were strongly in favor of the Senate bill to prevent forest fires, and I think we have that in our resolution. We thought that was the only real forest bill in the Legislature this session. We were for an increase in the appropriation to public schools because we thought that they were not getting as much as in 1897 when there was no money in the Treasury. We were not quite sure of that, but we thought that to be the case. We were also opposed to turning over the roads of the State Highway Department.
Q. Were you opposed to the Jones bill?
A. We did not think that anybody in the Highway Department ought to have control of the roads. At present, there is no one able to give any instruction in this matter in that department. The State of New York issues a bulletin of every act of Legislature passed by them in regard to the State Highway Department, setting forth the plans and effect of that legislation. The State Grange offered a reward for a publication of that kind, but nothing has been done. It has been held by persons that it was not a good principle to have the management of our public roads system under this Highway Department. There was one thing that we advocate and that was a change in the method of distributing appropriations to charitable institutions. It has been held over the country members and they have been told that if they don't go along they won't get their appropriation or what they ought to get. We have been standing for a change in the method of distributing that money, as well as for a change in the rules of the House and Senate. I was asked to come here and write up the rules. I did that and presented them and I think some of them were adopted. I do not believe that any Department should have the right to dictate to the members what they should vote for.
Q. Was your organization interested in the workingmen's compensation bill?
A. No, sir, the committee disagreed on that proposition and we decided that we would take no sides.
Q. Not as a State organization?
A. No, sir.
Q. Some of the sub-organizations did?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. They did?
A. Some of them did. There is one trouble that we have been complaining about, we farmers, and that is that on the commissions in which the farmers are interested that we have no representation and the farmers really do not know what is going on.
Q. To what do you refer?
A. I refer to the Tax Commission for one thing, and the Public Utilities Commission and a whole lot of them. We received better treatment in Washington, because I am connected with the Postal Department. They are more inclined there to give us better treatment on the commission and we know more of what is going on.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Was the Grange interested one way or the other in the so-called child labor and woman's labor bills?
A. I had some experience in that when I was a member. I will relate that. In 1906 I took a stand in favor of child labor. Some of the representatives of the manufacturers' associations said that they would defeat me for the Legislature, because of my proposed act on child labor. That is the way, I suppose some of the members are treated now, when they stand for what they think is right.

HON. JOHN REX, a member of the House of Representatives from the county of Montgomery, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Rex, do you know of your own knowledge of the existence of a lobby operating within the Legislature during the present session of the General Assembly?

A. Why the only thing that I came against that smacked of a lobby was during the local option campaign.

Q. Why do you say that there was a lobby—something that smacked of a lobby?

A. Well, I say that because they endeavored to get me to vote for local option. I was not approached to vote against it, I was only approached to vote for it.

Q. Were you committed either for or against the legislation.

A. Positively not.

Q. Who spoke to you about voting for it?

A. Mr. Chalfant.

Q. Can you recall any of the conversation that you had with him?

A. Well, he endeavored to get me to vote for it and I told them that I was going to vote against it, and that my own vote was entirely impersonal, and that I considered that in voting against it I was representing my district as had been proved by the previous elections where they had tickets for and against it in the field, not specially on the local option question, but on the liquor question. I think that the last two or three elections we had fully and sharply defined the feeling for or against liquor, and the showing against liquor would not allow me to vote for the local option bill.

Q. You voted against it because you thought your constituents felt that way?

A. I felt that it was simply my duty to represent the feeling of the majority of the voters of my district.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. What did Mr. Chalfant say to you?

A. Well, I don't suppose I can repeat to you his exact words. He simply wanted me to vote for it. On the night before the election he came to my house, and I was out and then he came to the opera house where I was going to make a little talk, and I told him that it was not a question with us and I futhermore told him that I believed that ninety per cent. of the votes cast by the members on the floor of the House would be cast believing that they represented the sentiment in their several districts, and Mr. Chalfant fully agreed with me. He said he believed that that was so.

Q. Did any other speak to you?

A. Not that I can recall.

Q. Where does Dr. Chalfant live?

A. I don't know.

Q. Does he live here in Harrisburg?

A. I don't know.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know anything about room 249?

A. Why, yes, I do.

Q. Tell us what you know?

A. Well, I know very little about it to be plain about it. I was in there one night after the House had adjourned.

Q. Upon invitation?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Whose invitation?

A. A gentleman who was down here from Montgomery county.

Q. Can you give us his name?

A. I could, but he has no connection with the thing whatever. He is not a member of the House.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Not a lobbyist?

A. No, not a lobbyist. Just a private citizen, and a good friend of mine.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. He seemed to know about that room.

A. He probably had some friends here who had told him about it.

Q. Well, how did you get in?

A. Well, we just simply walked in?

Q. Was the door open?

A. The door was open from the outside.

Q. Did you give the black hand signal?

A. Well, probably at that time it was not necessary.

Q. Well, you got inside did you?

A. Yes.

Q. There is a colored gentleman there?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you see some liquor there?

A. Yes.

Q. What, whiskey?

A. I think there was some Apollinaris there.

Q. What else?

A. And I saw some whiskey there. I had a glass. I didn't see any beer.

Q. Apollinaris water?

A. Apollinaris water, sure.

Q. Was there a cabinet there containing liquor?

A. I don't recall the cabinet.

Q. How many were in that room when you were there?

A. That I can't say. There may have been three or four or five all told.

Q. Did you see Mr. Kephart?

A. I don't know such a person.

Q. You say there were others there?

A. Yes.

Q. Haw many?

A. Possibly six or seven or eight.

Q. Did you see any empty bottles?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. And full ones?

A. And full ones.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Rex, you have never been approached since you were elected a member of the House in any way which you would consider improper or corrupt?

A. No.

MR. BEN. CLARK, Attorney-at-law, from Punxsutawney, County of Jefferson, having been subpoenaed as a witness, having been called, was duly sworn, and testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Your full name, Mr. Clark?

A. My full name?

Q. Yes, sir.

A. Benjamin M. Clark.

Q. Where do you live, Mr Clark?

A. My residence is in Punxsutawney, Pa.

Q. Your business?

A. I am an attorney-at-law, and general counsel for the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal and Iron Company, the Jefferson and Clearfield Coal Company, and the Cowanshannock Coal Company, all three of which companies are practically one and the same interest, and operated by the same management.

Q. Is there any holding company?

A. No.

Q. All managed by the same interests. By interlocking directorates?

A. Oh, no. There are some men who are directors of one of the companies that are not directors of the other two, although there are some men who are directors of all three companies.

Q. That is what I mean when I said interlocking directorates. Do they all work in harmony?

A. Well, practically so.

Q. You represent them all?

A. I represent them all.

Q. Are you the general counsel?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have they other attorneys besides yourself?

A. They have other attorneys that are hired in other counties.

Q. You represent them in Jefferson county?

A. Yes, in Jefferson county and generally.

Q. Are you specially employed with reference to legislation?

A. Now, in answer to that question, I would state that we are members of the Operators' Association, an association of bituminous coal operators in the central district of Pennsylvania. That is an association that covers Clearfield, Jefferson, Armstrong, Indiana, Cambria and I think a portion of Allegheny county, Elk county and a number of counties in that section of the State.

Q. Practically all of the soft coal counties, is that right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who is the president of that association?

A. I think Frank H. Wigton, of Philadelphia. I am not absolutely sure. Our association is brought about and formed in the first instances from the fact that we all deal with organized labor. We employ what is called "union labor," and they have an organization, naturally all the various coal companies from these several counties got together for the purpose of making schedule agreements.

Q. Did the organization of coal producers precede the organization of the miners?

A. No, they long preceded the organization of the coal producers.

Q. Did the coal producers get together long after the organization of the miners?

A. Yes, sir the coal producers organized a great many years afterwards. It is simply a protective organization. It is simply an organization that can deal with the unions as a body. In other words, our association deals with the United Mine Workers of America regarding scale agreements and when they are signed by both it is binding upon both. That was the original purpose of the organization.

Q. Have you been here pretty nearly all of the time during the session?

A. I have been here only for one or two days a week with the exception of several weeks possibly.

Q. What bills have you been interested in?

A. I have been interested in all bills that relate to the mining industry.

Q. The Child and Women's Labor bills?

A. Only incidentally.

Q. The Workingmen's Compensation Law, were you interested in that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Any others?

A. No.

Q. The Minimum Wage bill?

A. Yes, incidentally.

Q. These are all House bills?

A. Well, I don't know whether they were introduced originally in the House or in the Senate?

Q. What did you do to oppose the passage of these bills through the House? Anything?

A. Well, I just looked after them generally. We were aware that the United Mine Workers of America issued circular letters to a number of candidates throughout our region asking them to pledge themselves to certain legislation, and that if they didn't they would vote against them. From those we gathered that they were going to be unusually active in legislative matters. That resulted in a legislative committee being appointed by the association.

Q. Right there. Will you give us the members of that legislative committee?

A. I could not do it. The general office is located in Philadelphia owing to the fact that a number of the people are eastern operators, who own these mines in the hard coal counties, and I am closely in touch with it and could furnish you these names if you desire them. That is I could get them by writing a letter to the general office.

Q. I would like to have them.

A. Now, after the Legislature opened, these bills commenced to be introduced a meeting was called in Philadelphia of our association and I attended, and owing to the fact that I had been in active touch with our scale agreements for years, and had been arguing all of these various propositions over and having absorbed a great deal of knowledge and information on the subject both from a practical standpoint as well as to the mining end of it, and as to the general proposition affecting labor. They asked me to undertake to represent them here at Harrisburg but I objected on the ground that I was very busy, and that I would not undertake it, and also told them that I did not have time to attend to it. They finally suggested that they should get some one to take care of the detail work and keep track of the bills and arranging for hearings and report to me if I should undertake it, and I finally agreed to do so. In pursuance of that they asked me to recommend some person. I suggested that he either should be some person who had some experience around the Legislature either as a member or otherwise in order that he would know about arranging for hearings, where to get the bills and how to make his reports to the association. In pursuance of that an arrangement was made with Henry I. Wilson, a member of last session and his duties were substantially clerical. He was to make a note of all bills that pertained to the mining industry in any way and report them to the office of the secretary of our association at Philadelphia, and I believe send copies of the bills. In addition to that, he was to arrange for any hearings that were requested, and he has fulfilled that duty so far as I know to the satisfaction of the association. Now, then, the bills came in very rapidly as you heard Mr. Maurer state, I think he said forty-nine or fifty bills which affected labor and labor propositions. He was interested in them as a labor man. In addition to those, there were many bills such as the pay day bills, and the taxation bills and a number of other bills, around somewhere in the neighborhood of two hundred. Many of them, I will say, were duplications, or practically so. For instance, on the question of refuse in streams, pollution of streams, I think there were four or five different mining bills. That is why they required rather close looking after and I got in for more labor than I had anticipated. We arranged that our plan of procedure was to come here and get acquainted with the members of the two houses, as we understood that was the only method by which we could approach the proposition, and to ask for committee hearings and to argue the proposition as we understood it. The other side was represented and there were some fifteen members of labor organizations sitting here frequently and they were interested in the same legislation we were. Now our plan was to ask for a hearing before the committee and both sides were invited and on the days that the hearings were held we would send for other members of the association and more or less of them turned out and took part in our arguments. On the other side, the regular organization of miners were there and would bring additional men to argue the question from the other side and we both undertook to educate the members of the committee as to the merits or demerits of the bill as we saw it. Our methods were very much the same except that we had no legislation here. That is, we proposed none and we didn't try to get any through.

Q. Then your work was simply on the defensive?

A. Simply on the defensive. There was no irregularity on their part and none on ours so far as I know.

Q. Have you been especially interested in these bills since they passed the House?

A. Not any more than when they were in the House.

Q. You opposition in the Senate has not been rather more strenuous than in the House.

A. Not at all. It has all been in the committees.

Q. Whom of the Senators have you seen and asked to defeat this legislation?

A. In the first place I don't believe that I have asked a single member of either body to either vote for or against any bill that I was interested in. Now that may be subject to qualification of possibility one or two people, but I can't recall at this date a single person. My own personal belief is that your own method of running your Legislature produces the results that you have here. We realize that you don't know our business as well as we do and you on the other side have the same opinion, and the only way that we have to reach you as to come here and tell you what we know about it and subject it to you as open minded men to dispose of it. Now so far as I am concerned and so far as my people are concerned that is the method we adopted and the other side did the same. Now as the result of our numerous hearings, I have had members come to me in favor of many of the bills and ask me something about some particular bill or some particular argument that I had made and ask for any particular date or information that I had, evidently agreeing with our view of it and evidently wanting to take that side of the proposition. Possibly they went to the other side and got their views and made a comparison. I gather all the information I could about our side of the matter and presented that information to the committees.

Q. Take for instance the Workingmen's Compensation bill. You were opposed to that.

A. We were opposed to that bill because in the first place the first section of the bill absolutely wipes out all the defense and leave the employers without a defense and at the same time leave the employee in the position that he can either accept or reject the bill. Now, if he accepts it and he receives an injury the employer is bound by the rigid compensation table of the bill. That was one of the chief objections to the bill and we contended that there ought to be a method by which some of the more drastic compensation features of the bill could be made more equitable for the employer. There has been a good deal of newspaper notoriety about reasons for opposing the bill as it left the House but I want to say now that our intentions regarding the bill and the amendments which we were in favor of and which have been incorporated in the bill have been perfectly honorable and perfectly fair.

Q. Did you submit such as you thought would be fair?

A. We did not for the reason that we were informed by the Commission, and I talked to them frequently and particularly to the Chairman of the Commission whom I know very well and know to be a very reputable gentleman, and we were simply told that there would be no amendments of any character permitted and that it would be useless so that all we had to do was to beat that bill.

Q. You were opposed to the Public Utilities Bill?

A. I took no part in the Public Utilities Bill.

Q. Didn't you mention a railroad company as one of your clients?

A. No.

Q. Then you are not interested in the Public Utilities Bill?

A. Well, only as a private citizen. I am interested as a stockholder in a street car line, but I could not tell you anything that is in the bill.

Q. It was not within the scope of your employment.

A. No, because I had to attend to my regular business.

Q. What were your objections to the Child Labor bill?

A. Only objections in general. I had never read the bill.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Well, so far as you are concerned have you done anything to oppose it?

A. I have never said that there was anything radically wrong with the Child Labor bill.

Q. Have you conferred particularly with Senator McNichol regarding this bill?

A. I don't think I ever talked with Senator McNichol regarding this bill at any time.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you, or do you not know that Senator McNichol is a very prominent Senator?

A. That is my understanding.

Q. Wouldn't you know if you had talked with him about this bill?

A. Well, Senator McNichol was on the Committee before whom I made arguments.

Q. Did you talk with Senator Crow.

A. Senator Crow was on the committee.

Q. Senator Hall? Have you consulted with him frequently?

A. No.

Q. He is from your neighborhood is he not?

A. Yes, he comes from an adjoining county.

Q. And these gentlemen are members of the Senate Committee on conference are they not?

A. On the Compensation Law?

Q. Yes.

A. No, I don't think so. I think it is Homsher, Crow and Sones.

Q. Well, I may be thinking of the Elections Committee. What other Senators?

A. I think Diax, Homsher and Sones.

Q. I presume that you have seen these Senators pretty frequently since your conference committee was appointed.

A. I have never asked any of these Senators about any proposition of mine. I have asked them whether they had agreed or whether they were going to have another meeting and to wait if they had a meeting until they came out and then ask them if they had acomplished anything.

Q. Well, during the last two months, how much of that time have you spent down here?

A. Well, I have averaged two days a week.

Q. Do you know when the last hearing on the Workingmen's Compensation bill was held?

A. I could not say.

Q. A month ago.

A. I couldn't say.

Q. Well, what have you been mostly interested in in this Legislature? What have you done with the balance of your time?

A. Well, Mr. Baldwin, I have other bills to look after that I explained. In addition to that, every week we were expecting something to occur with reference to the matter.

Q. Have you been in the Senate lunch room?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you invited there?

A. Yes.

Q. By whom?

A. Well, I had been invited there a number of times by Mr. Kephart. I have been there to lunch.

Q. Ever had something to drink?

A. Several times.

Q. Apollinaris Water?

A. Yes, sir, and other kinds of liquors. I have had Apollinaris water and Poland water and some beer and some ginger ale and some whiskey.

Q. You seem pretty well acquainted with the Senate?

A. I am.

Q. You have been there other sessions have you?

A. I want to explain what you have asked me. I was here one session on a mining bill just the same as these other gentlemen. I have known a great many of the Senators and have known them for years. I have been here before on mining bills both in 1909 and in 1911, and I met a good many men in the Senate and a good many men in the House.

Q. Of course Mr. Clark nobody comes here to advocate or oppose legislation unless he knows the Senators and the members.

A. Well, I have never pushed myself in. I know you and I know Mr. Claycomb but I don't suppose that he knows me. I know probably very many of them.

Q. You are paid for this work?

A. I am employed on an annual salary. I get no extra salary for my trip down here, and I get no salary from the Operators Association that I represent.

Q. How much are you paid?

A. Do you want to ask that question?

Q. In addition to your salary you are paid your expenses?

A. I have no arrangement about my expenses. I have kept account of the expense involved by my work down here and I have been paying my own expenses, but when I get through I expect to turn in a bill to the Association and ask for some adjustment, but whether they will do that and just what sum I will receive I could not say. My work has been many times more arduous than I considered it would be when I came down here.

Q. You have other clients besides these interests that you have mentioned?

A. Yes. sir.

Q. Do they take practically all of your time.

A. Practically all of my time. I have several other clients. I have been actively connected with the coal interests for a great many years.

Q. How recently have you had a meeting with any of the conferees of the Senate, that is on the Compensation bill.

A. Well, now, I couldn't definitely answer that. If you can tell me of the last meeting that they held, the date of it,—I asked some of them when they came out of that meeting whether they had reached any agreement and that said that they had not, and as I understand it, they were to meet again today.

Q. I think the early part of last week there was a meeting.

A. Well, it was following that that I asked one of them the results of the meeting.

Q. Did you speak to Senator Homsher at any time last week when you were together and discuss the matter as to the outcome?

A. Well, I have no definite recollection of that. Do you have any data you can call to my attention, I could refresh it. I may have had.

Q. Do you recall having spoken to them up in room 249 about last Tuesday afternoon. Did you speak to them Tuesday or Wednesday aiternoon?

A. I don't know. I don't recall any time that I did. I will say this that as a general thing that no time that I was in there there was any discussion of any legislation unless as I said before, occasionally some one present would crack a little joke by saying what they were going to do this or that with some bill, and I took it as a little joke towards me.

Q. Do you recall making the statement any time recently that the Compensation bill would be defeated in the Senate? Do you recall making that statement? It was within the last week, I will say, or ten days.

A. I may have made the statement that it looked as though it would be defeated but my own opinion has always been that I have felt that the Compensation bill would get through in some form. That has always been my opinion and I have so expressed myself.

Q. Mr. Clark have you conferred with Senator Penrose on this proposition either directly or indirectly.

A. No, I have not. I would like to answer the question fully. I have not conferred with him in any way. I met him on his visit here somewhere about the building, I think in the hall, and talked a few minutes with him, and he spoke about the compensation law and said that he hoped it would pass. I didn't care to argue with him because I thought that maybe his ideas would not agree with mine.

Q. Did you believe him when you discussed it?

A. I had no reason to disbelieve him.

Q. Then so far as you know Senator Penrose was using his influence in favor of the compensation law?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you observe any signs of his influence in favor of it?

A. I heard his talk in the House, or at least the part of it where he referred to the compensation law.

Q. Don't you know as a matter of fact that if he were really in favor of this, a nod from him would be sufficient to give it a strong impetus.

A. It depends whether one believes his opinion was honest or not.

Q. Don't you know that he is a powerful political influence in the Senate?

A. He has been.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know any other United States Senators that are taking an interest in this matter?

A. I don't. I saw Senator Oliver when he was down here. I had a slight conversation with him and during it the compensation law came up and he expressed himself favorably towards it. There was no discussion.

Q. Did he impress you that he was earnestly in favor of it?

A. I have nothing to say.

Q. I say, he impressed you that way?

A. Why, certainly.

Q. Senator Penrose impressed you likewise didn't he?

A. Yes. sir.

Q. And you think they both meant what they said?

A. Yes.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Then we have the strange spectacle of Senators Penrose and Oliver with all their influence and resources and of the United States Senatorship in favor of the Workingmen's Compensation bill and still it doesn't get through the Senate?

A. Well, do you want me to answer a question of that kind, Mr. Baldwin?

JOHN C. DYGHT, having been duly sworn, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Where do you live?

A. I live in Butler county.

Q. What is your business?

A. Real estate broker.

Q. Have you been here in Harrisburg during the present session of the Legislature?

A. Officially as a representative of the Pittsburgh Leader. That is my credentials.

Q. How much of your time since the first of the year have you spent here?

A. I have spent practically all of the time the Legislature was in session.

Q. What do you know about the existence of a lobby here in the Capitol?

A. I believe there is such a lobby.

Q. Explain why you think so.

A. I wish to define what I consider a lobby. I believe a lobbyist is one who influences or attempts to influence legislation. I believe there are two kinds of lobbyists at Harrisburg. A legitimate lobbyist, or one who openly advocates legislation, for the public welfare, without any selfish or personal interests. An illegitimate lobbyist, or who by his position, power, or by improper or illegal means and methods influences or controls legislation. My answers will be along these two lines, the two kinds of lobbyists as I understand it.

Q. What have you seen here?

A. I believe there is an illegitimate lobby here, and that there are three of such lobbyists. The first is the administration or the Tener, McAlee, Bigelow lobby; the second is the special interest lobby, such as the railroad the coal interests, the electric interests, and such interests as that, who represent large combination of capital, and the third lobby is the lobby which is opposing or advocating various methods and various kinds of liquor legislation.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Do you mean to say that the two lobbyists that are here handling liquor legislation are illegitimate?

A. They might be if their method came under my definition.

Q. I just merely meant, whether you meant to include for or against; you said liquor legislation. I wanted to know what you meant by that.

A. I believe that a liquor lobby is illegitimate of any kind, either for or against, that attempts to coerce members by their power, their influence, or various insidious methods, to vote for or against such measures, whatever that may be.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. You say one of the classes of lobbyists is what you term the administration lobby.

A. I believe that is the principal lobby here at Harrisburg.

Q. Have you observed that lobby working?

A. I believe I have more than any other lobby here at Harrisburg.

Q. Give us some details along that line.

A. Last Tuesday afternoon I sat on the floor of the House down in the corner, near the Speaker, while the general appropriation bill was being considered. I had been in the Attorney General's office consluting some men in that department in regard to a proposed law; and I came on in through the door and sat down there, inside of the House, really accidentally. Some of my neighbors sitting in seats adjoining where Secretary of the Commonwealth McAfee, Walter Gaither, private Secretary to the Governor, Samuel Todd, Executive Controller, Samuel D. Foster, Chief Engineer, Highway Department, Ben Focht, Water Supply Commissioner, Ex-Congressman. I believe that there was being engineered from that corner of the room, an attack on the general appropriation bill, and that the man who seemed to be engineering it, and giving the orders more than anyone else was Secretary of the Commonwealth McAfee; several members had spoken for the sustaining of the appropriation committee's report, among others, Mr. Richard Baldwin, and Carey Schuck. After they had delivered speeches, Secretary McAfee called Samuel Foster to him and said, "Foster, go get Williams to make a speech defending this; Baldwin and Schuck are making a Hell of a mess of it." In pursuance with the direction of Secretary McAfee, Samuel D. Foster left them and went along the west side of the House to the rear and out through the doors, and in a short time Mr. Williams, a member of the House from Tioga county, appeared, and within a minute or two rose in his seat after he got there and spoke, in fact he spoke several times. Now, I presume, while I do not know, that he appeared in response to the summons of Mr. Foster and that he had been asked to make a speech, which he did. Now, that is what I call a pernicious and insidious lobby directed by the administration. That is one instance. During that same afternoon there were a good many members of the House had got up and left the floor, and Secretary McAfee called Foster to him again and said, "Foster, there are a good many members of our fellows have gone out. I think you ought to go out and hustle them in, for they are going to have a roll call pretty soon." Foster left and went out of the rear and out in the various corridors, apparently, passing through the doors. I did not see him, but within a minute or two or three there were streaming in on the floor of the House from a dozen of twenty members who have usually voted along in support of the administration. Now, I presume that Mr. Foster had seen some of those men and that he had indirectly or directly given out the word that they were needed on the floor of the House. Now, I consider that that was an insidious and pernicious lobby, the administration directly attempting to control legislation.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. What do you know about the other lobbies, representing the big business interests of the State? Do you know any of those men who were here?

A. Yes, I never knew but one of those men until this session, but I have met these men at various times since the session opened. The only man that I know who was interested in such legislation was Harry S. Lydick, of Pittsburgh, an attorney there. I cannot say, Mr. Chairman, that I ever knew Mr. Lydick to use any improper methods to try to coerce or by any improper means to influence legislation.

Q. You say you knew Mr. Lydick?

A. Yes. sir.

Q. He is from Pittsburgh?

A. Yes. sir.

Q. Do you know Mr. Clark, of Punxsutawney, representing the coal interests?

A. I have been introduced to Mr. Clark and have talked with him several times.

Q. Have you observed his conduct and attitude towards legislation?

A. Mr. Clark has not worked openly or by seeing the members on the floor of the House or Senate and asked their support, so far as I have been able to determine, but he has spent considerable of his time in the offices of the Secretary of the Senate, while he was here.

Q. Have you seen him there?

A. I have seen Mr. Clark in there personally and I have seen him go into this room at various times.

Q. Have you been in there yourself?

A. I have been in those rooms three times this session, twice last week.

Q. You tell what you saw—was Mr. Clark there?

A. I saw Mr. Clark in those rooms last week, last Wednesday night. I want to correct an impression as to how I got in those rooms, so it will be fair to all concerned. Those are the rooms that are generally used for the conference committees between the House conference committees and the Senate committees.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. What rooms are these?

A. They are the four rooms on the second floor.

Q. On the House floor?

A. Yes. sir.

Q. On the north side?

A. Yes. sir.

Q. Occupied by Secretary Baker and Chief Clerk Kephart?

A. One of those rooms is the room of the Secretary of the General Conference Committee.

Q. Were they connecting rooms?

A. My impression was that the doors were open between them usually and that you could go through one room to the other. There were four rooms, including the first room you come to. I am not certain about the four, but I am sure about three. The Senate conference committee and the House conference committee had arranged at the request of the Senate committee for a meeting for conference purposes on the State-wide primary bill, and the members of the House conference committee desired that meeting to be open to the public and the newspaper men.

Q. What did you say?

A. The House conference committee desired that it be open. When the members of the House conference committee left the floor of the House, including Messrs. Jones, Walnut and Humes, Walter Darlington and I happened to be standing back of the rail in the rear of the House and I believe the members of the Committee said, "We are going out to meet the Senate committee and we are going to try to get the meeting to be open to the newspaper fellows and the public," so Walter Darlington and I went with the Committee and went into those rooms. That was last Tuesday afternoon, about 2.30. Do you want the rest?

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Go ahead.

A. When we five went into these rooms, we were invited to the rear room of Senator James P. McNichol.

MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

We do not want what occurred in the conference committee.

MR. CLAYCOMB:

No, just what you saw.

A. Senator McNichol said, "Come on, fellows, and have some lunch." I had walked to the door, to the rear room, through the middle room. Messrs. Jones, Walnut and Humes sat down at that table. Walter Darlington and I declined the lunch. We sat on a settee in the room for awhile. Then we got up and left the room and went into the room through which we had entered and sat on the settee. John M. Flynn, of the House, appeared about the time we entered this room. Then Chief Clerk Kephart came in and he asked, "Have either of you fellows had anything to eat?" Some one of us replied that we had not. Kephart said, "I am going to get you something." He brought it from the rear room, the door of which had been closed, a plate with about a half a dozen beef tongue sandwiches on it. I believe we each of us ate two of them. He said, "There it is; help yourselves to the refreshments; it is all free;" and I drank two bottles of Apollinaris, water and Darlington drank from two bottles of Apollinaris and I think John Flynn drank ginger ale. There was a bottle there that resembled a whiskey bottle, with a label on it. While we were sitting there, Senator Hall came in and took the bottle up and poured out a drink and consumed it. After we had sat there about half an hour, Mr. Ben Clark came in with three men I did not know. He walked up to the table and picked up the whiskey bottle and took a drink of it. He poured a glass full and some one else did the same, we were not paying much attention to them. The conference committee was through eating their lunch by that time and went into the other room. Darlington and I tried to get Senator McNichol to agree to an open conference, but he declined to do so, and as the conference committee stood three to three against an open conference——

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. How do you know they stood that way?

A. I believe it was Mr. Humes and Senator McNichol who stated that was the way it stood. I talked to Senator McNichol myself about it. I said to him, "I think the conference should be open, the Progressives are in favor of open conferences and President Wilson declared in favor of open conferences, and Senator Penrose recently declared in favor of an open conference and caucus." He said the argument didn't have any effect on him.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Is that all you saw of Mr. Clark at that time?

A. Mr. Clark and his three companions, none of whom I knew, went into the rear room and seated themselves at the table where this lunch was after the members of the Senate and the House who were eating there got up and went into the other room.

Q. Did you see any intoxicating liquor there other than the bottle containing what seemed to be whiskey, that you have mentioned?

A. I saw beer.

A. In one of the buckets sitting on the floor, with ice in it, and the bottles were upon the ice.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. How do you know it was beer?

A. Only by the labels. I was searching for a bottle of Apollinaris and I got a hold, first, of a bottle of beer, and I put that back and went on with my search. I think there were three buckets there with ice. Finally I discovered a bottle of Apollinaris and opened it and handed Darlington one. I was not purposely looking for the beer.

Q. You do not mean to say that it is any more wrong to drink a bottle of beer than it is to drink soda water.

A. No, sir.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Have you had any conversation with Mr. Clark relative to his interest in legislation in this Assembly?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Relate that conversation.

A. My converation——

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. State when.

A. I am going to. My conversation with him occurred in the Senate on the day when the big hearing was held on the various child labor and woman's labor bills, whatever day that was, when the large delegations were here for and against the bills.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. What was that conversation?

A. I asked Mr. Clark in just a general discussion what he thought would be done with those bills. He said, "I think they will be amended or killed in the Senate." I said, "Don't you think that they will pass in about the shape in which they passed the House?" Mr. Clark replied in about these words: "Oh, that damned, crazy House will pass anything, and we will stop you fool anarchists that voted for Roosevelt in the Senate."

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. That was Clark?

A. Attorney Ben Clark. I replied about in this way: "All we Progressives want is that the Senators obey their platform pledges, such as Senator Kurtz who was from the same town as Clark and that they were on very intimate terms. Clark said, "Well, Kurtz is not going to do so; he is not crazy: he is no fool, and he is not going to vote for these crazy things the Republican Legislative Committee prepared, pledge or no pledge." In reply I said, "Clark, the people who elected these men expect men like Thompson of Beaver, Kurtz of your county, Martin of Cumberland, Gerberich and Daix of Philadelphia and the rest of these men who signed the platform pledges to do exactly as they agreed to do when they signed the agreement." Clark replied, "Oh, Dight, quit that kind of talk; that may do in the House, but most of those Senators are reasonable and can be talked to. You are not going to get these measures through the Senate as they pass the House, for we have enough votes to defeat them, or at least amend them as we want." I replied, "Clark, I put the Senator who violates his written pledge in the same class as the embezzler of money, for he secured his election by fraud and I believe he has stolen from the people and I think the day will come when a man who violates his written pledge will wear stripes and look out through the bars just as the man who steals money."

Q. Was there anything further to that ocnversation?

A. Clark replied, "Oh, well, quit that kind of talk; you wait awhile and you will see what the Senate will do." I believe I have not engaged with Mr. Clark since that day, except merely to say, "How-de-do."

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You made those notes you are reading from immediately after the meeting?

A. I did.

Q. You said you were a newspaper man?

A. I have been writing a good many articles.

Q. Have you had them published in any paper?

A. I think I have had them published in several; I have published several in the Pittsburgh Leader and I have been sending a weekly letter to about two hundred papers in this State, and I put in something to this effect and mentioned Mr. Clark's name in it, I believe.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. What have you observed as to the work of the liquor lobby?

A. I have not paid any attention to the working of that lobby. My sole interest here this session has been for the platform pledges of the Republican and Washington parties, that every one of those pledges might be enacted into law and that those men would not violate their written agreement but vote for those bills that carried out those pledges.

Q. Do you know Mr. Grundy, of Bristol?

A. No, I have never met Mr. Grundy personally, although I know him to see him, because I have had him pointed out at numerous times.

Q. You know he has been here?

A. Frequently.

Q. You have been in a position to observe what his attitude has been towards legislation, the legislation affecting his interests?

A. I have noticed Mr. Grundy frequently going into these rooms described heretofore. I have noticed him in close contact with several of the Senators. I accidentally overheard a statement made by Mr. Grundy.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Where did this occur?

A. This statement of his occurred in the Franklin Building in the evening of the day the Manufacturers' Association, or which Mr. Grundy is president, was here.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Was your office in that building?

A. Directly over theirs.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You happened to be in the same room?

A. No, I was coming down stairs and heard it over the top of the transom.

Q. How did you know it was Mr. Grundy?

A. I did not see him, but I think from the circumstances it was Mr. Grundy, although, Mr. Baldwin, I am not certain.

Q. Then it would not be fair to write it in the evidence that it was Mr. Grundy?

A. I have no doubt personally that it was Mr. Grundy that was doing the talking there.

Q. Well, what was said?

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. What was it?

A. It was the same day on which I had these conversations with Mr. Clark, the day on which the hearings had been held in the Senate on these various bills. I had gone to my rooms on the third floor of the Franklin Building about ten o'clock that night to do some writing. About midnight I left my office to go down stairs, and as the elevator was not running at that hour, I walked down the stairs.

Q. What day was this?

A. On the day the labor hearing was held in the Senate.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You mean on the day the Manufacturers' Association came here in such large numbers?

A. Yes. sir.

Q. At what time in the night was this?

A. About twelve o'clock that night.

Q. In the Franklin Building?

A. Yes, sir. After I had walked two or three steps I heard some one say, "That contemptible Wasson." I instantly stopped. At the time I stopped I was not more than four feet from the top of that transom, going down the stairs. I knew that Mr. Grundy was president of that Manufacturers' Association and I knew Mr. Wasson and Mr. Grundy had had almost a personal contact the day of that hearing. I was sort of ashamed of myself to listen to such a conversation. I presume I should not have done it if Wasson's name had not been mentioned, and if I had not known that Mr. Grundy was in the room. Mr. Grundy was reading a paper, evidently, from what developed.

Q. What do you mean by that?

A. He was reading an article denouncing Mr. Wasson in very bitter and in scathing terms. I presume I did not hear that for longer than a minute and as soon as the party who was reading finished reading, some one said, "Mr. Grundy, I think that should be published in the various newspapers of the State." He says, we have at least some papers that will publish that statement about Wasson, for instance, the Pittsburgh Gazette Times and the Philadelphia Inquirer, were the only two papers that were mentioned. Mr. Grundy then, it evidently was Grundy from the way they were talking, and two or three of them mentioned Mr. Grundy, said "We are going to win here and get what we want but doesn't it seem a dirty shame that we have to put up with what we are compelled to and the way these people treat us after all the money we put to elect this Governor and what we have done for the Republican party in this State. I think that action should be taken against—and the people who are trying to dictate to us that will settle them for all time, and we have our friends in the Senate and they will take care of us there."

Q. Now, this is what you heard while you were standing on the stairway, and you thought Mr. Grundy made the remark.

A. Yes, sir, from the way the people were saying Mr. Grundy, that he was the presiding officer. I would think that from the fact that I knew he was the president of that association.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Have you seen Mr. Grundy since?

A. Nearly every day that the Senate has been in session in the Senate chambers.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You say he has been here how often, how much? You have seen him nearly every day for how long?

A. Well, nearly every day that the Senate has been in session since the first of February.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. That is Mr. Grundy you are speaking about now?

A. Yes, sir. I am not certain of the number of times.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Well, now, you are putting that "nearly every day." That was in the Senate? Have you ever seen him in the House?

A. Yes, sir. He was in the House a good bit, but he hasn't been in the House for the last two or three months.

Q. Have you any other statement that you desire to make? I simply wanted to know if you have any further statement to make under his examination. Mr. Dight have you been in any way acquainted with the Publicity Bureau or committee here in Harrisburg.

A. Yes, sir. I said I sent out a letter every week.

Q. Well, what do those words "Publicity Committee" stand for. I see it in the papers frequently. Does it mean that there is a committee here of that character? Who composed it?

A. There has been an organization in regard to reporting progress on the Platform Legislation bills. That is the legislation we are especially interested in.

Q. Now, who composed that Publicity Committee?

A. Well, I have been doing the work. You want to know who the men are?

Q. I want to know who compose the Publicity Committee?

A. Mr. Paul Ache has been consulted some.

Q. Well, I mean, who compose it?

A. Well, he is one of the members who compose it. Mr. A. P. Moore of the Pittsburgh Leader, Mr. Nevin Dietrich. These men are the men who have been consulted on this matter.

Q. That is the committee that have met as an organization?

A. Yes, sir, I have gone to them to talk.

Q. Well, you have met since the first of January?

A. Yes, to consider matters.

Q. Yes, well, you have met?

A. No, not especially.

Q. Not especially, but where.

A. Well, I have talked to some men in Pittsburgh.

Q. I asked if you had met and how often?

A. We have had meetings in my office and have discussed various platform pledges.

Q. I still repeat my question. How often have you met and where did you have your last meeting, and when did you meet?

A. I should say two or three times.

Q. Where are your rooms?

A. 303 and 304 Franklin Building.

Q. Does your committee have a room of its own?

A. Yes, sir, two rooms.

Q. Who pays for the rent of those rooms?

A. I have been paying a large part of it.

Q. You have been paying most of it yourself?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Dight, did you prepare a resolution somewhat similar to this?

A. Which? This resolution?

Q. Yes, this resolution that was introduced by Representative Baldwin from Beaver.

A. Now that I remember especially, although I thought there was enough going on around here and that these things should be investigated.

Q. Well, did you or did you not prepare a resolution along these lines? I don't say that it is exactly this one. Didn't you ask a member or members of the House to introduce one?

A. I did not.

Q. You did not. You traveled over the State considerably prior to the meeting of the Legislature in the interest of some legislation, and interviewed the members on the legislation?

A. I was the manager during the campaign of the Speakers' Bureau of the Washington part of the State.

Q. Then you asked the members for pledges on matters of legislation?

A. Nothing but platform pledges.

Q. Well, but you asked them for platform pledges?

A. Well, according to the resolution of the Republican State Platform that was presented, I saw the candidates and he was requested to state in writing to the Republican State Chairman how he stood on these various measures and how he would act when he came to Harrisburg in reference to them and when they were endorsed by the Washington party the same pledges practically were required of them. The sole idea was that a platform should mean something and that the man who came to Harrisburg could not repudiate their platform pledges without a great deal of difficulty.

Q. Well, now, I still repeat my question. You traveled over the State asking for these pledges you say.

A. I didn't ask any pledges as Republicans for those were looked after by Mr. Wasson as I understood it. I knew nothing at all about that.

Q. I only want to know why you traveled over the State, where you went, and who you asked, and what the character of the pledge was that was asked for?

A. I asked quite a number of men to write to Mr. Dietrick, the State Secretary of the Washington party or to Thomas L. Hicks, the State Chairman, and pledge themselves to the pre-emptors who gave them the nomination of the Washington party that they would vote for these bills when presented and would carry out the platform and would enact them into legislation.

Q. Well, I want to know where you traveled to.

A. I went into Lawrence county.

Q. What other counties?

A. Mercer county, Erie county, Crawford county, Venango county, Armstrong county, my own county of Butler, where I held the pre-emptions myself and secured the pre-emptors; Westmoreland county.

Q. You called on the members and asked them for interviews in regard to this platform legislation?

A. Yes, sir, and quite a number of these men that I called on are in the Legislature.

Q. Who bore the expense of that traveling around, Mr. Dight?

A. I bore that myself.

Q. You bore that yourself?

A. I bore most of it myself.

Q. Well, who bore the balance?

A. Some of them who secured these nominations.

Q. Which nominations?

A. These nominations of the Washington party.

Q. The men that you interviewed?

A. Yes, sir, the men that I interviewed.

Q. Did they pay you at the time you visited them, or how did they get their money into the fund?

A. Some one or two of them said that we know that you are doing this at your own expense, and we would like to pay your hotel bill for you. That is all I spent since last February a year ago on this matter.

Q. I didn't ask you that question.

A. I did that without receiving any recompense for my time. I have given my time for one year and five months without any recompense whatever. I am interested only in good government, and for no other purpose whatever.

Q. Will you lend me that statement of yours as to what you consider a lobby?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. While you are separating that I would like to ask you this question. You stated that you felt that all of these propositions that affected the public where conferences were held on legislative matters affecting the public should be open. That is what you mean?

A. I believe Mr. Baldwin that all committee meetings, or caucuses or conferences in the House of Representatives and in the Senate should be opened absolutely to the public and to all newspaper men.

Q. Then you feel that the committee on committees deserves censure for their action in not letting in the public, and not even the members of the House at any of their meetings. You recall that they were secret? You feel that in that matter they were wrong?

A. I believe that there was a special emergency last January Mr. Baldwin. That committee broke up and finished a system in the State of Pennsylvania that will never occur again. That committee met a situation that was hard to meet in any other way.

Q. Then by that you mean that whenever you want to do a thing of very great importance it should be done in secret?

A. No, sir, it should not.

Q. Then you condemn the action of the committee on committees?

A. I believe that all meetings should be open. I would liked to have seen the meetings of the committee on committees open.

Q. Then you have evidently been keeping very close watch on legislation. With the exception of what you have stated in regard to the Administration actions in legislation pending, have you noticed any corrupt actions on the part of any representatives or members of either House, and actions that you would consider corrupt since you have been around the Capitol.

A. In reply to your question, I doubt very much whether money has been used to corrupt legislation, at least, that is I am not aware of it. But it is that insidious lobby which promises position and power and influence, and certain bills to be signed by the Executive, and certain things to be run into various bills that affect certain interests, and that is the kind of lobby that goes on today.

Q. Then you consider the action of the committee on committees in dividing up all of the offices with their salaries as being a very wrong system?

A. As I understand it Mr. Baldwin, that was not done that way. I want to answer the question that you made by inference, that the various offices in the House were distributed so many to the Democrats in proportion to the number of Democrats; so many to the Republicans in proportion to the number of representatives who had received a larger vote on the Republican ticket than any other, and so many to the Progressives that had received a greater vote on the Washington ticket than on any other ticket.

Q. You don't think that there would be any danger of corruption creeping in in a matter of that kind?

A. Yes, I do, Mr. Baldwin. I believe that all employes of the House and Senate should be under civil service, and should be permanent and that the system that has been pursued in the past is very wrong.

Q. Well, then, coming back to the other question. Did you or did you not state that you had not noticed any thing transpiring in the House on the part of any member or members that you thought indicated anything other than you have suggested.

A. No, I have seen things occur in the House that I consider was lobbying, using my own definition of the term lobbying.

Q. Now, Mr. Dight, you have talked very strongly upon platform pledges. Was there any particular bill drawn up and placed before these members of either body, the House or Senate upon which they pledged their support that they are not now supporting or have supported. Isn't it a fact that this resolution that you refer to regarding certain measures that were put out by the State Convention were all along the general line, didn't leave each and every member still the right to oppose according to his own individual opinion on the question of whether a bill was more drastic than it should be. Would the fact that I disagree as to a bill that was drawn up by one man or a number of men of an organization when it came into the House and that I should find certain portions that I felt were wrong be rather a backward step if I voted against it?

A. Well, No, Mr. Baldwin.

Q. Well, isn't that the condition that confronted the members.

A. No, that is not the condition.

Q. Was there a Labor bill, or a Compensation act, or a Utilities bill drawn up at that time for me to make my pledge as to whether I would support it in that form or not?

A. I think they were not drawn.

Q. Well, in substance, Mr. Dight, isn't it a fact that there was no bill drawn on any of those subjects at the time they were submitted to the various members of the Legislature for their pledges.

A. I think that is correct.

Q. Well, then, is it fair because a member is not exactly in accord in a bill which is drawn which has the general idea of carrying out the platform, when that bill comes up before that member that he should finally refuse to support it would be violating his pledge?

A. In the shape in which these measures have been presented at this time, I consider it violating a pledge. If, for instance, when the Workingmen's Compensation was so twisted in the Senate that it becomes optional instead of compulsory, I consider that a man is violating a pledge by supporting such a measure.

Q. I want to say Mr. Dight that the reason I am trying to find out your idea on this matter is because what you have stated is a matter of reflection upon my action in the House and I am compelled to do it in my own defense.

A. The Senate has not passed all the platform measures.

Q. Well, they are quarreling in there.

A. For instance, I can name several of them that they have not passed, so that I figure that a man who signed those pledges, of which there are sixteen such in the Senate are directly violating their pledges.

Q. Well, of course, we feel different on that. You are of the opinion that the heads of the departments should not come into the House and exercise their influence to have any legislation for the departments, and on which they are fully acquainted, to use any of their influence in the way of giving information to the House on the measures. Do you think that would be wrong?

A. That wouldn't be wrong but when an administration, any administration, passes out orders to line up men for certain provisions and goes on the floor of the House and attempts to personally influence those men by using the influence as they have done, I believe it is wrong. I think that the heads of Departments have a perfect right to appear before committees and present their claims, and present facts in regard to their departments, and I think that they should be asked to do so in case they have not.

Q. Don't you realize that notwithstanding the fact that the different departments go before the committees, and do so without being asked that a very large percentage of the members of the House notwithstanding that really don't know what is the right amount to appropriate for this Department or whether the increase in the number of employes in that department are really necessary.

A. Well, it is possibly all right in some cases.

Q. Do you know of any improper demands that were made by the head of any department in the House?

A. Only what is common rumor.

Q. Well, we don't want rumor. Do you know of any particular case?

A. I know of a particular case where a member was threatened by the department.

Q. Can you state that case?

A. I know of one instance when Senator Sensenich was threatened by Private Secretary Walter H. Gaither.

Q. That is the only instance that you know of.

A. I was told by several Senators that the administration in several—

Q. We would a good deal rather you would name the Senators.

A. Well, I couldn't do that without violating the confidence of these men.

Q. Then if you don't think it fair you have a perfect right to withdraw the statement.

A. I would rather withdraw it because I could not answer it without violating a confidence.

Q. Well, that's all right. We will just withdraw it.

WHEREUPON, the Committee announced a recess until eight o'clock.

JACOB MATHAY, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Where do you live?

A. 1131 South 51st street, Philadelphia.

Q. Your business?

A. Attorney at law.

Q. Where is your office?

A. 417 Bulletin, Philadelphia.

Q. You have been here through the session some?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Interested in what bill?

A. The so-called Philadelphia Housing bill; House bill 1142.

Q. Were you for or against it?

A. For it.

Q. What is the number of the bill?

A. 1142.

Q. What did you do on behalf of your bill?

A. I represent the Philadelphia Housing Commission; it is a charitable commission; and they have been trying to better conditions in Philadelphia, and since 1911 and 1912 they have drafted a code which tends to codify laws, and it has been our intention to pass a bill through to take care of this condition in Philadelphia. The subject is very large, and requires some forty pages, and they require some explanation, and that is why I am here.

Q. Are you paid for your work?

A. Paid for my expenses here at Harrisburg.

Q. Any compensation for your work as counsel?

A. Very small compensation.

Q. What have you done in the interest of the bill?

A. I have appeared before committees of the House and subcommittees. I have explained the bill to members and some few members have been asked to support the bill, some Philadelphia members. Outside of that, that is all I have done.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. You have never used any improper methods?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or seen others use improper methods?

A. No, sir.

HENRY GRANSBACK, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. What do you know, if anything, of the existence of a lobby working in the Capitol during this session of the Legislature?

A. I have never been approached by any one. The only thing is, I have received a lot of letters as we all have. I have never been approached by any one.

PORTER F. COPE, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Where do you live?

A. 4806 Chester avenue, Philadelphia.

Q. Your business or profession?

A. I have none.

Q. Have you been in Harrisburg during the present session of the Legislature in the interest of any legislation?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What legislation?

A. I am interested in the legislation affecting compulsory vaccination, medical freedom generally.

Q. For it or against it?

A. In favor of medical freedom, and opposed to compulsory vaccination.

Q. What have you done?

A. Incidentally I may say that I have been interested in several other measures in the way of writing a few letters to the members in behalf of them. On the 17th of March I first came to Harrisburg during the present session, and drew up or assisted in drawing up several bills, assisted or assisted in securing or secured members to introduce bills; subsequently appeared before the committee to which the bills were referred, and since then I have been coming to Harrisburg in furtherance of these measures. I may say that I am the secretary of the Anti-Vaccination League of America; secretary of the Anti-Vaccination League of Pennsylvania; and a member of the Advisory Board of the National League for Medical Freedom, and editor of the Medical Freedom News; an honorary Vice-President of the International Anti-Vaccination League, and connected with a great number of organizations in this country and in Europe that are working along those lines.

Q. Have you been paid for your work in Harrisburg in opposition or in furtherance of the legislation you have been interested in?

A. No, sir. The Anti-Vaccination organization in which I am connected, have no salaried officers, but we have an arrangement by which any expenses to which I am subjected, or any money that I should need personally in order to give my entire time to the movement at any time, is forthcoming if required.

Q. At the hands of the association?

A. No. The association has no salaried officers whatever.

Q. Who pays your expenses?

A. The expenses are paid largely by the association but if there is any—if my own individual means is not sufficient to pay for giving my entire time to it, I can always go to others for assistance if necessary.

Q. Men that are outside of your association?

A. As a matter of fact the only person who ever contributes in that manner is the president of the association.

Q. What is his name?

A. John Pitcairn.

Q. Have you confined yourself in your advocacy or opposition to these measures, to methods that you would consider legitimate?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You have endeavored to pursuade simply, have you?

A. Hardly even to pursuade. My activity principally lies along the line of explaining what a bill proposes to do so that its meaning can be clear to a member, and if asked any questions in regard to the subject-matter to answer those questions and give information. In that connection I have personally spoken to six members of the Senate and forty members of the House, and can recall very clearly the circumstances under which I met them. The persons through whom I met them, the purport of the conversations, the places where the conversations were held, and how long the conversations lasted. The conversations usually lasted about half a minute to three or four minutes sometimes; in a few instances they might have lasted five or ten minutes. In addition to that I have sent written or printed communications to all the members of the Legislature, or nearly all. I have requested about fifteen thousand people throughout the State to communicate with members of the Legislature to advise them as to the sentiment in their locality in regard to these measures.

FRANK FEENEY, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Where do you live?

A. Philadelphia.

Q. What is your business or profession?

A. Labor Union organizer.

Q. Connected with what?

A. International Union Elevator Contractors. I am a delegate to the Central Labor Union.

Q. Is that affiliated with the Pennsylvania Labor Union?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Of which Mr. Maurer is the head?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you been here during the session in the interest of any legislation?

A. I have been here in the interest of labor legislation.

Q. Workingmen's Compensation act?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Child labor bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Labor bills?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mining bills?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What have you done in your support of those bills, how have you worked?

A. Simply spoken to members of the House and members of the Senate; asking their support of measures that were before the House or Senate, when they were there. Tried to explain the merits of them.

Q. Were you satisfied with those bills as a labor man, the way they passed the House?

A. No, sir.

Q. You thought they should be amended?

A. I think the bill as drawn by the Commission, the compensation act is the one that should be passed.

Q. What have you done in the Senate to procure the passage of that bill, as it passed the House?

A. Nothing only to speak to several of the Senators asking their support.

Q. To what Senators have you spoken?

A. Senator Sheatz, Senator Farley, Senator Kline of Allegheny, Senator Nulty, Senator Vare, Senator McNichol.

Q. Did you receive any assurance that the bill would receive their support?

A. When I spoke to them they said the bill was all right, and they would vote for it.

Q. Have you been in touch with the members of the conference committee to which that bill was referred?

A. I have met them.

Q. Have you talked to Senator Crow about it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you talked to senator Crow about it?

A. I have.

Q. What did you say to him?

A. I complained about his attitude on the workingmen's compensation.

Q. What did he say?

A. He did not agree that I was right.

Q. What are the other bills, if there are any, in which you have been interested?

A. Well.—

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. What other Senators expressed themselves as being against the bill?

A. None of the other Senators that I spoke to.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Senator Crow was the only man that indicated that he was opposed to the bill?

A. Yes, sir. He did that after having passed it on the floor. I did not speak to him until after they had amended the bill.

Q. How much of your time have you been spending in Harrisburg?

A. I have been here about—

Q. Since the first of the year?

A. I have been here about from two to four days a week for the past twelve weeks, previous to that there was someone here substituting me, appointed by the Central Labor Union, and when none of the regular appointees can appear, they send someone else in their place.

Q. Are you paid for your work?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Salary and expenses?

A. Yes, sir; salary and expenses.

BY MR. CALYCOMB:

Q. Of course you have seen no one in opposition to this bill do anything illegal?

A. No, sir.

Q. You do not consider the opposition along illegal lines?

A. No. sir, I do not consider it along illegal lines.

J. DENNEY O'NEIL, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. You live in McKeesport?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You are one of the County Commissioners of Allegheny county?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. President of what association?

A. Retail Merchants' Association of Pennsylvania.

Q. I believe you were down here during the session several times in the interest of or against certain legislation?

A. My first trip was against legislation affecting the county and then for the benefit of the county and I was here on the mercantile repealer, and I am here on legislation yet. I suppose I have been here on fifteen or eighteen bills.

Q. Will you explain to the Committee the nature of the work you have done?

A. I usually had some particular men looking after the legislation. I talked to them particularly on the county bills.

Q. You went to the sponsor of the bill?

A. Yes, sir; my work was to try and get them out of the committees. We had several bills amended and several defeated that would have cost our county a good deal of money if we had not had somebody here to look after them.

Q. I believe the Retail Merchants' Association were in favor of the repeal of the mercantile law?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know of any money that was raised?

A. Two or three hundred dollars that was all spent in sending telegrams and letters.

Q. There was nobody paid to be here in advocating the bill?

A. No, sir.

BY. MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Was anybody paid expenses for coming down?

A. When the executive came here, this man on the executive committee got their mileage and expenses. I did not get anything myself.

Q. You paid your own expenses?

A. Yes, sir, when I was for and against on all legislation.

Q. You never saw in your movements around the Capitol anything that caused you to suspect that there was any money used in opposition to that bill?

A. No, sir; I never did. In my experience of eighteen or twenty years I have never seen as high grade men in the House and Senate, and as little suspicious actions.

CHARLES L. CHUTE, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Where do you live?

A. Philadelphia.

Q. How do you spell your name?

A. C-h-u-t-e.

Q. What is your business or profession?

A. Secretary of the Child Labor Association.

Q. Have you been in Harrisburg during the session, in the interest of any bill?

A. I have.

Q. The child labor bill, I suppose?

A. Chiefly, yes, sir.

Q. What have you done in your support of that bill?

A. I have talked with a good many of the members of the legislature, and written letters.

Q. Appeared before the committee?

A. Appeared before the committee twice.

Q. Do you believe the House passed the bill in a condition satisfactory to the organization which you represent?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What can you tell us as to the character of the Senate amendments and their effect upon the bill?

A. They are very damaging, very unfavorable to the success of the bill, contrary to its spirit, and removing some of the best provisions of the bill.

Q. Can you enlighten the committee as to the nature of the influences which has inserted these amendments in the Senate?

A. Yes. I think they have been what I call special interests, that is manufacturing interests, employing interests, various interests that would consider themselves financially affected by the various provisions of the bill that caused the insertion of those amendments.

Q. Do you know of any illegal or improper methods used either to pass the bill in the House, or to insert the amendments in the Senate?

A. No, no illegal methods, nothing illegal; no.

Q. Any improper methods?

A. Not directly improper.

BY. MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. What do you mean by that?

A. Only from a point of view of public policy.

Q. In other words, mistakes?

A. Not so much on the part of the lobbyist, or so-called lobbyist, as on the part of the organization of the Senate.

Q. What do you mean by the organization of the Senate? Do you mean Senators opposed to it?

A. Committee organization. I believe the handling of the child labor bill in the committee is not according to public policy; the handling of the bill has not been through fair committee hearings, but arrangements of two or three Senators who had the bill in charge.

Q. Who are those Senators?

A. Chairman of the Judiciary Special Committee.

Q. Do you know the name?

A. Senator Snyder.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Have you been at any of these hearings?

A. No, sir.

BY. MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Senator Snyder and what other Senators? You said two or three.

A. He is the only Senator that I have had any dealings with.

Q. You said you thought the actions of two or three Senators were not as I would put it, perfectly fair. Is that what you meant, or did you not mean that? I got that impression.

A. No, I would not say that they were unfair; no, sir.

Q. I do not remember the exact wording.

A. Do you mean the bill—

Q. Is it your contention that the bill was not treated fairly?

A. Well—

Q. Because if there has been some unfairness we want to know it.

A. I do not think there has been any unfairness on the part of any Senators personally, but the system of handling the bill I think has been unfair, unfair to the people of the State.

Q. What do you mean by the system of handling bills?

A. As far as I know there has not been any meeting of the Judiciary Special Committee to consider the amendments inserted in the child labor bill.

Q. Are you in a position to know whether there have?

A. I am in a pretty good position.

Q. Will you state there have been no meetings of this committee?

A. I will simply state as far as I know there have not been. I do not know of any meetings aside from the public hearing, and I have been informed there was no regular meetings of the committee to consider the amendments to be put in the bill.

Q. Has the bill not been amended in the Senate?

A. Amended twice in the Senate.

Q. It was brought out on the floor and then recommitted?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. It has passed third reading?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then the Senate, up to the present time, as it is now up on final passage?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Yet in that time you think the bill has not been considered in the committee?

A. Yes, sir; I think that is true.

Q. You won't say that is a fact, will you?

A. As far as I know.

Q. You are not in a position to know, are you, where you can say that. We simply want to try out the facts. The answer ought to follow to show whether you were in a position.

A. I was told that.

Q. Who told you?

A. I do not remember.

Q. How long since you were told?

A. Within the last week.

Q. It was not earlier than during last week when that was told you; is that your statement?

A. It was not later than last week.

Q. And not further back than last week. Do you remember where this occurred, to which you refer?

A. No, I do not remember that.

Q. Do you remember whether it occurred on Capitol Hill, or in some other part of Harrisburg?

A. Occurred here on Capitol Hill.

Q. Do you think it occurred in the Senate?

A. Yes, for one place.

Q. And where else, evidently it occurred somewhere else from your answer.

A. It is common report. I think it appeared in the newspapers.

Q. It is a rumor?

A. It is a common report. In the newspapers.

Q. You have been here around the Capitol how long?

A. Off and on since the second week in January.

Q. Kept fairly well in touch with the bills, through both the House and Senate?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. During all of that time, have you seen any methods which you would consider illegitimate, used to oppose a bill by anybody?

A. No, sir; I have not.

Q. None whatever?

A. No, sir; none whatever.

D. P. REESE, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. What interests do you represent here?

A. I am the attorney for all the steam railroads in this State.

Q. All the steam railroads in the State?

A. Yes, with two exceptions.

Q. Are you interested in any other matter?

A. I represent some anthracite coal companies.

Q. Please tell the Committee what your activities consisted of.

A. First, I go over all bills that are introduced, daily, I picked out the bills that I think affect the railroad interests.

Q. Or this other interest?

A. Or the coal interest. Then I send copies of these bills to the attorneys, or to the general counsel of all the railroads, and of the coal companies that I represent, and if they consider that my judgment is correct in the matter, that the bill is against their interests, they request me to make an appointment with the chairman of the committee before whom the bill is sent, asking for a public hearing, and when the time is fixed I then make a written report of the chairman setting forth that such and such a bill introduced by so and so, is before his committee, and that certain people would like to be heard in opposition to the bill, and when he fixes the time I then notify the general counsel of all the railroads, and they either come on in person or send some substitute to present their arguments before the committee, and I do the same in the House as I do in the Senate, and if the bill happens to pass in both the House and the Senate, I send, or I arrange for hearings before the Governor, so that they may appear and oppose the various measures which they think are inimical to them. In other words, if the chairman—upon your appeal for a hearing you try as far as possible to see that both sides can appear at the same time. The representatives of the railroad trainmen, conductors and enginemen, some of them are here now; they generally appear before the committee, at the same time, and they present their arguments and we present ours.

Q. Do you consider it one of your duties to also talk over these matters with members of the House and the Senate?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How do you approach a member of the House, or a member of the Senate?

A. I generally have a copy of the bill, and I ask them if they have read the bill, and if they have, I present my arguments, either for or against the bill, whichever side I might be on. If I am against the bill, I tell them that it is bad legislation, and that it should not be enacted into a law.

Q. You give your argument?

A. Yes, sir, either for or against the bill.

Q. Whichever side you happen to take?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you ever gone so far as to make any threat?

A. Under no circumstances.

Q. To a member when he did not agree with you?

A. No, sir. I have been here since 1907, and I think all of the members of the House—and I have sometimes talked to the chairman of their committee about—we did not like to have it by the railroads because we had so many Italians that would occasionally work maybe a week, and it seemed to us a hardship that we would have to identify those employes for taxation purposes, and I suggested to Mr. Baldwin, there was an act now on the statute books relating to the anthracite coal fields whereby the employes did count for all those, and I think Mr. Baldwin wanted to apply it to some town in Beaver, where they had foreigners, and it was impossible to get taxes from them. I think we talked it over, and he was to look it up and see if it could not apply to these industries wherein these foreigners were engaged.

Q. You represented these corporations in both the House and Senate?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And those conversations occurred along this line, and occurred with Senators and members of the House?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you any associates here who work with you on this?

A. No, sir, I am the only man on the Hill representing the steam railroads. The same plan that we have here where all the steam railroads have gotten together and have general counsel from every railroad company, present their arguments pro and con, and has been adopted by the Missouri Legislature, and approved by Governor Hadley as a fair way to do business, so that there is no questioning about the methods used. It is smiply a campaign of education.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Are you paid for your work?

A. Yes, sir, I get an annual salary, which is neither increased nor diminished by legislative work.

Q. When you are not here, you are engaged elsewhere?

A. Yes, sir. The only thing I have been interested in this session was to have an early adjournment.

Q. There is no effect on your wages?

A. No, sir.

Q. You represent all the steam railroads in the State of Pennsylvania?

A. Yes, sir, with the exception of the P. and L. E. and the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh. Those I do not represent. I represent all the others, through the general counsel.

Q. Have you been interested in the Workingmen's Compensation bill?

A. No, sir. When the bill was first introduced, I made a request to the chairman of the Judiciary General Committee for a hearing, and I was afterwards informed to withdraw the request.

Q. You had no opposition to the bill as it passed the House?

A. I was requested to withdraw the request, and I did so. I have not felt interested in the matter one way or another.

Q. Were your clients in favor of or opposed to the public utilities bill?

A. I cannot say they were opposed to it. I think they rather conceded that a bill of that kind was to pass, and all they wanted to do was to get what they called a fair bill and they have gone along with that idea in view.

Q. They are not opposed to the bill in the shape in which it passed the House?

A. That I cannot tell you.

Q. You have not been advised?

A. No, sir, I have not been advised. I arranged for hearings before the House Committee, and I arranged for hearings before the Senate committee, but when it came to the hearings the general counsel of the roads came here and presented their own arguments pro and con on the various tonics of the bill.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Has it not become a practice throughout the States on the part of the steam railways to handle all of their legislation, or all of their legislative affairs along the lines that you have described?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. There is no longer a practice of trying to carry favors by granting favors?

A. No, sir.

Q. That has been since when, in Pennsylvania?

A. Since 1906. I have been here since 1907. I was a member in 1905 and 1906 in this House.

Q. And that period from 1906 to the present time, have you any knowledge of any action on the part of steam railroads, or their agents, whether lobbyists or attorneys tried to control or influence legislation by granting favors?

A. No, sir. I do not think there has been a pass issued to anybody but an employe since 1906.

Q. And you are so instructed by your employers, that you are not to proceed along that line in any way?

A. That is entirely out of the question. If I did, anything of that kind, I would lose my position.

NEIL BONNER, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Where do you live?

A. Philadelphia.

Q. What is your business?

A. Liquor dealer. Retail liquor dealer.

Q. Do you have a hotel?

A. We have a saloon license, retail liquor license. In Philadelphia it is not necessary to have the hotel connected.

Q. Are you an officer of any liquor dealers' association?

A. President of the Pennsylvania Federation of Liquor Dealers.

Q. How extensive is that organization?

A. At the last convention held in January, in South Bethlehem, there were thirty-seven counties accounted for as affiliated.

Q. How many members?

A. Three to five thousand at that time.

Q. Confined to retail liquor dealers?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. As president of this association, have you been in Harrisburg during the present session of the Legislature, either opposing or advocating legislation?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How much of your time have you spent here?

A. I have endeavored to arrange to get here each Monday night, and usually leave here on Tuesday; sometimes I remained until Wednesday.

Q. Every week?

A. Every week, and have missed two or three, perhaps four weeks.

Q. What bills have you been interested in?

A. In every bill that directly or indirectly affected my business.

Q. You were interested in behalf of the Kline bill, I presume?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you interested in the Kauffman growler and kettle bill?

A. Very deeply.

Q. Did you take any part in advocating the passage of the Midland repeal in Beaver county?

A. Somewhat, but did not know the members sufficient at that time to have any influence.

Q. That is, members of the House?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you first come down here?

A. I presume about the middle of February. I started regularly about the middle of March.

Q. Are you paid a salary?

A. By the year, an annual salary.

Q. Does the amount of salary depend upon your activities on legislation?

A. No, sir; on the contrary, it costs me largely to attend to my duties here.

Q. You are receiving nothing but the salary?

A. Nothing but expenses, hotel and railroad.

Q. What legislation have you opposed?

A. The Rockwell bill.

Q. Local option bill?

A. Yes, sir; the Steele amendment, State-wide, and have favored the elimination of free lunch.

Q. That was what bill?

A. The Kauffman bill, and was too late, although very desirous of favoring the Dunn bill preventing beer peddling.

Q. That was the last bill?

A. The last bill, some three or four weeks ago.

Q. The Ulrich bill?

A. The Ulrich bill; I do not recall it.

Q. The Dunn bill was the anti-treating bill. You were not in favor of that?

A. We were not.

Q. What was the reason for opposing the anti-treating bill?

A. From my experience as a retail liquor dealer, I have found it is the social feature of life, particularly applicable to the classes that I have been accustomed to dealing with, the poorer classes; they find a social feature in life in treating one another.

Q. Were you in favor of the Kline bill?

A. I was in favor of the Kline bill.

Q. Explain the method you used in advocating or opposing those bills.

A. I spoke more from the practical standpoint of the members of being a dealer directly interested in the business, and if they had not a thorough knowledge of the bill, I endeavored to enlighten them.

Q. What members of the House did you speak to regarding the liquor legislation?

A. Anyone I could come in contact with, that I knew.

Q. What portion of the members of the House did you become acquainted with?

A. Perhaps forty or fifty, what I might term a speaking acquaintance.

Q. Did you ever send down for those members to come back of the rail to talk to them?

A. To my knowledge only one occasion, to representative Kauffman, the bill known as the free lunch and kettle bill. That is the only one that I recall.

Q. Has any other officer of your organization been here or has your association any other gentlemen or representative than yourself who has been on the ground during the session?

A. I have perfected a system since the first visit I made to Harrisburg to call into conference from time to time when the necessity demanded one, two, or more dealers from each county association affiliated with us, asking him to come to Harrisburg to enlist the support or at least to enlighten the representative from their respective counties, from a personal acquaintance point of view, on the merits or demerits of a bill.

Q. Who is your secretary?

A. Howard M. Bright.

Q. Who is George M. Boyd?

A. State counsel.

Q. Is he here?

A. When other duties do not call us away, when we do not have duties in Perry county, Altoona, he is usually accompanying me on my travels.

Q. Is he here in this room?

A. Yes; he is in the room.

Q. What do you know about room 249?

A. I have visited there I judge not over about four times. I have accompanied Mr. Mason on each occasion; never there alone.

Q. Did you learn from him about the existence of the room?

A. To the best of my recollection; I invited him over to have a drink at the National Hotel, and Mr. Mason, I believe, informed that he had some matters to look after, but he thought he could secure a drink for me and he would not have to leave the building, so we went to what is known as 249. I never knew the number before today.

Q. How did you get in?

A. Mr. Mason rapped at the door for admission.

Q. Did he hold his hand up at the door?

A. I guess so. I did not know until I saw it described in the paper.

Q. Who did you find inside, if anyone?

A. I have been trying to think, since I heard you ask others. I cannot recall any one except Mr. Keefe, Mr. Boyd, Mr. Mason and myself.

Q. How about the porter?

A. The colored man was there.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. What days in the week was it?

A. Monday night, or perhaps Tuesday afternoon. I do not recall being here excepting once on Wednesday.

Q. What was said when you went there?

A. What are you going to have.

Q. Who said that?

A. Mr. Mason.

Q. You all told him your preference?

A. No, the waiter simply heard our call, and served us with what we wanted.

Q. Where did he get the liquor?

A. Out of a little cabinet. I did not pay that much attention to it at the time. Mr. Kephart, I met him once and he extended me an invitation to come back, but I never took advantage of it excepting when Mr. Mason would ask us over.

Q. Was there beer there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Whiskey?

A. I have sampled every kind of stuff there.

Q. Brandy?

A. I never saw it.

Q. What were the drinks?

A. Whiskey, beer and Apollianris water.

Q. Poland water?

A. I never handle that stuff. I could not say.

Q. Do you consider this room was used for legislation?

A. I never heard legislation discussed while in that room.

GEORGE W. BOYD, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. You live in Pittsburgh?

A. That was formerly my home.

Q. You are an organizer for the retail liquor dealers in the State of Pennsylvania?

A. Organizer State Federation of Retail Liquor Dealers, in counties where there are probably one or two wholesalers they can have admittance to the organization. Ninety-five per cent. of the dealers are retail liquor dealers.

Q. What are your duties?

A. To organize the trade from one end of the State to the other, local by local, if it is a large county.

Q. Have you been in Harrisburg either for or against any legislation during the present session?

A. I have.

Q. How much of the time have you been here?

A. I first came here I presume on the 6th day of January and was here two days and left, and then went to South Bethlehem to make arrangements for the convention. After the convention was over in February I came back to Harrisburg the following Monday after the first Monday, I believe, in February.

Q. How many days of the week as a rule have you been in Harrisburg?

A. Principally anywhere from one to four days a week.

Q. Interested, I suppose, in the passage of the Kline bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the Kauffman growler bill?

A. Very much so.

Q. The Midland repealer?

A I was somewhat interested in that; yes, sir.

Q. How did you happen to be interested in that?

A. I knew the territory very well, and knew the people of that territory wanted a license there.

Q. Did the retail liquor dealers of Beaver county appeal to you in the matter?

A. Not directly; some of them had.

Q. Who was it that appealed to you, the names of them.

A. I cannot recall exactly. I may know every dealer in the county by face, but not by name.

Q. Were you here the night the bill came up?

A. I was in the Senate that night, and came into the House just about the time they were taking a vote on it.

Q. You were interested, of course, against the local option bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the Steele prohibitory amendment?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the Ulrich anti-peddling bill?

A. The bill which prohibited the bottler or brewer from getting his empties back. Of course I did not do much in regard to the bill, but at the same time I did not think it proper to go through, but the last bill that went through I was in favor of it.

Q. You were in favor of it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you for or against the Dunn anti-treat bill?

A. I was against it.

Q. Were you for or against the Swift bill, regarding closing?

A. Closing hours?

Q. Amended to cover the opening of both retail and wholesale establishments on Christmas, Thanksgiving and Memorial day.

A. I was opposed to that.

Q. Then your association was opposed to it?

A. I was personally opposed to it.

Q. What members of the house did you visit or consult with, with reference to these various bills?

A. I have consulted with quite a few, I suppose, at times.

Q. Can you name any?

A. I spoke to Mr. Kauffman about the bill.

Q. About his bill?

A. About the closing holiday bill, yes, sir.

Q. What is your acquaintance with the members of the House? Is it considerable?

A. I do not know as I can say it is. I know quite a few members of the House and quite a few I know by sight, not name, but have heard their names, probably have been introduced to them and probably have asked for their names, but I know nothing of them outside of being members of the Legislature.

Q. Do you know anything about room 249?

A. I have been there; yes, sir.

Q. When were you there first?

A. I believe it was around about March.

Q. Any one with you?

A. Yes, sir; there has been several at times.

Q. Who were they? Who was with you the first time you were there, if you recall?

A. The first time I was there I believe was with Mr. Mason and Mr. Bonner. I felt like having a drink one evening, and went there and got it.

Q. Who invited you, Mr. Bonner or Mr. Mason?

A. I approached the subject myself. I was rather dry and I said I did not care much about the water, and suggested that we take a walk out of the Capitol and get a drink, and we started out and finally landed at this room they call 249.

Q. Mr. Bonner and Mr. Mason were with you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How did you gain admission?

A. That I cannot say; the door opened and I was probably about five feet away. I slid up to the door and the door was open and I walked in.

Q. Who was there?

A. I saw no one but the colored fellow.

Q. The colored attendant?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. What day of the week, if you remember?

A. I cannot recall, but it was probably Tuesday or Wednesday.

Q. Did the colored fellow serve you with what you desired?

A. No; he did not serve me. I did not wait. As soon as I saw it, I went over and took a cork puller out of my pocket and opened it.

Q. A bottle of beer?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was the beer kept?

A. In a bucket.

Q. Was there a cabinet with various kinds of liquor in the room?

A. I did not notice that. I saw a bottle of whiskey there once I was there, and saw a bottle of whiskey on a table there.

Q. Are you paid for your work?

A. I have a yearly salary.

Q. Is it affected in any way by your legislative activities?

A. None at all. I get railroad expenses, and hotel and traveling expenses. Outside of that it is out of my own pocket.

Q. Do those expenses include any amount of drinks which you may buy?

A. No, sir; I am not allowed over two dollars and a half per day for hotel expenses and railroad fare.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. You cannot treat many of your friends on that allowance?

A. Not on those expenses. If I do any treating, it comes out of my own pocket.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Did you ever go to that room with the thought that it was headquarters to talk over or lobby for legislation?

A. I have never seen any person in there or heard any person in there express themselves with regard to any bill or legislation, either good or bad, one way or the other. Any time I was there I went to get a drink, and think everybody else in there went for the same purpose.

Q. Mr. Kephart, of course, was there to attend to his business sometimes?

A. I presume he did.

Q. Do you mean that every one that went there went for a drink?

A. No, sir; what I mean is, people like myself, that had nothing else there, went for a drink. They did not go to discuss business.

Q. You never during your activities around the Capitol used any other than perfectly legitimate means to try and get members to vote for bills that were to your interest?

A. No, sir, never.

Q. Never heard of anyone doing so?

A. No, sir; no illegitimate means for supporting any bill in this House.

Adjourned until Tuesday, June 24, 1913 at 10 A. M.

E. E. JONES, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, have you been approached by anyone who sought to improperly influence your vote in the Legislature?

A. No, sir.

Q. Has any department or any officer, directly or indirectly sought to unduly influence your vote on any legislation pending before this session?

A. Not in any degree.

SAMUEL B. SCOTT, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence you in an improper way on any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. During the four terms which I have been a member, nothing of that kind has ever happened.

Q. Has any department of the State government, or any employe or officer thereof, sought to coerce, intimidate or influence your vote on any legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or make any threats that you know of?

A. No, sir.

ADAM C. SCHAEFFER, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

Q. Since you were elected to this Legislature, have you been approached by anyone who has sought to influence you in an improper way on any legislation pending before this session?

A. No, sir.

Q. Has any department of the State Government, or any employe or officer thereof, sought to coerce, intimidate or influence your vote on any legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. By threat or otherwise?

A. No, sir.

D. W. THOMAS, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence you in an improper way on any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. No, sir.

Q. Has any department of the State Government, or any employe or officer thereof, sought to coerce, intimidate or influence your vote on any legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. By threat or otherwise?

A. No, sir.

F. E. GEISER, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence you in an improper way on any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. No, sir.

Q. Has any department of the State Government, or any employe or officer thereof, sought to coerce, intimidate or influence your vote on any legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. By threat or otherwise?

A. No, sir.

JOHN S. N. EWING, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence you in an improper way on any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. No, sir.

Q. Has any department of the State Government, or any employe or officer thereof, sought to coerce, intimidate or influence your vote on any legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. By threat or otherwise?

A. No, sir.

WARREN MILLER, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since your election to the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence you in an improper way on any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. I have been approached by a number of people on important legislation.

Q. I mean in an improper way.

A. I think not; no, sir.

Q. Has any department of the State Government, or any employe or officer thereof, sought to coerce, intimidate or influence your vote on any legislation?

A. I have been requested by members of the departments to vote certain ways, but never had any threat behind it.

Q. No hint if you did not accede to that request something would happen?

A. No. There was one matter that I do not know whether you would call it improper or not, one of these lobbyists representing a coal company who came to me and said, how is it you are so strong for these liability laws; he says, you represent Allentown, don't you, and I said yes; he said, that is not a labor community; he said, I was a member of the Legislature at one time; he said, I came here with the idea you seem to have, but I soon found that it paid to be on the side of the corporation; he said, it seems to me it would be better for you if you favored the railroads or large corporations, because they are the people who can really do you good.

Q. Do you know the name of the lobbyist?

A. Yes, it was a lobbyist.

Q. Give his name.

A. He said there is one bill we are interested in, that is the tax on coal; he said, I believe you could make a good speech on that; you study that bill and see if you cannot do something for the corporations, and I said no more to him, but said I would read the bill. This man, together with others, it seems to me had been unduly active on the floor of the house. I know they opposed bill 1483, a little bill which I had there. I know that the very night that bill was on the floor of the House, these men were on the floor, on the side lines, and whether they asked members at that particular time to oppose the bill, I cannot say, but I know on the floor of the House they had been lobbying against the bill for weeks, and they were on the floor that night, and I know the same crowd of gentlemen lobbied the House, perhaps not illegally, but took men out to lunch, and worked very strong against the bill, and seemed to me to be very active on the floor of the House.

Q. Were they within the rail?

A. They were, at these times.

Q. In violation of the rules of the House?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was the name of the gentleman with whom you had this conversation?

A. I am not sure, but I think his name is Reese.

Q. Have you seen him frequently during the session?

A. Yes, he is here daily. I do not know his first name.

C. C. GOSS, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence you in an improper way on any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. I have during the session, that is the fore part of the session, I received several threatening letters, what they would do to me if I did not vote for local option, and this and that, and also had a conversation with Mr. Chalfont here, the anti-saloon league lobbyist.

Q. State what the conversation was.

A. I took him to task about a personal attack he made on me. He said this was a political game with him and he was going to play it, and he would do all he could to keep me from coming back if I did not vote the way they wanted, they would get every member from Fayette county.

Q. He was working for the anti-saloon league?

A. Yes, sir. I also received a very threatening letter from one of the anti-saloon league from home, which said—

Q. Have you that letter with you?

A. No, I have not, but I can get it.

Q. We would like to have it.

A. Yes, sir; I can get it.

Q. What was in the letter?

A. I have not the letter here; it is at my room.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. State as near as you can what was in it.

MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

The letter will speak for itself.

A. I have it some place; I think I can get it.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. State what you know as far as you remember.

A. It insinuated that if I did not vote for local option I was receiving money from the liquor interests. I wish to state I have not received anything. This letter said, we are depending on you to do your duty, and if you do not do it—there is only one way for you to vote, and if you do not vote that way, you are a hypocrite. Beware of the filthy lucre of the liquor interests; as we read it, what shall a man profit if he gain the whole world and loses his soul. We are depending on you to do your duty and vote right. I had several of those letters and that is the most drastic which I got. I wish to state that I have had no liquor lobbyist to approach me, or make any proposition whatever. The most lobbying done to me was by the overzealous Mr. Chalfont. He even went to my own home and tried to get me before I came down here, and gave me a lot of threatening stuff.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. You consider what he said to you was a threat?

A. Yes, he simply said he was going to keep me from coming back, and we will keep every one of you fellows from coming back.

Q. Were you pledged in any way?

A. No, sir; my promise was to represent the people to the best of my ability if I was elected, and I have.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Do you know anything about room 249?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What do you know about it?

A. I was over there once or twice. I guess maybe two or three times.

Q. What did you see there?

A. I seen they had some drinks there. I got a bottle of beer there once, and I got a bottle of mineral water one morning.

Q. How many times do you think you were there?

A. Two or three times; something like that. That has been the latter part of the session.

Q. With whom did you go?

A. Four or five of us together. I cannot recall.

Q. How did you get in there first, when you went?

A. Whoever I went with, I cannot recall, they put their hand up and the sign left us in.

Q. The high-handed signal?

A. Yes, sir, the black hand.

Q. There has been reference made here to some drinking that was done in the cloak room, I believe; state what celebration that was.

A. No celebration at all. I had some drink there. Mr. Chalfont was the man said that about the celebration. About a new son; which is not true. He even went so far as to bring in my legislative record in a saloon in Ohio. I believe I have a part of a quart in my locker now. If I feel as if I want a drink, I will take it, and I bought it myself too. I make no bones about it.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. You do not consider that when a man is elected as a member of the Legislature that it is wrong for him to take a drink of beverage, if he wants to, do you?

A. I did not see anything in our platform in regards to that.

Q. Wasn't that in the Progressive platform?

A. I wasn't a Progressive. I am a Democrat. I have voted for most Progressive measures since I have been in the House.

Q. Do you not think all measures that you voted for were Progressive?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Then you are a Progressive?

A. At heart, I am, yes, sir.

J. A. DUNN, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who sought to in any way influence your vote on any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. No, sir, I have not.

Q. Has any department of the State Government, or any employe or officer thereof, sought to coerce, intimidate or influence your vote on any legislation?

A. No, sir; not to my knowledge. I received some letters asking me to vote for certain legislation; quite a few of them.

Q. What do you know about room 249?

A. What is that?

Q. Room 249.

A. I do not know anything about it. I do not drink.

C. A. SHAFFER, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence you in an improper way on any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. I have not in any improper way at all.

Q. Has any department of the State Government, or any employe or officer thereof, sought to coerce, intimidate or influence your vote on any legislation?

A. I have not been approached by anyone directly or indirectly in an improper way.

Q. Has any department of the State Government stated that if you did not obey their request you would get in wrong?

A. No person either government or employe or any members of the House has made any such statement to me.

W. H. SEMMONS, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence you in an improper way on any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. No, sir.

Q. Has any department of the State Government, or any employe or officer thereof, sought to coerce, intimidate or influence your vote on any legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. By threat or otherwise?

Q. Do you know anything about the nature of this room 249?

A. No, sir; I do not know where it is.

J. S. ZIMMERMAN, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence you in an improper way on any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. No, sir, I have not.

Q. Has any department of the State Government, or any employe or officer thereof, sought to coerce, intimidate or influence your vote on any legislation?

A. Only the clerk in the Department of Mines and Mining. He asked me if I woud support the measure to give them an increase in their pay. Nothing wrong about it.

Q. The request was made in a perfectly legitimate way?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know anything about a room or rooms in the State Capitol in which food or drink, either or both, have been served to members of the Legislature?

A. Only hearsay.

Q. You know nothing yourself about it?

A. No, sir.

F. J. HERMAN, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence you in an improper way on any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. I do not think so.

Q. Has anyone, in any way, either directly or indirectly, by threats of promises, or otherwise, sought to influence your course with respect to any pending legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know anything about any room or rooms in the Capitol, in which food or drink, either or both, have been served to members?

A. Only by hearsay.

R. L. ROBINSON, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, has anyone interviewed or attempted to influence you in any improper way as to your course with respect to legislation?

A. Not any.

Q. Do you know anything of the existence in the Capitol of a room or rooms in which food or drink, either or both, have been served to members?

A. I have never seen any.

C. CARSON, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, has anyone interviewed you, or attempted to influence you in any improper way with respect to your course as to legislation?

A. No, sir; I think not.

Q. Has anyone by threats or promises, directly or indirectly, attempted to coerce, or intimidate you with respect to your course as to legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know anything about the existence of a room or rooms in which food or drink, either or both have been served to members?

H. W. BODY, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, has anyone interviewed you, or attempted to influence you in anyway, any improper way, as to your course as to legislation?

A. I have been interviewed but I do not know whether they have tried to influence me.

Q. Was the interview made, or attempted to be made in any improper way?

A. No, I do not think so.

Q. Has anyone, by threats or promises, or otherwise, sought to intimidate or coerce you, with respect to legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know anything about the existence of a room or rooms in the Capitol, where food or drink, either or both, have been dispensed to members?

A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. Do you refer to room 249?

A. Yes, sir; I don't know whether that is the number of the room.

Q. On the House floor?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. On the Senate side of the building?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When were you there, or were you there?

A. I was there, but I cannot say when.

Q. About how often?

A. Three times, to the best of my knowledge.

Q. Anyone with you?

A. I always followed somebody.

Q. Who invited you there, if anyone?

A. The last time I was there I went with Mr. Sassaman.

Q. On his invitation?

A. Yes, sir; we had some company from Reading, and I went over there.

Q. How many were in the party?

A. It seems to me there was four or five.

Q. How did you gain admittance?

A. I followed. I did not get admitted.

Q. Did you observe how the person did get admittance?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How was it?

A. By the open hand.

Q. Put his hand on the door?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And rattled the door knob?

A. That I do not recall.

Q. Whatever the sign was, the door opened?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you found a colored porter there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who seemed to be in charge?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you saw liquor there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What variety?

A. Beer and liquor.

Q. Whiskey?

A. I do not think so except on the last occasion.

Q. Any table waters there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you see a cabinet there, on which there were kept liquors?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you have to ask to be served, or did the colored gentleman volunteer?

A. The bottle of beer I had was set before me.

Q. In other words, the person in charge seemed to know what you were there for?

A. I presume so; yes, sir.

Q. Were there any other persons in the room except the colored man when you entered?

A. I do not think so except on the last occasion.

Q. Did you see Mr. Kephart there?

A. I do not know the gentleman only the colored man.

Q. Did you learn who had stocked that room with liquors and who kept it up?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you remember what day of the week it was when you were there?

A. No, I do not. Tuesday or Wednesday, I presume.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Who paid for it?

A. I do not know that anybody paid for it. There was no money handled while we were there anyway.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. You did not expect to pay when you were invited there, did you?

A. No, sir; certainly not.

Q. You did not see Mr. Sassaman pay for it?

A. No, sir.

J. W. STONE, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has attempted in any way to improperly coerce, intimidate or influence you in any improper manner as to your course on any legislation?

A. Not by anybody.

Q. Has anybody by threats or promises sought to coerce or intimidate you with respect to any legislation?

A. Not in the least degree whatever.

Q. Do you know anything of any room or rooms in the Capitol where food or drink, either or both, have been served to the members?

A. Never heard of it until this investigation was started. I have never been there myself, and don't know where it is.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Did any person other than members of the House ever suggest or discuss the proposition of offering a resolution similar to the one which created this Commission?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who, and when?

A. There was a witness on the stand here yesterday.

Q. Dyght?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What occurred?

A. He spoke to me about two weeks ago. I should think it was; it was on Monday before the Tuesday that we were to discuss the Brumm investigation Committee's Report and he asked me if I would present a resolution before the House to investigate the charge of corruption.

Q. And lobbying?

A. And lobbying. I simply said to him that I had all I wanted upon my hands until I got rid of the Brumm matter, and then if I was satisfied with the truth of the allegations, I would take it up. That is all and the last of the conversation.

Q. Where were you at the time he approached you, and did he suggest it to you?

A. He suggested it to me.

Q. Where did it occur, do you recollect?

A. At the bar of the House, back.

Q. While the House was in session?

A. I think so. I believe so.

Q. Did he send for you?

A. I was passing by that way and stopped at the rail. I was going to talk to Mr. Claycomb and Mr. Glenn, I was on my way when I met him there.

Q. He was there talking to them?

A. No. He was standing at the rail before I reached Mr. Glenn's seat or Mr. Claycomb's.

Q. Was this conversation in a loud tone so that others could hear?

A. No; it was an ordinary private conversation.

Q. What you might say at side bar?

A. No; it was clear and above board.

Q. So that others could hear, was it?

A. Yes, they could have heard it.

Q. Did he at that time suggest that he had a knowledge of conditions existing that warranted a resolution of that character?

A. No; he said that if I would offer the resolution he would bring evidence to me that he thought would be sufficient that had been given to him.

Q. That there was a corrupt lobby?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. He did not state at that time what any of that evidence was?

A. No, he gave me nothing of that kind excepting that he did refer to some room where they were furnishing liquors, and lunches, and if I cared to be made conversant with that fact he would show me the room and I told him that I did not care to bother with that, for the reasons which I stated.

Q. Did he insinuate that it was headquarters for some sort of lobby or combine working in the interests of any measure?

A. I do not think he led me to understand that; he simply said he had information that such a room was maintained, where the Senate and House conferred, and where they held occasional committee conferences.

Q. Do you mean committee conferences or political conferences?

A. Committee conferences. I may not be right about that but that is what I gathered.

Q. Did he suggest that he had any information that would indicate the fact that these refreshments were obtainable in that room? Did he say anything along the line that they were probably furnished by some interest, and that that room was used to influence legislators?

A. He only said that he had information that those refreshments were furnished to the members of the House and Senate free of charge. Further than that we did not discuss the matter, because I said to him I did not want anything to do with it at that time.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Dyght suggested to you that you should introduce such resolution—is that it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. He did not offer you any resolution that he had prepared?

A. No, sir.

Q. Was that about the time of the beginning of the lobby inquiry at Washington, which has caused so much attention?

A. I think it was about that time.

Q. Did you say it was the week before?

A. Prior to the Brumm hearing before the House on the report of the Committee.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. That is prior to the Brumm hearings which you held?

A. Prior to the argument in the House.

Q. Upon the reports of the Committee?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You did not ask him at that time to state any specific instances to his knowledge?

A. No, sir.

Q. And he did not volunteer anything?

A. No, sir.

Q. That is in a specific way?

A. No, sir.

Q. In a general way, he did intimate that there was good and sufficient reasons to have an investigation?

A. In a general way he stated that he thought the lobbyist methods should be investigated, that it was in an improper way.

C. M. CAMPBELL, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence you in an improper way on any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. I have not.

Q. Has any one, whether connected with any of the State departments, or not, sought in anyway directly or indirectly to coerce, intimidate or influence your course in respect to any legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know anything of the existence in the Capitol of a room or rooms where food and drink, either or both, have been dispensed to members?

A. No, sir. I did not know there was such a room there.

H. W. BERGY, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence you in an improper way on any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. I have not.

Q. Has anyone, whether connected with any department of the State government, or not, or any employe or officer thereof, sought to coerce, intimidate or influence you in your course in respect to any legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know anything about the existence in the Capitol of a room or rooms where food and drink, either or both, have been dispensed to members?

A. No, sir.

JOHN M. RUNK, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence you in an improper way on any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. No, sir, I do not think so.

Q. Has anyone whether representing a department of the State government or not, attempted in anyway by threats or promise, to coerce, intimidate or unduly influence you in your course as to any matter pending in the general assembly?

A. I do not know whether it would mean intimidation; when the Hunters License bill was up, the party in charge of that wrote some pretty severe articles in my county paper, criticizing me before the vote was taken. We are good friends and I hope it did not mean anything.

Q. Who published those articles?

A. Dr. Kalbfus.

Q. Who is he?

A. Secretary of the Game Commission.

Q. Was it his paper?

A. No, sir; it was a Democratic newspaper in my county.

Q. Signed by him?

A. Yes, sir; I do not think he meant to harm me. It did not influence me.

Q. You have not these articles with you?

A. No, sir, I have not.

Q. What do you know, if anything about the existence in the Capitol of a room or rooms where food and drink, either or both, have been dispensed to members?

A. I have never heard of it until this investigation.

Q. What newspaper was that that you referred to?

A. Valley Spirit.

W. S. McDOWELL, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. You are a member of the bar?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. In Allegheny county?

A. Yes, sir, and Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

Q. Have you been down here in the interest of any legislation?

A. Interested in about five different bills.

Q. What bills?

A. Bills prepared by the Building Code Commission in Pittsburgh, and several bills whose provisions conflicted with the building laws of Pittsburgh.

Q. What did you do toward advocating or opposing these bills?

A. In regard to House Bill 1504, I suggested that it be referred back to the Committee.

Q. Did you talk to members about the bill?

A. One or two members and appeared before the Committee.

Q. On all of those bills, I suppose you interviewed the members?

A. As many as I knew.

Q. That is true of all the bills, I suppose, that is you interviewed all of the members that you knew?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And pressed your claims?

A. I explained those bills to them because I was the author of them, or several of them.

Q. Were you efforts confined to explaining the bills?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And asking them to support the bills?

A. Yes, sir, or opposing bills that were objectionable in regard to this one phase of the building laws.

Q. I presume you did nothing improper?

A. No, sir.

Q. In furthering or opposing those bills?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did somebody pay you?

A. My expenses are paid by the Commission.

Q. Are you paid for your services?

A. As Secretary, but that work is in Pittsburgh.

Q. You are paid nothing for coming here?

A. It is part of my duties to prepare this resolution, take it from experts who draw up bills, and put them in legal form, and come here and explain them to members of the Senate and House.

Q. Your activities simply consisted of talking to the members of the House and Senate explaining the provisions of the bill, and the effect of the bill?

A. Yes, sir. We had a fire prevention protection bill which conflicted with the State Fire Marshall's bill.

Q. And while here you never saw any other lobbyist doing anything that you thought illegitimate?

A. No, sir, not that I believe.

CHRIS. ROCKWELL, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence you in any improper way on any legislation pending befor this Legislature?

A. No, sir.

Q. Has anyone, whether from a department of the State government or not, attempted by threats or promises, either directly or indirectly, to coerce, intimidate or unduly influence your action here in this Legislature?

A. They have not.

Q. Do you know anything of the existence in the Capitol of a room or rooms where food and drink, either or both have been dispensed to members?

A. I was in one day. I said I was going down stairs to get a drink and I was told to go in the side room and get one.

Q. Who told you that?

A. Different ones.

Q. Can you name them?

A. No, sir

Q. Different ones told you to go there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is that room 249?

A. I do not know the number.

Q. Is that on the floor of the House?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. On the Senate side?

A. I think it is.

Q. How did you get in?

A. I opened the door and went in.

Q. It was unlocked?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did anyone—did you see anyone in there?

A. Two or three.

Q. Who where they?

A. I do not know.

Q. Did you see a colored man in there?

A. I do not remember.

Q. Did you get what you went there for?

A. They offered me a drink of whiskey, and I took it, and I took a bottle of beer.

Q. Who offered you that?

A. I don't know who it was.

Q. You don't know whether there was a colored man in there when you were there?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you see a cabinet there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you see any liquors in it?

A. Yes, sir, beer and whiskey.

Q. And there were more than one there besides yourself?

A. Yes, sir; three or four.

Q. Were they all drinking?

A. Yes, sir, I think so.

Q. All drinking?

A. One or two.

Q. One or two at any rate?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You did not pay for anything you got there?

A. No, sir.

Q. It was free?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you see Mr. Kephart there?

A. I do not know him.

D. A. ROTHENBERGER, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Do you know of the existence of a lobby in the present session of the Legislature?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have you been approached by anyone who made any improper suggestions to you as to your course in the Legislature, dealing with legislation pending at the present session?

A. Not that I know of. At public hearings there was an attorney here once, the time the club license bill was up, threatening some members, if they did not vote for the bill they would not come back; it was at a public hearing.

Q. Have any of the departments of the Commonwealth, in any way, tried to influence or intimidate you by promising any favor whatsoever, providing you would vote for certain legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know of room 249, in this building?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you been there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many times?

A. I don't know; several times.

Q. Five or six?

A. Not so often.

Q. Who did you find there?

A. The first time I was there, Senator Herbst took me in there. I said I was feeling bad and he took me there to get a drink.

Q. What was his method of getting in?

A. I don't know; we just walked in.

Q. Did the door open readily?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who did you see there?

A. Saw a colored man there, that is all I saw.

Q. You saw a colored man?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did you see there, with respect to refreshments?

A. I saw a bottle of drink, that is all I saw.

Q. Whiskey or beer?

A. It was whiskey, I guess. That is what he gave me.

R. W. LOHR, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence you in an improper way on any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. No, I do not think I have been interviewed or approached in any improper way.

Q. Has anyone, whether from the department of the State government or not, whether by threats or otherwise, directly or indirectly attempted to intimidate or coerce you in any manner?

A. No, sir; I would say not.

Q. Do you know anything about the existence in this Capitol of a room or rooms, were food and drink, either or both, have been served to members of the Legislature?

A. No, sir, I do not know where the room is; only since this investigation started. I have read of it.

J. B. MARTIN, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence you in an improper way on any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. I have received early in the session, anonymous letter intending to intimidate me on liquor legislation.

Q. An anonymous letter?

A. I have it at home, but I did not think to bring it here with me.

Q. You might state the contents of the letter.

A. The writing was very bad, and it was intended to contain some threats if I did not vote for that kind of legislation; it was quite a lengthy letter.

Q. What kind of legislation?

A. Liquor legislation.

Q. How was the letter signed?

A. It was not signed; it was anonymous.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. What did the threat consist of?

A. Simply stated that according to my speeches during the campaign, I never made any promises to support any measures of that kind. I never made any pledge of that kind at all.

Q. Either one way or the other?

A. No, sir.

Q. What was the language of the threat?

A. I thought it meant this, that it would mean if I did over run for re-election, I would be turned down.

Q. You cannot remember the composition?

A. I would be glad to bring the letter along. I can give it to you today.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. You might bring the letter, if you will.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Has anyone, whether from a department of the State government or not, sought to coerce, intimidate or influence your vote on any legislation?

A. By threats different ones have.

Q. Influence, coerce or intimidate you with respect to your course?

A. Not from the departments, no one has endeavored to intimidate me except in what way that was right and legitimate.

Q. Do you know anything about the existence of a room or rooms in the State Capitol, where food and drink, either or both, have been served to members of the Legislature?

A. Knew nothing of it until the time when the resolution was introduced. I do not, usually call around at those places, and the information was not given to me before that time.

WALTER GAITHER, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. You desire to make a statement?

A. No, sir; I have no statement to make. I do not know what I am here for.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. You have been on the floor of the Senate and House at different times during this Legislature has been in session, perhaps, discussing legislation?

A. Certainly.

Q. State in your own way just what conversation you had with Senator Sensenich in reference to his not voting for the appointment of Mr. Bigelow as Chief Highway Commissioner.

A. Senator Sensenich and I had several talks about voting for Mr. Bigelow. I was interested in Mr. Bigelow because the administration was interested in him, and think he is the very best road builder in Pennsylvania, and for that reason wanted his nomination confirmed. I talked to Senator Sensenich several times. Senator Sensenich told me he would vote for Mr. Bigelow. He did not vote for Mr. Bigelow, and the next time I met him, I told him he was a liar, and I added —I said, you do not need to expect anything hereafter from the Governor's office. We do not owe you anything. That is all there was to it.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Did you use the term "liar"?

A. I certainly did.

Q. Did you say, you are a liar, Mr. Sensenich?

A. I do not remember that but I remember I said, you lied. I had not any hesitation in saying that. I do not like a liar, and I do not like a sneak, and I do not like a demagogue, and I do not talk behind their backs.

Q. You simply told him he had lied in that particular instance?

A. I told him he was a liar. My exact words, whether I said you are a liar, or a little stronger than that perhaps.

Q. Did he say anything?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you have any conversation with him relative to the appointment of a Westmoreland man on the Board of Examiners?

A. After that I did. After that I said to him, if I recollect right, I said, to begin with this man was appointed on the Board of Examiners, and for fear the people of Westmoreland county would think Mr. Sensenich would get credit for that, I said, don't go away with the idea that you did it.

Q. That is all you said?

A. I told him that.

Q. Did you tell him prior to the confirmation of the appointment of Mr. Bigelow, that he should get in right?

A. No, sir.

Q. And vote for Mr. Bigelow?

A. No. I do not do business that way. If he says that, I still adhere to my former statement.

Q. Have you insinuated to any member of the House or of the Senate, that if they did not endorse the legislation that seemed favorable to the administration, that they need not look to the administration for favors?

A. No, sir; absolutely no. We have enough friends without that.

Q. Did you consider them friends of the administration, and it would not be necessary to do that?

A. That has been demonstrated.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Did you discuss the appointment of Mr. Bigelow's appointment with any other Senators?

A. I very likely did. We were very much interested in that as you probably all know.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Bigelow's was the Governor's choice?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And naturally you did everything you could to have him appointed, or the appointment confirmed?

A. Yes, sir.

J. LOUIS BREITINGER, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. You live in Philadelphia?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And are a lawyer?

A. Member of the bar in Philadelphia.

Q. You were a member of this House in the last session, were you not?

A. In 1911.

Q. You have been here in Harrisburg during this session?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. In the interest of what bills?

A. Six or eight times, I think I drafted the bill regulating the places of amusement.

Q. At whose request did you draft the bill?

A. I drafted the bill originally at the request of the Moving Picture Exhibitors League of Pennsylvania, with headquarters in Philadelphia.

Q. Somebody paid you for that service?

A. I have been paid partly.

Q. You have been here in the interest of that bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What sort of work did you do?

A. I saw Mr. Myers who has charge of all the licenses here three or four times, for the purpose of getting the proper machinery for the collection of taxes, and I drafted the bill with his co-operation, and it was afterwards introduced by Mr. George W. Allen, of Allegheny county.

Q. Is that all that you did?

A. I also drafted two bills regulating refunding license fees, $500.00 each, to moving picture proprietors. That came about under these circumstances. Some time in 1910, the State authorities attempted to collect a license fee of five hundred dollars from moving picture proprietors, claiming they were running the places as theatres. With my approval they refused to pay the fee and it was taken up in the Common Pleas courts of our county first to see whether they were responsible, and secondly where they had vaudeville features connected with it. The court decided in their favor. The State afterwards took an appeal from that and they decided that where vaudeville features were connected with moving pictures they were responsible for such license fees, but where they had pictures alone, they were not responsible. They were put in by Henry Walnut. One passed the House and Senate and was signed by the Governor, and the other has passed by the House and Senate and will probably be signed by the Governor shortly.

Q. Is that about all that you did in the passage of the bills?

A. In the passage of the act regulating the places of amusements I have spoken to members of the House after it got out of Committee. I spoke to Mr. Moulthrop and also yourself, and showed you a letter from the Auditor General saying he approved of the bill, and that it was wise legislation. Subsequently to that I spoke to no member. I spoke to one member of the Senate.

Q. You have not at any time used any improper methods in furtherence of these bills?

A. I have not promised anybody nor have I received a promise from anybody. I opposed some legislation in the Senate. I don't know whether the Committee wants to have that up or not.

ALBERT McAFEE, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. You are the Secretary of the Commonwealth?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. State whether or not you spoke with any of the members of the House in reference to the passage of the general appropriation bill.

A. I certainly did; yes, sir

Q. It has been testified to here that you were in communication with a gentleman by the name of Foster, and that you gave him certain directions to rally certain members to vote for that bill.

A. I do not quite catch your question—rallied a number of the members in the rear of the House?

Q. You stated to a number of the members of the House, and asked Mr. Foster to try to get them back in the House to vote on that bill?

A. I have no doubt that is true.

Q. Did you send word to a gentleman by the name of Mr. Williams, a member of the House, that he should make a stand for that bill, defending certain features?

A. I recollect Foster said Williams was better posted on the bill than somebody that had spoken. Probably that is true. I understand some gentleman testified that I said that. I have no doubt that he is a gentleman.

Q. Did you speak with a number of the members of the House asking their personal support for the bill?

A. Yes, sir; several times.

Q. Did you use any threatening or intimidating words?

A. Not to my recollection; I do not think so.

Q. Have you at any time, in connection with any legislation, urged members to support or oppose certain legislation?

A. I have urged members several times to support legislation.

Q. Do you remember about the time the so-called Flynn bill was being voted on in the House, asking members to support the bill?

A. I do.

Q. With whom did you speak?

A. I cannot tell you now. I spoke to so many I cannot recollect.

Q. Do you recall any of them personally?

A. I think principally the members from Allegheny county.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. It is in the testimony here that at the time of the proposed amendments to the general appropriation bill were under consideration, and after speeches had been made by Richard J. Baldwin of Delaware county, you said, Foster, Baldwin and the others are making a Hell of a mess of it, go and get Williams to make a speech?

A. As I said before, the gentleman that testified to that I have no doubt that he is a gentleman. I cannot recall those words.

Q. Words to that effect?

A. I do not recollect my words, what they were.

HENRY G. WASSON, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. You live in Pittsburgh?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You are a member of the bar of Allegheny county?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Chairman of the Republican State Committee?

A. I am.

Q. Have you been in Harrisburg since the beginning of the present session of the Legislature?

A. To the best of my recollection I have been here every week since the opening of the Legislature, with the exception of three weeks.

Q. You have been here in the interest of certain bills?

A. I have.

Q. What bills?

A. If you will just indulge me to let me go ahead in my own way. I think possibly I might conserve your time, and tell you my connection with the present session and legislation pending. Following the primary election of April, 1913, the Republican State Convention was held in the City of Harrisburg, on the first day of May, and at that convention there was adopted, a platform, which contained a very comprehensive programme with respect to State legislation. Following the adoption of the platform there were adopted separate resolutions, the first one of which singled out from the platform, certain specific measures and then authorized the creation of a committee to be know as the legislative and executive committee, to prepare legislation bills in accordance with the platform recommendations, and gave to that committee certain power in regard to appearance before the Legislature, and the executive in furtherance of the legislation and power if necessary for the reconvening of the State convention, and another separate resolution which directed the State chairman—and I may say, I was elected State chairman at that convention—directed the State chairman to mail to each candidate of the Senate and House, the platform of the convention, with the request that each of the aforesaid state his position in regard to the platform, and the answer of the candidate published as an advertisement in his district. I will file as a part of my testimony, a copy of the platform, and those separate resolutions. Following the convention on the third day of July, and in pursuance of the specific direction to me as State chairman, I sent out a letter to every Republican candidate to the House and Senate. Of course I had nothing whatever to do with the Democrats, and the Washington Party candidates were not then in existence. That letter was dated July 5, 1912. I have here a copy of the letter that was sent to Mr. Theodore Pennock, East Marlboro Township, Chester county. The letter which was sent to all the members, reads as follows: "Enclosed you will find a copy of the Republican State platform, together with copies of the separate resolutions relative to specific legislation and submission of the platform to each candidate for the House and Senate for the purpose of securing an indication of his position thereon. In compliance with my duty in the premises, may I ask you as a candidate to fully advise me of your position on the several pledges of the party with respect to legislation, and particularly so regarding the items embraced in the resolution creating the Executive and Legislative Committee. Thanking you for a prompt response, I am." The resolutions referred to are as follows: "We the Republican Party of Pennsylvania, in convention assembled, for the purpose of fulfilling the pledges in the platform heretofore adopted, do hereby resolve, that a committee of nine, to be known as the Executive and Legislative Committee, be created by this convention, with the power to add to its members six persons, who may or may not be members of this convention; that the said committee be authorized and directed to draft bills on the following subjects, in accordance with the pledges made in our platform: First, a bill for the extension of the direct primaries to all offices elected by the people, including United States Senators, and the expression of the Presidential preference. Second, a bill defining by whom and the purposes for which money may be contributed or spent in any general or primary election, limiting the total expenditure and requiring full accounting at public audit, and such amendments to the election laws as shall guarantee the freedom of said elections from fraud, coercion and undue influence. Third, a bill making a willful violation of any or all laws governing elections a felony, punishable by imprisonment. Fourth, a comprehensive and effective public utilities law. Fifth, a fair employers liability and workmen's compensation act, and regulating the employment of women and children. Sixth, a law to stop the swindling of the people through the sale of stocks in fraudulent corporations. Seventh, a law creating the Department of Public Charities, with full control, in order that the State's appropriations may be equitable and economically distributed and institutions receiving State aid may always be open to the unfortunate. For the purpose of fulfilling these instructions, be it Resolved that this Committee be given the power to fill all vacancies caused by death, resignation or otherwise in the Committee. And it is hereby declared to be the clear intent of this convention that this Committee shall represent this convention and the Republican Party of Pennsylvania, and shall have life until the successors of this convention are duly seated. Resolved further, that this Committee shall be empowered as our representatives, to appear before the General Assembly and the Governor of the Commonwealth, demanding that the pledges of the Republican Party be enacted into law, and be it further Resolved, that when this convention adjourns, it does not adjourn without a day, but to meet at the call of the Committee hereby created, or a majority thereof, for the purpose of reaffirming our demands as Republicans of Pennsylvania, and for such other business as the convention may elect." The other resolution is as follows: "Resolved that the State chairman is hereby instructed to mail to each candidate for the Senate and Legislature, the platform of this convention with the request that each of the aforesaid states in full his position in regard to the platform and the answers of each candidate to be published as an advertisement in his district." That letter, as I said, was sent to all the Republican candidates, and in reply, in the course of a few weeks, I received one hundred and fifty-two pledges in support of the programme of legislation from candidates for the House, and twenty-two of the twenty-five candidates for the Senate, or a total of one hundred and seventy-seven pledges. Of course, a great many of those who had pledged and were candidates, were not elected, but of those elected, both in the House and Senate, I hold the pledges of one hundred and eight, and inasmuch as these were all advertised through their districts during the campaign I had at my hand copies, and when I was subpoenaed on Saturday evening, Sunday I went to my office and got copies, and I will file them with the members of the Committee; they are arranged in alphabetical order here and include, I believe, all or nearly all.

Q. That includes letters of the Senators?

A. Includes letters of candidates for House and Senate as well. The committee was properly organized and went to work for the drafting of the resolution and there was drafted—

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Does this exhibit of letters include the answers of members that did not consider they were bound in any way by that resolution, or only those that say yes and no, we stand for it?

A. So far as I recall, I did not receive a reply in answer to my communication of July 3rd but what was an acceptance of the entire programme. I do not recall now—the Committee which was organized, the list of the Committee may be found printed with the platforms, prepared and caused to be introduced here shortly after the opening of the session, a child labor bill, and women's employment bill, a minimum wage bill, a utilities bill, a bill regulating the issuance of stocks and bonds, an agriculture bill, a bill creating a department of charities, a bill providing for nomination of all candidates for public office, a non partisan ballot bill, for municipal officers, and judges, whether elected in the municipal year or even numbered year, a bill that reformed the assistance clause of the present law, and seven separate bills increasing the penality for election violations, and two bills for the holding of constitutional convention. There was not a separate bill prepared on the workmen's compensation and employers liability because the Executive and Legislative Committee was in constant touch with and conference with the Legislative Commission, and they endorsed the bill introduced by the Commission, and these bills that I have just enumerated together with the resolution of Mr. Jones, ratifying the amendment to the Federal Constitution providing for the direct election of United States Senators constitute the programme of legislation that I have been interested in advancing during this entire session. I do not know that there is anything that I have left undone that I could have done to have furthered that legislation. I have written literally hundreds of letters to the members of the Legislature. I have sent many, many telegrams. I have submitted to many interviews. I have prepared many articles to the newspapers. I have made public addresses all over the State. There is no pressure, no influence, no effort that I could have exerted or performed that I have not in the furtherance of this legislation; all, of course, within the bounds of propriety, as I conceive it. I have refrained from being identified with any other legislation. I have frequently had members of the House and Senate submit measures to me and ask what little support and influence I could give. Many of the bills I should have liked to have helped along, and others I would like to have killed, but I did not feel that I could afford to be identified with any other legislation, and I think I am well within the bounds of accuracy, that my entire effort here has been in the line within the legislation in the platform, which tallies with the promises of the Democratic Party, which is also identical with the Washington Party platform. I think that is the whole story in as brief a way as I can tell you. I have had many interviews with members of the Legislature. I think I enjoy an acquaintance with almost all of the members of the House and Senate. I have talked to members of Congress and gotten them to do certain things. I have discussed with the Governor and officers of the departments here. I do not know anything, gentlemen, that I could have done that I have not done.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. I believe practically all the legislation mentioned by you has passed the House?

A. I think it has.

Q. With the exception of the resolution approving of amendment of the Constitution, providing for the direct election of United States Senators?

A. There is nothing that has passed the Senate, and I have my serious doubts in the line of this legislation that the people are demanding but will be passed.

Q. Are you able to enlighten the committee as to the influences if any which have been at work to emasculate these things in the Senate?

A. That is a matter of opinion and I do not think I would be called upon to answer under oath.

Q. I am asking if you know?

A. I have my own notions about things, of course. I have discussed the matter with Senators and others who are not in sympathy with what I am doing and they have said they will not get through but that is a matter of opinion for them.

Q. Have you observed the doing of any illegal or improper thing either for or against legislation?

A. I have not. I think I can go farther, I do not know that any man ever made an improper suggestion to me.

Q. Either in the House or Senate?

A. Either in the House or Senate, or in connection with political affairs. I am quite sure I have not ventured any myself.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. We are all about in the same boat on these troubles sometimes, and—

A. If it is of any assistance to you, I think I have all the bills that I have been interested in, as they were introduced.

Q. You are chairman of the Republican organization of the State of Pennsylvania?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Has there been maintained in Harrisburg this session, any Republican headquarters?

A. It has been wholly in the saddle.

Q. In the first place, I suppose you have borne your own expenses in all these efforts you have made?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. In this activity?

A. Yes, sir, and paid the bills for publication, and so forth.

Q. The State organization ought to pay for it, of course?

A. I hope so; some time.

Q. You naturally being chairman of the Republican State organization would feel that you ought to be as active as the Progressive organization, who have headquarters. Have you made any attempt to interest the Republicans of the Senate or House, that are known as straight Republicans, to see that we had some unity, and could go in counsel that we understand through the press the Progressives have, did you make any effort along that line?

A. I have not. I have headquarters in the City of Philadelphia. I paid rent, something like nineteen hundred dollars only last week out of my own pocket. I have not incurred any expense other than my own expenses down here, which I have borne personally.

Q. You have not counseled with any representatives of the Senate and House on the importance of having a headquarters here for furthering the interests of the party of which you are the chairman, the legislation which the members have pledged themselves as a Republican organization?

A. I have counseled every man who esteems himself a Republican in the interest of the party to further this legislation.

Q. I know that you have been active, and I am not attempting to question that at all. I want to get light on another branch, that is, whether you have made any effort along the line of having a Republican organization in the State, in the Capitol, for you have been here practically all the time; have you made any effort to form; the Progressive members of the House has; do you not think it would have been wise for the Republicans to have done something of that kind?

A. What practical good would it have been to have done that?

Q. In unison there is strength, is the best answer I can give.

A. The only good that I can see that would flow to the Republican party would be for the men who deem themselves a part of the Republican party to go ahead and in good faith do their part as pledged; they would do what they have not done, from the executive down.

Q. That is your right to make that statement.

A. I make it.

Q. You are chairman of the Republican organization in Pennsylvania?

A. Yes, sir.

A. As chairman of an organization, you realize that that organization can accomplish more than an individual; therefore I want to know why you did not, as chairman of the organization advise along the lines of forming, where we could meet you as a Republican organization and discuss matters of legislation, as the Progressives have, and perhaps the Democrats have; it seems to me that would have been a wise thing to have done. Do you not think to have organized that way would have accomplished more?

A. I do not see any advantage in having a headquarters here.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. In other years in which the Legislature has met, has there been any such organization in the State Capitol as mentioned by my friend here, Mr. Richard Baldwin?

A. My recollection runs back to 1889; since that time I have had more or less connection with politics. I never knew the time when a Republican organization had had an organization anywhere excepting in Philadelphia. The Republican organization has flowed from the City of Philadelphia, built around the City of Philadelphia, and the exegencies of Philadelphia.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. But nevertheless the facts are now that we meet a condition different from what we had in those years. We find today a headquarters and find meetings being held and a general understanding, which the votes indicate in the House that there have been understandings and conferences the night before by Progressives; it seems to me that you would have it suggested to you that we could not accomplish anything also without some understanding; that has gone on on the part of the Progressives.

A. Let me in turn ask you a question. Do you not think that the interests of the party could have been better advanced by taking the legislation of the committee that they authorize and put it through promptly?

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Knowing the disturbed conditions of our State, if the head of our organization had sent out notices to the members, of the fact that there would have been Republican headquarters where we could meet in counsel, it seems to me we would have had more strength, because that is what the other parties did; we know that very well.

A. I think if we had done that it would have been tenantless. They would not have come there; it was a useless thing, an expenditure that was not warranted. The legislation that was promised was thoroughly made known over the State; after the bills were drawn in tentative form they were given the widest circulation, something over one hundred thousand of these bills were printed and distributed; criticisms were invited; many of them came; the bill was finally drafted in January and ready for introduction when this Legislature met. We held meetings in the City of Philadelphia, Williamsport, City of Pittsburgh, and had many people who attended who were much interested in this legislation.

Erie, Pa. Aug. 19th, 1912.

Mr. Henry G. Wasson, Chairman,
Republican State Committee,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

Your letter, requesting an expression of my views upon the provisions of the State Platform, and especially to the closing resolution, relating to the establishment of a Working Committee to urge the passage of proposed legislation, and to seven other specially designated resolutions selected from the provisions of the Platform, was duly received.

For reason solely private and not political, I have deferred answering until the present moment. The delay has not been caused by a lack of conviction upon the many subjects contained in the Platform.

A candidate's pre-nomination and pre-election declaration ought to harmonize with his expressed opinions as a private citizen, and his record as a public official, if he has ever held office. The statements in this communication will be in accordance therewith.

Party Platforms are to some extent compromises, and do not contain all of the political tenets of all those who bear the party label; usually, the subjects embraced are ample enough in numbers, scope and purpose to warrant and engage the careful consideration of every thoughtful and patriotic citizen. The present Platform is not wanting in this respect.

The declaration of the platform may be considered seriatim. That part of the Platform, relating to legislation passed under the police power of the State declared unconstitutional by the courts, yet desired by the people, and suggesting that they shall have after due deliberation the power, nevertheless, to make it an operative law, invites discussion, and will be variously interpreted.

I believe that there should be certain fixed legal formulae by which the will of the people may be easily and expeditiously registered. No one will deny the right of the people to have for their guidance and government their desires expressed in statutes or Constitutions. If this can be done by legislative action merely, well and good. If it must be done by constitutional amendments, it can be so accomplished. The delay in this latter respect in many cases is too long. For instance, the proposition to bond the State for $50,000,000 for the improvement of roads requires a constitutional amendment, and must pass two successive Legislatures, subsequently be submitted to the people for their approval, and if favorable,, finally put into effect at the next session of the Legislature. To use this as still further illustration the session of 1911, passed upon this matter favorably. It will then be brought to the attention of the legislative session of 1913, and if passed, it will then be submitted in the fall of that year to a vote of the people, and then not until the legislative session of 1915, can it become operative. That means a periond of over three years from the introduction of the measure until its final operation. Everybody in the State is as ready to vote upon that question now as they will be in a year from now.

Constitutions are men made, created out of the conditions existing at the time of their adoption with an attempt to foresee future conditions, and to anticipate the law governing them. The latter is conjectural, and human foresight cannot provide fully for future contingencies. Biennial sessions increase the length of time required to obtain constitutional amendments. Necessities of the people in our rapidly changing economical relations, industrial developments and commercial expansion arise that need the legal formulae mentioned to express readily these necessities in legislative action or constitutional provisions. Nevertheless, constitutions have always been considered as an anchorage, safe-guarding the rights of the people, and ought not to be lightly disregarded, and the method of obtaining changes should be considered by the law makers with that "due deliberation" which is set forth in the Platform as the basis on which the desires of the people should become effective.

As to the change in the ballot, I do not understand how that can be obtained without reducing the number of candidates or political parties. The existing right to vote is not in all cases co-existensive with the right to become a candidate though nearly so, but that some legislation is necessary to shorten and simplify the present bed quilt ballot is apparent.

There is a growing and insistent demand that all condidates should be nominated by direct vote of the people. I can see no objection to it. I understand that by a direct vote of the people for President, their preference expressd at the polls must be binding on the delegates whose action must be determined by this expression of preference. I could favor a movement of that kind.

The same principle is advocated in the Platform for the election of a United States Senator. If it is good in one case, I do not see why it might not be proper in the other. While the proposal vests the primary as well as the ultimate power in the voters and takes away from the general assembly its deliberative action in the election of a Senator, the wishes of the people should be respected, and I favor the change.

With reference to the contribution and use of money in general or primary elections, the proposal to limit the total expenditure is right. The trouble arises in ascertaining the standard by which the amount to be contributed and the uses to which it shall be put may be measured.

It may be all right to withhold a certificate of election until after due accounting and public audit, but I foresee some difficulty in the final determination of a controversy, unless some tribunal whose powers can be immediately and continuously invoked shall be given full and final jurisdiction. This could be effected by proper legislation.

I am in favor of making a willful violation of the election laws felonies and severely punished. It is corruptoin of the worst kind. Such violations strike at the very foundation of popular government, and ought not to be lightly considered or politically ignored.

I am heartily in favor of a thorough revision of our primary and election laws. I cannot help but feel impressed with the necessity for this change by the number of men who have spoken to me upon the subject, and from the general dissatisfaction which prevails.

The constitutional amendment for the election of United States Senators is in accord with my views expressed as to the direct vote of the people on that subject.

The necessity for a comprehensive and effective public utilities law is apparent, even to the mere surface investigator. Such a law ought to be passed.

An employers' liability and workman's compensation act should be speedily passed. Employers would be benefited by reason of a fixed known financial responsibility, and the workman, likewise in the security of his family's welfare. Any act passed upon this subject will not give satisfaction to all at first. We are not without the aid of legislation on this matter in other countries, and some act should be passed that a start be made to regulate this liability and compensation upon fair and liberal lines.

Laws relating to the protection of women and children engaged in industry should be encouraged, rest upon well known physicial necessities, and appeal to men's sense of right for a class who cannot protect themselves in this State through the ballot.

The checking of surface casing should, of course, be safeguarded.

I believe in a generous support of the public schools wherein Pennsylvania has been a splendid pioneer, and also in the support of public charities, but not to the extent of prodigal appropriations that will destroy character and self-reliance.

The Health Department of the State should be aided in the great work which it has undertaken, and to increase the results which it has already accomplished.

The present system of State appropriations to our many institutions can be improved upon. It requires a vast amount of work and attention on the part of the appropriations committees, and more especially of the respective chairmen of the Senate and House Appropriation Committee, to the extent of even of depriving them from full attention to other important legislative duties. Granting that an institution is meritorious, the amount to be appropriated is in some measure a question of bookkeeping, but to determine whether that institution is meritorious requires an extended investigation often. The splendid citizenship which has these institutions in charge in a measure checks the prodigal application of the funds assigned them. I have advocated a change in the system, and appreciate the necessity for it now.

To prohibit the sale of adulterated or misbranded food and thereby prevent the deception of the public and an injury to health is a duty imperative to which every member of the Legislature should be responsible without being urged.

I am in favor of a system of road building which will benefit all the roads, a system as now operated by the State Highway Department and a county system, co-operating with or independent of the State Highway Department would secure more desirable results than those which have been hitherto reached.

The sale of stock in fake coroprations should be stopped. Legislation in other States have effected good results in this direction. An act regulating the sale of stock would protect many well meaning but credulous people.

Cities. "The government of cities must be given special attention."

Add to this boroughs. Pennsylvania's urban and borough population exceed the total population of any other State in the Union, barring four. The law governing such a large body of citizens ought to receive more than casual attention. I introduced a bill in the last Legislature for the government of cities of the third class, and I supported and voted for the Pittsburgh and Scranton bill, and I certainly see no reason why the experiment in cities of the second class should not continue. As City Solicitor for the City of Erie, I became convinced that the municipal harness for cities of the third class was too complicated, and that there was room for great improvement, and I have not changed my opinion since.

The whole scheme of taxation in the Commonwealth should be revised. It is defective and inconsistent in many respects.

The increase of indebtedness, through constitutional and legal changes, of cities and counties in the establishment of self sustaining improvements with proper restrictions is a meritorious suggestion, and I can see no objection to the granting of the power of eminent domain to counties and cities, and as to excess condemnations as set forth, there seems to be no good reason why a municipality should not be permitted to reap some of the advantages of its own improvement.

The existing law relating to the assessment of special benefits imposes unequal burdens, and ought to be amended.

The tariff should be revised downward, guided by the results of accurate and painstaking investigation without favoritism.

The conservation of natural resources must be secured under sane and safe restrictions.

The subjects of water problems, transportation, flood prevention, reclamation, sewerage, water proof, etc., are important ones and require immediate recognition.

I recognize the need of appropriations for the improvement of the Delaware River, and the port of Philadelphia, and flood prevention in the western part of the State, and I hope that I am not so narrow as to oppose or antagonize measures for this purpose, even though the only and great lake port of Erie is omitted from the list.

The people of this section would have been pleased to have had some recognition of the fact that the port of Erie is an important one and needs assistance. I can subscribe to the proposition of a survey of a canal as set forth in the Platform and for its construction and operation, if after thorough investigation it is found feasible and beneficial.

You invite my attention especially to the "Separate Resolutions."

I believe that I have fully answered them all, excepting as to the establishment of a committee. Such a committee may be of great value. If to the duties of that committee of demanding said proposed legislation there were added the duty of drawing acts of Assembly to meet those demands, and have those proposed Acts of Assembly sent to the members of the Legislature immediately after the election, a most important aid would be rendered to the ultimate accomplishment of the end desired.

I have endeavored to answer your communication fully.

Yours truly,
(Signed) HENRY A. CLARK.

Pittsburgh, July 5th, 1912.

Mr. H. G. Wasson,
Chairman State Republican Committee.

My dear Sir:—

I am in favor of the platform adopted by the Republicans of Pennsylvania, also the resolutions of the last convention.

Very respectfully yours,

Henry G. Wasson, Esq.,
Chairman Republican State Committee.

Dear Mr. Wasson:—

Your letter of recent date received, and in reply wish to state that I am in sympathy with the platform adopted at the recent Republican State Convention held at Harrisburg, and if elected will be found supporting progressive legislation.

Yours truly,
(Signed) PATRICK CONNER,
Member 20th Legislative Dist.

P. S. I have little fear of defeat, having the nomination of both Republican and Democratic parties.

Oakmont, Pa., July 8, 1912.

Henry G. Wasson, Esq.,
State Chairman,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

I am in receipt of a copy of the Platform and Resolutions adopted by the Republican party in convention assembled, May 1st, 1912, at Harrisburg, Pa., and your request as to my position as a candidate thereon.

In answer would state that I made my canvass as a Republican at the last General Primaries for the nomination to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania from the 10th Legislative District of Allegheny county along progressive lines. If anything more ultra than those contained in the platform you have just submitted to me, I am therefore only too glad to be able to inform you that each and every pledge made in the platform has my most hearty approval, and shall consider myself not only obligated to vote for but work for the passage of all legislation as especially enumerated in the resolution creating the Executive and Legislative Committee should I be elected to the office for which I am nominated.

Trusting that I have made by position clear on platform and resolutions, I remain,

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed) C. M. C. CAMPBELL.

Slippery Rock, Pa., July 16th, 1913.

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

Your communication of July 3rd, duly received. I have reviewed carefully the platform as adopted by the Republican convention, and also the resolutions adopted by the same. Without entering into any discussion at present of any of these measures I will say briefly that I am in hearty sympathy with the entire platform and approve the measures therein set forth. Those who know me best in Butler county will assure you that I stand squarely in the ranks of the Progressives.

I expect to be in Pittsburgh the 27th inst., and hope to have the pleasure of personal interview, when we can discuss the matters at closer range. Until then I am,

Yours truly,

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 27, 1912.

Hon. Henry G. Wasson,
Chairman Republican State Committee.
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

Your letter of July 3rd with enclosure received and contents noted; also your letter of August 17th calling attention to my delay in making reply to the previous communication.

Having been nominated by both the Republican and Democratic parties of the 21st senatorial district my candidacy must necessarily be nonpartisan in character. It would, therefore, be inconsistent to accept in toto either the Republican or Democratic platform. Rather I prefer to say to the people of my district that if elected I will endeavor to continue to represent them as I have in the past.

As for progressive legislation, an examination of my eight years' record in the Senate of Pennsylvania will show that I never failed to favor measures dealing with progressive thought. If supporting bills for the two cent fare, employers' liability, civil service, trolley freight, railroad workers' full crew and two weeks' pay, eight hour day for stationary engineers, remedying surface caving in the anthracite region, good roads, large appropriations for hospitals, child labor, and for every piece of remedial legislation proposed in the interest of the toilers of the State,—if this does not constitute a progressive stand I am quite at a loss to know what is meant by the term.

In regard to certain specific pledges exacted I desire to state that I have already favored nomination, by direct vote, of candidates for office; an act defining the purposes for which money may be contributed in any general or primary election, etc., also every genuine pure food act proposed since I became a Senator. Of course, I have always been heartily in favor of improving the existing election laws so as to prevent fraud. As to sale of stocks in fraudulent corporations every honest legislator cannot but endorse any bill offered with that object in view.

I believe a public utilities law along the lines advocated by Pennsylvania's chief executive, Hon. John K. Tener, should be enacted.

The creation of a department of public carities with full control over appropriations I do not favor without first examining the proposed act. An equitable distribution of appropriations is after all a question of point of view. For years a studied and underground movement has been operating in some sections of Pennsylvania to have laws framed which would bar worthy hospitals and other charitable institutions from State appropriations because said institutions are of a semi-religious nature. I do not assert that the framers of the State platform had any such narrow object in view when they advocated the creation of a board of public charities. Nevertheless, I feel that no candidate for the Senate or House should obligate himself to support such an act without deliberating on its provisions and determining for himself whether or not it contains a "snake," such as I have just referred to.

As to my Republicanism I have this to say: I was a Republican when it cost something to be one. My first vote was cast for Abraham Lincoln. I responded to his call and now hold a United States honorable discharge from the Civil War. My forebears have participated in every war, both foreign and civil, since 1630. I have been elected twice to the Senate and twice I have received the nominations from both the Republican and Democratic parties. I represent 150,000 constituents and it has always been my aim to serve them honestly and sincerely.

I am controlled by no individual or organization, but on the contrary hold myself directly responsible to the people of my district for my official acts. Their wishes I regard as supreme. At no time since the State convention or since receiving your letter have I felt duty bound to accept the platform or take a stand on the laws proposed. In my community it is not what a man says he will do, but what he does that counts with the people.

This reply is simply made out of a sense of common courtesy and as a reminder that nearly every law the State convention desired enacted I am already on record as favoring. I court spreading before the people of this district my full record since entering the Senate of Pennsylvania, and I am willing to stand or fall on that record.

Yours truly,
(Signed) STERLING R. CATLIN
21st District.

Dear Sir:—

In reply to yours of the 17th, will say that I am in full accord with, and approve of the Republican platform of Pennsylvania as it stands.

Hon. Henry G. Wasson,

My dear Sir:—

In answer to your inquiry as to my position in reference to the declarations and principles contained in the platform adopted by the late Republican convention held at Harrisburg, I beg to assure you that I am heartily in favor of legislation along the lines suggested in the categorical questions contained therein.

At the present time, I cannot endorse the proposition for the recall of Judicial opinions. I do not at this time see how it can be put into operation without causing endless confusion.

The proposition to have a State Legislative Committee can work no harm and is susceptible of much good, if the committee comprise able professional and successful, practical business men.

The marvelous development and growth of our many interests have made the problem of wise legislation a much more difficult task than it was a quarter of a century ago. The more dense the population, the more conflicting become our interests, and necessarily the more important that legislation be thoroughly digested and fully understood. An energetic committee of this character can be of great value, as an assistance to the Legislature.

I assure you that any legislation which will improve the moral uplift of our citizens has my fullest endorsement.

All legislation that will assist the unfortunate and tend to alleviate their misfortunes along the lines generally known as the Workingman's Compensation Acts, has my fullest approval, as well as the legislation suggested by a general utilities act, and that the fullest publicity be given to the work of our Legislature, and I believe that the wonderful growth of our State demands we should have legislation along the progressive lines indicated by our party platform.

Most respectfully yours,

(Signed) R. J. BALDWIN,

Republican Candidate for the Legislature. 2nd Legislative District of Delaware Co., Pa.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 8th, 1912.

Hon. Henry G. Wasson,
Chairman Republican State Committee,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

My dear Sir:—

I have your communication asking me to advise you of my position on the several pledges of the party with respect to the items of legislation embraced in the resolution, adopted by the Republican State Convention, creating its Executive and Legislative Committee.

In light of my experience as a member of the House of Representatives during the sessions of 1905, 1906 and 1907, I appreciate the danger of a candidate for a legislative position to commit himself, in advance of the session of which he might become a member, to probably subjects of legislation. He is frequently misunderstood and censured because his pople feel that, in view of his pledge, a member should support certain items of legislation, and yet the subject matter contained in the bill intended to cover it may be such as to prejudice the interests of his constituency and make it mandatory that he oppose its passage.

I am heartily in favor of such legislation as will provide for the election of all officers by the people. Both primary and general elections should be free from fraud, coercion, and undue influence; the purposes for which money may be contributed or spent should be clearly defined; the amount of expenditures should be limited; ample audit should be provided; and violations of election laws should be severely punishable. I also believe in the extension of the personal registration laws so as to require the voter to declare his politics in advance of primary elections and thereby insure honest party nominations.

It was my pleasure to vote for and aid in securing the passage of the well-known Casey Employers' Liability bill. Proper protection of employes, whether they be men, women or children, is most important, and nothing should be left undone to accomplish a betterment of their condition. The creation of a public utilities commission, with effective power, would be beneficial and I would gladly vote for it. I hope to see such a commission immediately created and I trust the time is at hand when a fair employers' liability bill and a just workmen's compensation act will be written into our law.

The extent of sales of stock in fraudulent corporations in late years, has become appalling, and, in my opinion, as a safeguard both to the legitimate corporation and the investor, most stringent punishment should be provided for offenders in this behalf.

Appropriation for charity is a subject of considerable concern. The present method does not insure equitable distribution of State funds, and some change should be made, having in mind that strictly State institutions should be first cared for and protected.

First: The abolition of all toll-roads and toll-bridges. The people of the entire State are greatly interested in the improvements of our public roads, and, in recent years, much has been done for their betterment. Adequate legislation should be had to abolish all toll-roads and toll-bridges and we should also provide for the construction by the State or free bridges across public streams at such places as the needs of the various communities may require them.

Second: The abolition of the fee system for all public officers.

Third: A change in the method for the collection of taxes in cities of the third class, by providing for the election by the people of a receiver of taxes.

Fourth: The creation of the office of County Controller for all counties, irrespective of their population. The cities of the Commonwealth have been safe-guarded in their finances through the office of City Controller, and it would be well to apply the same protection to county affairs.

Much other advantageous legislation could be suggested, and in conclusion, I desire to say that in both my personal and legislative capacities I have always done what I believe a majority of the people have wanted, and, in the future, whether in or out of office, I will continue that course. I will at all times, support measures wanted by the people and will do everything within my power to procure their passage. I will with the same vigor oppose such measures as they may disapprove.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) E. E. BEIDLEMAN.

Henry G. Wasson,
State Chairman.

My dear Sir:—

As a candidate on the Republican ticket for representative in the general assembly from the third assembly district of Erie county, I heartily indorse the State platform and resolutions passed at the State convention, also the pledges of the party, also the items embraced in the resolutions creating Executive and Legislative Committee.

Respectfully,

(Signed) SAMUEL B. BAYLE.

July 10th, 1912.

Hon. Henry G. Wasson,
Frick Building,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

Replying to your letter of July 3rd, received July 6th, asking me to declare my position on the several pledges of the Republican party with respect to Legislation as set forth in the platform adopted by the Republican party in convention assembled, at Harrisburg, May 1, 1912, and particularly regarding the items expressed in the resolution creating the Executive and Legislative Committee, I beg to state that the "key note" of the platform, viz: absolute independence of bosses and for legislation and legislatures free and untrammelled from such domination of control, has my unqualified endorsement.

Insofar as the platform treats of conditions in our Commonwealth generally, I can best answer by stating that I secured the Republican nomination in a district that is overwhelmingly independent, after an aggressive campaign waged in opposition to the interests of which the Republican platform, as adopted, complains. That I became a candidate for Representative to the General Assembly from the Fifteenth Representative District of Philadelphia county at the earnest solicitation of my friends throughout the entire district, comprising the Twenty-second and Forty-second wards, and on February 29, 1912, I made a platform upon which I would stand in the campaign. At that time I declared myself as follows:

"I have always contended that any person, going as a delegate to any Legislative Assemblage, is the servant of those whom he represents. His constituents are the ones to command and it is his duty to obey. If I am nominated and elected to the lower branch of the Legislature from this Representative District, I will, independent of any domination or control whatsoever, represent all the people of this constituency, without regard to their political faith. I will invite their counsel and guidance in all matters and measures that may come before the Legislature during my term."

I always have and always will consider the will of the voter as being paramount and that to carry out those wishes shall be the cardinal principal which shall govern my official life.

Insofar as the expressed pledges of the platform are concerned, in view of my declared position as to the functions of the Representative, I will state that I am heartily in accord with the nomination by direct vote for all candidates for public office. That the Congressional District should be the unit by which party members should be permitted to indicate their choice for President of the United States and the result in the entire State binding upon the delegates at large.

I am in favor of enabling the voters by a direct vote to elect United States Senators and of referring the proposed amendment to the National Constitution on this subject directly to them for action.

I believe that the purposes for which moneys may be contributed and spent in any general or primary election should be limited and defined, and the persons or corporations, from whom received, declared and that full publicity by a proper accounting should be made by the candidates before they are entitled to take office.

While I am in favor of making the more heinous offenses against election laws felonies, I am not in favor of making violations of all laws governing elections felonies, for in my experience I have seen too many instances of men indicted and found guilty of infraction of election laws on mere technical grounds after a most narrow construction of the acts governing the issue and to brand such persons as felons would be a travesty on justice.

While I am in favor of enlarging our system of primary elections to cover all offices and all districts in the State, I am not in favor of a general recasting of our entire elective system and laws governing the same, unless some substantial and apparent improvement can be secured thereby. Such an improvement could be best secured by the appointment of a commission of trained and experienced men to codify and simplify our entire election laws and report thereon to the Legislature. The present laws are in such a complex and chaotic condition that few exercising their rights of franchise know their own rights and limitations thereunder. Once the law is clear and readily understood juries will not hesitate to convict for violations thereof.

I believe that a proper, comprehensive and effective public utilities act should be placed upon our statute books; that an employers' liability and workingman's compensation act should be passed to which both the employer and employed should contribute and the benefits applied and paid to all unfortunates injured where they did not wilfully contribute to the negligence and that the term "wilfully" should be interpreted to acts intended to result in the injury; to wholesome legislation for the protection of women and children in industry; and for reasonable measures to secure the stability of the surface rights in the mining regions of our State and fixing the responsibility for failure to give those rights proper subterranean support.

I believe in extending the State aid given to public schools and public charities and appropriations for the promotion and protection of public health, including the efforts to control, and, if posible, eliminate tuberculosis.

While I believe that eleemosynary institutions which are the recipients of the State's bounty should be under the control of a State Department of Charities, in order to insure their being open at all times to the unfortunate, I believe that the people themselves should be their own almoner and that the Legislature the medium through which their wills should be expressed. To place the distribution of these moneys in the hands of a department, which would, in all probability, be under the control and appointment of the chief executive, would practically constitute that official the distributor of the State's beneficences and to place such power in the hands of one, who might prove himself unworthy of such a trust.

I am in favor of the enactment of appropriate pure food laws providing for severe penalties for any infractions thereof and for laws to prevent fraud and deception and prohibiting the sale of debased, adulterated or misbranded foodstuffs.

I believe that the State should provide for the construction and maintenance of dirt, as well as macadam roads and that a comprehensive system for the control thereof, by the State, should be envolved whereby the agricultural districts would be secured a full share of these benefits.

I believe that stringent Acts of Assembly should be passed, having for their direct purpose control over the incorporation and future management of all corporations, and the corporate rights should be conferred only after the most stringent scrutiny and that this control should apply equally to all corporations doing business in this State, whether acting under a domestic charter or one secured from some other State and that the sale of their stocks to the general public, should be regulated in order that the people of this Commonwealth would be secured against stock swindling concerns.

I am heartily in favor of such changes in our Constitution and Acts of Assembly as may be necessary to permit cities and counties to increase their indebtedness for general improvements of a permanent character, viz: for the erection of bridges, tunnels, subways, wharves, docks, sewers, streets and other public works, when such moneys can be refunded through the income of such improvements within a reasonable space of time.

In conclusion, let me state that I am proud that the laws of Pennsylvania have permitted the free and direct expression of the will of her people and if I am elected I pledge myself to use not only my vote; but my voice and influence as well, to secure to the people the beneficial reforms pledged to them by the Republican State platform, recognizing only the will of my constituents as being the supreme governing power of all my official actions.

Yours truly,

(Signed) EDGAR J. BLELOCH.

Dear Sir:—

Replying to your letter with reference to the principles promulgated by the Republican party at the recent State convention held at Harrisburg, I wish to say that I have carefully read the platform, including separate resolutions adopted by the Republican party.

It is satisfactory to me with the exception of the judicial recall. I endorse the platform with the above exception, and if elected will support the other principles therein.

Trusting that this reply will be satisfactory to your committee, I remain,

Yours respectfully,

Hon. Henry G. Wasson,
Chairman Republican State Committee,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

Absence from home has prevented an earlier reply to your letter of July third, enclosing a copy of the Republican Platform.

I am in favor of progressive legislation and I am in accord with the principles of the platform, and expect, if elected to the Legislature, to support such bills as may be introduced for the purpose of carrying into effect the pledges of the platform, particularly the bills mentioned under the head "Separate Resolutions."

Yours very truly,

My dear Sir:—

I have your communication under date of July 3, 1912, containing the recent Republican State Platform, and asking for my position relative thereto, particularly regarding the items embraced in the resolution creating the Executive and Legislative Committee.

I am in favor of the platform and also the items embraced in the resolution.

Enclosed you will find the platform which I submitted to every voter of the Eighth Legislative District during my campaign. I am still willing to adopt it.

With best wishes for your success, I am,

Yours very truly,

(Signed) WILLIAM S. BIGGER.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 11, 1912.

Henry Q. Wasson, Esq.,
Chairman Republican State Committee,
Frick Building.

Dear Sir:—

Your favor of the 3rd instant was received, with copy of the platform adopted by the late Republican State Convention. In compliance with the instruction of the convention, you ask me to advise you fully as to my position on the several pledges of the party with respect to legislation, particularly regarding the items of legislation embraced in the resolution creating the Executive and Legislative Committee. I am very glad to comply.

The items of legislation embraced in the resolution creating the Executive and Legislative Committee are seven in number. It will be best to quote each of them, with my comment thereon, separately:

"First: A bill for the extension of the direct primaries to all officers elected by the people, including United States Senators, and the expression of the Presidential preference." I am in favor of this change because public sentiment seems to demand it and doubtless will continue to demand it until it is tried. In making it, however, we should not fail to accompany it with a strict regulation and limitation of campaign expenses, because otherwise a candidate of small means would usually have little chances against one able to afford a big campaign for the manufacture of sentiment throughout the State. The convention system of nominations is right in theory, affording an opportunity for full discussion and deliberation and a final conclusion as to what is best for the party; but in practice it is disappointing. I have yet to see any real deliberation by delegates in convention.

"Second: A bill defining by whom and the purposes for which money may be contributed or spent in any general or primary election, limiting the total expenditures and requiring full accounting at public audit, and such amendments to the election laws as shall guarantee the freedom of said elections from fraud, coercion and undue influence." All this should be done by all means.

"Third: A bill making a wilful violation or any or all laws governing elections a felony, punishable by imprisonment." I think this is right, because no crime is more serious from the standpoint of the public.

"Fourth: A comprehensive and effective public utilities law." It is scarcely necessary for me to declare in favor of this. I introduced such a bill in the session of 1911, after having been one of a committee which co-operated in its preparation, I had charge of it during the passage through the House and followed it into the Senate appearing before the Senate Committee to assist in advocating a favorable report. I had the honor to introduce this bill at the request of the Governor, to whom much credit should be given in this connection, and who has announced that he will strongly urge such legislation at the next session.

"Fifth: A fair employers' liability and workmen's compensation act, and regulating the employment of women and children." I earnestly favor such legislation. If you have followed the record of the employers' liability and workmen's compensation bill introduced by Hon. James Dunn, which passed the House at the last session, doubtless you have observed that I led the debate in its favor upon the floor. The welfare of the race demands proper laws regulating the employment of women and children.

"Sixth: A law to stop the swindling of the people through the sale of stocks in fraudulent corporations." You and I, and all lawyers who are consluted (after it is too late) by the victims of this kind of robbery, know the extent of the evil. I would be glad to help pass any law which could be devised to put a stop to it.

"Seventh: A law creating the Department of Public Charities, with full control, in order that the State's appropriations may be equitably and economically distributed, and institutions receiving State aid may always be open to the unfortunate." I can see no reason why one should oppose this. It ought to do much good.

As to the other pledges of the convention, not included in the resolution creating the Executive and Legislative Committee, my ideas are as follows:

The convention has declared its belief that when an act is passed by the Legislature under the police power of the State, as said power is defined in the platform, and the courts have declared the act to be invalid because of its being in conflict with the letter or spirit of the State Constitution, the people should have the power, after a sufficient interval for due deliberation, to decide by their votes whether said act shall become a law. I think the draftsman of this plank has adopted all the good and rejected all that is not good in the plan which is popularly termed the "recall of judicial decision." The plan as set forth in the platform, as I understand it, involves no thought of the people reversing the decisions of the courts, or of a referendum from the Supreme Court to the electorate. When the people would come to vote according to this plank they would not be voting upon the question of whether the Supreme Court's decision was right or wrong. The proposition would be simply this: The Supreme Court informs us that such an Act of Assembly is in conflict with Constitutional provisions or established principles, which only the people themselves have the power to change. The Supreme Court has done its duty and it can do no more. It cannot change the fundamental law but the voters can, and therefore a vote is taken upon the question whether the obstacles in the fundamental law, pointed out by the Supreme Court, shall be made to yield to the act in question. It is wholly out of place to term this a "recall of judicial decisions." It is not a recall or a reversal or a conflict of any kind between the courts and the voters. It detracts nothing from the respect due to the courts nor does it call in question the correctness of their decisions. I think the platform is correct in stating that, instead of undermining the confidence of the people in the courts, it will go far to restore their confidence. I can cheerfully support this plan as advocated in the platform although I would not support the so-called recall of judicial decisions, carried to the great extent which I have seen advocated elsewhere.

The platform declares for "a simple, direct and short ballot, properly safeguarded to insure purity." There is no explanation of what is meant by a short ballot. You cannot shorten the ballot except by reducing the number of elective officers, which probably would mean increasing the number of appointive officers and involve the question of who is going to make the appointments. There has been a leniency of late years to vest in the Common Pleas judges the power of making various official appointments. I take this opportunity to say that I oppose to giving the judges any power to appoint officers other than such as work directly under the courts, and I would be very conservative even as to that. I voted for the School Code because of its many excellent features, but protested against the appointment of directors by the judges, which I had opposed, and stated that I would be ready to help to change the law so as to place the choice of all directors in the hands of the voters, where it belongs. It is not fair to the judges to place such duties upon them, and there is no propriety in it from any standpoint. Of course I believe that the ballot should be simple, direct and properly safeguarded, but I would not commit myself to a "short" ballot without knowing how it is proposed to shorten it.

The platform advocates a law to enable the people by direct vote to indicate their choice for United States Senator, and make the result binding on the members of the General Assembly. Of course you mean morally binding, as such a law undoubtedly would be. I am in favor of this. Members of the Assembly should be relieved of the annoyance of having a senatorial candidacy involved with their own. A legislative candidate should have the opportunity to stand upon his own merits as a legislator and not have this question overshadowed by a senatorial conflict, which is of no more interest to him than it should be to any other voter and which obscures the real importance of the legislative office in the minds of the voters. Of course I favor the ratification of the amendment to the Federal Constitution providing for the election of the United States Senators by the direct vote of the people.

As to the government of cities, I agree with the platform approval of the single legislative body elected at large in cities of the second class. It was my privilege to assist materially in the passage of the Act in 1911, under which Pittsburgh has such a body. I approve of the platform declaration that "metropolitan districts should be provided for the administration of metropolitan matters," as I understand its purpose, and would support a bill to carry it into effect provided it was not so framed as to be objectionable to my district.

I would have to oppose any construction of this plank as a warrant for anything resembling the plan of compulsory annexation as contained in the so-called "Greater Pittsburgh" bill of the last session. I am confident, however, that nothing of this kind is contemplated. As to the repeal of laws exempting corporate property from local taxation and from assessment for special benefits, I see no reason why such law should not be repealed as to properties of like character and receiving local benefits along with other properties which are thus taxed and assessed. If there is any valid objection to this it has not been called to my attention. The recommendation for the consideration of a revision of the present laws relating to the assessment and collection of city and county taxes is very proper.

The recommendation covering increase of indebtedness for improvements which can be made self-supporting is in line with several enactments of the last session, which I supported, and I think the principal is correct.

The taking of title in fee by cities and counties under the power of eminent domain is sensible, although I believe its constitutionality has been doubted. The municipality always has to pay the full price and it seems only just that it should get the full title. I included this provision in an act which I had passed for the boroughs in the session of 1909.

The further declaration as to municipalities, to wit: "We favor the enactment into law of the principal of excess condemnation, under proper restrictions. We favor a revision of the laws relating to the assessment of special benefits to make the same more just and equitable, and, in general, we declare is favor of the enlargement of municipal powers," is scarcely specific enough to enable a candidate to declare himself concerning it. I dare say the acts to be presented under this declaration will provide for wise and beneficial changes in the law and, if so, I would be glad to support them.

I think the foregoing covers all of the platform declarations as to which you care to have me make any special comment. Of course I am in harmony with the declarations in favor of trying to adopt measures to check the surface caving in the mining regions, in favor of continuing our traditional policy of generous support of public schools, as well as the public charities, with liberal contributions for the promotion and protection of public health, and especially for keeping up the splendid fight which our Commissioner of Health has been making against tuberculosis. Every one will approve the pledge of the party to a pure food law which will prevent fraud and deception and prohibit the sale of debased, adulterated and misbranded foods, and I am glad to see that the work in behalf of road improvements, which has been going on for a number of years and which has given such an impetus during the last two sessions, is supported by a proper plank in the platform. There can be no question that the State should take a firm grasp upon its water problems, and transportation, flood prevention, reclamation, sewerage, water proof and other incidents of water flow, are, as the platform says, questions of extreme importance to the Commonwealth, standing between the Federal Government on the one hand and the counties and municipalities on the other, should take the lead in the preparation of comprehensive plans. The pledge of platform for the enactment of laws permitting and providing for joint action and a joint contribution of funds for these purposes, for the improvement of the Delaware river and the Port of Philadelphia, for flood prevention in the western part of the State, as well as for appropriations for surveys of the proposed canal between the Ohio river and Lake Erie and providing for joint action on the part of the State of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia with reference to such proposed canal, is undoubtedly sound and in line with public sentiment.

On the whole, I think the author of the platform has succeeded admirably in providing for legislation in the line of real progress, without departing from any of the tried principles which are essential to the stability of our institutions.

Very truly yours,

My dear Sir:—

In reply to your letter of recent date requesting a statement of my attitude on the Platform adopted by the Republican party, in convention assembled, at Harrisburg, on May 1st, 1912, permit me to say:—

On the first of March of this year, long before the sentiment of the people began to crystalize, announced myself, to the Republicans of the Eleventh Legislative District, as a candidate for Representative, and, at that time, stated my position upon various matters which I then believed and still feel demand legislative attention and action.

My position, which I then openly submitted to the people of my district for their consideration and future reference, by having the same plainly printed upon 50,000 campaign cards which went into their hands, was as follows:

"I shall favor:—

The Initiative, the Referendum and the Recall.

The nomination of all State, county, township, city and borough officers by direct vote of the people.

The election of United States Senators by the direct vote of the people.

A new and up-to-date Constitution.

A complete codification of the laws.

A Corrupt Practice Act positively limiting the expenses of a candidate for office.

The repeal of all ancient, antiquated and "dead" laws, whether local or general.

The repeal of all Mercantile Tax Laws.

Lower taxes and Equitable Tax Laws.

The regulation of Public Service Corporations.

The Regulation of Industrial Conditions.

Self-regulation and self-government for boroughs and townships.

In brief: Whatever my constituents—the people—may desire, rather than what any "Political Machine" or "Political Boss" may demand.

The Republican voters in my district evidently approved all, or the greater part, of my policies, for, against a thoroughly organized opposition. I was nominated, with more than 2,200 votes to spare, and, until advised to the contrary by the people for whom I stand as candidate, I will adhere to these policies and principles.

The State Republican Platform which was adopted two months later, and which, we must grant, expresses the sentiment of the majority of the Republican party in Pennsylvania, embodies almost every one of the principles upon which I stood and with which I went before the Republican voters of my district and was nominated.

What new matter is written into out State Platform expressed the sentiment of the people of this Commonwealth and, in the future as in the past, I will gladly accede to their wishes and assist in giving them such needful legislation as will be for their benefit and welfare.

Yours very respectfully,

(Signed) GEORGE W. ALLEN,
Eleventh Legislative District.

Dear Sir:—

In reply to your letter submitting to me copy of the platform adopted by the Republican State Convention, together with copy of the separate resolutions outlining a program of specific legislation to be drafted and submitted fully the general provisions of the State platform and the program of legislation contained in the separate resolutions.

I will go further and say that I am favorable to any progressive legislation that will more fully provide for the people through their State and local governments every facility for improving the standards of morals of living in Pennsylvania.

I am not prepared to say that I endorse the recall of judicial decisions, but I do insist that both State and local governments should get in closer touch with the popular will, and if this is done I believe it will go along way toward remedying conditions.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:—

I have made a careful study of the platform adopted by the Republican party, in Convention at Harrisburg, May 1st, 1912; and can say, without reservation, that I heartily indorse the principles and policies set forth.

I believe the time has come when the Republican party should take an advanced position in relation to economic policies and secure by adequate and effective legislation, equal justice and opportunity to all.

I approve of the resolution of the convention, creating an Executive Legislative Committee, with authority to draft bills covering the subjects therein mentioned, as practical and expedient.

Most sincerely yours,

Dear Sir:—

In reply to your letters of July 3rd and August 19th, I wish to state that I have gone over thoroughly the platform and resolutions adopted by the Republican State Convention of 1912.

I wish to state that I am entirely in sympathy with the following pledges made in that platform.

First: A bill for the extension of the direct primaries to all offices elected by the people, including United States Senators and the expression of the Presidential preference.

Second: A bill defining by whom and the purpose for which money may be contributed or spent in any general or primary election limiting the total expenditure and requiring full accounting at public audit, and such amendments to the election laws as shall guarantee the freedom of said elections from fraud, coercion and undue influence.

Third: A bill making a wilfull violation of any or all laws governing elections a felony, punishable by imprisonment.

Fourth: A comprehensive and effective public utilities law.

Fifth: A fair employers' and workmen's compensation act, and regulating the employment of women and children.

Sixth: A law to stop the swindling of the people through the sale of stock in fraudulent corporations.

Seventh: A law creating the Department of Public Charities, with full control, in order that the State's appropriations may be equitably and economically distributed and institutions receiving State aid may always be open to the unfortunate.

Very respectfully yours,

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,
Chairman Republican State Committee,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

In reply to your letter of July 3rd, asking for my position on the several pledges of the party with respect to legislation and "particularly so regarding the items embraced in the resolution creating the Executive and Legislative Committee," I would say that my position on legislation in general is indicated in the following quotation from a letter to the Republican voters when a candidate for Representative in 1910:

"If nominated and elected, my best effort will be put forth in looking after the large and diversified interests of the people of Tioga county, and to voice their wishes, so far as I am able to interpret them, in my action on all matters coming before the Legislature at the next session."

My nomination and election followed. This year, in again submitting my candidacy to the Republican voters, I indicated in a letter my position during the last session on the more important measures considered, and added that—

"If re-elected, I will continue to voice what I believe to be the sentiment of my constituents on all questions that shall be considered by the next Legislature and to work for their interests in every particular."

My re-nomination I construe to mean that my Republican constituents are satisfied with my work in their behalf during the recent session and my pledge for the future. If I am again elected it will not be to voice my own views on matters proposed during the 1913 session, but the views of my constituents, believing as I do that a legislator is largely the instrument chosen to carry out the wishes of his constituents.

Your request that I fully advise you of my opinion on the pledge in the resolution previously referred to warrants, I feel, the following reference to my record on the several items embraced therein made somewhat in advance of that of the party.

In the 1907 session I voted in the Senate for the McCord bill which gave the voters the right to express their choice on the question of United States Senator, and during the 1911 session, as a member of the House Committee on Elections, I made the motion and supported it to report with an affirmative recommendation the Kelly resolution calling on the Senators from Pennsylvania to support the proposed amendment to the Constitution providing for the election of United States Senators by popular vote. During this session a bill was introduced to take from the people the right they had long enjoyed of electing certain officers and vesting the power for filling these offices in a board, the members of which were to be appointed by the Auditor General. This I took to be a blow at popular government, a reactionary rather than a progressive move, and vigorously opposed it. I believe in extending the poplar selection of candidates in every practical way.

My views as to the necessity for revising the primary election and corrupt practices acts are indicated by the following quotation from a letter I addressed to the Tioga county Republican Committee, dated July 31st, 1908:

"While the corrupt practices and uniform primaries acts are in the right direction and well intended they are weak and fall far short of producing the good results expected from them in that it is now possible for the members of one party to name the nominee of another party, and in legalizing the use of an unlimited and extravagant amount of money to bring about nominations and elections. In my opinion, these laws unless amended in such a way as will remove their defects, will bring disgrace upon our State."

It had been my intention to offer amendments to cure the defects in these acts in the 1911 session and would have done so had I not given to understand that the Commission appointed under authority given at the previous session to revise the election laws would make recommendations to the end desired, but when their report was submitted it was found to contain nothing effective of this kind and it was then too late to move in the matter as I had intended doing. When this Commission asked to be continued for another two years with an increased appropriation for expenses, I opposed the motion feeling that its further existence would not be productive of any good.

During this session I supported a public utilities bill which passed the House, and also an act authorizing the Governor to appoint a commission to investigate the conditions of labor in Pennsylvania and to report on a workmen's compensation act. I believe this commission appointed by Governor Tener will recommend a measure of this kind that will meet with the approval of the next Legislature.

The bill introduced during the last session to stop the swindling of the people through the sale of mining stocks had my support and a more general measure of this character as suggested by the resolution should become a law.

Without doubt there should be some change in the manner of distributing the appropriations from session to session to the charitable institutions of the State and I will endorse an effective measure of this kind.

Good roads legislation and legislation to protect the health of the people have always had my support.

Patronage is the basis for building party machines. If we are to be freed from them it must be eliminated as a party asset in our politics and this can be done only by introducing the merit system in filling the subordinate positions in our various public departments, and with such a system in force the many public employees would no longer feel that they must surrender part of their salaries each year to party committees in order to retain positions. It was with a great deal of satisfaction that I voted for the Hulings State civil service bill in the 1907 session and for the Wallace bill of like character in the 1911 session, and I regret that the recent Republican Convention in Pennsylvania did not declare for such a law and in so doing have shown to the voters of our State that it stood for the merit system in public affairs which Theodore Roosevelt has for years so strongly favored in advocating Civil Service Reform. I remain,

Very truly yours,
GEO. W. WILLIAMS.

Dear Sir:—

In reply to your letter of August 12, 1912, requesting me to state my position with reference to the Republican State platform and certain specific legislation mentioned therein, I take pleasure in making known my position.

I approve the Republican State platform, with the exception of what is generally referred to as the recall of Judicial decisions, and to that policy I am not yet prepared to give my approval.

As to the seven specific subjects of legislation mentioned in the separate resolutions, I give my hearty approval, and if elected, will use my vote and influence to enact into law the principles set forth in the resolutions.

As a member of the recent Legislature, I supported bills providing for direct primaries for the nomination of United States Senators, the public utility bill, and I favor all reasonable legislation that will prevent corrupt practices in elections and provide for punishment of those who engage in it.

Yours very truly,

Dear Sir:—

In reply to your kind favor of july 3rd, 1912, requesting an expression of opinion relative to the Republican State platform, would say that I accept same, and shall be pleased to do all I can to further its progress.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) ALBERT DAVIS.

Frankford, September 7, 1912.

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,
Chairman Republican State Committee,
No. 329 South Broad street,
Philadelphia.

Dear Sir:—

In answer to your inquiry as authorized by the Republican State Convention, I will say that my motto as a candidate for the Republican nomination at the last primaries was, "Let Labor have a chance. A workingman from the Rank," and my promise to them was if elected, "I would be a servant for them."

I am in thorough accord with all legislation outlined in said platform, that is Progressive in its nature and beneficial to the people and the State, and against special privileges.

I am in favor of simple, direct and short ballot, and a change in the form of registration. While properly safeguarding to insure purity, I would favor laws that would encourage every citizen to register and vote rather than to discourage them to exercise the right of citizenship.

I am in favor of a pure food law, and a law to protect our people from the fraud and deception practiced by unscrupulous dealers by weights and measures.

I favor a continued generous support of the Public Schools and preventing political interference therewith.

I am in favor of a larger increase appropriations to the Eleemosynary Institutions which are doing so much good among the working class to supply their wants and relieve their suffering.

I favor a liberal pension for our old soldiers, so that those in our State who were willing to sacrifice their lives for us shall not be compelled to seek the aid of charity in their old age.

I favor a great port for Philadelphia and the State should encourage every effort to make it the greatest fresh water port for commerce in the country, by a greater increase appropriation for the Delaware river.

I favor a law to stop the swindling of the people through the sale of stock in fraudulent corporations.

I favor legislation in changing Recording of Deeds, so that the form can be changed to a more modern form, and give the city the right to insure the title at a small cost, thus encourage and protect the wage earner from unscrupulous conveyances and great cost of Title Insurance in purchasing homes.

I favor all laws that will benefit the condition and standing of the wage earner. While I recognize the fact that labor cannot exist without capital, yet my 26 years experience as a workingman convinces me that laws can be made that will bring capital and labor closer together for the benefit of both.

"It will be my ambition to have such laws passed."

I favor a system of good road building which shall insure to the farmers of my district their full share of the benefits, and to give them all the encouragement possible to bring their products to the city so as to reduce the high cost of living to the wage earner.

As a Republican from the time I casted my first vote 26 years ago, and believing in the principles of that party as being beneficial to the workingman, I go before the people of the district as a candidate upon the platform adopted at Harrisburg in convention assembled May 1st, 1912, asking them for their support, Pledged to no man or set of men, but to carry out their wishes as a servant.

Yours very truly,

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,

My dear Sir:—

Replying to your favor of recent date, will say that I am heartily in sympathy with the platform of the Republican party of Pennsylvania as set forth generally and specifically by the State Convention.

The only objection I have to it is that it is not strong enough.

The present iniquitious election and nomination laws should be repealed and the California law substituted which prohibits the name of any political party or organization to appear upon the election ballot.

The present so-called "corrupt practices act" should also be repealed and a real anti-corruption bill passed in its place. The present law is a big step backward, because the Act of 1881 prohibits the purchase of "influence" while under the present law all that is necessary if a candidate wishes to buy his election is to hire two influential watchers for each precinct at any price, pay a similar price to similar parties for hauling voters to polls, and the same price for dissemination of information.

Very respectfully yours,

Dear Sir:—

In reply to your communication of the third inst., as regards my position on the several pledges of the party, with respect to legislation, and the resolutions relative to the Executive and Legislative Committee, I would say, I made my nomination as a progressive candidate, and would heartily support any legislation that was for the advancement of the interest of the people.

The separate resolutions contained in the platform and resolutions adopted by the Republican party, at the convention, I have carefully considered, and can find nothing that I could not support, if presented in such a manner, that the final decision shall be left to the voice of the people.

Trusting that I have made my position clear, and that the progressive platform, adopted by the party will appeal to every Republican, who has the welfare of the country at heart, and that we shall be given the opportunity of proving our sincerity, after victory, this fall.

If there is anything further, or more specific required, I shall be glad to comply with my answer to the question.

Sincerely yours,

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 13, 1912.

Hon. Henry G. Wasson, Chairman,
Republican State Convention,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

My Dear Sir:—

Your communication received, asking me to advise you of my position on the several pledges of the Republican party with respect to the legislation embraced in the resolution adpoted by the Republican State Convention at Harrisburg. In reply to same would say that I am:

First. In favor of such legislation as will provide for the election of all officers by the people.

Second. That such elections, both primary and general, should be free from fraud, coercion and undue influence, and that all money contributed and spent should be clearly defined—the amount of money expended should be limited; ample audit should be provided and all violations should be severely punished.

Third. I believe in a personal registration law, one that will require the voter to declare his politics in advance of the primary elections, thereby insuring honest party nominations.

Fourth. There should be enacted a comprehensive and effective public utilities law, one that gives the best protection to employes, whether they be men, women or children.

A public utilities commission, with effective power would be beneficial. I also favor and will do everything in my power to secure the passage of employers' liability laws and also a workmen's compensation act.

Fifth. I believe in a liberal appropriation for promotion and protection of the public health and also the fight against tuberculosis; would also advocate the municipal tuberculosis camps. We believe in a generous support of our public schools and charities and would cheerfully vote for the same.

Sixth. I believe in a law that will prevent the sale of debased, adulterated and misbranded food, one that will give us pure food at the lowest cost.

Seventh. Many people are constantly being made poor by the buying of stocks in fraudulent corporations, and I would heartily vote for any law that would prevent their sale, thus safeguarding the investor and legitimate corporations.

In addition to the above, the people of Harrisburg in my opinion, are in favor of legislation which would cover the following:

First. That adequate legislation should be enacted to abolish all toll roads and toll bridges, and we should provide for the construction, by the State, of free bridges across public streams. Also that we favor the constitutional and legal changes necessary to permit an increase of city and county indebtedness for the erection of bridges, subways, tunnels, sewers, wharves, parks, playgrounds, and other public improvements.

Second. That we abolish the fee system for all public officers.

Third. That we change the method of collecting our taxes in cities of the third class by providing for the election by the people of a Receiver of Taxes.

In conclusion I wish to say that I am in favor of legislation that does the most good for the people and if I am elected will do all in my power to procure the passage of the same.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) JAMES E. DICKINSON.

Mr. Henry G. Wasson, Chairman,
Republican State Committee,
329 South Broad St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

In reply to your letters of July 3rd and August 19th, I wish to state that I have gone over thoroughly the platform and resolutions adopted by the Republican State Convention of 1912.

I wish to state that I am entirely in sympathy with the following pledges made in that platform.

First. A bill for the extension of the direct primaries to all officers elected by the people, including United States Senators, and the expression of the presidential preference.

Second. A bill defining by whom and the purposes for which money may be contributed or spent in any general or primary election limiting the total expenditure and requiring full accounting at public audit, and such amendments to the election laws as shall guarantee the freedom of said elections from fraud, coercion and undue influence.

Third. A bill making a willful violation of any or all laws governing elections a felony, punishable by imprisonment.

Fourth. A comprehensive and effective public utilities law.

Fifth. A fair employers' and workmen's compensation act, and regulating the employment of women and children.

Sixth. A law to stop the swindling of the people through the sale of stocks in fraudulent corporations.

Seventh. A law creating the Department of Public Charities with full control in order that the State's appropriations may be equitably and economically distributed and institutions receiving State aid may always be open to the unfortunate.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed) WM. C. EICHENBERGER.

Scranton, Pa., August 24th, 1912.

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,
Chairman Republican State Committee,
Philadelphia, Pa.

My Dear Mr. Wasson:—

In replying to your letter of recent date respecting my attitude towards the party platform, as a Republican, and as a candidate for Representative for the Third Legislative District of Lackawanna county, I am in accord with the platform adopted by the State Republican Convention assembled at Harrisburg on May 1st, 1912, of course, you understand I am subject to, and responsive to the will of my constituency.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) FREDERICK C. EHRHARDT.

Henry G. Wasson, State Chairman,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

Your letter enclosing platform of the Republican State Convention received. In reply to your request beg to say that I am in entire sympathy with it and also endorse the proposed legislation and if elected will do all I can to have same placed in our statute books at as early a date as possible.

Yours,
(Signed) JOHN F. ELY,
Assembly 2d Westmoreland Dist.

Mr. H. G. Wasson,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

My Dear Sir:—

Your letter with the enclosed platform and resolutions of the Republican State Convention received some time past and which seeks my answer and views thereon, and which I take pleasure in stating very briefly after going over them very carefully, and that they are in accord with the spirit of the times and I pledge myself if elected that I will lend by support to each and every article therein. I am

Very kindly,

Dear Sir:—

I have your favor of the 19th instant, calling attention to the fact that I have not replied to yours of the 3rd ultimo, and beg to state that the delay was due to my absence from the city. Since my return I have given the matter careful consideration and hereby pledge my support of the "Separate Resolutions" as embodied in the "Platform and Resolutions adopted by the Republican Party in convention assembled, May 1st, 1912, at Harrisburg."

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) HARRY L. HACKETT.

Rockwood, Pa., July 5, 1912.

M. H. G. Wasson.

My Dear Sir:—

I attended the State Convention and am acquainted with the contents of the State Republican Platform and endorse the entire platform heartily.

With reference to the Executive and Legislative Committees, I am in favor of them as long as they use their powers in an advisory and suggestive manner and do not become dictators to the Legislature.

Yours truly,
(Signed) CHAS. J. HEMMINGER, M. D.

Brandywine Summit, Pa., August 23, 1912.

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,

My Dear Mr. Wasson:—

Yours received and in reply would say I am heartily in accord with the platform laid down by the last Republican State Convention with the exception of the "Recall of Judiciary Decisions," and that I have not had time to carefully consider. This is a broad measure and requires careful thought.

I have always stood for progressive legislation, and have twice made my fight on these principles, and if elected, I will go to Harrisburg unpledged to any man or set of men.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) H. H. HEYBURN.

Hon. Henry G. Wasson,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

In compliance with your request as chairman of the Republican State Committee, relative to my position regarding the State Republican platform and the several pledges of the party with respect to legislation, I desire to state that the platform together with the additional resolutions are recognized by me as the official declaration of the will of the Republican party of the State of Pennsylvania and as such, the document receives my approval.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) A. J. HOBBS.

July 10, 1912.

Hon. Henry G. Wasson,
Chairman Republican State Committee,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

Your letter of the 3rd inst. containing copy of the Republican State Platform, and of the separate resolutions relative to specific legislation and the submission of the platform to each candidate for the House and Senate, together with your request for a statement from me of my position on the several pledges of the party with respect to legislation and particularly in regards to the items embraced in the resolution creating the Executive and Legislative Committee, received.

I have read the platform and other enclosures thoroughly and carefully, and I assure you that they each and all have my approval, and will receive my support if elected.

Without specifically naming them I affirm and endorse all the different pledges contained in the platform and in the separate resolutions referred to, but desire, however, to make the following statements in addition thereto:

The "Recall of judicial decisions" is such an entirely new departure from the accepted methods and machinery of our government that I believe it should be approached cautiously.

As this, to be accomplished, would require an amendment to our Constitution, which would give all the people several years to give the matter thorough study, I am willing to pledge myself to vote for the submission of the matter to the voters.

I am heartily in favor of that plank which states: "We pledge the party to a system of road building which shall insure to the agricultural districts their full share of the benefits. The State should apply its road appropriation to the dirt road as well as to the macadam, both in construction and maintenance. But only if that plank does not contemplate the introduction of legislation interfering with the general system of road making as contained in the act passed at the last session of the General Assembly, and known as the Sproul Act, which I regard as one of the greatest achievements of the Republican party in the State. I am in favor of legislation which would insure to the agricultural districts more help from the State for the construction and maintenence of dirt roads, and believe that it would be far better policy to spend fewer millions for the adornment of Harrisburg, and more for the improvement and up-keep of township roads.

Trusting that this is such a statement in full of my position in regard to the platform and resolutions as was requested, I am

Very truly yours,
(Signed) ROBT. S. FREY.

Lebanon, Pa., July 29th, 1912.

Hon. Henry G. Wasson,
State Chairman of Republican Party,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

Replying to your letter of the 3rd instant with reference to the Republican platform and the resolutions passed by the recent Republican State Convention, I, the Republican candidate for Senator in this senatorial district, beg to submit, that:

I cannot too strongly commend the resolution proposing the regulation of employers' liability and workmens' compensation, to the end that right and justice, as between employer and employe, should obtain and that a rightful compensation for honest injury should be provided and that part of the same resolution proposing regulating the employment of women and children, realizing, as all must, that the future of the country is in a large measure in the hands of the mothers and children and that their mental and physical well being and development must be encouraged and anything to their detriment must be discountenanced and prohibited.

I also feel strongly committed to the passage of stringent laws providing severe punishment for the swindling of the people by the sale of fraudulent stock and securities. Unscrupulous persons engaged in the work are human parasites, "They toil not neither do they spin," and they should be duly recognized as such by the law as well as by society.

I approve of the pledge of the party to build and improve roads and to provide for their maintenance, believing that much of our future development will be dependent upon making of means to easy communication and the bringing of our agricultural districts within convenient reach of the markets and the main avenues of travel.

I feel that the tariff should be revised that the duty will represent the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad, to the end that American labor may be protected against the encroachments of the products of cheap foreign labor, and at the same time that the consumer shall be protected from unfair and excessive cost of the comforts and the necessities of life.

I likewise am in thorough accord with the resolution favoring the extension of the direct primaries to all offices elected by the people and the expression of the Presidential preference; the regulation of the contribution and expenditure of money in any general or primary election, with limitation of amount and full and public accounting and audit, and the purging of elections from fraud, coercion and undue influence, together with penalties of imprisonment for willful violation of the election laws, the resolution favoring the conservation of our natural resources and the regulation of all public utilities by law; and the resolution favoring the liberal support of our public schools and charitable institutions, and looking to the economical and equitable distribution of the State's funds as well as the protection and care of the irresponsible and unfortunate.

I favor and will support legislation that will promote and protect the public health, and prevent the adulteration and misbranding of foods.

I believe in the enactment of laws to improve the government of cities, to the end that the same may be more efficient and more responsible to the people; also the modification and improvement of the tax laws and the system of the collection of city and county taxes.

Upon the question of the recall of judicial decisions I can but say that the doctrine is new to me and so little expression upon it has been voiced by our people, that I cannot see clearly where my duty might direct, but here again, as in other matters, I would feel it my duty to be governed by the interests of the people at large and the wishes of the people I represent.

I further favor legislation that has for its object the elevation and improvement of the working man and his family, that makes up the large substantial middle class that furnishes, not only the bone and sinew of the nation, but also sets the standard of our ideals and morals and of civilization and upon whom depends our national welfare; such legislation to include measures that will improve conditions and give him a healthful and comfortable home according to the American Standard and ideals, increase his earning capacity and consequently his wages, provide the best education possible for his children, also laws to eliminate unnecessary expense in reaching the consumer from the producer and thereby increase the purchasing power of his money and consequently reduce the high cost of living, and such other measures as will contribute to his general welfare that the number of those earning their own living may be increased and the numebr of indolent rich and the idle poor may be decreased, so they all may have the opportunity and incentive to earn a competent livelihood for themselves and for those dependent upon them.

As to the Executive Committee to represent the Republican party and any legislation suggested by it would receive my endorsement unless contrary to law, subversive to the interests of the people or contrary to the desires of my constituents.

Briefly, as a candidate upon the Republican ticket, nominated by the electors of the party of this district, I subscribe the platform adopted by the party's representative in a convention, as stated above, and I reaffirm my loyalty to the cardinal principles and doctrines of the Republican party.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) D. P. GERBERICH.

Washington, Pa., July 10, 1912.

Mr. H. G. Wasson,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

Your letter of recent date duly received enclosing platform and resolutions adopted by the Republican party in convention assembled May 1st, 1912, at Harrisburg. This convention was composed of delegates duly elected by the Republican voters of the State and therefore in a position to fully speak for the party they represented.

I unhesitatingly subscribe to the platform and if elected to the office of State Senate shall carry out the principles it sets forth to the best of my ability. As to the items in the separate resolutions I am fully in accord with these and will support the same unreservedly. The spirit of Progressiveism in the Republican party is not a mere fad but is a demand that the evils which have shown themselves to be at once corrected. Decided steps forward must be taken and a rule in the interests of the weak against the strong be completely established. I favor a "Government of the people, for the people, and by the people." The people should have a chance to show their choice by direct vote for the nomination of all candidates whether it be district, county or State. I might add right here I take credit to myself for being one of the first to raise my voice against the iniquitous conference system in our Senatorial and Congressional districts in the State.

There should be a comprehensive public utilities law, an employers' liability and workmens' compensation act.

Women and children in industry should be protected by law.

Public schools and public charities should have general support.

Pure food laws should be enacted so as to prevent fraud and deception.

The system of road building which shall insure the agricultural districts their full share of the benefits will fill a long felt want and will assist the farmer in marketing his supplies more cheaply and thus be of untold advantage to the wage earner as well as for the farmer.

The enactment of a law to stop the swindling of the people through the sale of stock bonds, and all securities in fraudulent corporations is badly needed and if in my power to do it would drive every such agency from the State.

Let the people rule through honest officials honestly chosen.

Trusting I have made my position plain, I am

Very truly yours,

(Signed) J. FRANK GRAFF.

Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

I desire to acknowledge receipt of your letter bearing date of July 3rd enclosing copy of the Republican State Platform together with separate resolutions relative to specific legislation and the position of the various candidates on these matters. Absence from home has prevented my having acknowledged receipt of it several days ago.

While I have not yet had opportunity to give the document sufficient study and thought to advise you fully at this time as to my opposition on the various pledges of the party with respect to legislation, I have read it through and can say that I regard them as the most progressive and promising that have been made in any state platform within my memory, practically all the main essentials of which I feel I can heartily endorse and quite a number of which I am already on record as having favored in the last Legislature. A little later after I have given more study to the various items covered in the platform will be glad to advise you more fully.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) RALPH GIBSON.

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,
Chairman Republican State Committee,
Frick Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

Replying to yours of recent date, asking me to subscribe to certain recommendations made by the last Republican State Convention, would say that during my career as a member of the House of Representatives from the 23rd legislative district it has always been my plan to abide entirely by the wishes of my constituents in that district.

Therefore if I am requested by the voters of the district in which I reside to vote for the measures enumerated in the above mentioned resolutions I shall be glad to conform to their wishes as I always have in the past.

Yours truly.

Henry G. Wasson, Esq.,
Chm. Repub. State Com.,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

Your letter of recent date in which you submit to me a copy of the "Platform and Resolutions" adopted by the Republican party in convention assembled May 1, 1912, is before me.

The provisions of the State platform, generally speaking, are exceptionally good and deserve hearty endorsement.

The resolution creating the Executive and Legislative Committees is also commendable and should have the support of all who favor such progressive legislation as will raise up to higher planes of living.

I am not now ready to unreservedly endorse the provision in the platform which contemplates a recall of judicial decisions. Pehaps this requirement were reached if legislation were enacted, that demands the other coordinate branches of our State Government to be more responsive to the wishes of the people in general.

Perhaps a modified form of the recall might have my approval.

Yours very respectfully,

Hon. Henry G. Wasson,
Republican State Chairman,
Philadelphia, Pa.

My Dear Chairman:

After carefully reading the Republican State Platform and Resolutions adopted at Harrisburg, May 1st, 1912, I have no hesitancy in giving them my most hearty approval.

I favor progressive legislation, and if again elected to the Senate of Pennsylvania, will support and vote for such bills as may be introduced to carry out the pledges of the platform adopted by the Republican State Convention, May 1st, 1912, including those bills recommended under the head of "Separate Resolutions," and now being prepared by a "special committee" appointed for that purpose.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) I. M. KURTZ.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 23, 1912.

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,
Chairman Republican State Committee.

Dear Sir:—

I was nominated as an Independent Progressive Republican.

I endorse the platform and resolutions.

If elected the proposed legislation will have my hearty approval and support.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Sir:—

I am for progressive legislation and it seems to me that if we wish to preserve the Republican party, we must have laws that are up-to-date and in keeping with the conditions that now confront us. The Platform and Resolutions of Convention, adopted at Harrisburg are to me, fair, and should be closely followed. I am

Respectfully,

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 30, 1912.

Hon. Henry G. Wasson,
Frick Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

My Dear Sir:—

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of yours of July 3rd, enclosing copy of the Pennsylvania Platform and Resolutions adopted by the Republican party in the convention of May 1st, 1912.

During my campaign for Republican nomination for the Legislature, I placed before the people of the Eighth Legislative District, a platform in entire harmony with the spirit of the convention in Harrisburg.

I have always favored progressive legislation, believing that through it alone, social and industrial justice could be secured.

I most heartily approve of this platform and assure you, that if elected, I shall do everything in my power to aid in the carrying out of the pledges, which it makes to the sovereign people of Pennsylvania.

Yours very respectfully,

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 24, 1912.

H. G. Wasson, Esq.,
Chairman Rep. State Com.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

In answer to your communication of July 3rd, 1912, in reference to my position as a candidate for the Assembly of Pennsylvania on the Republican State Platform and resolutions endorsing a legislative program.

Without going into detail, as to the proposed legislation, I am willing to subscribe to the program, and assist the Republican party in passing such laws as will meet with the approval of the Republican voters of this State and Nation.

I further want my position understood, that I am not making any promises to any individual or set of individuals to do anything of a personal character or favor, but only to my constituency and all the people of this State, and in no sense am I making any promise that will invalidate my election or deprive me from taking the oath of office should I be favored by election.

I have been on my vacation and delayed answering your communication until I consulted my colleague.

Yours respectfully,

(Signed) E. M. KENNA.

Reading, Pa., Aug. 23, 1912.

Hon. Henry G. Wasson,
329 S. Broad St., Phila., Pa.

Dear Sir:—

Replying to your letter with reference to my position as a legislative candidate respecting the Republican State platform, I will say that I am in full accord with the document and the emanations of the State Convention, and if elected to the Legislature, I shall feel it my duty to endeavor to have these principles enacted into laws.

With best wishes, I beg to remain

Very truly yours,

Mr. Henry G. Wasson, Chairman,
The Republican State Committee,
Frick Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

Yours of the 3rd inst., relative to the Republican State Platform and the several resolutions creating the Executive and Legislative Committees, received, and beg to state that I am heartily in accord with the declarations contained in said platform, and it will be my pleasure, if elected, in November, to co-operate with the Executive and Legislative Committees.

With kindest personal regards, I am

Very truly yours,

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 28, 1912.

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,
State Chairman.

Dear Sir:—

Your letter, also platform received, after reading it I can only say that I am in favor of all its provisions.

Being nominated on the progressive policy I certainly will abide by a progressive State Convention platform.

I will not take up too much of your busy time by a lengthy reply but can only say that if elected will do all in my power to advance the platform adopted by your convention.

Hoping that you will be successful this fall in your entire ticket, I am

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) OLLIE M. LETZKUS.

Fifth Legislative District, Allegheny Co.

Boswell, Pa., Aug. 10, 1912.

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,

My Dear Sir:—

In reply to yours of recent date would say that I most heartily endorse the platform of the Republican party of Pennsylvania, as adopted at the Harrisburg Convention of May 1, 1912.

Yours truly,
(Signed) ROBERT W. LOHR.

Greencastle, Pa., July 26, 1912.

Henry G. Wasson, Esq.,
Chairman Republican State Committee,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

My Dear Sir:—

In reply to your letter of recent date in which you ask me to state my position with respect to legislation in the present campaign will say, I favor progressive legislation. The resolution creating an Executive and Legislative Committee, is in my opinion a step in the right direction. Generally speaking will say that the Republican platform is satisfactory to me.

Having served in the Session of 1911 my record is before you and was endorsed by my constituents by giving me a renomination last April. It is my aim to serve the people of my county as well as the State as a whole to the best of my ability. I refer you to Hon. George E. Alter, of your county, who can tell you of my services to the State in the last Legislature. I have the honor to remain.

Respectfully yours,

Hon. Henry G. Wasson,
Frick Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

In reply to your letter as to my position in regard to the Republican State Platform, I am in favor of the platform in general, and I indorse the separate resolutions, and am heartily in accord with the appointment of an Executive and Legislative Committee, as I believe it will help to advance progressive legislation which in its benefit to the people at large will redound to the credit of the Republican party. I wish to add also that I would favor a pledge indorsing Woman Suffrage.

Very respectfully,
(Signed) FRANKLIN MARTIN.

Dear Sir:—

Yours of July 3rd, in reference to my position upon the platform of the Republican party of our State and the various resolutions passed by the convention of May 1st, at hand. I wish to assure you that I fully approve of the platform and the course of the convention and particularly the novation of the legislative committee. The various proposed bills set forth in the resolution fully and completely meet with my approval and will have my unqualified support should I be fortunate enough to be elected to the Senate of Pennsylvania. The same are in accord with my principles published over my own signature six months ago.

Yours very truly,

Hon. Henry G. Wasson,
Republican State Chairman,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

In answer to yours of July 3rd, would say that I agree with what has been done by the State Convention with the exception of where it comes in conflict with the platform of the National Convention.

The resolutions are worthy of the attention of any one making a study of political conditions of today.

I certainly agree, if elected to represent the Second District of Lehigh, to do all in my power to assist in the forming of laws in accordance with the sentiments expressed in the State platform.

Hoping the above proves satisfactory to you, I beg to remain,

Respectfully yours,

Dear Sir:—

I am in receipt of your letter of July 3rd asking me to define my position on the several pledges of the party with respect to legislation, etc.

I have read very carefully the platform and resolutions adopted by the Republican party in convention assembled, May 1, 1912, at Harrisburg. Allow me to say with all the emphasis possible that I most heartily endorse the platform and resolutions in their entirety, and I would consider it a privilege to support, as well as a pleasure, the same at the next session of the Legislature. I remain

Respectfully yours,

Dear Sir:—

In answer to your communication of recent date with regard to my position on the reform measures recommended in the platform and the resolutions of the Republican party, adopted by the State Convention, would say I heartily approve of the various measures suggested, and if elected, will aid in carrying out the recommendations in the platform as well as other important measures asked for by a large majority of our citizens.

And shall, if elected, bitterly oppose such measures as the grabbing of the State water rights so vitally important to the citizens of Forest and other counties.

Very respectfully,
(Signed) A. R. MECHLING.

Dear Sir:—

I purposely delayed answering your communication of July 30th, until I would consult with my colleague, E. M. Kenna, Esq., who has been away on his vacation during the past month. Personally, I endorse the Republican State Platform and Resolutions recommending a legislative program and should I be elected a member of the next General Assembly of Pennsylvania, I will aid the Republican Party and its leaders in passing laws that will strengthen the Party in this State and nation.

I trust this is satisfactory and regretting the delay, I remain

Dear Sir:—

I have your letter of the 3rd, at hand; and in regards to the "Platform and Resolutions" adopted by the Republican Party at Harrisburg, May 1st, desire to say that I am heartily in favor of both. I shall also give them my earnest support if re-elected to the Legislature, this fall.

Especially am I in favor of the Direct Primaries in Pennsylvania for the election of United States Senators, and the expression of the Presidential Preferences.

I also heartily endorse the Revision of the Tariff Downward and I am in favor of Improved Water Ways in Pennsylvania, as well as better Highways controlled by the State.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) A. S. MOULTHROP.

Philadelphia, August, 21, 1912.

Henry G. Wasson, Chairman,
Philadelphia, Pa..

My dear Sir:—

Answering your letter of August 19th, I am surprised to learn that my former letter did not reach you. I have again gone carefully over the Platform and Pledges and beg to repeat that I do not find anything therein to which I do not heartily subscribe, and further beg to say that I have for years been working for the ends claimed to be sought by the body which framed them.

I have one other thought in this connection and that is that the constituency which I shall represent "if elected" are the only people which I shall look for directions as to my public acts and when I receive from them what I believe to be an expression of their views in sufficient volume to be Representative, I shall be guided thereby.

To my mind the ideal way to arouse in the voters at large the necessary in affairs which so vitally concern them is for them to be made to feel that their representative is looking to them for an expression of their views and will give ear to them when properly presented.

Very truly yours,

Henry G. Wasson, Esq.,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

I am in receipt of your letter of the 3rd, inst., with enclosure. Replying thereto will say that, the platform and resolutions adopted by the representatives of the Republican party at Harrisburg meet with my sincere approval.

I have read and reread the same many times and I believe that it voices the true sentiment of the American people, and particularly the sentiment of the people of Pennsylvania.

The principles and sentiments—the living, vital issues—expressed in this platform, I have publically voiced throughout this county and on many occasions.

I sincerely and firmly believe in the ability and the right of the people to govern themselves; and by "the people" I mean All the People.

I unqualifiedly endorse and subscribe to the platform and in the event of my election to the State Legislature, I promise to use my vote and influence to further and procure the reforms therein advocated.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) T. J. McALLISTER.

Henry G. Wasson, State Chairman,
Frick Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

Your letter of the 3rd accompanied by a copy of the platform and resolutions adopted by the Republican party, May 1, 1912, is before me and has been examined with much interest. In response to your request that each candidate state his position in regard to the platform, you may quote me as follows:

I believe in a simple, short form of ballot, all on one sheet, and if possible I would avoid two elections, to wit: a primary and general election. I believe that our entire system of primary and general election laws are sadly in need of change. It should not be possible for members of one party to dictate the nominations of another party. The voter, if we retain both the primary and general election should be required upon registration to declare his choice of party, and at the primaries should not be permitted to cast any ballot other than that of the party chosen on registration. The present system at least in so far as its workings are concerned in the third class cities, is certainly wrong. I am not prepared to say at this time just what the remedy should be, but I am strongly progressive in the premises.

I favor the nomination by direct vote of all candidates for public office. I believe in the Presidential preference primary. I have long believed in the direct election of United States Senators, and am of the opinion that members of the Legislature should in this respect faithfully reflect the will of the people.

There should never be a repetition of the disgraceful scenes attending the session of 1899. There is considerable truth in the oft-heard statement that the United States Senate has become a "Millionaire Club." The Lorimer, Stephenson, and other scandals have shaken my faith in the present manner of choosing United States Senators.

I believe that the law regulating the purposes for which money may be contributed and spent in elections needs a general overhauling.

All willful violations of laws covering the elections should be made felonies, punishable by imprisonment. I favor the enactment of a comprehensive and effective Public Utilities law. The Minnesota law covering this subject seems to be a most excellent measure.

I believe in an employer's liability and workmens' compensation act. Women and children, in industrial work should be fully protected.

I am a humanitarian in all respects and believe that human rights should be preserved along with property rights.

I believe in a generous support for our public schools and public charities; in liberal appropriations for the promotion and protection of public health and for the purpose of combating tuberculosis.

I favor the creation of a commission or department for the distribution of the appropriations to our public institutions.

The Appropriations bill has too long been held up until the last days of the session and held as a club over members of the Legislature.

I believe the present system of distributing money to State institutions has ruined more than one honest Legislator, and has been the cause, more than any other single factor of bringing our Legislature into disrepute before the country.

I believe in a Pure Food Law that will give full protection and at the same time be fair to the producer as well as the consumer.

I am heartily in favor of good roads, and sincerely hope that nothing will prevent the accomplishment of a comprehensive system of good roads.

I am very much interested in Government by Commission for cities of the third class. I believe that the majority of the people in this city favor in a general way the commission form of government, and I hope that the session of 1913 will enable us to adopt such a form of municipal government.

I favor the enactment into law of the principles of excess condemnation, under proper restrictions.

We have a city planning expert at work here on comprehensive plan for beautifying our city and we need such a law, so drafted, however, as not to be confiscatory, or to give too great power.

I believe that the people in 1908 expected a downward revision of the tariff. I likewise regret that this pledge was not kept.

I firmly believe in the conservation of natural resources.

In a general way I favor the policies outlined in the first two paragraphs on page ten.

I do not believe as I now view the question, in the recall of judges and judicial decisions. To hold any other view, it appears to me, would be inconsistent and a direct violation of my oath as an attorney-at-law and an officer of the Court. I am heartily in favor of a law that will prevent the swindling of the people through the sale of stocks or bonds of fraudulent corporations. The proper Public Utilities law will effectually prevent this.

I heartily endorse the legislation recommended by the Republican platform with the exception of the "Recall" and, if elected, can and will cheerfully use my efforts and whatever ability I may posses to give legal effect thereto.

Thanking you for the opportunity of giving expression to my views on the legislation mentioned in our platform, I remain,

Yours truly,

(Signed) A. W. MITCHELL.

Dear Sir:—

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 3rd, inst., enclosing a copy of platform and resolutions adopted by the Republican party in convention assembled at Harrisburg May 1, 1912.

After reading the above mentioned platform and resolutions over, I would say that they will meet with my approval. I would have replied sooner, but was absent from home and the letter was mislaid.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) ROBERT K. MOORE.

Rep. candidate for the Legislature from Juniata County.

Allentown, Pa., Aug. 9, 1912.

Hon. Henry G. Wasson,
Republican State Chairman,
Frick Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication bearing date the third day of July submitting the State platform to me and requesting my position thereon.

After a thorough persual of the case, I wish to state that I subscribe to the state platform, except in so far as it has been overruled by implication by the national platform. I am not prepared to say that I favor the recall of judicial decisions; but would favor legislation tending to make all men in office more responsible to the people.

I heartily favor each of the several classes of legislation, contained on pages 13 and 14 of the pamphlet, which will be presented to the next Legislature for the purpose of carrying out the party pledges. And should I be elected, I would lend my support in that direction.

I believe most sincerely that the people should rule and any legislation which comes to accomplish that end attunes with all that I can conceive of as good and wholesome in government.

Trusting that I have made my position clear, I beg to remain,

Most respectfully yours,

(Signed) WARREN K. MILLER,

Candidate for Representative in the General Assembly, 1st District, Lehigh County.

July 10, 1912.

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

After careful reading and due consideration of the copy of the Republican State platform and resolutions adopted by the State Convention of the Republican party in Harrisburg, May 1, 1912, submitted by you, I am glad to assure you I favor both the platform and the resolutions and if elected to the Senate from the forty-fifth district, I will strive to have enacted the legislation the convention declared for.

Am further glad to state that during my candidacy for the Republican nomination preceding the primary election, April 13 last, I stood on a platform embracing practically the same legislation the State Convention had endorsed and with complete consistency again declare my intention to favor such proposed legislation should I be elected to the Senate during the general election in November.

Sincerely,

(Signed) JOHN P. MOORE.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., Aug. 12, 1912.

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,
Chairman Republican State Committee,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

Your letter of July 3rd, enclosing copy of the Republican State platform, together with copies of the separate resolutions, carefully considered before giving answer.

While I endorse thoroughly the general provisions of the platform, as well as the separate resolutions, I want to say that the propositions contemplating a recall of judicial decisions should be carefully considered before action is taken.

I am in favor of making the legislative and executive power of the State more responsive to the will of the people.

If re-elected my action will be governed accordingly as I believe the platform and resolutions are in line with progressive ideas, and cover demands of the people at the present time.

Respectfully yours,

(Signed) GEORGE C. IRVIN.

Dear Sir:—

In reply to your letter of recent date, relative to my position regarding the platform and resolutions adopted at Harrisburg, May 1st, 1912, beg to inform you that I have given the same careful consideration and they meet with my hearty approval.

I favor progressive legislation, and if elected a member of the General Assembly, will support and vote for such bills as may be introduced to carry out the pledges of the platform adopted by the Republican State Convention, May 1st, 1912, including those bills recommended under the head of "Separate Resolutions" and now being prepared by a "Special Committee" appointed for that purpose.

Yours very truly,

Dear Sir:—

Your letter of the 6th inst., received and in reply would say that as the Republican candidate for the Legislature from the Third Legislature District of Allegheny county, I am making my campaign for election standing squarely on the Republican State platform, as adopted by the convention at Harrisburg on May 1st, 1912.

I heartly endorse the principles of the Republican party as expressed in the State platform and if elected will use my best efforts to secure the enactment of legislation that will put effective laws on our stature books to correct the defects in our social and economic conditions, and work the much needed reforms which the platform promises, and I will particularly endeavor to secure the enactment of laws which I believe will carry into effect the pledges of the party as set forth in the schedule contained in the separate resolution creating the Executive and Legislative Committee.

Yours very truly,

Dear Sir:—

Yours of the 3rd inst., with copy of the State Platform etc., enclosed, at hand and as I have been very busy for some little time, hence my neglect to answer same.

In regard to platform and resolutions as adopted by the Republican convention at Harrisburg, May 1st, 1912, I will say that I most heartily endorse this platform in its entirety and shall make my campaign on that platform.

Trusting this is entirely satisfactory and that I will be able to keep in touch with you during the coming political strife, I am,

Very truly yours,

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,
State Chairman.

My Dear Sir:—

In reply to your letter of recent date, asking my position on the platform adopted by the Republican State Convention and more particular to the several pledges of the party with respect to legislation, after some study I think the Committee referred to would be a good thing and the different bills mentioned would be very popular in any district. This kind of legislation meets with my approval, I would not hestitate to support any of the bills mentioned if they are prepared to suit the demands of the people.

I can refer you to my record in the last session of Legislature and I think that ought to be sufficient proof of the position I will take on the bills of this kind.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:—

After a careful perusal of the pamphlet containing platform and resolutions of the Republican party adopted by the convention held at Harrisburg, May 1st, 1912, I place myself on record as being in hearty accord with its every plank and especially with the fourth and fifth resolutions for which I have already publically placed myself on record during the past session of the Legislature.

Hoping that my candidacy will appeal to those who are in favor of the convention platform, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,

My Dear Sir:—

In reply to your letter relative to my position regarding the several pledges of the Republican party of Pennsylvania, as stated in its recently adopted platform, permit me to advise you, that as a Republican, soliciting Republican support for a State office, I certainly will support the pledges and resolutions of said platform.

I will do this, not only because I feel morally bound to do so, but because my own notions of Government and legislation are in accord with the progressive ideas as set forth in said platform and resolutions.

Very sincerely yours,

Henry G. Wasson, Esq., Chairman,
Republican State Committee,
329 S. Broad St., Phila.

My Dear Sir:—

Your letter of recent date received, relative to my attitude towards the platform adopted by the Republican State Convention at Harrisburg. I was unanimously nominated by the Republicans of the 1st Senatorial District, and if re-elected I will be in hearty accord with many of the progressive planks contained in the platform. Some of the planks, however, I will be absolutely opposed to.

I was successful in having passed an appropriation of $450,000.00 for the deepening of the Delaware River, and improvement of the port, at the last session, which amount I hope to have increased at the coming session. I shall continue my efforts to keep the Public Schools out of politics. I will favor legislation compelling full weight and measure on all food stuffs placed on sale, with the idea of decreasing the high cost of living. I shall advocate legislation for an additional judge to be added in each of the five Common Pleas Courts, in order to prevent delay in all court matters, and to give litigants a speedy adjustment of their cases.

In other words, I submit my candidacy and my record as a State Senator to the voters living in the district, and to them only. There never was, and never will be a time when I will not govern my actions in accordance with their wishes.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) EDWIN H. VARE.

Dear Sir:—

Replying to your favor of the 3rd inst., in relation to my position as a candidate for member of the General Assembly from Tioga county, I beg to state.

That I heartily approve of the platform and pledges therein made for progressive legislation as a whole.

Many of the things therein set forth in the line of legislation, I have worked for in the past two sessions of the Legislature. The only proposition that I am in doubt about is the "Recall of Judicial Decisions in Constitutionad questions."

However, I am and always have been in favor of the people ruling and in order to inaugurate such a change in legislative matters, an amendment of the constitution of the State would be necessary and I would be in favor of submitting such a proposed amendment to the people for the matter to be thoroughly discussed and voted upon.

Yours very truly,

Dear Sir:—

I received your letter of July with copy of State platform and resolutions and have been going over them when not otherwise engaged, and have about completed and feel perfectly able to support them. Of course, there are some (I might say not very many, however) items which I would like a little more explanation upon, but as a whole, I can very gladly subscribe to. I have always been for anything in the Republican party that would better conditions. If you would desire that I should go into the matter any more elaborate, let me know.

My Dear Mr. Wasson:—

In reply to your favor of the 17th, I have been away on my vacation and have neglected many things which should have been attended to.

In regard to the Republican State Platform, I heartily indorse the platform adopted at the Republican State Convention and stand ready to support same. I was nominated on a progressive platform and have no reason to change my mind. We are living in a progressive age and one which bids fair to go down as a revolution in the history of American politics. One who has the welfare of the rising generation at heart could not help using and indorsing progressive methods, such as the Republican State Platform is found on. I thank you very kindly for the interest you have taken and hope you will pardon the delay in answering.

Any favors you may ask in the future will be cheerfully granted.

With best wishes, I am,
Yours very truly,

Dear Sir:—

In pursuance of the resolution adopted by the State Convention requiring the State Committee to ascertain the stand or opinion of candidates for the State Legislature in regard to adopted platform pledges, I hereby inform you and said committee that I heartily favor the platform adopted and believe that the legislature therein declared for would be most beneficial to the State; and, if elected, I unhesitatingly will support such legislation.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed) H. H. REDFIELD.

Duquesne, Pa., July 31, 1912.

Hon. H. G. Wasson,
State Chairman,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

Acknowledging receipt of your letter of inquiry and replying thereto, will say:

I heartily endorse the State Platform and am in favor of enacting into law the several matters proposed therein, as I believe that each will be a signal and lasting benefit to the people of my district and of the State.

I believe the demand of the times is for a progressive and a forward movement which must come through such legislation as will at once and directly effect the wage earner.

An examination of my legislative record, during the past two sessions will show that I have at all times, favored such proposed legislation as has been beneficial to my constituents and have opposed such as I felt would, in any measure, limit their rights or abridge their privileges.

My future actions will be guided by the voice of the people whom I shall represent and they have announced their policies in our party platform, to which I most readily subscribe and with which I am most heartily in accord.

I am particularly in favor of the seven proposed acts upon which our platform is builded, and during my recent campaign, I advocated to the Republicans in my district the adoption of every one of said principles and other measures which will benefit our people, our State and our party.

I most cordially endorse and subscribe to legislation leaving to the people the nomination and the election of all officers, whether National, State, County or otherwise; the purifications of the ballot by the most stringent election laws; a bill which will define, in positive terms, the rights and duties of all public utility companies; a law that will fix the liability of the employer and establish the rights of the employee; a law that will prohibit and severely penalize the sale of worthless stocks; and especially a law establishing a Department of Charities, which I have tried for the past two sessions to have enacted, and which will be the means of distributing State funds among worthy institutions and, at the same time will save the State tens of thousands of dollars.

My past record shows my fealty and loyalty to my constituents, and in the future, their wish will be my guide in official trust.

Yours very respectfully,

Chambersburg, Pa., July 22, 1912.

Henry G. Wasson,
Chairman Rep. State Comm.,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

I feel that I should have replied to your recent favor before this, but as the two great political parties were making history I preferred to wait. I have been an active Republican voter for thirty years and have been owner and editor of two Republican newspapers in which I gave earnest support to the nominees of my party. I love the Republican party and have always worked hard to nominate men for whom the party did not have to apologize afterwards.

I was nominated for the Assembly by the Republicans of Franklin county on April 13, 1912, (long before the State Convention) without regard to factional strife. My platform is so well known and approved that I believe I will get many votes from opposing parties. If elected, I propose to represent the citizens of my county to the very best of my ability. Common justice demands that I should not subordinate the interests of the taxpayers of my county and State to the advantage of any candidate for State or National office, in order that some alleged "boss" may peddle out the "pap" to heelers and faithful ones. While I am a staunch Republican, I am known as a progressive man, ever ready to do my part to better mankind in other ways than political.

As to the platform adopted by the late Republican Convention which nominated men for State offices, whose names seem to be carried by every Republican newspaper in the State, I may say without going into detail, that I approve of much of it, but there are features on which I need some light, and being always a student, I will give close attention to unselfish and honest teachers. Of course, sensible men know that platforms are party written to catch votes and are never fully carried out, always being subject to conditions which may arise from time to time as they should be.

The political signs in my county now indicate that I will have, as my party fealty deserves, the almost united support of the Republicans, irrespective of any division on National and State candidates. I trust that considering the unfortunate mix-up in the Presidential race, you will deem this a fair and sufficient reply to your questions. With kind regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) JOHN M. RUNK.

Pottsville, Pa., Aug. 14, 1912.

Henry G. Wasson, Esq.,
Chairman of the Republican State Committee,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

My Dear Sir:—

Your letter dated July 3rd, 1912, enclosing a copy of the Republican State Platform together with a copy of the resolutions adopted by the Republican State Convention received. I have studied the platform and regard its declaration of principles and its advocacy of proposed legislative enactments as an earnest desire on the part of the Republican party of this State to meet the problems of our present day social life. Changed conditions in our economic and industrial spheres of life changed conceptions of political theory and the functions of government make necessary the amendment of existing laws and the enactment of new legislation to conform with such changed conditions and to meet the need of our present social life.

The creation of a legislative and executive committee empowered to draft bills embodying the principles set forth in the platform and directed to represent the sovereign will of the Republican electorate of the State in the advocacy of such bills before the legislative and executive departments of the State government is a pledge to the people of the Commonwealth that the platform is not a makeshift to secure votes and that its declarations are not "sounding brass and tinkling cymbals." To the declarations of principles and to this effort to solve the problems confronting us at this time by the enactment of legislation adapted to this end I give my support.

You ask me "to fully advise" you of my position on the several pledges of the Republican party "with respect to legislation, and particularly so regarding the items embraced in the resolution creating the Executive and Legislative Committee."

The Executive and Legislative Committee referred to is authorized and directed to draft bills on certain subjects in accordance with the pledges of the platform, which subjects are set forth in detail in the resolution creating such committee.

The first item is as follows: "A bill for the extension of the direct primaries to all officers elected by the people, including United States Senators, and the expression of the Presidential preferences."

I favor legislation providing for such extension for the direct primaries. Having the right and power under existing law to elect the officer, the people should not be confined in such election to a choice of candidates in whose selections they have had no direct voice. If the people have the capacity to pass upon the qualifications and platform of the candidates when electing him they surely have the capacity as members of a political party to pass directly upon the qualifications of a candidate for the nomination of that party.

I favor the election of United States Senators directly by the people. The people of a State are, in my judgment fully competent to make such selection. I am opposed to the present system of electing United States Senators by the General Assembly of the State. A legislative body should not be an electoral body except for the selection of its own officers. Time and again under the present system men are chosen members of the General Assembly because of their choice for a United States Senator and without regard for their ability and fitness to fill a legislative office. As to the Presidential preference I can see no valid reason why the members of a political party are not as fully competent to pass directly upon the candidacy of a man for the nomination of his party as to pass upon his fitness for the office after his nomination.

The second item is as follows: "A bill defining by whom and the purpose for which money may be contributed or spent in any general or primary election, limiting the total expenditure and requiring full accounting at public audit, and such amendments to the election laws as shall guarantee the freedom of said elections from fraud, coercion and undue influence."

I favor legislation requiring strict accounting of money used in elections and primaries. I favor a litigation of the total expenditures for such purposes. The present law does not limit the amount to be expended. It merely specified the purpose of which the money may be expended and the parties who shall be competent to expend the same and make the proper accounting.

The present law should be amended so as to be made to comply with the intent of the second item or be repealed and a new law enacted. Elections should be free from fraud, coercion and undue influence. Wherein the present laws are deficient in this respect they should be amended or new legislation enacted to insure free and honest elections.

The third item is as follows: "A bill making a wilful violation of any or all laws governing elections a felony, punishable by imprisonment." Wilful violation of laws governing elections whereby the will of the people in making choice of public officers and determining public policies is defeated is a crime akin to treason. Wherein our present laws are ineffectively to keep pure the ballot they should be amended or new laws enacted.

The fourth item is as follows: "A comprehensive and effective public utilities law." A comprehensive and effective public utilities law should be enacted. Dealing in what are known as public utilities upon which an entire community is oftimes dependent, all such individuals, companies or corporations should be subject to State supervision and control to the end that the community may be equitable served and at the same time justice and fair dealing be given the individuals, companies or corporations engaged in such business.

The fifth item is as follows. "A fair employers' liability and workmens' compensation act, and regulating the employment of women and children." I favor the passage of such an act. Compensation for accidental injury received by a workman in the usual course of his employment, and especially in those cases where the employment is by its nature extra hazardous and should be based upon the fact that such injury and not upon the fact of fault. The burden of such compensation should fall upon the employment in which such workmen is engaged in and not upon him who can least sustain it. Without whose services such employment and business can not be conducted, and who is least able to survive such injuries are incident to his employment.

The regulation of the employment of women and children should receive the special attention of the General Assembly to the end that their health, safety and advancement may be safeguarded.

The sixth item is as follows: "A law to stop the swindling of the people through the sale of stocks in fraudulent corporations." Any legislation which will protect the public from the effects of fraud meets with my approval.

The seventh item is as follows: "A law creating the Department of Public Charities, with full control, in order that the State's appropriations may be equitable and economically distributed and institutions receiving State aid may always be open to the unfortunate." The State appropriates millions to the institutions for the relief of the sick, the needy and the afflicted. The distribution of public funds to such institutions should be equitably and economically made to the end that the money may accomplish the purposes for which it is appropriated.

No institution should receive State aid which is not always open to the unfortunate. I believe that the creation of a Department of Public Charities with proper control over the appropriations and the institutions for which such appropriations are made is a thing to be desired in this State.

From the foregoing it is apparent that I favor the principles embodied in the several items of proposed legislation embraced in the resolution creating the executive and legislative committee and the aims of such proposed legislation. While this is true, I do not mean to say that, if elected, I shall give my support to any and every measure which shall deal with these subjects. I reserve my right of judgment to pass upon the question as to whether or not the proposed bills will attain the ends intended and desired.

As to the declarations of the State Platform for the application of the principle of what is known as the "recall of judicial decisions" in the restricted cases therein set forth I have this to say: The declaration of the platform as I understand them, mean, that in certain specified cases coming under the head of what is known as the police power of the State, when Supreme Court of the State had declared a particular set of the State Legislature, classed among the cases specified unconstitutional, in such event the question as to whether or not such decision of the Court in the particular case shall be accepted as the true interpretation of the State constitution and as the laws of the State shall be submitted to the people for their determination by means of the ballot. This, should the people thus overrule the decision of the Court and declare the act constitutional, would be in effect an amendment of the State Constitution as interpreted by the Court in the particular case.

Let us consider for a moment our constitutional theory of government and the principles upon which it is based. The constitution making power is vested in the people. All sovereignty is in them. The Constitution is an enactment by the people themselves. It has been defined to be "The body of rules and maxims in accordance with which the powers of sovereignty are habitually exercised." No change in the existing constitution can be made except by the direct sanction of the people given in a referendum vote upon the proposed change. Under the constitution so enacted it is declared in Article 5, Section 1, as follows: "The judicial power of this Commonwealth shall be vested in a Supreme Court, in courts of Common Pleas, courts of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery, courts of quarter sessions of the peace, Orphans' Courts, Magistrates' Courts, and in such other courts as the General Assembly may from time to time establish." The judicial power so vested in the courts has been declared to extend to conferring authority upon the courts to decide upon the constitutionality of an act of the State Legislature. This is the accepted law of the State and is recognized by the platform declarations above referred to. When, therefore, the Supreme Court of the State upon a purely State question had declared an act of the State Legislature unconstitutional there is no appeal to a higher judicial tribunal. Should legislation thus declared unconstitutional be desired the remedy is by the amendment of the constitution or the adoption of a new constitution; proceedings which in either case can be made effective and become the law only when the people have given their sanction to such proposed changes by means of their direct vote. This is an express recognition of the fact that sovereignty is in the people and that they are the constitutional making power.

Any act of the Legislature making provisions for the enforcement of the principle of the recall of judicial decisions as contemplated by the platform declarations would thus provide a tribunal for the interpretation of the Constitution and a method for its amendment other than that provided by the Constitution itself and would therefore be unconstitutional. I am of the opinion that no such act of the Legislature could be enacted which would be constitutional without a prior amendment of the Constitution making provision for such legislation. Such proposed legislation would have to be submitted to the people for their approval and sanction by means of a referendum vote. I favor the submission of such proposed amendment to the people of this Commonwealth for their consideration and determination. It is for them to say whether or not they desire such change in their present constitutional system. The people under our theory of government are the constitution making power and it is their right and province to pass upon this question.

A man's political faith is an index of the spirit in which he will approach any political issue upon which he is to pass judgment and in accordance with which he will act. This being true, it is of the first importance that a man's fundamental political faith be known and understood.

At this time particularly are fundamental political principles and beliefs and subject of debate. More and more are moral issues becoming the subject of political discussions. As never before is the question being asked, "Is it right?" "Is it honest?" It is with this thought in mind that I wish to state my fundamental political faith.

The true end of government in the welfare and happiness of the people. The welfare of the whole people is the only justification for the existence of any government, whatever its form, and the enactment of any legislation, whatever its purpose. In the furtherance of this and the primary function of government is the protection of persons and property. The true worth of property is proportioned to the degree in which it is of service to man. It therefore follows that the rights of men are superior to those of property and that in any conflict between human rights and property rights human rights should receive the first and highest consideration.

No government is justified in its existence except upon the principle that it is administered in the interest of the governed and that its form is best adopted to secure such administration. A government, whatever its form, which is administered in the interest of the governor, whether such governor be a single individual or a class, is without any moral basis for its existence. A democratic form of government, in my judgment is best adapted for an administration in the interest of the whole people for the reason that in such form of government the people themselves have a direct voice in the selection of those who administer it.

To my mind there is no better definition of democracy than the definition given by Abraham Lincoln. "Government of the people, by the people, and for the people." It is a government of the people indicating its source as a form of government: "by the people" marking out those who are to be its administrators; "for the people" determining those in whose interest it is to be administered. This is the ideal of government. Here the interest of the governor and governed is one.

I believe the American people have the capacity for complete self-government. Our history in the one hundred and twenty-five years which have passed since the framing of this government fully justifies this belief. The American nation today as for years, carries the hopes of the human race.

Every set of corruption every deed of wrongdoing in our national life affects not only ourselves, but brings sorrow and despair to those throughout the world, who, striving for the uplift of humanity, look to us as their one hope of a realizable ideal. Upon us as a nation and as individuals rests the great duty of demonstrating to the world that this nation "conceived" as Lincoln said, "in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created free and equal" can endure and that "the government of the people by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

Yours very truly,

My Dear Sir:—

Yours of recent date with the platform and resolutions adopted by the Republican party on May 1st, 1912, received. Thanks. I have given this new platform and also the resolutions much thought and study, and I find nothing in its or them that does not meet with my hearty approval and endorsement.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,
Chairman Republican State Committee,
Frick Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

I am in receipt of your letter together with the platform and resolutions adopted by the Republican party in convention at Harrisburg, May 1, 1912.

I most certainly am a Progressive Republican, and regret the action of the Chicago Convention. I think, it most unfortunate that that convention could not have been more progressive and nominated a more progressive candidate for President. I do not think that either Mr. Taft nor Mr. Roosevelt should have been nominated but rather a strong, able, and progressive candidate like Governor Hadley or Senator Cummins, who could have united the party and led it to victory. I believe the Republican party is greater than any individual in it.

I can thoroughly endorse the underlying principle of the Harrisburg platform, namely, the right of the people to rule, for I have implicit faith in the ability of the people to govern themselves in my legislative career have always tried to represent the sentiment and wishes of my constituents, feeling that I was merely their representative to carry out their will. I can endorse most of the policies set forth in the Harrisburg platform but am not quite ready to accept the Recall of Judges or of Judicial Decisions. This may be a right policy but I have not yet been able to convince myself of it but on that or any other measures, I am open to conviction.

I have never yet pledged myself specifically, to any bill previous to knowing the exact contents of that bill; and neither would I care to do so now, for I must reserve that right to myself, to help frame such legislation in accordance with my own views.

In other word, I cannot pledge my vote for any specific measure on any subject no matter how much I may favor the policy, until the act itself is before me to pass upon. The men who might draw such an act, perhaps would have an entirely different way of obtaining the results, from what I would have myself. I most certainly must retain my independence to act for what I think is best at the time of passage of any such act.

There are very many most excellent policies indicated in our platform and I most certainly want to do all I can to fulfill our pledges to the people. There are some other policies, which are not mentioned by resolution in the platform, which I deem just as important and just as progressive as the ones specifically mentioned and for which I shall be active if elected to the Legislature.

I think it perfectly proper for the people to know what their candidates stand for, and am very glad to make answer to your letter, and hope the next Legislature will bear fruit in the production of a great deal of legislation which will benefit the conditions of the great mass of our citizens throughout the State.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:—

Your letter received in regard to the attitude of the candidates on the Republican Platform.

I am heartily in favor of all the legislation advocated in said platform and would do all in my power to have them enacted into laws.

Very truly yours,

My Dear Mr. Wasson:—

I am in receipt of a letter from my good friend, George E. Alter, whom I consider the ablest member of the House of Representatives and whom I would like to see the next Speaker. In this letter, he explains his views on the plank in our State platform regarding "Judicial Decisions."

If his interpretation of this plank is the one intended to be put into legislation, I can endorse it. As for the other planks in the platform and resolutions, I think I made myself plainly in favor of them in my former letter.

If elected to membership in the next House of Representatives, I shall deem it an honor to assist what I can in the enactment of these constructive measures.

Very truly yours,

Hon. H. G. Wasson,
Chairman Republican State Committee,

My Dear Sir:—

Replying to your favor of recent date with enclosures I state:

First, if elected a member of the Legislature from Chester county, I will give my support to properly drawn bills on the subject embodied in the resolution creating the Executive and Legislature Committee.

Second, I regard the Republican State Platform as the expression of the Republican party in Pennsylvania, in convention duly assembled.

Third, I recognize my allegiance to the citizenship of Chester county alone, and appreciate that if elected a member of the House of Representatives, I am simply sent there in a representative capacity to carry out the will of the majority of the electorate who have given me their support and will carry out the wishes of the said majority to the fullest extent of my ability.

Yours truly,

Hon. Henry G. Wasson, Chairman,
Republican State Committee,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

My Dear Mr. Chairman:—

Replying to your letter of July 3rd, I would state that I have carefully read the Republican State Platform with the resolutions attached thereto, creating the executive and legislative committee.

I have no objection to the appointment of this committee and should I be elected to the House of Representatives I will give to the bills prepared by such committee, my hearty support, if they were drawn to conform to the views of the majority of the people who elected me to that office.

I realize that the Republican State Platform was adopted by a majority of the regularly elected delegates to the Republican State Convention, and I am a believer of following the will of the majority in every instance.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:—

In reply to your official request, allow me to say that I can meet requirements of the Pennsylvania committee in convention assembled in Chicago, with reference to the Republican candidates for the Legislature, inasmuch as I shall not antagonize the candidacy of Colonel Roosevelt for the Presidency.

Referring to the Republican Platform of Pennsylvania, so far as I understand it, I am in accord with that also. With reference to the proposed legislation as suggested, I shall favor all legislation favorable to the betterment of Pennsylvania citizens, being governed at all times by the interest of my constituents, hoping to retain their respect without losing my manhood. As a legislator I hope to represent the people, as a man I want to represent myself.

With the above end in view, I made the nomination thus I hope to make the election. Personally, it seems inadvisable to go on record for a certain enactment, the provision of which you are uninformed, never knowing the form of "Ruler" that may be placed upon it.

Allow me to say, that I am not writing for publication, am endeavoring to satisfy you of my position.

You can consult with the officials of the two parties in this county and learn more of me. Shall be pleased to hear from you.

With kindest personal regard, I remain,

Very truly yours,

(Signed) J. H. PEACHEY.

Pottsville, Pa., July 24, 1912.

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,
Chairman Republican State Committee,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

My Dear Sir:—

In answer to yours of the 3rd inst., I agree if elected to the Senate of the State of Pennsylvania, from the 29th Senatorial District embracing the County of Schuylkill, to vote to fulfill "the several pledges of the party with respect to legislation, and particularly so regarding the items embraced in the resolutions creating the Executive and Legislative Committee," to wit:

First. I voted for this proposed measure in the Legislature in 1907 under the name of the "McCord Bill" minus the expression of "Presidential preference," to which I agree.

Second. In every Legislature of which I have been a member, I voted for bills governing all elections as presented by the several reform associations of the State, and therefore agree to any measure that will improve the present system.

Third. If I mistake not, a bill like this had been proposed in the Legislature, of which I was a member, and I voted for the same, whether in committee or on the floor, hence I agree to this proposition.

Fourth. I approve of this section, and believe it would be made as comprehensive in consent by the people and for the benefit of the common interests as much as possible.

Fifth. In the Session of 1907 I voted for the "Casey Liability Bill" and in the last session of the Legislature I voted for a commission to provide and propose a bill which will answer the needs of the workingmen and as desired by all fair citizens, hence I consent to this section.

Sixth. I proposed a bill in the last session of the Legislautre, fashioned after the Kansas bill, on this subject, hence I consent to this section.

Seventh. I will gladly vote for an adequate measure as proposed.

Having been nominated by 7,000 Republicans of Schuylkill county who voted for me, although I had no opposition, and being a candidate on the Republican ticket, I accept its platform.

My record in the Legislature upon all questions regarding the government of municipalities has been in favor of the most progressive proposed, and my attitude regarding advanced legislation can be confirmed upon inquiry to any of the associations interested.

At your service, believe me,

Yours very truly,

(Signed) CHAS. A. SNYDER.

Senate of Pennsylvania, July 24, 1912.

Hon. Henry G. Wasson,
Frick Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa.

My Dear Sir:—

In reply to your last letter submitting to me copies of the Republican State Platform, together with copies of the separate resolutions relative to specific legislation, I have to say that I endorse thoroughly the general provisions of the State platform and can answer in the affirmative the categorical interrogations respecting legislation.

I am favorable to the progressive legislation along the line suggested in the seven propositions advanced in the platform, and believe that the appointment of a representative committee to further the passage of this legislation is commendable, and that it will be a benefit to the Republican party in Pennsylvania.

I am not prepared to say that I endorse the specific proposition contemplating a recall of judicial decisions but I do believe in making the legislative and executive power of the State more readily responsive to the popular will. This should do away with any necessity for the submission of court decision to popular revision and would, I believe, reach the same result without endangering the stability of our laws.

Along the lines of providing for social justice and a broadening of the powers of the State and its municipal subdivisions in ameliorating the conditions surrounding our working people and in caring for our unfortunates, I will go a step in advance of any declaration of the State platform and would give the people throughout their Commonwealth and municipal governments full facilities for raising the standards of morals and of living in Pennsylvania.

I am enthusiastically in favor of a great constructive and uplifting era in our Commonwealth's affairs.

Very truly yours,

Monessen, Pa., July 6, 1912.

Mr. Henry G. Wasson,
State Chairman,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

In reply to your letter of the 3rd inst., I wish to say that I should consider myself a very poor Republican if I would not give my full support to an entire platform framed by a majority of the delegates of the party in convention. I believe there is nothing in our State platform this year, or in the appended resolutions that a vast majority of the people of the Second Legislative District of Westmoreland county do not heartily approve.

Since our county and my district have expressed themselves in accord with the principles of the recent State Republican convention and I was the one of three nominees for Assembly who led the ticket by several hundred votes. I can say without any reservations, there is nothing in the program of legislation suggested by your communication that I cannot heartily endorse.

I wish to say further, that I shall give my best efforts, if elected, to have all the specific legislation named in the platform and resolutions of the State Republican Convention enacted into law and placed upon our statute books in the session of 1913.

Thanking you for your consideration of the candidates regularly nominated on the ticket for including myself, and wishing you success with the campaign as State Chairman, I am,

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) C. L. SCHUCK.

Lewisburg, Pa., July 9, 1912.

Hon. Henry G. Wasson,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

I have your letter of the 3rd inst., also a copy of the platform and resolutions adopted by the Republican party at Harrisburg, May 1st, 1912.

I am in hearty sympathy with the progressive principles as set forth in the Republican Platform as well as the creation of the Legislative and Executive Committee. A platform is of no value unless its principles are carried out, and since it is the work of the Legislative and Executive Committee to see that the party pledges are kept, I certainly approve the establishment of this committee.

I am particularly well pleased with that part of the platform that advocates direct elections and short ballot. Power should be kept as close to the people as possible, for the more it is kept in their control, the more responsive it will be to their will.

Hoping this will fully explain my attitude towards the politics proclaimed by the platform of our party, I am

Very truly yours,

My Dear Sir:—

In compliance with your request as to my standing to the Republican Platform and with request to legislation:

First, I endorse the platform. Second, the resolutions as to the seven objects, also the appointment of an Executive Committee of nine to draft bills, but to serve only a term of two years, or for each session of the Legislature.

Dear Sir:—

Your letter of the 17th inst., to hand and contents read. In reply will state that if I am elected as a member of the House of Representatives from Northumberland county that I will support and vote for all legislation introduced as pledged in the State Republican Platform. I will support a measure that United States Senators shall be elected by the choice of the people, a workmen's compensation act, nomination of Presidents by popular vote, a minimum wage scale for women, and in fact all acts introduced by reason of the Republican platform pledges.

Very truly yours,

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 20, 1912.

Henry G. Wasson. Esq.,
Chairman State Republican Committee.

My dear Mr. Wasson:—

Yours of July 3rd enclosing Republican State Platform and resolutions together with your letter of August 16th to hand. I was out of this city on my vacation and just got back yesterday, which accounts for my delay in answering.

Replying will say that I take great pleasure in expressing my fullest approval of the Republican platform and herewith pledge my full and hearty support for all the resolutions set forth therein. You may depend upon it that I shall use my best efforts towards securing the enactment of such laws as may be needed to carry out the full purpose of the platform and resolutions.

Yours very respectfully,

Henry G. Wasson,
State Chairman,

Dear Sir:—

In answer to yours of the 3rd inst., would say that I was elected on the Progressive Platform at the Republican primaries held on April 13th.

I am free to say that the platform and resolutions of the Republican Party Convention, held May 1, 1912, is satisfactory to me.

Enclosed you will find my platform on which I received the nomination.

Very Respectfully,

August 24, 1912.

Henry G. Wasson,
State Chairman of the Penna. Rep. Com.,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:—

I am in receipt of your communication of July 3rd, 1912, relative to stating my attitude toward the platform of the Republican party of this State, adopted at the recent State Convention held in May, 1912, at Harrisburg, Pa.

My dereliction to reply was the result of my being out of town for a while and also to the letter being mislaid with other mail.

After having carefully read the platform, I wish to state that in it are many measures which I had advocated during my canvass in this the Eleventh Legislative District of Pennsylvania, prior to the Primary Election of April 13, 1912.

While I was sincere then in the advocacy of these Progressive measures, I am now more convinced that that is what the people of this district desire, and if it should be my good fortune to be elected a member of the next Legislature at the oncoming fall election, and I hope it will, every measure in that platform, shall not only have my support by vote, but also by voice.

Very respectfully,
(Signed) DR. JOSEPH G. STEEDLE.

H. S. LYDICK, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Where do you live?

A. Pittsburgh, Pa.

Q. What is your business?

A. Attorney-at-law.

Q. I believe you have been here a portion of the time at least since the beginning of the session?

A. I have been here much of the time since the Legislature was in session, since the middle or latter part of February.

Q. Have you been here in the interest of or against any legislation?

A. I have been here both ways. I represent the association commonly known as the Pittsburgh Coal Association. The correct name, I believe to be, if I remember correctly, is the Association of Bituminous Coal Operators, of the Pittsburgh District.

Q. Of whom does that association consist?

A. It consists of practically all of the owners of coal mines in Allegheny county, in Washington county, in Westmoreland county, and Fayette county. I believe. Now I do not wish to be held positively for the accuracy of this statement, as I did not know the association existed until its attorney came to me and asked me to assume this duty, and I have not had time to study out just what it does include and cover.

Q. By whom have you been employed, or have you been employed by anyone?

A. By this association I mentioned.

Q. You do not know exactly who the members of it are, do you?

A. Yes; there are a whole lot of them.

Q. Coal operators?

A. Yes, sir; if that is important, leave it open and I can give it to you later.

Q. Does it comprise all coal companies in and about Pittsburgh?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Pittsburgh Buffalo Company?

A. I do not know where it is.

Q. Is there a Pittsburgh Coal Company?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. River Coal Company?

A. There is.

Q. Is that included in this association?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Practically all of the soft coal companies?

A. In and about Pittsburgh.

Q. What bills have you been interested in?

A. I have been here to work against legislation dangerous to the coal mining interests.

Q. What do you mean by the expression, dangerous to the coal mining interests?

A. That would add to the cost of the production of coal.

Q. You regard any legislation then dangerous to your clients' interests that increased the cost of production of coal?

A. Yes, sir, that would be injurious to them.

Q. Regardless of how necessary it would be for safeguarding of human life?

A. I will not adopt that.

Q. You do not accept that?

A. No, sir; I will not accept that.

Q. I understand you to say you were opposed to all legislation whatever that increased the cost of production of coal?

A. That of course means within the range of human things, and human thought.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. In other words, you would not be against a bill that you thought was dangerous to life?

A. No, sir: certainly not. You can shorten the course of this examination by referring to the measures concerning which Mr. Clark testified earlier in the day. He is interested in the bituminous coal mines in the district in Pennsylvania which he described, exactly as I am in the Pittsburgh locality.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. You, as well as he, were opposed to those coal mining bills?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Your business was to oppose?

A. I had legislation to support.

Q. What were they?

A. Senate bill 1162; that is now in the hands of the Governor; and Senate bill 903.

Q. What is the nature of 1162?

A. That provides that a revaluation of property may be made between the time the tax is assessed and the time it becomes payable, and the tax will then become payable and levied.

Q. Any other bills in which you were interested?

A. In passing?

Q. Yes, sir.

A. Not that I recall.

Q. What have you done in your efforts to defeat the so-called mining bill?

A. I have arranged with committees to hold open meetings and notified my people to send men here who are expert along the lines of the trade on the line which the bill affected, to address and make plain to the committee the injuries the bill would inflict.

Q. You arranged such meetings before the House Committee?

A. Yes, sir; I arranged one before the Judiciary General, before the Mines and Mining.

Q. Do you remember what bill was heard before the Judiciary General?

A. The workmen's compensation law.

Q. And the others before the committee on Mines and Mining?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. All that legislation passed the House, did it not, notwithstanding your opposition?

A. No, sir; the electric mining bill failed in the House.

Q. All but that one?

A. Yes, sir, I believe so. There is one other that we introduced in the House that I believe never got out of committee; it was one placing a tax of fifty cents a ton on all bituminous coal, I think, shipped out of the State.

Q. That was not reported from committee?

A. I do not think so.

Q. When those bills passed the House, you renewed your opposition in the Senate, I presume?

A. Certainly.

Q. What methods did you use there?

A. We had meetings of the Mines and Mining Committee there, to which meetings we brought the same men to explain the effect the bills would have on the mining interests.

Q. Who paid the expenses of those men?

A. I don't know.

Q. You informed your clients, you say?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. That you wanted men of that sort, and they were sent, and you do not know who paid them?

A. I do not know anything about that.

Q. You don't know who paid them?

A. No, sir.

Q. What success did you have with the Senate Committee?

A. In the Senate Committee there were two bills, called, I think, the mine cave bills, that applied to all coal mining industries, both anthracite and bituminous, and it is my recollection that they were amended to affect only the anthracite mines. You know we mine intending to let the whole surface down, and it is alleged that by letting the whole surface down, the ground is better for agricultural purposes than if the entry stays high and the forces of the earth cannot pass out, and we mine that way, and for that reason they were amended to eliminate the bituminous product.

Q. With whom have you been co-operating in the Senate, in your opposition to these bills?

A. With no one in particular, but all in general.

Q. What Senators have you talked to about these bills? First, what committee in the Senate had charge of these bills?

A. I think they were all Mines and Mining.

Q. Who is chairman of that committee?

A. Mr. Kurtz.

Q. He is from Jefferson county, is he not?

A. I believe so.

Q. From one of the soft coal counties of the State?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What other Senators did you confer with?

A. I do not remember just distinctly, but I presume with all the Senators on that committee.

Q. Was Senator McNichol on that committee?

A. I will have to look. He is not.

Q. Who were on that committee?

A. Kurtz, Crow, Homscher, Hunter, Kline, Graff, Sensenich, Thompson, Hall, Morgan, Gerberich.

Q. You think then that you talked to all those Senators about these bills?

A. I am satisfied I did not talk to Gerberich.

Q. He is a Senator ex-officio, is he not?

A. Yes, sir. I do not think I talked to Morgan.

Q. Were your efforts there crowned with success?

A. As I tell you, they were amended to let our coal out.

Q. Out of all those bills?

A. Out of the subsidence bills.

Q. How about the balance of the bills, were they fixed up in the Senate to suit you?

A. No. I think the other one, the other one was one to prohibit machinery in cutting ribs. I think that was defeated. If not, it is still in the committee.

Q. It is not then out on the floor of the Senate?

A. I think not. I have not seen the calendar for the last three or four days.

Q. The workingmen's compensation bill went to what committee?

A. Corporations.

Q. Headed by Senator Crow?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. I suppose you saw Senator Crow about that bill, did you?

A. I talked to him about it; yes, sir.

Q. And all the other members of the Committee on Corporations?

A. There are some of these Senators with whom I am not acquainted.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Will you just read the names of those Senators?

A. Crow, Sproul, McNichol. I talked to Mr. McNichol. He is a fine gentleman, but he is a bit set in his way, and he was against the bill in the House, and remains to that conviction to this day, I believe. Vare, I did not talk to him. Powell, I did not talk to. Ousley, I discussed it with him, and with Knapp; with Mr. Kurtz, and Thompson. I do not think I discussed it with DeWitt, with Gerberich I did not. That is to the best of my recollection.

Q. You were opposed to this bill for the reason that you thought it would increase the cost of mining coal?

A. I cannot say I was exactly opposed to the bill. I never had an measure give me quite as much thought and as much trouble as that measure did. There are matters in the bill that I would oppose on the ground of public policy. There are certain principles of law running through that, that I regret ever having taken hold on the American continent, but yet there are some good things in the bill. I spent many nights and days trying to amend that bill to make it look to me as though it was just, equitable and fair all the way through, but Mr. Read, he absolutely controlled the situation, and he is a very able lawyer; he was instrumental in drawing the bill, and refused to submit to any amendments and finally seemingly to all at once who were not in favor of the bill, as written, it came to them to make the bill optional, allowing those who did not want to operate under the bill to continue under the present law, and leaving the law for those who wanted it exactly as the commission desired it to be passed, and we fell in with that line of thought. We were informed by Mr. Read that the United States Steel Company, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the Philadelphia Company—now that, you understand, is the corporation that owns all of our street railways in Pittsburgh, and all that, and some other concerns wanted it, and I have always been of the opinion that any industry in any State ought to have whatever law it wants enacted, provided it is not injurious to some other interests, and by making this bill optional that those who do not want it may continue under the present law, but by leaving it intact as it came into the hands of the commission for those to use as the commission desired, it seemed to me to be the best solution of the situation at this time, and I will further state that I believe were I the author of the bill, and someone had suggested that amendment, I would have immediately fallen in with it, as that character at law is largely experimental, and it is in my opinion very unwise to radically tear up a system of things that has been probably seven hundred years in building. That would give this law time for those who believe in it to try it out, just as rapidly as it proves successful to those corporations, to those employers who wanted it, others will fall in and adopt it, and it will then be just as effective in their affairs as though the optional feature were not in the bill.

Q. You regard the bill from the standpoint of the employes?

A. I have not said so. I have not said that, and I do not so regard it. That bill, I regard, as written, as deeply dangerous to employes.

Q. How long have you studied that question?

A. I do not know. I have given thought to these questions, these social questions for some time.

Q. Don't you know that bill was the result of a committee appointed some years ago by the Governor of this State, who studied the laws of European countries?

A. Perfectly, I know it.

Q. And yet you state it would tear up things that were established seven hundred years ago?

A. I said, seven hundred years in building, not seven hundred years established.

Q. What would be torn up?

A. The present system of adjustment of damages for injuries caused by the employe, sustained by the employe in the course of his business.

Q. According to the principles of common law?

A. According to this bill a man injured by his own negligence, by and through his own drunkenness, receives exactly the same compensation as the diligent employe injured by his employer's negligence. That to me is a violation of all rules of logic.

Q. Does not the bill expressly exclude compensation received by any employe for injuries caused by his own negligence, and gross indifference, and danger?

A. You and I have read the bill differently then. As I recall the first section of article 2, the only injury for which he is not compensated is that injury that is intentionally self-inflicted. You are confused with the first article of the bill. That provides that he shall not recover for injuries caused by reckless indifference to danger, and the first article of the bill is to control the relations of the employer and employe in case the employer will not accept article 2 of the bill. I am under oath. I am quoting a lot of stuff that may be wrong.

Q. What I wanted to get at was the reasons for your opposition to the bill.

A. That is what I am trying to give you. That is just a few of the things. Another is that a schedule of compensation for injuries to the employe cannot be justly fixed where there are within the jurisdiction of the law, employments of totally different hazards. It would to my mind be entirely wrong to fasten upon the farmer, responsibility for every injury caused to his employe when probably five per cent. of agricultural casualties are caused by the hazard of the business, when probably not one per cent. are caused by the negligence of a co-employe, when probably ninety to ninety-four per cent. are caused by the negligence of the employe himself, to fasten the same liability on the farmer that you fasten to the rolling mill owner; the negligence of another employe 40 per cent.; the negligence of another 20 per cent. That would be totally unjust.

Q. Then no workingman's compensation act can be framed to meet your approval?

A. I have not so stated.

Q. Did you submit any substitute bill that would meet the requirements to your mind?

A. I tried and tried to amend this one into shape, and could not, and the best that we could get in the short time we had to work in, was not sufficient to evolve a plan that seemed just to us. I have now in my mind, the frame of a bill that I think could be made just and apply to all.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Did you not say if this bill had the permissive feature in it, you would be willing to drop the opposition to it?

A. Yes, sir; the optional.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. That optional feature is now in the bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you are for the bill?

A. Yes, sir, and would be glad to see it passed.

Q. As long as you would not have to take it?

A. As long as it would not be detrimental to us.

Q. Considering the employer and employe?

A. Yes, sir; both.

Q. Considering the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Philadelphia Companies are for the bill as it originally passed the House, do you speak advisedly on that from information that comes from those companies? Or do you speak from hearsay?

A. David A. Reed.

Q. Who is he?

A. The man that drew the bill.

Q. Is he a member of that commission?

A. Yes, sir, and my recollection is he told me of another large concern, the name of which I forgot, who was for it. Another matter that I think is entirely wrong is that the injury is paid for with the same amount of money, regardless of any table of longevity, and any prospect or probability of life.

Q. Any other reason?

A. A great many others but I hope you will not put me to them.

Q. Your presentation of these reasons to the Senate Committee on Corporations was sufficient to cause them to amend the bill in accordance with your wishes?

A. I do not know what did it. That amendment by the way was not the amendment that we put in. I drew an amendment having the optional feature, and Mr. Clark and I spent some considerable time going over that, and he wrote some ideas in it and we handed that to the committee, and some other person, I do not recall just who, put in some other optional feature, and ours was thrown out and theirs was taken.

Q. Do you remember who the other party was?

A. No, sir, you will have to ascertain that from the committee.

Q. Are you paid for being here?

A. I am.

Q. By the Coal Commission?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Salary and expenses?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you do any other work at the same time?

A. No, sir.

Q. You have not done anything else since January?

A. No, sir, nothing else.

Q. I presume everything you have done has been done in a perfectly legitimate and proper way?

A. I should say so.

Q. You have not threatened any member of the opposition?

A. No, sir. I will tell you my way of advocating the passage of a bill. I go to a member after I know him, and I will say something like this: Have you read bill number 399, for instance, and if he says no, I have not, I will say, all right, I regard that as a very important piece of law, and suggest that you take a little time and read that over carefully. I want to talk to you about it. And, after he has read it over himself, I endeavor not to influence his action, but to convince his judgment. I do not want the vote of any man who is influenced in his action, but I want his judgment convinced, and then it will go through. If we cannot influence his judgment, then I want the other fellow to have it.

Gentlemen, I have this to say, that I deny that I am a lobbyist. The employment I am engaged in should probably be called a legislative advocate. The term lobbyist is repulsive to me, and he who calls me a lobbyist is a calumniator; he who calls me an insidious lobbyist is a falsifier. I do not blame you. I feel that being called here is next to the prison dock. I feel it more than you can imagine. I am hurt in my locality. My people believe from the reports in the newspapers of last Saturday that I am charged with being crooked in the Legislature. I have lived fifty-seven years in many localities, and by many honorable occupations. I have worn the uniform of a guardsman in riot times, and a soldier in war times, and I have never had a single aspersion cast on my name, until this, and this, without a charge. I sincerely hope I will not again be called to attend on a legislative body, until a different spirit guides its intelligence.

Q. Of course you have not any objection to appearing before anybody and telling exactly what you have done, and how you have done it?

A. I have objections to the wording of the resolution and the advertisement I got in the Pittsburgh papers last Saturday in connection with that resolution, and it has hurt me more than you can imagine. The Fourth of July speech I was engaged to make, I canceled on that account, and I shall not attempt to appear in public.

HON. WILLIAM F. WHITMAN, a member of the House of Representatives, County of Venango, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Whitman has there been any person at any time since you were elected a member of the House of Representatives attempted in any way to coerce, intimidate or by any illegitimate means to influence you in your action as a member of this body of the Legislature?

A. No, sir, not this term, nor any term since I have been a member of the House. I have never been improperly approached by any member or any outsider in the State by a threat or promise of any consideration, or any attempt to intimidate me.

Q. That includes the heads of all the departments or any of their employees?

A. Yes, sir. In introducing bills sometimes that relate to departments, I would go and consult them in regard to the interests of the department, but was never offered a position for doing anything, and never introduced a bill at the request of a department, nor been threatened by any of the heads of the departments.

Q. Have you ever been offered any reward by the heads of the various departments?

A. I have not.

Q. Do you know anything about any room or rooms in which refreshments are served in this Capitol?

A. I know about room 249. I know where it is located in the Capitol. It is just opposite the transcribing room and is the room touching my committee room. That's how I know of it. I have seen different members of the Senate going in there and I suppose I have seen Mr. Kephart there. I know that there was liquid refreshments there but I heard nothing of the lunch until this investigation. I have never had an invitation from Mr. Kephart nor any other member to go into that room. It is only hearsay so far as I am concerned.

Q. Mr. Whitman, were you at any time approached by the Highway Department or any members asking for your assistance in the passage of the road bond amendment?

A. No, sir. I voted to recommit the resolution for the fifty million dollar bond issue. I wanted to recommit it because I was interested in the Humes bill to provide for the distribution of the funds all over the State and I wanted to hold it back until that bill was acted upon. I never intended to vote against it.

Q. Did you ever have any conversation with any of the members of the Highway Department in reference to this amendment?

A. Yes, with Mr. Foster. He says, I thought you were in favor of the bond issue, and I said, I am, and I gave him that reason for wanting to hold it up a little.

Q. Did he make you any promise in case you would vote to support the bond issue that they would see that your roads would be taken care of in a certain time.

A. No, sir, he didn't.

HON. THOMAS A. STEELE, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Allegheny, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Steele, since you have been elected to this House have you ever been interviewed or approached in any way by anyone not a member in an attempt to influence your course as to legislation?

A. By no one.

Q. Has there been any one whether a representative of any of the departments of the State or the head of a department attempted by threats or otherwise to intimidate or coerce your course of legislation?

A. Not by any one.

BY MR. CALYCOMB:

Q. Do you recall the Flinn bill which passed the House. Do you recall whether during the reconsideration of that bill there were members of the different departments on the floor of the House working for the passage of that bill?

A. I cannot say that. I don't know that.

Q. You don't recall whether any of them spoke to you?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. That is all.

HON. T. HENRY WALNUT, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Philadelphia, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Walnut, since you were elected a member of the House have you been approached or interviewed by anyone in any improper way calculated to influence your course with respect to legislation?

A. No, I have been frequently interviewed and frequently argued with.

Q. Has there been any one whether from a department of the State Government who by threats or promises or otherwise directly or indirectly or unduely attempted to coerce, intimidate or unduly influence you in your attitude towards legislation?

A. Absolutely no one.

Q. Do you know about the existence of a room or rooms in this Capitol in which food or drink or both are served?

A. I do.

Q. Will you tell us what you know about it?

A. I discovered that room about one week ago. We had fixed a meeting for the conference committee on the State-wide primary bill.

Q. You were a member of the House conference committee?

A. Yes, sir, I was a member of the House conference committee. And the meeting of the committee was fixed for room 250. We were all three of us, Mr. Humes, Mr. Jones and myself in ignorance of the location of the room 250, and we hunted all around the building for it and finally discovered that room 250 was back along the northern corridor on the same floor as the hall of the House.

Q. Were you invited in there?

A. Well that was the room selected for the committee to meet. We had received notice from Senator McNichol that we were to meet in that room. When we got there we discovered that there were three communicating rooms and one of the rooms contained, apparently, something to eat and something to drink, and we were invited to eat a sandwich with them, which we did.

Q. What time in the day was that?

A. That was about one o'clock.

Q. Who invited you to have a sandwich?

A. To the best of my knowledge it was Senator McNichol.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You were invited to have something to drink?

A. Yes, sir, and I took two glasses of Apollinaris water.

Q. What else was there?

A. There was some beer.

Q. Was there coffee?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And what are generally called soft drings, the mineral waters, Apollinaris and White Rock. You saw no liquor at the time that you were there? Any bottle that apparently might have had liquor in?

A. Some beer bottles.

Q. Of course, the bottles looked as though they might have beer in them?

A. No, some of the men had beer.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Was there a colored gentleman there?

A. There was a colored gentleman there.

BY MR. BALDWIN:

Q. It was really a lunch?

A. It was a lunch. They were having their lunch in the middle of the day.

Q. You didn't make any inquiries as to who paid for the lunch?

A. No.

Q. You were not asked to pay for anything?

A. No.

Q. You feel confident that it was not intended to influence you?

A. Absolutely.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Did you see any other Senators in there other than Senator McNichol?

A. Yes, sir, I saw several Senators there. The members of the conference committees from both the Senate and the House were there.

Q. Did you see anybody that was not a member of the Senate or the House?

A. I recall nobody that was neither a Senator or a Representative.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Mr. Walnut you were here at the time that the Woman's Suffrage Amendment came up, were frequently interviewed regarding it?

A. No, not very frenquently. As soon as they came here I threw up both hands, and said that I am with you.

HON. GEORGE W. ALLEN, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Allegheny, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Since you were elected a member of this House has anyone approached you or interviewed you in any improper way seeking to influence your course as to legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. Has any person, whether from any of the departments of the State government or otherwise, by coercion, or intimidation or by promises or threats sought to influence your attitude towards any legislation that might be pending in the General Assembly?

A. No head of any department. They leave me severely alone.

Q. Do you know of the existence of any room or rooms in this Capitol wherein food or liquor or both are served to the members of this Legislature?

A. No, I don't.

Q. You have never gone into room 249?

A. No, I am on the water-wagon this year.

Q. That's all.

HON. EDGAR K. BLELOCH, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Philadelphia, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Bleloch since you were elected a member of the House has there been anyone approach you or who sought to influence you in any improper way as to your course respecting legislation?

A. There have been none.

Q. Has any head of a department or other persons whatsoever by threats or promises ever directly or indirectly sought to coerce or intimidate you in your attitude towards any legislation that might be pending in the General Assembly?

A. Nobody.

Q. Do you know anything about room or rooms in the Capitol in which food and liquors, or either or both, are dispensed to members?

A. I do not know anything about it. It is not in my line.

Q. That's all.

HON. FRANK GRAY, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Blair, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Since you were elected a member of the House, Mr. Gray, has any one improperly approached or sought to influence you with respect to your course as to legislation?

A. Well, I don't know what is meant by improperly.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Corruptly?

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Well, what would you consider improperly?

A. Well, men have spoken to me on legislation and told me that it would injure me in politics and that they would vote against me if I took a certain course, but it has not been corruption.

Q. Has any person whether from a department of the State government or not endeavored by threats or promises directly or indirectly to attempt to coerce or improperly influence you in your course toward legislation?

A. No, there has been no department that you could put any such construction on it that has in any way tried to intimidate me. None of the departments nor the department heads.

Q. Well, anybody else?

A. I don't know just how to answer the question if you mean corruptly.

Q. I mean coerced, intimidated, or improperly influenced.

A. There might be coercion, intimidation and influence that was not corrupt. Well, as I told you before they told me that they would hurt me in politics.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Who told you that?

A. I don't know. I have been told that a number of times. I have been called all kinds of names for having voted on this question of legislation or the other.

Q. Largely newspaper criticism?

A. No, men have told me personally.

Q. Outside of the members of the House?

A. Yes, in discussion backwards and forwards.

Q. You don't think of any at the present time?

A. No.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Do you know anything about the existence of a room or rooms in this Capitol wherein food or drink or either or both are served to members of the Legislature?

A. Never heard of it.

Q. Don't know anything about it?

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. You say that some men had said that they were going to do you an injury in politics if you did such a thing. Just tell us exactly what you mean by that?

A. Well, they told me that if I voted against the liquor interests that they would get me at the next election or something like that.

Q. Who told you about that?

A. I could not say.

Q. Any of the liquor interests, that is the representatives of the liquor interests tell you that at any time?

A. Tell me the name of some of them?

Q. Mason?

A. No.

Q. Bonner?

A. No.

Q. Keefe?

A. No. Is there a man by the name of Neiman?

Q. Well, then you are not sure of the name of the man that made the statement?

A. I can say because I am not sure of the name. He only said that it would injure me in politics. He said that I was a fool for going along on the other side. I have been called a fool frequently here.

Q. You didn't believe it when he told you, did you?

A. Well, I put my own construction on it.

Q. Did you say that you recall the interests that tried to injure you at the election, the next election?

A. Well, I knew that they would vote against me at the next election if I voted against the liquor interests.

HON. HORACE H. REDFIELD, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of McKean, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Since you were elected to the House, Mr. Redfield, have you ever been interviewed or approached in any improper way by any person who by threats or promise of reward sought to coerce or intimidate you as to your course toward pending legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. Has any person, whether from a department of the State government or otherwise, directly or indirectly sought to coerce you or intimidate or unduly influence you in your attitude towards legislation?

A. No.

Q. Do you know of any room or rooms in this Capitol in which food or drink or either or both were served to members of the Legislature?

A. No.

Q. That is all.

HON. JOHN F. LOWERS, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Allegheny, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Lowers, since you were elected a member of this House has any one approached or interviewed you in any improper way seeking to influence your course as to legislation?

A. They have not.

Q. Has any person, whether from any of the departments of the State Government or otherwise, by coercion, or intimidation or by promises or threats sought to influence your attitude towards any legislation that might be pending in the General Assembly?

A. They have not.

Q. Do you know of the existence of any room or rooms in this Capitol wherein food or drink or both have been served to the members or others?

A. I know there is such a room but I don't recall the number and I have been in it. I noticed a couple of water pails standing there with what I took to be three or four bottles of beer in them. I was in that room about a half an hour. I didn't see anything but the two bottles of beer and that was drunk by two newspaper men whose names were unknown to me.

Q. How did you get in that room, Mr. Lowers?

A. I rapped on the door.

Q. Who had informed you as to the existence of such a room?

A. I asked where I could find Senator McNichol inasmuch as I was on a conference committee with the Senator and desired to have some conversation with him. I was informed that he was with a committee in conference in that part of the building.

Q. And then you went there and inquired?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were admitted?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. From the inside?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. By a colored man?

A. I think it was.

Q. There were several persons in the room?

A. At the time I entered this room there were I believe one or two members of the House, one of whom was on this conference committee with me.

MR. SAMUEL D. FOSTER, Chief Engineer of the State Highway Department was called as a witness and having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Foster, I believe you are connected with the State Highway Department?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you hold what position?

A. Chief Engineer.

Q. Do you know Mr. Grabe and Mr. Cheeseman from Butler county?

A. Just by sight.

Q. Have you ever had any conversation with them recently regarding a State-aid road in Butler county?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Will you state what that conversation was?

A. They came in my office and wanted to know when we were going to build a certain road in their territory.

Q. What was the language?

A. I could not tell you.

Q. Don't you remember what they said when they came in?

A. Well, they said something in reference to this road. They wanted to know when the work on it would be started. We had a conversation there for about five minutes, I believe.

Q. Did you use this language or words to that effect: "You men from Butler county are not voting as if you wanted anything."

A. No, sir, I said to these two men as near as I can remember, "You men don't seem to be in favor of good roads," and they asked me how I arrived at that conclusion and I told them, "by their votes," meaning that no person could be in favor of good roads and consistently vote against an appropriation for road measures.

Q. Hadn't you been noticing how they would vote?

A. Yes, I have from time to time.

Q. Are you very often in the House during the time the vote is being taken?

A. Oh, I don't know, I go there whenever our bills are up.

Q. You go there to see how the members are voting? For what purpose?

A. For the purpose of helping road legislation.

Q. You don't go there for the purpose of bringing the influence of your department to coerce the members into voting for your bills?

A. No, sir, I told both of these gentlemen that Butler county had been proportioned under the State-aid plan for that county and that they would get their full proportion of all monies appropriated by the Legislature for all purposes.

Q. How long has it been since a petition for the building of that particular road that they asked for has been filed in your department?

A. It has been there for some time. It could not have been in there over eighteen months. There are ten million dollars worth of roads petitioned for and only one million dollars to build them.

Q. Then you gave these people, these men, to understand that because of the fact that the people of Butler county did not vote for Road Department Measure that they need not come and ask for roads.

A. Absolutely not. I don't think that I did.

Q. Mr. Foster have you been in the Senate during this session either advocating or opposing any legislation?

A. I have been in the Senate and in the House both for the purpose of giving information concerning the needs of our department.

Q. Were you there last week when efforts were being made to amend the General Appropriation bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you there at the time the amendments were being offered to the paragraph in the bill making appropriation to the Department of Forestry?

A. No, I don't know whether I was. I may have been out at that time. I was there most of the afternoon.

Q. Did Mr. McAfee speak to you at any time that those amendments were under consideration and ask you to go out and round up certain members to oppose that legislation?

A. He asked me to see one member.

Q. Who was that?

A. Mr. Williams. He asked me to see him with reference to having him give the House some information relative to a Highway Appropriation that was being misstated on the floor of the House.

Q. And you looked for Mr. Williams and you could not find him?

A. Yes, sir

Q. Did Mr. Rockwell afterwards give them some information?

A. Yes, sir. He read from the laws of 1911 relative to the work of the department concerning the letting of road work by contract. Mr. Allen offered an amendment stating that all work should be let by contract, and Mr. Rockwell read from the laws of 1911 and showed that that was the way the work was being done now.

Q. How much of the day on which that General Appropriation bill was being considered were you on the floor of the House?

A. When the appropriations for the Highway Department were up, I was in there almost all the time.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Mr. Foster have you spoken to Senator McNichol of Philadelphia, regarding any of these road bills?

A. Senator McNichol is Chairman of the Road Committee of the Senate and had been to see the department in reference to certain amendments that were being considered in connection with our bills.

Q. Did you at any time ask him to exert his influence to have them taken out of the bill?

A. No, I told him that certain roads would be presented to him from time to time which I think were correct roads with reference to the Highway Department's scheme. What was done with them I don't know.

Q. You positively did not state to him that he should use his influence to have these amendments cut out?

A. No, not to my knowledge.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Foster, what powers have you over the question of deciding whether or not to begin the construction of a State-aid road or in fact the distribution of any of the highway money, what powers have you for deciding where it shall go or what shall be done?

A. Absolutely none.

Q. That power rests entirely with the chief?

A. With Mr. Bigelow absolutely.

Q. Are you brought into consultation as to what would be the best place?

A. My position is to take up with the Commissioner all details as to construction and not with reference to what localities that roads should be built in.

Q. In other words, what is your position in the department?

A. I am the Chief Engineer with regard to construction and maintenance work. Where the roads shall be is entirely out of my jurisdiction after the contract has been let.

HON. SAMUEL L. CHEESEMAN, a member of the House of Representatives, recalled:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Were you in the State Highway Department yesterday afternoon, Mr. Cheeseman?

A. I was.

Q. In company with Mr. Grabe?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you talk to Mr. Foster?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Will you relate the conversation as nearly as you can?

A. I stated to Mr. Foster that we had had communications from our County Commissioners asking us to see the department as to what prospects there was for receiving aid from the State on a piece of State-aid road in Butler county that they were desirous of improving and stated that they had done their share and asked us to see the department and ascertain what prospects there was for getting aid from the State. That was as nearly as I can state it in words and it is the exact statement in substance and as nearly in words as I can give it.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Now, the answer to that question?

A. The reply which Mr. Foster gave very bluntly was that, and I think that I can give it in almost his exact words: "You men have not been voting as though you wanted anything in Butler county." I resented the statement and I says, "Wherein have I not voted to please you?" "Well," he says, "I don't know that without consulting my records." "Well," I said, "will you get your records and we will look over them." He said, "I have not time now, I have another appointment." I said, "I voted for the fifty million dollar bond issue and I deny that I voted for anything that was not right for the Highway Department and I ask you to show wherein I failed you." He said, "Well, I can't tell without looking at my records, and I have not time to do it." I said, "I think your statement is insulting." I said, "I have not met with such an insult since I have come to Harrisburg." I said, "I believe that I came here to represent the people of Butler county and not to take any dictation from the departments, and said, if that is your attitude in this matter, we will go back to Butler county and let the people there decide whether we have been right or not." That was about the substance of what was said.

BY MR. FOSTER:

When Mr. Cheeseman told me I had been highly insulting, I told him that if he had taken that understanding from my remark, he had been entirely mistaken in what I meant.

HON. WILLIAM H. GRABE, a member of the House from Butler county, recalled, and the foregoing testimony of Mr. Cheeseman having been read to him at the instance of the Chairman of the Committee for his information testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN.

Q. Your name is Mr. Grabe?

A. Yes, sir. William H. Grabe.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Were you in the State Highway Department in company with Mr. Cheeseman.

A. We didn't get in there. We got in the lobby off the hall.

Q. Whom did you see?

A. Well, we called for the head of the department, I think he was Mr. Foster, that was the man.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. When you say hall you mean the small room just off the hall?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Well, whom did you see or talk to there?

A. Mr. Foster.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Whom did you call for when you went in?

A. Well, we asked for the Chief Engineer.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. And you had a conversation with Mr. Foster?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Will you state what your conversation was.

A. Well, we told him about our errand.

Q. What was your errand?

A. Why, our errand was to find out whether or not there was going to be any chance of their building a new road.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. That is, a State-aid road?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. In what county?

A. Butler county.

Q. Had any one written to you about that?

A. They didn't need to write to me. I had been interested in that road six or seven years, and I have been fighting for it six or seven years.

Q. Did you know that Mr. Cheeseman had received a letter from your County Commissioners asking you to inquire about that road?

A. I don't know whether he did or not.

Q. What was the conversation that took place yesterday afternoon. What did you say to him?

A. Well, I told Mr. Cheeseman to reply.

Q. Did you just hear what Mr. Cheeseman testified to?

A. Not all of it. I heard the latter part of it.

(At the direction of the Chairman, the stenographer read from his notes a portion of Mr. Cheeseman's testimony, after which the witness continued):

A. Yes, sir, that is substantially a correct statement. We wanted to build that road which had been taken over under the Sproul Act and the Butler Plank Road Company still owned the road and was a corporation. That was the only protection to the Butler county people who were in favor of that. You see I was the County Commissioner at the time that the thing was considered and the people wanted that to become a State-aid road. They wanted the county to take hold of it and get it under the State-aid plan. I objected to this road being set under the State-aid plan. I said to a party,—I am not going to name that party because he is not concerned in this,—I said to the party we have too many other roads in Butler that we want to build under the State-aid plan. I said that this road was still owned by a corporation, and they wanted the county commissioners to take it up and they did not and none of the county commissioners acted in good faith.

MR. CHARLES F. ETTLA, of Swarthmore, Delaware county, having been subpoenaed as a witness, was duly sworn and testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. CLAYCOMB.

Q. Where do you live Mr. Ettla?

A. I live in Swarthmore, Delaware county, Philadelphia.

Q. Have you been attending the present session of the Legislature in the interest of certain legislation?

A. I have

Q. Just state to the committee if you will, please, regarding what legislation you have appeared here for?

A. Oh, liquor legislation directed against the interests that I represent.

Q. What interests do you represent, Mr. Ettla?

A. I represent the liquor interests of Pennsylvania.

Q. What special organization if any?

A. The Pennsylvania State Brewers Association.

Q. Now, just give us the names of those bills that you were interested in defeating, if you call it such?

A. Well, the bills are so numerous that I have not kept track of them.

Q. Well, for instance, the Local Option bill?

A. I was interested in that and I will tell you. Prior to the meeting of the Legislature, several weeks prior, the Rev. Dr. Carroll, State Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Anti-Saloon League.

Q. What was that name?

A. Reverend Dr. Carroll.

Q. Go ahead.

A. Gave to the public press through his press agent in Harrisburg the information that they could only muster ninety votes for local option. I did not think it necessary at any time to interfere, speak to or seek after any member of the Legislature upon the question of local option, taking it as a foregone conclusion that the Rev. Dr. Carroll in his statement was correct and that consequently work on that matter would be useless and therefore I didn't interest myself in that bill at all.

Q. You spoke to no one?

A. No, sir.

Q. Now, the Prohibition Amendment? What part did you have in that fight?

A. I took no part in that whatever.

Q. You were here during that time?

A. I was.

Q. Did anybody speak to you in reference to it?

A. No sir.

Q. Did you hear it discussed?

A. No, sir, only on the floor of the House.

Q. Did you discuss it with anybody?

A. No, sir, except possibly among my own people. Not to a member of the House.

Q. The Kline bill, what part did you take in that?

A. I took no part in that.

Q. Were you here during its discussion?

A. I was.

Q. Did you speak with any one in reference to it?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did any one speak to you?

A. No, sir.

Q. Was it discussed in your presence?

A. Only at such times when the resolution was on the floor of the House and being adopted.

Q. You didn't hear this bill discussed?

A. No, sir, only with my own people.

Q. And who were they?

A. Those engaged in the liquor business.

Q. Who were they, can you give us the names of some of them.

A. Mr. Fleming.

Q. He is from where?

A. Philadelphia.

Q. Who is he?

A. Secretary of the Wholesalers Association.

Q. He was here at that time?

A. No, sir, he was not.

Q. Who else was here representing them?

A. I don't know. Did anybody else represent them?

Q. I want to know if you heard the Prohibition Amendment discussed here in the House aside from the discussion on the floor of the House.

A. No, I didn't.

Q. Did you ever hear any of the Senators discuss it?

A. No.

Q. Did you ever hear any of the members of the House discuss it?

A. Only in a general way.

Q. Who did you hear?

A. Well, I have been at dinner different times with members and they mentioned the Steele resolution. I can't remember any of the discussion at all.

Q. Did you discuss the matter with Mr. Stein, a member of this House?

A. No, sir.

Q. With Mr. Allen?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you recall any member that was in yours presence when this matter was discussed?

A. No, sir.

Q. So that you took no active part in that at all?

A. No, sir.

Q. The Ulerich anti-peddling bill, what do you know about that? What part, if any, did you take in that legislation?

A. That was the first liquor bill that was acted upon in the House. I spoke to several members, probably four or five in relation to that bill of the particular part where the empties could not be collected.

Q. With what members did you talk, Mr. Ettla, do you remember?

A. I spoke to Mr. Perry and Mr. McArdle, and probably with two or three others whom I am unable to recall.

Q. Now give us as near as you can recall the names of any members of the Brewers Association or those interested in the liquor legislation that you can recall that were here at the time you were here?

A. I can't recall any one except Mr. Mason.

Q. Do you know Mr. Lamaree?

A. I know Mr. Lamaree, yes, sir.

Q. Do you know Mr. Bonner?

A. I know Mr. Bonner.

Q. Do you know Mr. Body?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. They were here at the same time?

A. I believe they were, yes, sir.

Q. Did you hear them express views either for or against these particular measures?

A. No, sir.

Q. Then so far as you know they might have been for the legislation?

A. They might have been for or against it so far as I knew.

Q. They didn't say anything to you, Mr. Ettla, that is correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Did you visit a room on the third floor, it is on the main floor of the building, known as room 249?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many times were you in there Mr. Ettla.

A. Oh, I suppose a half a dozen times.

Q. With whom did you go?

A. By myself.

Q. And whom did you find there?

A. On one occasion I found Mr. Mason and several friends of mine. I saw Senator Hall in the room and Senator Fisher.

Q. Did you see any refreshments there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Of what character?

A. Well, there was beer and whiskey bottles.

Q. Any whiskey bottles?

A. One whiskey bottle is all I saw and some Apollinaris and some Poland water.

Q. Were they free in giving it to the friends and guests who came in there?

A. They didn't insist upon anybody partaking of the hospitality of the room.

Q. It was free?

A. If anybody wanted it they could have it.

Q. Who seemed to have charge of the room?

A. I don't know.

Q. Did you see a colored man there?

A. I did.

Q. Was there a gentleman there by the name of Kephart?

A. I never saw Mr. Kephart in the room.

Q. Who invited you there?

A. I was invited there by Mr. Mason. I want to say that it was the latter part of March before I knew there was such a room.

Q. You say you attended it about a half a dozen times?

A. Probably.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Where is Mr. Mason from?

A. Pittsburgh.

Q. Do you have any knowledge of any one interested in the Brewers' Association sending free waters to this room?

A. No, sir.

Q. You are employed by this Brewers' Association?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do they reimburse you for your time spent here Mr. Ettla?

A. I receive a salary. I am Secretary of the Pennsylvania State Brewers' Association.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. You are not paid anything extra for your legislative work?

A. No, sir.

Q. Except your expenses?

A. That is all.

Q. Did your organization maintain a paid Representative here during the session?

A. No, sir.

Q. How did you keep yourself informed as to the legislation that is introduced affecting your interests?

A. By being on the floor of the House when bills are introduced.

Q. Have you any knowledge of them other than the introduction of the bills on the floor of the House?

A. That is all.

Q. How do you keep yourself informed as to bills that have been introduced as they have been this session by simply filing them with the Chief Clerk?

A. Follow them by the calendar.

Q. You don't interest yourself in them until they appear on the calendar?

A. No, sir.

Q. That is, on the pink calendar?

A. You mean the pink bills.

Q. You are supplied with copies of the pink calendar?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. By whom?

A. They were sent to me from the Senate.

Q. Do you know by whom?

A. I do not.

Q. Did you have any arrangements made with any one in the Senate to keep you supplied with a pink calendar of House Bills?

A. No, sir.

Q. The calendar comes to you but you don't know from whom it comes?

A. No, sir.

Q. You say you don't know Mr. Kephart?

A. I do know Mr. Kephart. I have know him for twenty years.

Q. You do not know whether or not he supplies you with that calendar of bills introduced?

A. I do not.

Q. Did you find the door locked when you and Mr. Mason went to 249?

A. Mr. Mason and I didn't go to 249. Mr. Mason was in the room when I entered the room.

Q. Mr. Mason had invited you to come?

A. No, sir, I knew of the room and I went there of my own accord.

Q. How did you learn of it?

A. Mr. Mason told me of the room. I had not been feeling well all through the session and I had been drinking and usually went to the fountain outside of the House, and he said to me, "Why Ettla, I wouldn't drink that." "Come over and drink some Poland water." I said, "where?" Then he told me of the room.

Q. The first time you went you went by yourself?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How did you get in?

A. I rapped on the door.

Q. Was it opened by a colored gentleman?

A. I could not tell you that, whether it was a colored gentleman or a white gentleman.

Q. Did he supply you with what you desired to drink?

A. He did.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Ettla, did you yourself, or did any one here that was interested in liquor legislation consider that room a headquarters for lobbing or acting against liquor bills?

A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't consider it such a room?

A. No, sir.

Q. Is there any such a room that you know of maintained or supported in any way by the liquor interests?

A. No, sir.

Q. If there was such a room, you would most likely know of it.

A. I probably would.

Q. You have never used any undue influence that you would consider to be improper favoring or opposing legislation since you have been here?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

That is all, Mr. Ettla.

MR. BEAUMONT A. MASON, of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, Secretary of the Brewers' Association of Western Pennsylvania, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN.

Q. Where do you live Mr. Mason?

A. Pittsburgh.

Q. What is your business, Mr. Mason?

A. I am Assistant Secretary of the Pennsylvania State Brewers' Association, and Secretary of the Brewers' Association of Western Pennsylvania.

Q. There are two organizations of Brewers in the State?

A. Yes, sir, there are numerous organizations of Brewers in the State. There are a number of county organizations.

Q. But the general organization is called the State Brewers' Association?

A. Pennsylvania State Brewers' Association.

Q. You are the Secretary of that?

A. No, sir, I am the Assistant Secretary.

Q. And Secretary of the Western Association?

A. Of the Brewers' Association of Western Pennsylvania.

Q. Then you have the Brewers' Association of Allegheny county?

A. That is included in—That is, the brewers of Allegheny county are included in the membership of the Brewers' Association of Western Pennsylvania.

Q. That is, the brewers of Allegheny county have regulations of their own limited to the county?

A. No, sir.

Q. Is there an Eastern association? The brewers of Eastern Pennsylvania?

A. There is the Philadelphia Lager Beer Brewers' Association.

Q. And you say there are some county associations of breweries?

A. Yes, sir. There is the Lehigh Valley Brewers' Association which I believe includes the brewers in Northampton, Lehigh, and that is perhaps all,—just through the Lehigh Valley.

Q. I presume you receive a salary for your services?

A. I receive an annual salary.

Q. You have been doing some legislative work this session?

A. Yes, sir, I have been here every week, that is, not from the beginning of the session, but from the early part of February.

Q. Since the bills affecting the liquor interests began to come out of the committees?

A. No, I was not in on the first one.

Q. That is, the Ulerich bill?

A. Known as the Ulerich bill to us. Bill No. 6.

Q. You didn't become interested here until that bill had been acted upon?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Do you receive anything additional for your legislative work or is that included in your salary?

A. No, sir.

Q. What bills have you been interested in advocating? Well, the Kline bill?

A. Yes, sir, I spoke to some of the members of the House about the Kline bill.

Q. And the growler bill?

A. I took no part whatever in the Growler bill.

Q. You were neutral on that line?

A. Absolutely.

Q. Did you take any interest in the little Midland Repealer?

A. Yes, sir, sure.

Q. Did you do what you could to get that across?

A. I certainly did, and unfortunately failed.

Q. Was your Pennsylvania State Association interested in the repeal of special prohibitory legislation?

Q. Will you explain how your interest in opposition to that bill arose?

A. I can only say this about the Midland Repealer. Some of the dealers in Beaver county as well as some of the members of our local Brewers' Association.—I speak of the local Brewers' Association as the Brewers' Association of Western Pennsylvania,—were interested in having that territory opened up for license.

Q. Who were some of the persons that were interested?

A. Oh, it was very general.

Q. Well, now, it is strange that you can't recall the names of some that were interested?

A. Why, yes, sir. The association of brewing companies.

Q. What breweries? Not the Independent of Beaver Falls?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. The brewery at Economy?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. The Mutual Union at Allequippa?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. The hotel keepers were also interested?

A. Yes, sir, they didn't come to me personally, but I was told that they were very anxious to have that territory opened, and also I was told by the county detective of Beaver county, as well as the Burgess of Midland, whose names I do not just now recall, who spoke of the great number of speakeasies that existed there, and also showed me letters from officials of the Midland Steel Company, and other manufacturing concerns, some forge company, I believe, or something of that sort, and all of these gentlemen said that they believed that if they got a licensed place, a legitimate place for the sale of liquor, in the vicinity of the borough of Midland, that it would eliminate the illegal sale of liquor, and thereby reduce to a minimum the disorder which follows the illegal sale of liquor.

Q. Were those reasons weighty in your mind, or were you influenced by the fact that the local brewers desired them?

A. Both. I will say this to you very plainly, that I am interested in the proper conduct of the liquor business and that I believe that a man who doesn't obey the law should not have a license.

Q. What did you do on the ground here, Mr. Mason, in order to further the bills that you desired to see passed?

A. I talked to different members about them. Tried to explain the efficacy of them.

Q. You usually worked back of the rail in the rear of the House, didn't you?

A. I followed the rules established by the Speaker that lobbying at the members desks was not permissible, which was not followed by a number of the Anti-saloon interests.

Q. Did you ever send a page down to the desk of a member that you desired to talk to?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Frequently?

A. I did not do so frequently, but occasionally if I had reason to speak to a member, I sent a page down to see him.

Q. To ask him to come back?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did your association, Mr. Mason, have any other representatives here on the ground other than yourself?

A. Mr. Ettla.

Q. Any others? Mr. Bonner?

A. Oh, he is not connected with our association.

Q. The Brewers' representatives then were Ettla and yourself?

A. And myself.

Q. Do you know anything about room No. 249?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Been there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How did you happen to hear about the existence of it?

A. I could not tell you, I really couldn't tell you for certain. I don't know who it was that told me about it. I have known Mr. Kephart, but I don't think that he spoke to me about it. I have known Mr. Kephart for some years personally very well. I don't really know who did.

Q. How many times have you been there?

A. I couldn't tell you sir.

Q. Quite often?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. A dozen times?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Two dozen times?

A. Yes, sir. I was there two dozen times.

Q. Did you take any friends with you.

A. I have.

Q. Were you invited there by a member of the House or by an outsider?

A. It was not by a member of the House.

Q. How did you get in the first time you went there?

A. I don't know how I got in the first time.

Q. Hold your hand along the glass part of the door?

A. No, not the first time.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Then you are not initiated then?

A. No.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Did you later do that?

A. High sign?

Q. Did it work, did the sign work?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When the door was locked it was opened from the inside. Is that right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Whom did you find on the inside?

A. I could not tell you sir, different times, different people.

Q. Member of the House and non-members?

A. Well, I have seen more non-members than I have seen members of either the Senate or the House.

Q. Could you recall any of the names?

A. There were a great many people there whom I didn't know, and I think I know the faces, if not the names of the members of the House. I don't think that at any one time I saw over four or five people in there.

Q. Was there anything to be had to drink there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Beer and whiskey?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Table waters if desired?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know who stocked the room?

A. I don't know.

Q. Mr. Kephart never invited you to come?

A. I do not know that he did.

Q. You would go in there and you would get what you wanted?

A. Well, there was a bottle of whiskey on the cellarette, or the little sideboard there.

Q. Was there a tumbler there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. A glass?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you helped yourself?

A. Not always.

Q. Well would the colored porter serve it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. He also washed the glasses after you were through?

A. I don't know about that. I believe so. I hope he did.

Q. Can you recall the names of any that were there that were not members of either the House or the Senate? I believe you took Mr. Ettla there?

A. I don't know whether I took Mr. Ettla there. We have been in there together.

Q. You can recall then when you found out that such a place existed in the Capitol?

A. No.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Was it just a habit or an art?

A. A matter of taking a drink.

Q. Yes.

A. That depends upon how you take it.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. You don't remember then who first told you about the room?

A. I really don't know Mr. Baldwin, who told me first about the room. Maybe I had a good nose. I don't know.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. When did you first learn of the room?

A. Perhaps the first of March.

Q. When did you begin coming here?

A. I think the first week in Februrary. I was here for a day although that week two days the Legislature was not in session. They had adjourned for the week. Then I came down during the session each week from the first week in February.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Did you go over to that room with the idea of furthering the interests that you were here to further?

A. No, sir, I had only one purpose in going there.

Q. Well, what was that?

A. To take a drink.

Q. Did you ever go to that room and find it open at times when the Senate was adjourned that you call to mind?

A. No, sir, not that I know of. In fact I have gone there several times and did not get in.

Q. During the time that you have been here interested in legislation either for or against you never did anything except what you thought was entirely legitimate?

A. Absolutely not.

Q. Did you ever see any person doing that?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever hear it suggested that illegitimate influence was being used in matters you were interested in?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

That's all.

And now Tuesday, June 24, 1913, the hour of 10 o'clock A. M. having arrived, the Committee met pursuant to adjournment.

HON. WILLIAM M. BENNINGER, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Northampton sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Benninger, since you were elected a member of the House of Representatives, have you been approached by anyone who has sought in an improper way to influence your course with respect to legislation, or any other matter in this Assembly?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Mr. Benninger, were you not interested specially in the oleo bill?

A. I have been for a long time.

Q. Did you discuss that bill at any length with the different members or any of the agents who were interested in that legislation?

A. Not that I remember.

Q. Were you present one evening at a little party where there were other members of the House and those interested in the passage of that oleo bill?

A. Well, I don't just remember it in that way.

Q. Just tell it to us in your own way?

A. It seemed it happened the same evening that the bill was defeated, that I was asked by Mr. Geiser and Mr. Goss, who said, "Let's go down and have a little supper." Mr. Goss paid for the supper and I paid for a couple of bottles of wine, but that didn't have anything to do with the bill.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. How many bottles of wine did you have?

A. I don't know; three or four.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You had all you wanted?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You paid for it?

A. I paid for the wine and Goss paid for the supper.

HON. CEPHAS L. GRAMLEY, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Centre, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Gramley, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought in an improper way to influence your course on legislation in this session?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Have any of the departments of the State interviewed you with reference to legislation?

A. During this session?

Q. Yes.

A. Not improperly; just incidentally.

Q. Do you remember the time the Flynn bill was before the House?

A. I remember.

Q. Did any of the departments at that time interview you with reference to the Flynn bill?

A. No, sir.

HON. W. HOWARD KLEPPER, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Clinton, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Since you were elected a member of this House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has attempted in an improper manner to influence your course on legislation?

A. No, sir.

HON. JOHN McKAY, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Luzerne, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Since you were elected a member of the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone in an improper manner in an attempt to influence your course on legislation?

A. Absolutely not, I guess I am pretty well known.

Q. Have the representatives of any departments of the State government interviewed you?

A. Improperly?

Q. Anyway at all.

A. They spoke to me once, a man did, with regard to a certain measure, but I cannot recall even what it was.

Q. There was no attempt made to influence your course in respect to any bill?

A. Not at all.

HON. FREDERICK S. KAUFMAN, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Lebanon, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Since you were elected a member of this House, have you been interviewed or approached or any attempt made to influence your actions on legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have any of the State departments of the State government or representatives thereof sought in any way to coerce or intimidate you with respect to your action on any legislation?

A. No, sir.

HON. JOSIAH HOWARD, a member of the House of of Representatives from the County of Centre, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought in an improper way to influence your course with respect to legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. Has any department of the State government, or representative thereof, sought in any way, directly or indirectly, to coerce or intimidate you with respect to any matter pending in the General Assembly?

A. No, sir.

HON. J. H. PEACHEY, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Mifflin, affirmed.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Peachey, since you became a member of this House, have you been approached or interviewed by any person who has sought in an improper manner to influence your course with respect to legislation?

A. I have not.

Q. Has any department of the State government or representative or employee thereof sought in any way, directly or indirectly, to coerce or intimidate you with respect to your action on matters of legislation?

A. They have not, unduly.

Q. Of course that means that they have spoken to you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What department?

A. The Department of Agriculture; the fact of the matter is I guess I went to them first. Being connected with the Agricultural Department as I was, I was interested in their work.

Q. You are a farmer?

A. Yes, sir, pure and simple, perhaps more simple than pure.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. They never made any threat?

A. No, sir.

Q. Not any department in the Capitol?

A. No, sir.

Q. And no attempt was made to coerce you in any way?

A. No, sir.

HON. ELMER B. LATSHAW, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Armstrong, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Since you were elected a member of the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone who has sought to influence your course on legislation?

A. I have not been.

Q. Has any department of the State government or any agent, official or employee thereof sought, either directly or indirectly, to coerce or intimidate you on matters pending in the House?

A. They have not.

HON. ALEXANDER MORROW, a member of the House of Representatives from Lehigh county, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Since you were elected to the House of Representatives, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone in an improper manner?

A. I cannot say that I have ever been approached that way, in an improper way. I have been approached in a legal way, men coming and asking my opinion on questions.

Q. Has any department of the State government or officials or employees thereof sought to coerce or intimidate you either directly or indirectly with respect to any matter pending in the General Assembly?

A. No, sir.

HON. J. V. PENNEGAR, a member of the House of Representatives from Chester county, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Since you have been a member of the Legislature, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone in an improper manner?

A. Absolutely not.

Q. Has any department of the State government or employee or official thereof sought in any way, directly or indirectly, to influence or coerce or intimidate you with respect to any matter pending in the General Assembly?

A. No, sir.

HENRY I. WILSON, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. You are a former member of the House?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. A member of the House two years ago?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You have been in Harrisburg to some extent this session?

A. Possibly four months, for that time, about three and a half days a week.

Q. Were you interested in any legislation pending here?

A. I was not interested in the legislation directly. I have been employed as a clerk by the Association of Bituminous Coal Operators of Central Pennsylvania, not to influence the members, but to merely report progress of the bills.

Q. To watch the calendar and report to them as to the progress of certain legislation?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you interviewed any person with respect to this legislation or did you try in any way to influence them in respect to that legislation?

A. I especially tried to avoid that very thing for fear that it might be mistaken.

Q. The Association of Bituminous Coal Operators is the same association to which Mr. Clark, of Punxsutawney, is connected, is it not?

A. That is the same association that all of those companies through Central Pennsylvania seem to be affiliated with, but just what is exactly Mr. Clark's position I am not sure. I had it in mind that he merely represented his own company, but I am not sure of that. Mr. Clark seemed to be the spokesman for that delegation when they came here for a hearing.

Q. Are you paid a salary?

A. The Association of Bituminous Coal Operators pay me by the month for my services.

Q. You receive no other conpensation than that?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You receive no contingency compensation?

A. Not one cent; I get paid so much a month.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. You are simply here for the purpose of furnishing information?

A. Clerical work entirely.

Q. You are not here to either advocate or oppose legislation?

A. No, sir.

HON. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Tioga, sworn.

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Mr. Williams, since you were elected to the House of Representatives, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone in an improper way?

A. I have not.

Q. Has any department of the State government or employee or representative thereof sought either directly or indirectly to coerce or intimidate you with respect to your action on any subject?

A. Not a single instance.

Q. Do you desire to make any further statement?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Williams, there was a statement made here by Mr. Dight that was given special prominence by the press, to the effect that you were sent for by a head of a department and hustled into the House to make some speech or do something for a bill because other members were making a mess of it. Was there anything to that, is such the case? Did some one send out to the cloak room to hustle you in?

A. I don't know whether anybody was sent out, but I know that nobody sent me in and nobody approached me.

Q. Then that statement, so far as you are concerned, was not correct?

A. Absolutely false.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Was there any request made by anyone for you to speak on that bill?

A. On the general appropriation bill?

Q. Yes.

A. No, sir.

Q. Outside of the members of the House?

A. I do not know that a member of the House suggested that I speak; it was done of my own volition.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. I believe you only spoke on the Forestry item?

A. Yes, sir, and I think I made some reference to the amendment that you offered in regard to the section on mining.

Q. Yes, I think you did.

A. But you withdrew it.

MR. WILLIAMS:

This is a matter that properly could be called a question of personal priviledge. Quite a little prominence was given in the press this morning to Mr. Dight's evidence here yesterday in regard to my having been directed by some representative of the Executive, or other department, to speak in defence of the appropriation bill. That was absolutely false. I did speak in defence of the bill because I was a member of the Appropriation Committee and one of the sub-committee of four that had in charge the shaping of that bill as it was finally presented to the House. Last Wednesday night, two weeks ago, after the House adjourned, just before ten o'clock an announcement was made by the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee that there would be a meeting of the committee for the purpose of hearing the report of the sub-committee. We met at ten o'clock. Before taking up the report of the sub-committee, that while this bill had been changed by the sub-committee, that it was only a suggestion and that we wanted the general committee to feel perfectly free to make any changes or corrections that they saw fit, that we proposed to go over it from the first to the last, taking up each department and each budget in each department and each item in each budget, and reading the amount of that item two years ago and the amount of the item as we had recommended to the general committee, asking the committee that if they felt that any of the items should be changed, to make any changes they saw fit. The matter would then be referred to the general committee and their decision would be final. We were in session from ten o'clock to one-thirty, Thursday morning, going over the bill thoroughly from beginning to end. When we were through the members of the committee said that they thought it was the duty of the committee as a whole to go out on the floor of the House and support that bill as it was finally reported out of the general committee. Some of those most strenuous in talking for that position, I am sorry to say, on the floor of the House voted for several if not all of the amendments that were offered. What influence was at work on those parties to get them to change from the night before, or rather it was morning when we adjourned at 1.30, and the time the bill was considered, that I am unable to say, Mr. Chairman. I only hope that the newspaper men will give my statement as much prominence as they gave Mr. Dight in his criticism of me.

REV. H. M. CHALFANT, having been duly sworn testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. I believe you are a clergyman by profession?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What church?

A. Methodist Church.

Q. Methodist Episcopal?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What work are you engaged in?

A. I am editor of the American Issue and other publications of the Anti-Saloon League.

Q. Where are your headquarters?

A. In the Telegraph Building.

Q. In Harrisburg?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. I believe you have been up in the House on several occasions throughout the session interested in legislation?

A. Well, with the exception of three weeks, I think I have been here every day.

Q. What character of bills were you interested in?

A. Interested in what is ordinarily known as the temperance or anti-liquor bills, in securing support of them and opposing certain liquor bills.

Q. What methods have you used in advocating the bills you desired to see passed and in opposing those you desired to see defeated?

A. Just personal persuasion.

Q. You have interviewed the members?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. On that subject?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you in an improper way sought to influence the action of either the members of the House or Senate?

A. No, sir, I have not.

Q. Did you observe here on the ground any men who were working against you?

A. Well, I have seen quite a number of men whom I understood to be in the employ of the liquor interests. They were representing the liquor dealers, or rather they were represented in the Liquor Dealers' Journal as holding certain offices.

Q. You refer to Mr. Ettla?

A. He is one I referred to.

Q. Mr. Boyd?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Mason?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Bonner?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you seen any others here?

A. Mr. Keefe.

Q. Did you see Mr. Boyd?

A. I did mention Mr. Boyd.

Q. I presume you are paid for your work as editor?

A. I receive an annual salary for my work as editor, and our headquarters being here our organization expects me to do what I can at the meetings of the Legislature.

Q. Do you receive any extra compensation for any work that you do along that line?

A. No, sir, the salary is just the same.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. From what source does this compensation come from?

A. The organization pays it.

Q. The State wide organization?

A. Yes. sir. The money is contributed in the churches largely, and some by private contributors.

Q. What is the head of the organization under which you work?

A. Our organization is planned this way; there are twenty-five religious bodies in this State, and they elect trustees, seventy active trustees mostly clergymen. These seventy men employ me to do this specific work. They employ State superintendents and district superintendents, and other men.

Q. This organization is known as what?

A. The Anti-Saloon Ieague.

Q. Have they individuals that go out and do the work that they think ought to be done?

A. Yes, sir, I am one of the field men.

Q. The Legislature naturally falls upon you, being in this neighborhood?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know Mr. Goss and Mr. Howard very well?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know members of the House?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever talk with them about this subject of local option and the liquor bills?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. After having talked with them, either before or since the vote was taken on those measures, did you take any action, or take up any line of action amongst their constituents in the way of complaining to their constituents about what they had done along that line?

A. Well, now, do you refer to them both?

Q. Either of them or any other member, or any of the members.

A. Well, the work that I am expected to do is to report back to our constituents in the respective districts as to the attitude members have taken on bills. I have done that to some extent with respect to the two men.

Q. To what extent?

A. With reference to Mr. Howard, I think so far as that went, possibly writing letters to some of the people back there, stating that he simply did not vote on the local option at all.

Q. He didn't vote at all?

A. No, sir.

Q. Now with reference to Mr. Goss.

A. I published in our paper a little article concerning an incident which I witnessed personally one day in the House.

Q. What was the article you published? Tell it in your own way?

A. I was coming through the cloak room of the House and I heard quite a racket in there, and when I came out I found that Mr. Goss seemed to have a bucket there with bottles of beer in it. Mr. Goss seemed to be in charge of it, and he was giving it to some of his friends and they were drinking. I simply published that article in our paper. My understanding is that after it was published, that article was circulated in his county or district.

Q. Have you that article with you?

A. No, sir.

Q. Could you send a copy of it to the committee?

A. Yes, sir, I will be glad to furnish it.

Q. In sending that article to his constituents was to give what impression? What was the idea or the impression that you desired to give?

A. I think we desired to show that he was on the wrong side on this matter.

Q. Didn't his vote indicate that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you think the circulating of that would make a greater impression than his vote?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You think that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. In that article did you state that this was the only instance in which you have known him to do this, or did you give the impression in that article that it was his habit to do so?

A. No, I just related the instance as a matter of information.

Q. You thought it was a matter of information?

A. Yes, sir, publicity.

Q. Did you not say that you would defeat these men if they came up again as candidates, if you could?

A. Mr. Goss talked to me about this article afterwards, and in the course of our conversation I told him frankly that we were against his attitude, and as far as I was concerned I would do everything in my power to see that he did not come back.

Q. You wouldn't consider that a threat against a member, we will say, of this House?

A. No, sir.

Q. During the campaign when these men were candidates, did anyone advise you not to go into that county and make any fight against these men, on the question of whether they were or were not for local option?

A. The political situation in Fayette county was such—

Q. Just answer the question. Were you advised by any person, and who was that person or persons—were you told to keep out of Fayette county and not raise the local option question there?

A. Yes.

Q. By Whom?

A. Men of our organization in the county.

Q. Who were they?

A. J. W. Dawson, an attorney of Uniontown, was one.

Q. Who else?

A. I can't give the names of any others definitely. Mr. Dawson has been our organization leader there, to my recollection for some time.

Q. "Our organization leader,"—what do you mean?

A. We have in each county generally a committee, sometimes three or four or five men, with whom we consult, and Mr. Dawson has been the chairman or secretary of that committee there.

Q. How many compose that committee in that county?

A. I am not sure of the number.

Q. Mr. Dawson is the only man you can name?

A. No, sir.

Q. Who else?

A. Mr. Hudson is another, but I cannot think of the others. I have them on file in the office, but I cannot recall them now.

Q. What did you do along the lines of the question I asked you in regards to keeping out of Fayette county on the local option question?

A. We made no special attempt in that county to organize for the special support of any party men, except that our three men there seemed to have a good chance of election that were sure to be right on our question.

Q. Who told you that?

A. Mr. Dawson.

Q. He told you that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Sure to be right?

A. He didn't say "sure," but that he felt confident they would.

Q. He was confident?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is that the same thing?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. He evidently must have interviewed them or he would not have been confident?

A. I know one of them who was here in the Legislature for several terms, and he voted right, and I suppose he would still be right.

Q. What I want to know is this; upon what did he base his statement that he was confident that these three men would be right, upon what authority?

A. I have told you with reference to one of them.

Q. What about the other two?

A. I think probably the other two—I would suppose he based his statement on his knowledge of the men, that is all I would know.

Q. If you knew these three men would be right, what is the explanation of the fact that you did not lend them your assistance?

A. Simply because of the political situation there between the three parties was so involved that we felt that they would as likely be elected without our assistance as with it.

Q. Do I understand from that that political expendiency is more important than a principle?

A. No, sir.

Q. What would I infer from that if you say that it was the understanding amongst your people that nothing should be done, that you were to keep out of it on account of the political conditions that existed? It must have been political expendiency.

A. I suppose you would take it that way.

Q. As a matter of fact you have stated to this commission things of what you are doing here and have done in regard to liquor legislation that you will use if these men are again candidates?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You say that would not be a threat?

A. No, sir.

Q. You would not consider that a threat if made by the liquor interests?

A. No, I think they make that statement all of the time through their papers.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. You would call that simply a prediction?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. A statement of fact?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

That is not a statement of fact. It is a statement of what might follow it.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Then it is a statement of fact if what might follow it becomes the truth.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Did you understand at the time that Mr. Goss was celebrating the birth of a baby boy?

A. Some one so informed me.

Q. Where did this occur?

A. In the cloak room.

Q. Do you know where he got the liquor?

A. No, I don't know where he got it.

Q. In all your work about the Capitol building this session, you have never tried to intimidate or urge a man against his better judgment to vote for or against any legislation?

A. No, sir.

Q. Is that correct?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Mr. Chalfant, did you make any inquiry or did you learn that that was a little celebration as the result of the stork having visited his family? Did you know that at the time?

A. I learned it incidentally, and it was referred to in the article.

Q. It was?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. We would be glad to have that article?

A. I would be glad to furnish it to the committee.

HON. THOMAS F. McNICHOL, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Philadelphia, being duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN.

Q. Since you have been elected a member of the House of Representatives, have you been approached by any person or persons in an improper manner?

A. I have not.

Q. Has any department of the State government, either directly or indirectly, by any agent or official or employee thereof, sought to coerce or intimidate you with respect to your action on legislation pending in this General Assembly?

A. They have not.

Q. Not in any way?

A. No, sir.

H. M. CHALFANT, Recalled.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. You have no reason, so far as your observation goes, to make any criticism upon the general conduct of the gentlemen, outside of the one instance? They have always behaved themselves as perfect gentlemen, and acted, in your opinion, on legislative matters without bias and according to their own best judgment?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Outside of their opposition to the local opposition?

A. There was nothing personal in the matter at all any more than I said down in your district, "I hope you will send us a new member from your district than the one we have."

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Perhaps I would have been a great deal better off if they had followed your recommendation.

HON. JOHN L. POST, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Washington, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY. MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Since you have been elected a member of the House of Representatives, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone in an improper manner?

A. I have not.

Q. Have any of the departments of the State government, either directly or indirectly, through any of its agents, officials or employees, sought to influence your course of action on any legislation pending before the present session?

A. No, sir.

HON. WILLIAM D. WALTON, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Lawrence, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Since you have been elected a member of the Legislature, have you been approached or interviewed by any person in an improper manner?

A. I have not.

Q. Has any department of the State government, directly or indirectly, by it officials agents or employees sought to intimidate, coerce or unduly influence you with respect to your course as to legislation pending in this session?

A. Not at any time.

Q. No department?

A. No, sir.

SENATOR CHESTER D. SENSENICH, from the County of Westmoreland, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. You are a member of the Senate?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Since the beginning of the session, has anyone from any department of the State government, by threat of promise, directly or indirectly, attempted to unduly influence, coerce or intimidate you in your course as to any matter pending in the Senate or General Assembly?

A. Well, I don't know exactly, except regarding the confirmation of Mr. Bigelow, insinuations were made.

Q. Who made the insinuations?

A. The private Secretary to the Governor, Mr. Gaither.

Q. What were they?

A. That I could get nothing out of the administration and that if anything came to Westmoreland county, it would not come through me.

Q. Unless you voted for the confirmation?

A. The latter part of that statement was made to me after I had voted against Bigelow, when Gaither brought down the appointment of Mr. Morris on the examinng board in this mining district, the Miners' Examining Board of the Western District.

Q. Now, let us get at that in another way. Was any attempt made to influence your vote while the confirmation of Mr. Bigelow's appointment was pending in the Senate?

A. No other than to get in right.

Q. You were told to get in right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who told you that?

A. Quite a number.

Q. Who were they, please?

A. I cannot remember.

Q. Were they Senators, those outside of the Senate, or both?

A. Both.

Q. Both?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember any names?

A. There was so much general talk at that time and I was a new member and they were all talking to me and I didn't pay much attention to it.

Q. But the person or persons, both members of the Senate and outside of it, said that you had better get in right and vote for Mr. Bigelow?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You did vote against Mr. Bigelow?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Can you give any names of any Senator who so advised you?

A. Well, now, there were so many speaking to me on the subject that I let it go out of my mind finally.

Q. Were you approached by any one from any department of the State government?

A. Mr. Gaither spoke to me and told me I had better get in right.

Q. He told you to get in right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember the exact language that he used?

A. No, I don't believe I do.

Q. Where did the conversation occur?

A. In the Senate chamber.

Q. After the confirmation of Mr. Bigelow went through, I understood you to say that you were told or the insinuation was made to you that if you did not vote right you need not look to anyone for any favors?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What were the circumstances under which you were told that?

A. The fact that I didn't go right.

Q. On what?

A. On the Bigelow confirmation.

Q. Who told you about that?

A. Walter Gaither.

Q. What did he say?

A. When he brought this appointment down—

Q. What appointment?

A. The appointment on the mining board, the examining board.

Q. What examining board?

A. That examines the mine inspectors.

Q. In Westmoreland county?

A. In western Pennsylvania.

Q. Did you request that anyone be appointed?

A. Yes, I had.

Q. I understand Mr. Morris was appointed?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then your man was not appointed?

A. He was, Mr. Morris was my man, but he told me I should take no credit for it whatever, that it was done on the recommendation of friends they had in Westmoreland county.

Q. What else did he say.

A. I think that was about all at that time.

Q. That you should take no credit for that appointment?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long was that after the Bigelow appointment?

A. I could not say; it was a short time afterwards.

Q. Did you have any further conversation with Mr. Gaither or anyone else with respect to or of a like character?

A. No, I believe not.

Q. I believe you presented some bills in the Senate?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What became of them?

A. The Governor signed one and vetoed another one that went through.

Q. You introduced the bills and one or two of them went to the Governor?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Senator, did Mr. Gaither come over and seek you out and get into conversation with you?

A. He called me back from my seat to the railing.

Q. Was that prior to the confirmation of Mr. Bigelow?

A. Prior and afterwards both.

Q. I want to confine myself to one point at a time. Did that occur prior?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. He called you back to the rail?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he send a page for you?

A. No, I sit right next to the rail.

Q. You sit close there to the rail?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then he didn't call you back?

A. I was sitting there.

Q. He just leaned over the rail and talked to you?

A. He called me to the rail.

Q. What was the conversation that took place; how did the subject open?

A. Why, there was quite a number working in behalf of the confirmation of Mr. Bigelow.

Q. I want you to confine yourself now to just exactly what occurred when Mr. Gaither called you to the rail and you went there. How did the conversation start and what did he say?

A. Well, now, he asked me if I was going to support Bigelow and I said to him that I didn't think I was. He wanted to know my reason.

Q. Did he ask you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Can you repeat the reasons you gave?

A. Yes, sir. One of the most important was that the roads built through Westmoreland county had cost, I thought from two to three times as much as they ought to, and that my own people were opposed to him.

Q. Was that these permanent roads built there?

A. I was in favor of roads, but roads costing the proper amount of money.

Q. Are you referring to the State-aid roads that have been built through the county heretofore?

A. No, on the old pike road between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. It was the old National pike. They put a layer of stone over the top and rolled it.

Q. Was that done under the State road act or the Sproul act?

A. I could not say. I think it was under the Sproul act, because the State did all of the work.

Q. When was the work done?

A. Last summer, last year.

MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

I think we ought to confine ourselves to this conversation and not to the Sproul road bill.

MR R. J. BALDWIN:

You opened up the question

MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

I simply opened up the conversation. I confined myself entirely to the question of exactly what Mr. Gaither said.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Confine yourselves exactly to what he told you. He asked you why you would not vote for Bigelow's confirmation and you stated that you didn't think the roads were built right?

A. That the money was not properly spent.

Q. Then what did he say?

A. What I have told you.

Q. Anything more?

A. No, sir.

Q. He didn't make any threats at that time?

A. Other than I had better get in right.

Q. At that time, then, after you made this answer, he said you had better get in right, that was all?

A. Yes, sir. There were quite a number of people there.

Q. When Mr. Gaither made that answer at that time to you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You said a number of Senators spoke that way to you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Can you name some of them?

A. Well, it was such a general talk that it made no impression.

Q. You cannot remember any of those that asked you out of this great number?

A. I could not say positively.

Q. You cannot remember a single one.

A. I don't remember.

Q. Not a single one that spoke to you? That is your answer now?

A. I could not say positively.

Q. Then I understand you to say that after the confirmation of Mr. Bigelow that Mr. Gaither made some threat?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was that threat?

A. That threat was that nothing would come to Westmoreland county through my endorsement.

Q. You considered that a threat?

A. I might say it was a threat, I was under that impression.

Q. You would call that a threat?

A. Oh, I don't say it was a threat.

Q. Were there any other threats made against you? That was about the substance of what occurred in the nature of what you would call a threat or an intimidation? Would you consider that an intimidation?

A. That would be a matter of opinion.

Q. Well, I will allow you to call it what you want. It would not do for me to give it a name; I might not agree with you. Would you call that an intimidation?

A. I think it was.

Q. Is that the only instance since you have been a Senator that there has been an attempt made to intimidate you on any matters pending since you have been elected a Senator; is that the only one instance?

A. I do not know exactly. When the Kline bill was up, there was quite a number spoke to me about voting for the Kling measure.

Q. Were there any threats made?

A. No, only I was told if I voted for it they would see I came back to the Senate.

Q. Who told you that?

A. The head of the Jeannette Brewing Company, of Westmoreland county.

Q. What is his name?

A. Well, now, I forget, but I think his name is Mattick.

Q. Where did this occur?

A. Between the Senate and the House.

Q. In the Capitol?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. In one of the committee rooms?

A. No, in the hall.

Q. What was the conversation that took place?

A. He told me I ought to vote for the bill. I told him I was against it. He says, "Now, if you support that, I think some of the people interested will see that you come back here." I said, "I got down here in spite of them and I intend to vote against the bill."

Q. That occurred about when?

A. Just shortly before the Kline bill was voted on in the Senate.

Q. What is this position on the examining board work to the party that secures it in the way of salary?

A. I don't know, I think it is worth ten dollars a day and expenses. It doesn't amount to very much as a salary, it is the position more than anything else, the honor of having the position.

Q. Sought after by different parties and contested for?

A. Sought generally, yes, sir.

Q. It was in this case?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. There were several applications for the position?

A. Yes, sir. I think the records will show that.

Q. I am asking you if you do not know yourself. Do you know whether there were several applicants for the position?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did anyone present any application to you?

A. Yes, sir, several.

Q. You decided to support the man who finally got it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is the only instance since you were elected to the Senate that you consider that you were threatened or intimidated in any piece of legislation in any way?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you been with relation to the labor bills?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have you been in favor of the labor bills as they came from the House?

A. All of them, with the exception of the workingmen's compensation bill.

Q. You have been opposed to that in the form that it came from the House?

A. Yes, sir. I am in favor of workingmen's compensation, but on a different plan.

Q. Have you made any effort to have that bill amended along the lines that you feel would be wiser legislation?

A. I am not on that committee. I have been talking about it.

Q. Are you in favor of that bill in the manner in which it was reported in the papers to have come out of the Senate committee?

A. No, I am not in favor of that kind of a bill at all, the way it is drawn. I am in favor of a State controlled association, of an assessment plan, by which the poor man will be protected instead of just those working for rich corporations.

Q. Would you prefer the bill as it is now amended by the Senate to the one that came from the House? Which would you prefer?

A. The way it stands now, I do not think the bill means anything.

Q. And you were opposed to it as it came from the House?

A. When it came from the House I was opposed to the form it was drawn in.

Q. To the way it was drawn?

A. Yes, sir. It was a workingmen's compensation that would protect those working for a rich concern, but it did not protect the poor working man.

Q. Has any one approached you to vote for or against this bill?

A. No, only the members talking and discussing it.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Do you know the names of any other liquor agents who were busy in the Senate during the passage or discussion of those liquor bills?

A. I saw a number of people that were advocating liquor bills.

Q. Do you know the names of any besides the Jeannette Brewing Company agent?

A. Morris Kelly, of Jeannette.

Q. Any others?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know a man by the name of Mason?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Boyd?

A. No, I don't know Boyd.

Q. Bonner?

A. No.

Q. Ettla?

A. I know Mr. Ettla.

Q. Has either of these men spoken to you in reference to legislation pending, in reference to the liquor bills?

A. Yes, but it was merely a little argument. They were on one side and I was on the other. They knew my position on that kind of legislation.

Q. Do you know of any member of the different State departments that have attempted to influence legislation when such legislation was before the Senate for discussion?

A. No, I don't believe I do.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Did Mr. Mattick make any threat as to what would happen if you did not do what he desired?

A. He made no threat.

HON. MAX ARON, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Philadelphia, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. CLAYCOMB.

Q. Have you been at any time during the present session approached by anyone who attempted to unduly influence your course with respect to legislation pending in the present session?

A. Absolutely not.

Q. Do you know of the room known as 249?

A. Yes, I was there twice.

Q. With whom did you go?

A. I went there with several members of the House.

Q. Do you know their names?

A. I believe I went there once with Sam. Perry, I and one or two others, I don't remember.

Q. What did you see there?

A. We walked in there and I saw a colored man there, and he said, "What will you have?" And I took a bottle of Apollinaris there at that time.

Q. Did you see any other liquor there?

A. I saw beer in a bucket of ice and Apollinaris water, and I believe I saw a bottle of whiskey there too.

BY MR. GEORQE A. BALDWIN:

Q. You have never been improperly approached on any subject of legislation?

A. Absolutely not.

Q. Who paid for the drinks?

A. I didn't pay for them.

Q. Did you see anybody pay for them?

A. No, sir.

HON. W. W. ULERICH, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Westmorland, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. CLAYCOMB.

Q. Do you know of the existence of a lobby operating in the present Legislature?

A. That depends on what you mean by a lobby.

Q. You interpret it.

A. I don't know of any lobby that has existed, so far as I am concerned that has attempted to influence me in any way on my vote.

Q. Has any person or persons, either individually or representing the State departments, attempted to unduly influence you in your course of voting upon any present legislation?

A. No, not in a single instance.

Q. You were the sponsor for what was known as the Ulerich anti-peddling bill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know what agents or persons were actively engaged against the passage of that bill other than members of this Legislature?

A. I do not know.

Q. Do you know whether there were any agents active against it?

A. The only evidence I have at all of agency active against it was when in one instance, when a bill had been defeated for the second time by quite a little majority. A gentleman came to me and said, "Will you bring that up again, Mr. Ulerich?" I said, "No, that is the finish." He said, "Can I take that for a fact?" And I said, "I don't propose to bring it up again."

Q. Who was this man?

A. I don't know.

Q. Have you seen him here frequently?

A. No, I could not say I had ever seen him before, because I didn't pay any attention to him.

HON. JONATHAN CURRIER, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Clearfield, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN.

Q. Since you have been elected a member of this Legislature, have you ever been improperly approached for or against any legislative matter that has come up before this session?

A. I have not.

Q. Either by men known as lobbyists or men in the interest of any of the State interests?

A. No, sir.

Q. Were there any threats made?

A. No, sir.

Q. I suppose you have been over in room 249?

A. No, sir, I never was there.

HON. WILLIS B. HEIDINGER, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Philadelphia, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Since you were elected as a member of this body, has any person approached you in an improper manner in the interest of or against legislation or of any legislative action of yours?

A. There has not.

Q. Whom did you see in room 249 when you were there?

A. I never was there.

Q. You weren't?

A. I never was there.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Do you know of your own knowledge of any person attempting to influence the vote of any member respecting legislation during this session?

A. Nothing other than proper persuasion.

HON. WILLIAM F. BLAIR, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Greene, being duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN.

Q. Since your election as a member of this legislative body, have you ever been approached in any manner that you would consider illegitimate, either for or against any legislation or any action of yours as a member of this legislative body?

A. I have not.

Q. Who did you ever see in room 249, and how often have you been there?

A. I don't know as I know where room 249 is. If ever I was in 249, it was for a committee meeting, but I don't think I know where it is.

Q. You don't know of any room in the Capitol where refreshments in the nature of food and drink, or either, is obtained by the members of the House?

A. I don't know; I never got any.

Q. Has there ever been an attempt upon the part of any department of the State government or any of their employes to intimidate you on your actions in any way as a member of this Legislature?

A. There never has been.

PATRICK FINNEY, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. Where are you from?

A. I live in a little mining town called Bristol, about twelve miles southwest of Pittsburgh.

Q. What is your business or occupation?

A. I represent the miners of Pittsburgh, the miners' organization composed of about forty-five thousand men, and indirectly I represent also the unorganized men.

Q. Have you been in Harrisburg ever since the session opened, practically?

A. Yes, sir, I have been here ever since the session convened.

Q. What have you done, Mr. Finney, in pursuance of the purpose which brought you here?

A. I have tried to get this legislation through and have talked to different members.

Q. Tried to put forth reasons why these bills should be enacted into law?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you done anything of an improper nature in connection with this legislation, or have you adhered to simply showing reasons why this legislation should pass?

A. Yes, sir, so far as I know.

Q. You are paid for your work, salary and expenses?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You are not dependent on the outcome of this legislation for your pay?

A. No, sir.

Q. You get a regular salary?

A. I get a regular salary; it is not dependent on whether the legislation goes through or not.

JOHN P. GEYER, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. I believe you live in Harrisburg?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is your business?

A. Reporter for the Patriot.

Q. Several days ago the Patriot published a story regarding room 249. Are you the author of that story?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What do you know about room 249?

A. I know what I have seen from a glance in the door and from what members of the Senate and the House have told me.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Tell the Committee.

BY MR. G. A. BALDWIN:

Q. Did you ever see any men gaining entrance to the room? If so, how would they go about it?

A. Put their hand on the glass of the door of room 249 and rap.

Q. Did you ever go in there?

A. I had the door open and the colored man there asked me if I was a member, and I said no. He said they were having a committee meeting in there and only members were admitted. The door opened when I put my hand on it and rapped.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. Did you ever know whether that sign was used to gain admittance to any other committee room?

A. I never did. It is the only room I was ever in outside of this room.

Q. Did you ever make any inquiry of the chairmen of the various committees as to whether that was a sign to gain admittance?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have you always found this committee room open when you wished to enter?

A. Yes, sir, whenever there was a committee meeting.

Q. When they had a committee meeting, it was open?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. I mean it was always open when you came. It is not always open, you know.

A. I don't know whether it has always been open or not.

Q. Every time you came into this room this door has always been open?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. GEORGE A. BALDWIN:

Q. Have you been in and about the Capitol since the session began?

A. Yes, sir, practically every day since the opening of the session.

Q. Have you observed any lobby working here,—any person or persons working here, either for or against pending legislation?

A. Yes, sir, I have seen many people talking to Senators and members of the House. What they said in the discussion I never heard. I have been told by members that they were speaking in the interest of certain bills.

Q. You never overheard the conversations?

A. No, I was just writing up what I saw for my paper.

Q. Just writing up what you saw for your paper?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. R. J. BALDWIN:

Q. I did not read that article that you published in the paper. In substance, what was that article? Did it insinuate that this was the room that was used in the interest of legislation? Did that article insinuate that that was where legislation was talked about and that lobbyists and members were in there, that it was used for the purpose of furthering and defeating legislation?

A. I think that it said that lobbyists went in there and used it for their headquarters.

Q. What made you think that it was used as a lobby headquarters?

A. The statement that a great many men made.

Q. The statement that a great many men made?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who told you that that had been in there?

A. I could not tell the names exactly, but I have heard it on a good many occasions.

Q. You have heard it talked about?

A. Yes.

Q. What members of this lobby themselves told you?

A. No members of the lobby.

Q. Did any members of the House tell you what was going on in there?

A. Yes, sir, members of the House and Senate.

Q. What members of the House?

A. I don't recall.

Q. When you began to inquire, to whom did you inquire? Do you remember that?

A. No; as I told you before, all during the session I have known that such a room existed and that members frequently went in there. Last week I was assigned to write a story for my paper about the lunch room.

Q. Did you first learn what was true, if there was such a room up there where they served booze free?

A. I did.

Q. But you can't name a Senator or a member whom you were in conversation with regarding the subject?

A. Oh, I can remember one Senator who said he was in there and got Apollinaris.

Q. What Senator was that?

A. Senator Hilton said he was there and got a glass of Apollinaris water.

Q. Now you would not write a story about booze on Apollinaris water?

A. That is the only way I would write it, because I don't take a drink until I am through writing. If I took it before, I might not be able to write.

Q. You intentionally made that statement, knowing that it was not my meaning. If there was nothing but Apollinaris water there, you would not call it a room where booze was obtained?

A. No, I would not.

Q. If you had the evidence from one Senator that there was Apollinaris water there, you would not write a story that it was a booze room?

A. No, sir.

Q. What Senator or what member told you there was beer and whiskey, or liquor, dispensed in there?

A. As I told you three times before, and I will now tell you again, a number of them did and a number of the newspaper men told me for months past that they have drank booze in there.

Q. Do you know the names of those who drank it in there?

A. You are attempting to get me to say something which I don't recall. I am telling you what I do recall. The evidence and statements on which I based the article. Further than that I cannot say. What you think you are at liberty to think.

Q. I merely want to know whether you can name any member of the House or the Senate who told you that there was liquor or beer dispensed in that room?

A. I cannot tell you; I told you I couldn't.

Q. You cannot tell a single one?

A. I cannot recall them, but if it was necessary I could very quickly find one.

Q. I simply want to find out whether you can tell the name of any one who told you there was liquor or beer dispensed in that room. Can you tell us whether there was any other person who was not a member of the House or the Senate whom you can remember telling you anything about that?

A. Yes, Dight told me. Walter Darlington told me he had seen it several times in there.

Q. Those are the only ones you know?

A. Those are all I recall now; they told me here in the last week.

Q. And although this was only last week, you cannot recall at present the names of any who said they were in there?

A. You are pinning me to a member of the House now and I don't recall any members of the House now.

Q. I am not pinning you to anything.

A. I know you are not but you are trying to.

Q. I only asked you to name them.

A. I can tell you in addition that the day that door was open I saw a man,—his back was to me, I could not see his face,—pouring out a drink of whiskey from a bottle.

Q. He was pouring a drink?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. But there were two individuals you remember and you saw that much yourself? And you got that information from that and rumors?

A. Not rumors, but definite statements. You have had people tell you about the room.

Q. We have two hundred to testify to it. I just asked you where you got the information and where you got the story, but you said that you could not name the persons. That is satisfactory to me.

HON. J. E. ARTHUR, a member of the House of Representatives from the County of Philadelphia, having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION BY GEORGE A. BALDWIN.

Q. What is your name?

A. J. E. Arthur.

Q. What statement do you desire to make?

A. I do not desire to make any. I have nothing at all to say.

Q. You know nothing of a lobby here?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have you been approached by any person in an improper way?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or by any department of the State?

A. No, sir.

Q. What do you know about room 249?

A. I know nothing about it.

Q. You have never been in it?

A. No, sir.

J. DENNY O'NEIL, Recalled.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. I forgot to ask you whether you were here at any other time than to attend this meeting?

A. I would have come down had I not been subpoenaed.

Q. In what cause?

A. Election bills. I am strongly in favor of the bills as they passed the House, but opposed to them as they are in the Senate.

Q. You think they should pass the Senate in the same form as they passed the House?

A. Yes, sir. I was opposed to the nomination of Senators in convention. I am strongly in favor of the nomination of Senators without a convention and I am glad to see the House has fixed that up.

JOHN ROBERT JONES, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since your election to the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone in any improper manner in an endeavor to influence your course on legislation?

A. Not in an improper way, no sir.

Q. Do you know anything of the existence in the State Capitol of a room or rooms where food and drink, either or both, have been served to members?

A. Yes, I do. I am chairman of the Conference Committee on the Uniform Primary bill, on appointment of the House Conference Committee, it being a House bill, and I being chairman by virtue of that office I became chairman of the Senate Joint Conference Committee. I endeavored to get a meeting with the Senate Conference Committee, sending notes through assistant Sergeants-at-Arms but failed to secure a meeting, although the House Conference Committee met several times, at which they did not appear. Finally, on one day last week, they notified us that they would be pleased to meet us in room 247. So the members of the House Conference Committee which consisted of Mr. Humes, Mr. Walnut and myself, went in search of this room 247 and could not find it, because it seems there was no such room, but we found 248, 249 and 250, and the Senators asked us to come into one of these rooms. We have been meeting in room 250. The time was fixed for 1.50 and the House adjourned at one o'clock and when they adjourned they took us in and they had a lunch, and they said you might as well get your lunch here, and they had some sandwiches, hard-boiled eggs, and we had our lunch there. They fixed the meetings at one o'clock and it is a bill that deals with a lot of problems; it took a long time; and again they would have some water there, bringing in sandwiches or a cup of coffee; just as today they agreed to meet at one-thirty and when we came there I went in and they said it is no use of your going to lunch, and I went in and one of the gentlemen that I saw eating there was one of your committee, Mr. Baldwin; there was absolutely nothing wrong from my viewpoint as to anything that the Senators meant by it, simply a courtesy that was extended to us.

Q. That was not in room 249?

A. There were three rooms, adjoining one another; the door would open and close, people would come in to see Senator McNichol or Senator Crow, and we would be called out, and the doors would open back and forth.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. The room in which you ate the lunch had a big table in it, did it not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the other room had none?

A. No, sir, tables on this order.

Q. Was there any table in 249?

A. I think there is. We never met in that room.

Q. Which room did you meet in?

A. In room 250.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Did you see any liquor in 249 or were you in there?

A. We tried to get in there; they would not be there at different times, and I think there was some beer there. I did not drink any there. I did not pay any attention to the others, what they did. I went there simply for the purpose of the conference meeting. On the matter of lobbying, I want to say to you, many different men have spoken to me on bills, urging their passage, or defeat, but never has anybody attempted to do anything that was improper. I have told them on different times if they were right I would support them, and if not, I would not support them. Nobody attempted to influence me improperly on this legislation that has been spoken of.

Q. Did any department of the State government, or officer or employe thereof ever attempt to coerce or intimidate you in any way?

A. No, sir. I took the position that anybody who was a citizen of Pennsylvania had a right to talk on any measure before them and I thought it was proper for me to hear them because it affected their interests and they had a right to talk to me about it.

GEORGE ALLEN, Recalled.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. Can you state or do you of your own knowledge know whether any of the State departments of the Commonwealth has attempted to intimidate members of the Legislature or induce or coerce them on any matter, in any way, to vote for or oppose any legislation?

A. Personally I know nothing only from hearsay from the members themselves. I am sure they never attempted to use it on me.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. I remember once in a speech on the floor of the House you mentioned that the steam roller was dragged out again.

A. Yes, I had the experience two years ago.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. You thought you could read signs?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. The evidence of the steam roller is not always concrete?

A. No. I consider it according to the cases. Vote one way today and another way tomorrow.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. So that during the session you know of nothing?

A. No, sir.

W. H. WILSON, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since your election to the House, have you been approached or interviewed by anyone in an improper manner in an effort to influence your course as to legislation?

A. In an improper way, did you say?

Q. Yes.

A. No, sir.

Q. Has any department of the State government, or any officer or employe thereof, ever attempted to coerce, intimidate or influence you in any matter of legislation pending in this Legislature?

A. No, sir.

Q. Either by threat or otherwise?

A. They have not.

Q. Do you know anything about the existence in this Capitol of a room or rooms where food and drink, either or both have been served to members?

A. I have never had the good fortune of being introduced there.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. You had a cold storage bill, I believe, in this session?

A. I was interested in the Gans cold storage bill .

Q. Was there anyone representing interests opposed to this particular bill? Was there anyone interested so who approached you and endeavored to solicit your support in another bill, or to oppose any cold storage bill?

A. I think every large produce dealer and cold storage man in Philadelphia approached me on the cold storage bill but not in an improper manner; they tried to convince me that my position on the bill was wrong.

Q. You would say then that no one made any promise or threw out any intimation that it would be worth your while to support certain cold storage measures, and if they should say so on the stand, they would be mistaken?

A. I would not consider that anything that was said to me with reference to any cold storage bill was said with an improper motive. As I said, all of the arguments that were advanced was along the line that it would be harmful, do harm to the business in which they were engaged.

FRANK REESE, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, have you ever been approached or interviewed by anyone in an improper manner in an endeavor to influence your course as to certain legislation?

A. Not in an improper way.

Q. Do you know anything about the existence in the Capitol of a room or rooms, where food and drink, either or both, have been served to members?

A. Don't know where it is.

RICHARD CURRY, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since the session began have you ever been approached or interviewed by anyone in an improper manner in an attempt to influence your course as to certain legislation pending before the House?

A. No, sir.

Q. Has any department of the State government, or any officer or employe thereof, ever attempted to coerce, intimidate or influence your vote on any legislation?

A. Never even asked me about anything.

Q. By threat or otherwise?

A. No, sir.

Q. Never bothered you?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know of the existence in the Capitol of a room or rooms where food and drink, either or both, have been served to members.

A. Only by hearsay. I do not know where it is now. I do not drink myself.

Q. You do not know where it is?

A. No, sir.

Q. Room 249, if you desire to know.

A. I have no desire to go.

H. L. RHOADES, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since the session began, have you ever been approached or interviewed by anyone in an improper manner, in an effort to influence your course regarding any legislation pending before this Legislature?

A. No, sir.

Q. Has any person, whether representing any department of the State government, or not, by threat or promise, or otherwise, sought to coerce, intimidate or improperly influence your course with respect to any bills pending in either branch?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know of the existence in this Capitol of a room or rooms, where food and drink, either or both, have been served to members?

A. Only hearsay, since the investigation has begun.

WILLIAM C. EICHENBERGER, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since this session began have you ever been approached or interviewed by anyone in an improper manner, in an attempt to influence your course as to any legislation pending before the Legislature?

A. No, sir.

Q. Has any person, whether an employe of a department of the State government or not, ever attempted in an improper manner to coerce, intimidate or influence you in your course regarding any legislation pending in either branch?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know anything of the existence in this Capitol of a room or rooms where food and drink, either or both, have been served to members?

A. I do not know anything.

AARON B. HESS, having been duly sworn, according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, have you ever been approached or interviewed in an improper manner by anyone in an attempt to influence your course as to certain legislation pending in the Legislature?

A. Not in an improper manner, no, sir.

Q. Has any person, whether from any department of the State government, whether an officer or employe thereof, ever attempted in an improper manner to coerce, intimidate or influence your course regarding any legislation pending in either branch?

A. No.

Q. Do you know of the existence in the Capitol of a room or rooms, where food and drink, either or both, have been served to members?

A. I knew there was a room in which certain Senators and members of the House could be found, but I did not know that either food or drink had been dispensed there, not until after this investigation began.

Q. You were never in the room?

A. No, sir; I was never in the room.

PATRICK CONNER, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Since you were elected to the House, has anyone ever approached or interviewed you in an improper manner in an attempt to influence your course as to certain legislation which was pending in the House?

A. No, sir.

Q. Has any person connected with the State government, either officer or employe thereof, in an improper manner attempted to coerce, intimidate or influence your course in regard to any legislation pending before either branch?

A. I have to say no.

Q. Do you know anything about the existence in the Capitol of a room or rooms where food and drink, either or both, have been served to members?

A. I had the pleasure of visiting there once.

Q. How long ago?

A. About a week ago. I did not get on very quick.

Q. You lost a whole lot of time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who did you go with?

A. I do not remember who I got in there with; it must have been an accident, I presume.

Q. It was not on an invitation?

A. No, sir.

Q. You went in the door?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was it open or did you give a signal.

A. I did not know the signal at that time.

Q. What did you see in there?

A. I did not see a great deal. I had a bottle of beer. That was my limit.

Q. Who served you with that?

A. Some colored man, or boy.

Q. Did you see any other members or Senators there?

A. There were three or four there. I do not recall who they were.

Q. Were they being served?

A. Two of them.

Q. Did you see a cabinet in which liquors were kept?

A. No, sir I did not. I just saw as I said, the beer.

Q. How much beer was there?

A. I suppose three or four bottles.

Q. It was being kept on ice?

A. Yes, sir; it was very good.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. You never considered anything that you received in that room was intended to influence you in any way on any legislation?

A. No, sir; no, I did not, indeed.

M. T. ROBINSON, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Where do you live?

A. I live in Harrisburg.

Q. Your business or profession?

A. I am an employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad in the capacity of a brakeman.

Q. Have you been in the Capitol in contact with members of either House or Senate, with a view of advocating or opposing any legislation?

A. Yes, sir; this is my third session.

Q. Do you represent any organization?

A. Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Q. Have there been some bills here in which you were especially interested?

A. Yes, sir; there has.

Q. Name the bills?

A. The first is the semi-monthly pay bill; secondly, an amendment to the Casey liability bill, 1907, known as the Miller bill 1483; thirdly, Caldwell bill 593, which has an effect upon our relief department.

Q. I presume you appeared before the committee, and also interviewed many members?

A. I did. It has always been my object to appear before the Railroad and other committees handling our bills to give our version of the case.

Q. Has everything you have done been done in a proper and legitimate way?

A. It certainly has.

Q. I presume you are paid by your organization for your services?

A. I am.

G. D. BARTLETT, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Where do you live?

A. Philadelphia.

Q. Your business or profession?

A. Attorney.

Q. You have been up here during the session either advocating or opposing any legislation?

A. I came here advocating Senate bill 485 known as the Buckman bill, relative to automobiles. I have been up here six times during the session.

Q. Were you interested in any other bill?

A. No other bill.

Q. That was a codification with the present automobile law?

A. Entirely. My position was that on account of the happenings of 1909. We deemed it necessary to change this bill.

Q. Who do you mean by we?

A. The trade association of Philadelphia.

Q. Consisting of the various automobile dealers?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Of Philadelphia.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were here half a dozen times?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you attend any committee meetings?

A. Yes, sir, three; that is, I had automobile interests, and once before the Joint Committee, House and Senate.

Q. What sort of methods did you employ in representing this bill?

A. Simply going before Mr. Buckman and stating our case.

Q. Did you interview any members?

A. No, sir.

Q. Simply before the committee?

A. Yes, sir.

MR. DYGHT:

I would like to make a request of the Committee. I made the charge in my testimony that the administration was corrupting members of the Legislature. I would like you to call Samuel D. Foster, Samuel L. Cheeseman, and William H. Grigg, members of the House of Representatives, to prove these men have been called to relate a conversation which occurred in the Highway Department this afternoon.

D. CLARENCE GIBBONEY, having been duly sworn according to law, was examined as follows:

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. You live in Philadelphia?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You are an attorney-at-law?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you been here during the session either advocating or opposing legislation?

A. I have been here doing both, advocating and opposing legislation.

Q. What bills have you been interested in?

A. I have been interested in all the bills that the Keystone party in its platform favored.

Q. What were they?

A. Workmen's compensation; child labor bill. As President of the Law and Order Society I was interested in a liquor legislation that was pending, particularly anxious to see that nothing was done that would injure the effectiveness of the Brooks high license law; the one bill that I was most interested in as a liquor measure was the Kline bill which required judges to write out their reasons for refusing a liquor license. I was interested in the sealers of weights and measures bill, and quite a number of others that I do not now recall.

Q. Tell the Committee the method you used.

A. I talked to and inquired of members of the Legislature whom I know, what the condition of these various acts were, and I talked to friends of mine in the House and Senate, men in the House like Piper, and Mr. Spillinger, men in the Senate like Farley and Nulty, all I did was to confer with them as to the condition of the bills, and in some instances told them what the effect of the bill would be, particularly the Kline bill, which ought not to pass, and I told several men that; that is about the extent of what I did.

Q. Your activities then were confined to presenting the merits or demerits of the measures as you saw them??

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You did nothing outside of that?

A. No, sir.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Never made threats against any member?

A. No, sir.

Q. Simply discussed the merits and demerits?

A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. CLAYCOMB:

Q. After the organization of the Legislature, did you in any way advocate or favor, or oppose the officers to be elected by the House, that is, the chief officers?

A. I had my own preferences, of course. The Keystone party had a candidate for Speaker, and when I saw there was no chance for him several members of the House talked to me as to what would be the wisest thing to do, and I advised them to vote a certain way.

BY MR. RICHARD BALDWIN:

Q. Do you object to saying?

A. I advised my friends to vote for Mr. Alter for Speaker, Tom Garvin for chief clerk, and Leib for resident clerk. I saw it resolved itself into a contest between regular Republicans and some candidates that were backed by influences in the State that I had no use for, and I thought it best not to take up with men who were not level in their politics, and stand for hypocrisy and deception.

BY MR. GEORGE BALDWIN:

Q. Did you take any part in the election other than to advise as to your friends?

A. No, sir; that is all. Some of my friends asked as to the propriety of voting for Garvin and Leib, and I told them that inasmuch as Mr. Alter had been the man selected for the position as Speaker, he ought to be big enough to name his chief clerk and resident clerk, and as these men were favorable to him, I told my friends they should vote for them, in my opinion. Outside of that I did nothing else.
